The Central Exhibition Poster.

The coloured poster which has just been issued from the EXAMINER office for the Peterborough Central Exhibition, to be held on Sept. 25th, 26th and 27th, is an excellent evidence of the determination of letter press printers to keep up with the growing demand for attractive exhibition advertising. Perhaps no more effective poster for this purpose could be produced in Canada without employing the services of the artistic wood engraver and lithographer—upon whose domains letter press printers of Canada are bound to trench very closely. The poster is printed in three strong colours, and the work has been so well arranged and the colours so harmoniously blended that the various striking effects aimed at have been successfully produced.

The Rush Continues.

A large number of tourists and campers left for the back lakes this morning, some to spend a week or two, others for a day only. About twenty of the members of camp Wee-mis-ti-coo-see-wa-sis, whose names were given yesterday, were aboard the Lakefield train. They will camp on Juniper Island, where all letters may be addressed, per str. Cruiser. Mr. John McClelland, Miss McClelland, the Masters McClelland and Miss Hoyland, of Belleville, left for a couple of weeks' residence at Pompadour Island. Mr. and Mrs. Craig and family, of Fergus, and a number of others were among those bound for Stony Lake. There were about 50 aboard the train. Though the daily exodus of pleasure-seekers is unusually [illegible] it is counterbalanced by the influx of returned campers who have come back improved physically and mentally after their outing on the charming waters of Stony Lake.

Band Music.

The band played in the park Tuesday evening to another large crowd of spectators. The music was choice and delightfully well rendered. It is strange how some people entertain a growing fondness for the fine old plantation melody, "Swanee River." Several times last year it was played by special request, and Tuesday night the band again produced it. A great many people prefer such melodies to the more classical music which our band renders so beautifully.

Foresters' Excursion.

A few days ago the EXAMINER stated that arrangements were being made for a cheap and delightful excursion trip under the auspices of Court Little John, C.O.F., to Toronto on Thursday, August 16th, our civic holiday. Arrangements are now complete and in a few days the posters will be issued giving particulars. The excursion will be over the G.T.R. via Port Hope, and along the breezy shores of Lake Ontario—a route which is becoming very popular again with the travelling public.

Arrived Too Late.

The Belleville Intelligencer of Tuesday says:—"The late Chas. D. McDonald, clerk of the town of Peterborough, was buried to-day with Masonic honors. Notices were sent to the Masonic fraternity in Belleville but unfortunately only arrived this morning, too late to permit of a response. The deceased was an old Belleville boy and highly esteemed for his good qualities, of which he possessed not a few." For this same reason scores of old friends of the deceased were unable to attend the funeral. No notices could be sent out till Monday. The family have received numerous messages of condolence from all over the country, all regretting that the short notice precluded their attendance at the funeral.

A Delightful Trip.

Between three and four hundred delighted excursionists returned from Orillia Tuesday night after having spent the day in that charming little town and on the waters of Couchiching, the Lake of the Winds. The excursion was under the auspices of Peterborough Lodge No. 64, S.O.E., who deserve credit for their able management and conduct of the day's outing. The special train Tuesday morning took over 300 from town, and by the time Lindsay was reached the number was swelled to nearly 500. The excursionists scattered over the town or were ferried across to the A. C. A. camp, where the races (a report of which are published elsewhere) were in progress. The Peterborough contingent of canoeists were visited in their camp by some. A quick run back brought the excursionists home at about 10.30 p.m. The committee in charge were: F. L. Somerville, chairman; C. W. Forbes, Secretary; Messrs. F. Brownscombe, H. W. Stock, H. Stevens, A. Clegg, and I Richardson. The day was one of unalloyed pleasure; not the slightest accident or incident happened to mar the enjoyment of the occasion. The special G. T. R. train made splendid time, and the officials were courteous and obliging.

At the Opera House.

The very small audience that assembled in the opera house Tuesday evening were treated to one of the finest performances of the kind they ever witnessed. The Millie' Tourists comprise artists in different lines, whose combined efforts to please are always successful. They are a purely American troupe and have only been in Canada a week or so landing first at Kingston and working westward. Wherever they go they score successes. Revillo, the great sleight-of-hand man, gave a wonderful exhibition of his apparently magical powers. Fred. W. Millie' character songs were heartily applauded, while the crayon views by Albert Ward, executed with remarkable rapidity, and the extraordinary performance of Sig. Luigi Dell 'Oro upon the Sharmonica and harmonapeda, two instruments of his own invention, drew calls for encores, the latter a double encore. Sig. Dell 'Oro's musical talent was almost equalled by the unique novelty of the instruments he manipulated. Fred Millie appeared in his ventriloquial seance and brought down the house with his local hits. He is one of the best ventriloquists on the road to-day. An exhibition of the mysteries of the black art, or necromancy, by Messrs. Millie & Garside, concluded the entertainment, which was throughout a first-class one of its kind. It deserved a better house than it got in Peterborough.

A Critical Case.

A good story is wafted down from Stony Lake by the breeze that blows the campers home. One day last week a Peterborough doctor and undertaker who were cruising about the lake stopped to inspect an island, and in their perambulations came across a hammock swinging in a shady nook, in which a well known young lady was sleeping. The medico gave his companion the wink and began gravely feeling the pulse of an arm that hung out of the hammock. The young lady woke with a start and gazed inquiringly at the two men, whose professions were well known to her. They kept countenance, however, and the doctor in all seriousness told her to lie quite still, that the danger was past and she had now no reason to fear. Without giving her time to say anything the doctor related a well devised story about her long and serious illness. He said he had been sent for to attend her, and believing from report that her case was hopeless had brought his friend the undertaker along so as to have the corpse taken to her home without delay. He was pleased, however, to observe that the crisis was past, and was very explicit in the directions he gave regarding her future care and diet. The young lady, who had fallen asleep while reading and was wholly unconscious of the length of time she had slumbered, very naturally accepted the yarn in good faith, though much puzzled to account for the strange circumstances. She was greatly alarmed at learning of her narrow escape, and, the doctor vows, turned quite pale. For quite a while the joke worked beautifully, but the "give away" came at last, and the party enjoyed a hearty laugh over the doctor's little trick.

The A. C. A. Meet.

HORSESHOE ISLAND CAMP, NEAR ORILLIA, July 31.—A good programme of races was on the "card" to-day, and they passed off successfully. It was somewhat windy in the earlier part of the day when the sailing races were in progress and a little cloudy later on when the paddling events came off. The results:

Sailing race—centre-board canoes, open or decked; three miles; twice round a triangular course. D. B. Jacques, Toronto, Hyla, 1; W. E. McKendrick, Toronto and Ubique, Mac, 2; H. F. McKendrick, Ubique, Chum, 3; F. Goodwin, Lindsay, Manilla, 4; W. S. Lister, Lakefield, Cacia, 5. There were 13 starters, and all finished. A good breeze was blowing, and the race was excellent. Winner's time, 52 min. 40 sec.; time of last canoe, 1 hr. 8 min. 10 sec.

Sailing race—Open to canoes with lee boards; three miles, Colin Fraser, Toronto and Ubique, Una, 1; Hugh C. Macleau, Toronto, Wawa, 2; John Kelly, Toronto, Treve, 3. There were only three starters. The Una won easily. The race between the other two was close. The limited number of entries in this race was owing to a change in the division of canoes. Last year they were divided into the open class and the decked class, irrespective of the board. Then there was a good race of the open canoes. This year the canoes are divided as above, all the centreboarders being put together, open or decked. This change does not work well.

The event of the afternoon was the combined sailing and paddling race, twice around a triangular course of ½ mile side. N. G. McKendrick, Ubique and Toronto, Mac. 1; H. F. McKendrick, Ubique, Chum, 2; Colin Fraser, Ubique and Toronto, Una, 3; T. Britton, Lindsay, Aurora, 4; A. Shaw, Toronto, Vic, 5. The sides of the triangle were paddled and sailed alternately, commencing with the paddle. There were six starters.

Lady and gentlemen's tandem, half mile: G. Strickland and Miss G. Hall, 1; Dr. Douglass and Miss E. Britton, 2; H. F. McKendrick and Miss Ovens, 3; there were nine starters.

Class 2 and 3 paddling, 1 mile, with a turn. P. W. Strickland, Lakefield, time, 10 min 55 sec.; Dr. Douglass, Lakefield, 11 min. 30 sec.; Colin Fraser, 11 min. 40 sec.; four starters.

Classes 4 and 5 paddling. N. G. McKendrick, 11 min. 20 sec.; S. Britton, 11 min. 40 sec.; M. J. Collins, Bobcaygeon, 11 min. 55 sec.

A meeting of the Riverside Lacrosse Club is called for this evening at 8 o'clock at the Commercial House, to consider the request of the Ontarios of Toronto, for a match at Peterborough on the 13th inst, Toronto's civic holiday. A full attendance is requested.

There will be a practice match between the Riversides and the Y.M.C.A. lacrosse clubs to morrow evening, on the Riverside Park.

Where to Call.

The Horticultural Society have issued their prize lists for the annual exhibition to be held in the skating rink, Charlotte Street, Aug. 30th. The number of prizes has been increased, and the Society is confident of making this the most successful show held for a number of years. Those requiring lists of the prizes can get them by calling at Mr. Jas. Stevenson's office.

Civic Works.

The civic works are progressing rapidly. The King street bridge is being decked and will probably be completed next week. The Crescent street cribbing is well under way, but the work is somewhat interfered with by the high water caused by stop-logging the dam at the locks. Tenders are out for the stonework of a new bridge on Brock street. The Charlotte street bridge will likely be begun week after next. These, with the other necessary street work, will keep Inspector Pope busy all summer and fall.

Nelson is Discharged.

Chas. C. Nelson, of Atlanta, Ga., charged with bringing stolen goods into Canada, appeared before Police Magistrate Gordon at Trenton Tuesday. Mr. Geo. E. Henderson, Q. C. appearing for the prosecution. There was no evidence to offer against the prisoner, and the Magistrate ordered that the valuables taken from him should be returned and that he be released from custody, which was done accordingly. Nelson did not expect any one to prosecute him, having a receipt for $5,500 in full settlement of all demands upon him and a guarantee of release. The singular part of the arrangement is that Nelson paid the $500 which Chief Hinde got for arresting him.

Painters for Peterborough.

An excursionist to Orillia on Tuesday came home delighted with the northern town and its environments. He even went so far as to say that in some respects Orillia was ahead of our own progressive and enlightened municipality. For instance, he pointed out, there are on the streets at convenient places little fountains with cups attached where a good drink of water may always be had by the passing pedestrian. He thinks that in Peterborough, a Scott Act town, this system should be introduced. Then Orillia rejoices in first-class and at the same time cheap hotels. At the very best of them meals could be procured for a quarter. The excursionist was delighted with the town, the lake, the A.C.A. camp and transfer arrangements, etc.; in fact everything pleased him.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Young Man Missing—Fined for Ticket Scalping—Burglars Skip Their Bail.

TORONTO, Aug. 1.—A young man name W. J. Orr left the city on July 7 ostensibly to visit Charlotte by boat and has not been seen since. He was about 20 years of age. His relatives are in sore trouble about his disappearance.

William Boyd, a Hamilton cigarmaker, came down to start work in one of the struck shops here. The picket sent out by the strikers of the Cigarmakers' Union captured Boyd before he could put his intentions into effect, and bought him a ticket to return to Hamilton. Boyd went to the Union Depot ostensibly to take the afternoon train for Hamilton, but really, as the sequel shows, to dispose of the ticket that the strikers had supplied to him. Boyd fell into the clutches of Detective Davis while offering the ticket for sale and was arrested for scalping tickets contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided. On being arraigned Boyd admitted the offence, claiming that he did not know of the existence of a law prohibiting ticket scalping. The magistrate said he would impose the lightest penalty, and fined the prisoner $20 and costs or 10 days' imprisonment.

When Robert McKenzie, Denis Henry and Edward Green were called in the police court only the former answered, the two latter having skipped their bail. The three were suspected of having burglarized Alex. Singer's store, Jarvis-street, on the night of July 9. It will be remembered that P. C. Craig dropped on the burglars in the store at 2 o'clock in the morning and fired at them, hitting one of them, who, however, succeeded, along with his two pals in eluding capture. The detectives say the wounded crook is named O'Neill. He is now in Chicago. Magistrate Denison issued a warrant for the arrest of Henry Green, and the evidence not in any way inculpating McKenzie he was acquitted.

The Cooper perjury case in which Ald. Baxter is the prosecutor, came up again at the Police Court yesterday. Judgment was reserved until to-day.

The World's injunction case against the Typographical Union was enlarged for a week yesterday by agreement of counsel.

Word was received yesterday that the 9-year-old daughter of Barrister H. J. Wickham was drowned at Murray Island, Muskoka, on Monday.

Mental Effects of Hot Weather.

One of the most interesting studies bearing upon this subject (of the relation of mind to matter) is found in observing the effects of a high temperature upon different organizations. The nervous sensitive man, when the thermometer ranges among the nineties, is chiefly intent upon publishing his personal discomforts. Instead of sitting still and cooling his mind through work or general diversion, he moves busily about, telling everybody how hot it is, with gestures and ejaculations to match. He is a mental radiator, bent on transmitting his own condition to other minds, and without intending it, is generally his own discomfort within others.

On the other hand, the man of even temperament, of cool mind, avoids all mention of physicial and thermal conditions on a hot day. His purpose is to get his mind as far from them as possible. He hears his nervous friend fling down his pen or spade and declare that it is too hot for work. To him congenial work is the very best means of keeping his attention away from physicial discomfort. One feels comparatively cool in this man's presence. He is a partial refrigerator, and transmits his own condition.

The mere physical temperature of a man on a hot day is not the measure of his discomfort. In this busy season hundreds of New England farmers toil on the open fields in the hot sun in such excessive perspiration that hardly a dry thread is found on them through the day. But if one is accosted from the roadside and reminded that it is a terribly hot day, he will generally reply, with true Yankee drollery, that it is splendid weather for corn. The farmer's mind is on the hay and corn crops instead of on the heat. His mind is kept cool by congenial labor and the promise of good crops.

What is true of man is true of beasts. One of the most painful sights to a person of kind heart to see the distress of the horses that pull the street cars on a scorching day. These animals receive the best of care and treatment by the companies, and their muscular strength is not overtaxed so far as mere work is concerned. A horse doing the same work on a country road would not perspire much. It is the tremendous strain upon their nerves caused by constant fear of losing their feet on the smooth paving when starting the car that chiefly induces their sweat and semi-torture. Even with a horse, it is the condition of mind that largely decides its power to endure heat and work. —New York Graphic.

Mr. John O'Grady, sr., is giving up farming. He has rented his farm to his son, Mr. John O'Grady, jr.

Mr. John Cashan, former station agent, is visiting old friends and scenes.

Mrs. John O'Grady, who has been dangerously ill, is recovering.

Farmers are about through with their fall wheat and barley. Fall wheat is a fair crop but barley is rather light. We expect to hear the hum of the threshing mill next week.

We had a call from Mr. Jas. Cameron, of Alnwick, last week. Crops are suffering greatly for want of rain in that township.

Mr. P. Hamilton, of Peterborough, paid our village a flying visit the other day. He was in the neighborhood starting some of his new binders. They seem to give entire satisfaction.

Two grand new palace sleeping coaches went east on Thursday, named Almont and Algoma. They were fitted up in grand style. They were built in Ohio and cost $18,000 each.

With Men as with Trees.

It is with men as with trees; if you lop off their finest branches, into which they were pouring their young life juices, the wounds will be healed over by some rough boss, some odd excrescence, and what might have been a grand tree expanding into liberal shade is but a whimsical misshapen trunk. Many an irritating fault, many an unlovely oddity, has come of a hard sorrow, which has crushed and maimed the nature just when it was expanding into plenteous beauty; and the trivial, erring life which we visit with our harsh blame, may be but as the unsteady motion of a man whose best limb is withered. —George Eliot.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE DETAILS OF THE ARRANGEMENT MADE PUBLIC.

The Government to Guarantee 5 per cent. on $6500 per Mile for 25 Years. The Legislature to Meet Aug. 28

WINNIPEG, Aug. 1. The details of the deal between the Government and the Northern Pacific are published and pretty much cover the ground already stated. The N.P. agrees to build an extension to Portage this fall and to Brandon next year. The Government agrees to complete the Red River Valley to Assiniboine, and the N.P. furnishes and equips it. A guarantee of five per cent. on $6,500 per mile for 25 years is to be given and as this is above the sum mentioned in the Aid Act the Legislature meets Aug. 28 to pass the necessary legislation. No arrangement is made regarding branch lines. The guarantee of a maximum rate to Duluth on wheat, etc., which was the great bone of contention, has been given by the company.

Work commences at once in the name of the Manitoba Government, but really by the N. P., until the necessary legislation to form a new company is passed. The Government has bought rails for the Portage extension, which will be taken over by the N. P., as will also any other material on hand.

Negotiations were opened for the purchase of the charter of the Great Northwest Central but a clause giving running powers to the C. P. R. caused them to be abruptly broken off. The N. P. has made arrangements by which an independent connection with the Eastern Provinces can be secured over the Grand Trunk, Wisconsin Central and N. P., affording the first named road an entrance into Manitoba.

It is now said that Mr. Dawdney will run for Eastern Assiniboia, Mr. Perley being elevated to the Senate. Two meetings were held at Edmonton, one to endorse and the other to condemn Mr. Dewdney's appointment.

The Kamloops woman who eloped last April with a conductor, died repentant in Michigan after her husband visited and forgave her.

LATE LONDON CHRONICLES

THE BITTER FEUD BETWEEN PARNELL AND CHAMBERLAIN.

The Irish Leader's Brief but Sensational Speech—The Debate on the Commission Bill Resumed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—The Times' London special says: "The feud between Parnell and Chamberlain is the sensation of the hour. No man on the Conservative side is hated with anything like the bitterness with which Irishmen look upon Chamberlain. This is due partly to his political character, the member for Birmingham being most unscrupulous in his political warfare, and partly to the feeling that Chamberlain, who was formerly an extremist of the Radicals, has tricked and betrayed them. They know, as everybody else knows, that the foundation stone upon which the Liberal-Unionist party rests is keeping Gladstone out of the premiership, and that, whatever may be the feeling of his followers, Chamberlain is fighting Home Rule from purely personal motives. Ever since the discussion of the Parnell Bill begun, dormant dislikes and sleeping hatreds have been more and more plainly manifested in the House. The debate has been characterized by an unrestrained acrimony that has passed all bounds.

Chamberlain arose in some anger last evening after the two preceding speakers—Mr. Reid and Sir George Trevelyan—had maliciously quoted his own words in support of a motion then before the House to restrict the scope of the commission. He was brilliantly bitter on Sir George, but failed to answer Mr. Reid's threats. He could not deny his own words, but he talked generally for some time against the motion and sat down.

Then Mr. Parnell arose at 11.55 o'clock and put more sensational language into the five minutes that remained than has been heard in Parliament for years. Taking Chamberlain's change of front as a basis, he charged him with political cowardice and generally with selfish treachery to his colleagues. He finished by saying:—"And after he became Minister my principal recollection of him is that he was always most anxious to betray to us the secrets and counsels of his colleagues in the Cabinet, and to endeavor while sitting by the side of those colleagues and while in consultation with them, to undermine their councils and their plans in his own favor. If this inquiry be extended into these matters, and I see no reason why it should not, I shall be able to make good my words by documentary evidence which is not forged."

In the sensation which his speech caused, it was remarked that Gladstone stared at Chamberlain in rapt astonishment, and the light in which Parnell's charge put the ex-Premier's trusted Cabinet Councillor was an ugly one to say the least.

A HOT DEBATE.

More Talk in the House Over the Parnell Commission.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—On the resumption of the debate in the House of Commons today on the Parnell Commission Bill Mr. Balfour said that the speech of Home Sec. Matthews last night, in which he said the judges already had the power to select such of the charges as they deemed worthy of an inquiry, contained what the Government had all along stated.

Sir Lyon Playfair (Lib.) contended that Mr. Matthews had extended the scope of the bill to an enormous extent. Mr. Matthews now said the inquiry was into an organization which induced crime, whereas the House had been led to believe that the bill was intended to enable certain members to clear their character.

Mr. Bradlaugh declared that Mr. Matthews had made out an absolutely new case.

Mr. Chamberlain repeated his statement that he would have been glad if the range of the proposed inquiry had been limited, but he said he had never suggested a limit regarding persons.

Mr. Gladstone said the Government's covenant had been entirely and absolutely changed.

Mr. Balfour said that Mr. Gladstone on the eve of an inquiry had pronounced the letters forgeries.

Mr. Gladstone: "I said I was justified in concluding that there was a motive for the remarkable way in which the letters were thrown into the shade."

Mr. Balfour said that Mr. Gladstone's remarks were most improper.

Mr. Reid offered an amendment that the commission enquire into the charges only so far as they bear upon charges and allegations against members of the House. In support of his amendment Mr. Reid said that Mr. Smith claimed the inclusion of outside persons in the inquiry was irrelevant. Mr. Smith's friend, Mr. Walter, had not insisted that other than members be included until he visited Mr. Smith, when he saw that the only chance of escaping disgrace and averting the ruin of The Times was to get a roving inquiry regarding persons over whom members had no control.

Mr. Matthews said the inquiry was not into the conduct of members but into their capacity as members of an outside organization. Mr. O'Donnell in a published letter had said that Frank Byrne was only the agent of guiltier and wicke-ler persons.

Mr. T. P. O'Connor: "Does the gentleman insinuate that O'Donnell meant us?" [Cries of "Order" and "Hear."]

The Speaker called Mr. O'Connor to order.

Mr. Mathews said his remark conveyed an intimitation against no one.

Sir. Wm. Harcourt said the Opposition was at last beginning to detect the real meaning of the bill. The object was not to give the Parnellites a chance to clear themselves but to inquire into a political organization.

Mr. Healey said he believed the changes in the bill were the result of Mr. Walter's visit to Mr. Smith.

Mr. Balfour admitted that the Cabinet at its meeting on July 11 had decided to include the words "and others." If Mr. Smith, in announcing to the House the reference of the matter to a commission, did not read those words it was doubtless due to inadvertence.

Mr. Gladstone thought the omission of the words when Mr. Smith announced the commission deserved the censure of the House.

An animated debate was continued for some time when the chairman interposed and advised a cessation of recriminations.

The amendment was rejected, 241 to 194.

Mr. Goschen said that Mr. Smith was absent owing to a domestic affliction. If the bill were not passed to-morrow evening he would remove the remainder of the clause.

The Parnellites will meet to morrow to take action in the matter of the remaining clauses.

Another Business Failure—Run Over by an Engine—The Water Carnival.

TORONTO, Aug. 2.—Kennedy Bros., manufacturers' agents, assigned yesterday with liabilities of about $15,000 to E. B. C. Clarkson.

The charges of perjury brought by Ald. John Baxter against the mean Cooper, who made unpleasant revelations with regard to the plaintiff's dealings with Contractor Godson, were dismissed yesterday.

Wm. Harrison was found on the track near Princess-street on the Esplanade early yesterday morning with his leg badly shattered. When taken to the hospital he admitted that he had been drinking. The leg was amputated at 11 o'clock yesterday. It is supposed he was run down by an engine which passed along the Esplanade about 2.30.

John H. Potter, commercial traveler, charged with obtaining $4 from E. W. Ryder on false pretences, was discharged by the Police Magistrate yesterday, on the novel condition that he would immediately leave Canada.

Following the precedent of last year there will be a water carnival at Hanlan's Point on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Island Campers' Association.

At the police court yesterday John Armstrong was charged with forging John Beer's name to a draft on the Ontario Bank for $12. The prosecution was not prepared to go on with the case and the accused was remanded till to-day.

The Canadian Photographers, Association resumed their sitting yesterday but no topics of general public interest were discussed.

John Connors turned his family out of doors and nearly bit the thumb off the policeman who arrested him. He was fined $30 by the Police Magistrate with the alternative of 40 days.

The inland revenue returns for July were $89,082, an increase of $22,599 over July last year.

Lydia Allen, a young but notorious girl, was arrested with six other hard cases on Monday at the house of "Paddy Rate" on a charge of having robbed James Sullivan of $34. She was taken to jail on remand, and during the day was delivered of a baby, in consequence of which the whole gang were yesterday remanded for a week.

NOT FAR FROM SHEOL.

How a German Scientist is Frightening the People of Findlay, O.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—Dr. Ernst Weissenbacher, professor of geology in Heidelberg University, has arrived here after making a visit of scientific inspection to the natural gas well at Findlay, O. The professor says that about 1200 feet below the city of Findlay lies an immense cavern several miles long and in some places more than half-a-mile deep. This is crowded full of gas which is under a pressure almost inconceivable. Then come several strata of rock, perhaps a mile in thickness, and then the great internal fire.

The last of the layers which lies directly over the fires is melting away. About ten miles from Findlay on either side it is of great thickness, but as it nears the town it grows thinner, the furnace beneath disintegrating and ever lessening the barrier. From the tremendous cracking which is to be heard by the sound instrument it is almost certain that disintegration is going on with great rapidity, and the professor seems to think that an early catastrophe is not only possible, but probable.

Death of a New Hamburg Clergyman.

NEW HAMBURG, Aug. 1.—Rev. Christian F. Spring, the pastor of the Lutheran Church here for twenty-four years, died suddenly this morning of apoplexy, aged 62 years. He was a native of the Kingdom of Wurtemburg, Germany, and was the author of several poetical and theological works. The funeral will take place on Saturday at 10 a.m.

JUNE MATRICULANTS.

The Result of the Toronto University Examinations.

TORONTO, Aug. 2.—The Senate of Toronto University yesterday adopted the report of the examiners in connection with the June matriculation examinations in arts and medicine.

In all 224 candidates presented themselves at Toronto and the various other points at which the examinations are held. Of these 7 tried for matriculation in medicine, 46 substituted the departmental second-class certificate for the subjects covered by it, the remainder being regular matriculants.

There were 177 candidates successful in the complete examination, as well as several who failing in one group only may complete their examination in September.

The number plucked was 47.

THE NEW MINISTERS.

POSTMASTER-GEN. HAGGART TO BE SWORN AT ONCE.

Mr. Dewdney to Contest East Assiniboia—Mr. Perley Called to the Senate—Meeting of the Militia Board.

OTTAWA, Aug. 1.—Hon. John Graham Haggart, the new Postmaster-General, will go to Quebec immediately to be sworn in. Hon. Edgar Dewdney, the new Minister of the Interior, is still in the Northwest and may not come east to be sworn in until after his election. It is understood that he will run for East Assiniboia in place of Mr. Perley.

The appointment of Mr. Hayter Reed as Indian Commissioner in the Northwest will probably appear in next Saturday's Gazette.

The Postoffice Department has arranged to resume the steam mail service between Victoria, B.C. and San Francisco, in accordance with the terms of the postal union.

Lieut.-Col. Maunsell, D.A.G., commandant of the Fredericton Military School, has telegraphed the Militia Debartment offering the services of the school for Skeena River and also offering to raise a provincial battalion for the same service. There is not the slightest chance of need of such assistance.

The Marine Department is advised that the new steamer now building at Glasgow for the winter service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland will be completed in November. The vessel will perform the ferry service.

The military board, consisting of Lieut.-Col. Straubenzie, Lieut.-Col. Lowes and Capt. Gourdeau, met at the Russell this morning and enquired into the claim of Sergt. Harrell, late of the Ninetieth Battalion, for compensation for disease contracted while in active service in 1885. The militia regulars have laid down certain rules under which compensation is to be granted if the claim is a good one. The recommendation, which is understood to be favorable, will have to be sanctioned by an order-in-council.

The Postoffice Department has issued an elegant postal map of New Brunswick. The map of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island is now in the printers' hands and maps of the other provinces will follow.

It is understood that the vacant office of Brigade Major of the Sixth Military District at Montreal, which Chief Hughes of the Montreal police used to occupy, will not be filled on the ground that the office is an unnecessary one.

Senator Perley.

OTTAWA, Aug 2.—At a meeting of the Cabinet held yesterday, W. D. Perley, M.P. for East Assiniboia, was appointed Senator for the Northwest Territories.

A. E. Forget, late Clerk of the Northwest Council, was appointed Assistant Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and Robert Bell Gordon was appointed Clerk of the Legislative Assembly of the Territories.

A SUICIDAL EPIDEMIC.

An Unsuccessful Attempt at Montreal—Two Self-Murders at Buffalo.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—Kate Slicer, aged 22, a poor orphan without work, was brought before the Recorder to-day charged with attempting her life. She was arrested last night when acting strangely, but while in the cells during the night the girl took off her shoes and one stocking and fastened the latter tightly around her neck. The constable on duty took no notice of a slight noise until he was startled by a heavy thump on the floor. He then had the cell opened when the girl was discovered strangling, her tongue protruding and she lying prostrate. The stocking was at once unwound and the girl recovered. Both stockings were taken away, but ten minutes later the girl made a similar attempt with a lace that she had in her possession. She was remanded for eight days.

By Different Routes.

BUFFALO, Aug. 1.—Edward Gavin, a keeper in the Erie County Penitentiary, committed suicide about 7 o'clock this morning by shooting himself in the heart. Gavin was 33 years of age and had lived in Buffalo all his life. His wife states that they had always lived happily together and that she knew of no cause for the rash deed. The coroner was summoned, but decided not to hold an inquest.

Joseph Loamer, of 115 Jefferson-street, suffered from a very severe attack of typhoid fever recently and his mind was said to be deranged after his recovery. Yesterday afternoon he was found hanging by a rope to a rafter in the attic. Life was extinct. He was 41 years old and leaves a widow and four young children.

TEHERAN, Persia, July 28.—The Yomood Turkomans in the Askabad district are in a state of revolt. They have raided several villages, plundering the houses and killing many of the inhabitants. The troops are powerless to suppress them. The shops in Askabad are closed and trade is at a standstill.

Discount in London.

LONDON, July 29.—Discount was in good demand during the past week at hardening rates, quoted at 1⅛ to ⅛. The Stock Exchange loan rate until next account is 2½ to 1⅝. On the Stock Exchange during the week business was more active in every department and prices were firm.

POLITICS AND PARTIES.

There can be no free government without politics, and no politics without parties. A despotism may do without politics for it has no public policy. It is a purely personal matter with the ruler and the people have only to obey. But despotism never got rid of parties, it has always been the parties that have got rid of the despotism, in some cases only, it is true, to become greater tyrants themselves. As a rule parties are the foes of tyranny and the friends of free government.

Sometimes, however, a man should pray to be delivered from his friends, and so often should a state. When politics run low and parties ran high, when the sad is lost to view and the means are magnified, "there is something rotten in the state of Denmark."

The present political contest south of us has inspired these thoughts. A republic must live by restraining its friends, a despotism by exterminating its enemies.

A people who undertake to govern themselves must put politics before party. They must see to it that party strife shall result to the weal and not to the woe of the nation. They must love not Cæsar less, but Rome more. They must beware less those who are appointed to lead parties to victory, lead the state to ruin. It will be well for the followers of the Presidental candidates to work it out on this line. Their ability to affect this is a fair test of their capacity for selfgovernment.

Of course republics have failed, also have monarchies. Even to-day the monarchies of Europe are not so stable as they might be and it is only about 200 years ago since there was a glorious revolution in Britain itself.

The United States, in undertaking a new form of government, under extreme difficulties, have for a hundred years maintained their national integrity with steady growth and improvement in all material interests. We trust they will continue to advance, and that political wisdom will compel even party purpose to serve and not to rule. Whether it shall continue to do so, we believe, depends on two things—the education of the people, and the wise adaptation of political machinery to the needs of the country as it advances. Mr. Gladstone once said: "The American Constitution is, so far as I can see, the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of one man. It has had a century of trial, and its exemption from formal change has proved the sagacity of its constructors and the stubborn strength of the fabric."

What the United States needs now, like our own Dominion indeed, is patriots who can rise above party, and command the confidence of the nation, statesmen with clear vision to see the needs of the hour and calm courage to command the ship of State.

THE specious argument has been held out to the Canadian farmer that heavy protection creates a vast army of laborers who must be fed, etc. The idea, as it has been carried out in Canada, is a fallacy. Protection, as Montreal Herald points out, has simply diverted capital and labor from the natural industries of the country to those which are "fostered" by the artificial stimulus of the tariff. In order that the protected few may employ their small army of laborers, drafted from other occupations, and compelled in many instances to exist on starvation wages, the farmers, mechanics and working classes of Canada are taxed on everything they use and wear. The protected "combines" pocket the profits, the farmers and mechanics do the paying, and the "army of laborers" who work for the monopolist exist as best they can. The two latter classes pay tribute to the first mentioned; and yet we are told that a protective tariff is a good thing for farmers and workingmen. It is about time this sort of nonsense was knocked on the head.—[Advertiser.

Steel Lace for Hot Weather.

You would never guess, to look at a girl nowadays, what it is that she is wearing about her neck, and peeping out from her pretty puffed sleeves. Lace? Yes, collars have gone by, but lace and collars alike will in July like flowers in face of the sun, and her fixings do not fear to meet his ardent gaze at all. Why should they when they are made of steel? Steel lace is the newest novelty of all things not old. Sounds queer to talk about putting such a yoke about one's neck voluntarily, does it not? But look a second time and see. The steel lace has meshes as soft, a pattern as intricate and delicately woven, a thread as fine and details of every sort as perfect as if done in silk. It is light and cobwebby in texture, too, floating out on the breeze if a breath strikes it. It is cool, it is durable; it comes in any color you fancy; what more would you?—New York Mail and Express.

A BIG BLAZE NEAR OTTAWA.

Skead's Mill and 15,000,000 Feet of Lumber Burnt—Loss $250,000.

OTTAWA, Aug. 1.—About 2.20 this afternoon fire started in Skead's mill, about four miles from the city, and burnt with great rapidity owing to the high wind which was blowing at the time. The mill was quickly consumed and then the flames spread to the immense piling grounds where fully 15,000,000 feet of lumber was piled up, the whole of which was destroyed together with a large quantity of slabs, edging and cordwood. The fire raged fiercely for about five hours.

The loss is estimated at $250,000, insurance $50,000 on mill, $80,000 on lumber, pretty well scattered amongst all the companies doing business in Canada. The mill was built many years ago by the late Senator Skead at a cost of nearly $100,000. It was bought a few years ago by E. B. Eddy for $45,000 and was being run by the Eddy Manufacturing Company.

The fire was one of the greatest ever seen in Ottawa, the space burnt being over two miles in circumference.

Incendiary Fire at Palmerston.

PALMERSTON, Aug. 1.—At 11.40 last night a fire was discovered in the rear of what is known as the Oddfellows' block, owned by H. McEwing, and occupied by Lewis Knott & Son, hardware merchants, the hall above being used by the I. O. O. F. and R. T. of T. lodges. The G. T. R. and town fire brigades were quickly at the scene of the fire and set to work with a will, and, with the assistance of the hook and ladder company, succeeded in confining the flames to the one block. Knott & Son's loss on the stock by fire and water is between $5,000 and $6,000; insured for $4,000. Their loss on the building is about $300; covered by insurance. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, as it was started in precisely the same part of the building as the one which originated in Lynch's hardware store some three weeks ago, both fires being discovered in the rear where the coal oil and varnish was stored.

WHY HE KILLED HIMSELF.

The Richelieu Hotel Suicide—A Y. M. C. A. Treasurer but a Defaulter.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—The body of Henry C. Holbrook, who committed suicide at the Richelieu Hotel on Monday, was claimed today by A. H. Bartholomew, a director of the Ansonia Savings Bank, and M. C. Hitchcock of the Knights of Pythias at Ansonia, Conn. Both visited the morgue and identified the body. Mr. Bartholomew states that Holbrook had been assistant cashier of the Ansonia Savings Bank for the last three years as well as tax collector for the fourth school district and treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. of that place. He moved in the best society and was very popular.

On Friday evening last he suddenly left Ansonia and as he did not turn up on Saturday morning, his books were immediately looked into by experts, who found a shortage of $2,000. They have not finished their examination yet. The school district books also showed a deficit of $228 and other concerns claim to have lost by him.

FLEECED BY SHARPERS.

The Bogus Check Racket Played on an Illinoisan at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—A Scotchman named John McLennan, resident in Douglas County, Ill., returning home from attending the deathbed of his aged father at St. Remi, was accosted at Bonaventure Station to-day by a stranger, who, after taking a glass of beer with him, invited him to go for a walk. They had not gone far when a big rough-looking man ran after them and accosting the stranger charged him with having left his hotel without paying his board bill, and told him that he must not leave town till he had done so. The stranger felt his pockets, protested that he had no cash but that he had a check on the Bank of New Brunswick for $530. He then turned to Mr. McLennan and besought him, as they were both going the same way to advance him $100 and take the check for security. McLennan at once assented, counted out the money and took the check without examining it. The strangers then both disappeared.

Really Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

OUT OF TOWN.

Subscribers to THE EXAMINER, who intend spending their holidays at summer resorts, can have their papers sent them by giving notice at the office. Non-subscribers will be supplied with THE DAILY EXAMINER at such resorts for 35c. per month or $1.00 for three months.

The Weather.

Light to moderate winds; fair and warm

A Right Sufficient.

Summer supplies of dry goods are now in great demand, and the golden lion is able to supply all the ladies in town. Call at r. fair's, see his stock, and you will be certain to buy.

Salvation Army.

The new officers to take command of the Peterborough corps arrive in town to-day. The cadet is already here and the captain, who comes from London, Ont., is expected on the 7.50 C.P.R. train. He will be tendered a reception at the station by the band and soldiers, after which a reception meeting will be held at the barracks.

The School Claim.

A demand has been made by the secretary of the School Board upon the town for $11,500 for school purposes, $7,240 for the public schools, and $4,260 for the Collegiate Institute. An extra demand is also made for $1,600 for the purchase of the north ward school site. A demand for $4,000, for repairs to the Collegiate Institute building, is to be reckoned in with next year's expenses.

A Baillieboro Fire.

Wednesday night the brick residence of Mr. John Kerr, contractor and builder of Baillieboro, was burned to the ground. The family were away from home at the time and everything was lost. The cause of the fire is unknown. The usefulness of the fire engine was amply demonstrated, as, but for its services, a large number of other buildings in the village would have been destroyed.

In their New Premises.

Messrs. H. S. Griffin & Co. are now in their new premises, 369 George-street, which has been overhauled and renovated by Mr. Geo. A. Cox. Mr. H. W. Watson did the paper-hanging and painting. The store presents a spick-span, bright appearance that is very attractive, and will, not doubt, be a much better stand for the enterprising firm of Griffin & Co.

Camping Notes.

Mr. Geo. Munro and family and Mr. E. H. D. Hall and family left for Stony Lake this morning. Messrs. W. A. Sanderson and R. Tait went north this morning to select a camping site for their party next week. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pentland join Camp Weemis-ti-etc. on Saturday. A large party from Campbellford went up to Stony Lake this morning. On Wednesday Mr. Alf. Parker, of Rochester, left in charge of a party from Seaforth, Kincardine and Fergus for an outing at the lakes.

His First Trip.

The Peterborough West Riding Agricultural Society have appointed Mr. R. C. Hill advertising agent for the Central Exhibition, and on Wednesday he made his first business trip in connection therewith to Springville, Fraserville, Centreville and Baillieboro, which villages were conspicuously placarded. Mr. Hill will in a few days, as soon as his passes arrive, start on his tour of the eastern part of the province to advertise the Central. He intends making a thorough job of it.

Real Estate Notes.

Dr. Goldsmith, of Campbellford, has purchased Mr. J. B. McWilliams' residence on Brock street for $7,000.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown recently purchased from Messrs. Pousette & Roger a brick house on the corner of Smith & George streets, for which he paid $2,200.

Dr. Clarke has bought from Mr. H. Best, for $4,450, the brick residence on Brock street formerly owned by Dr. Barnham, now occupied by Mr. Gibbs.

Valedictory.

At the regular meeting of the Royal Templars of Temperance Monday evening, July 30th, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—We, the members of Peterborough Council No. 97, sincerely regret the removal of Sister J. K. Munro, who next week will leave us to take up work as mission teacher in the far off land of Japan. While Sister Munro's connection with us practically ceases, we trust that the same zeal which characterized her labor in the interests of the Council and among the children of the Band may find fuller scope in the new sphere to which duty is calling her. We unite in best wishes for a safe and pleasant journey and in prayer that abundant success may crown her work.

The Proper Caper.

According to a New York "society" paper, it is now the proper thing for a young man to keep the photograph of his best girl, framed in solid silver, standing on his writing desk. This is rather hard on the young man who has several best girls. It would not only be expensive, but would give him away the worst kind. He might better try to please them all by purchasing gough's stylish and cheap outfits and making himself more attractive. Then he would not require the photographs at all. Any one of them would be glad to get the situation in persona on his writing desk for life. Young man, waste not your money on foibles; spend it at gough's, rig yourself up stylishly and at the same time cheaply. You can do it there better than at any other place in the district.

Two Fatal Accidents.

Two Small Children the Victims—Death by Drowning and Shooting.

Little Walter Johnston was found last night, but the finding brought only grief and heartache to the anxious parents, whose fears that he had been drowned were unfortunately confirmed. On Tuesday the little fellow was missed. He was last seen picking berries among the lumber piles near the abrupt bank of the river between Harvey and Waterford streets, near what is commonly known as the Goose Pond. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston, live at the corner of Dublin and Harvey streets, and little Walter was in the habit of playing about the lumber yard. All day Wednesday a systematic search was prosecuted in the vicinity. The bed of the pond was vigorously searched but without success till nearly nine o'clock in the evening, when the body was raised. The water in the pond was lowered four feet in order to aid the search. It is presumed the boy fell over the steep bank into the water and was drowned with no one near to to help him. The funeral takes place from the family residence this afternoon.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

Wednesday afternoon Maggie Scollard, the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. John Scollard, of Ennismore, met with a shocking death. With another little girl, aged nine years, she was playing at the house of her brother, postmaster of Ennismore. In their romping they discovered a loaded revolver in a bureau drawer, and, child-like, began examining it. Just how the accident happened is not known; but the weapon was somehow discharged and the bullet crashed into Maggie's brain, entering over the left eye and penetrating to the back of the head. Dr. Kincaid was sent for, and fortunately he was met on the Bridgenorth road, in company with Dr. Bell. Both gentlemen were on their way to attend a case in another portion of the township, but they immediately gave their services to the wounded girl, and by probing succeeded in extracting the bullet. The little sufferer lived for two hours and a half after the accident occurred, but as the brain matter was oozing from the aperture they at once gave it as their opinion that she could not recover. She never regained consciousness. Mr. Scollard and family have the deepest sympathy of the neighborhood in which they live.

Personal.

Mr. Hugh Davidson, of Peterborough, was in Port Hope Wednesday, attending a meeting of the Grange Trust Insurance Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Innis, Miss Emma Davidson, Miss Anna Hall, Miss Martha Dickson and Mrs. T. G. Hazlitt left yesterday for Old Orchard Beach, Maine.

The Belleville correspondent of the Mail writes: "Mr. J. E. Flewelling, editor of the Ontario, has accepted the position of assistant manager and editor of the Canadian Lumberman, Peterborough, and will sever his connection here in a few weeks."

Dr. Goldsmith, of Campbellford, who has been the guest of Mr. R. B. Stone the past few days, has purchased Mr. J. B. McWilliams' brick residence on Brock-street for the sum of $7,000. It is believed to be the intention of the Doctor to begin the practice of his profession in Peterborough about the 1st of September. He has purchased a very desirable property in a most convenient locality. The Doctor has just returned from a special 12-months course at the leading hospitals in Europe, and previously had a 20-years practise in East Northumberland. On account of the superior educational advantages of Peterborough, he has decided to leave a very lucrative practice in Campbellford in order to give his family the benefit of school privileges. No doubt his medical skill will be in demand among the people of Peterborough.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, Aug. 2.

Messrs. C. Butler, R. Meharry and W. E. Whitehair were charged with allowing cattle and horses to roam at large. Meharry was fined $2 and costs; the other cases were dismissed.

Arrested For Theft.

This morning, acting upon information received from the Lindsay authorities, Chief Rossel arrested a man named John Powers at the farm of Mr. Jos. Remond, where the prisoner was working. Powers is charged with the theft of a watch at Lindsay. Chief Bell, of Lindsay, arrived on the noon train to day and will take his prisoner back with him this evening. Powers is the same man who, one day last week, got drunk in LeGros' barber shop and was arrested by the police, and convicted by the magistrate.

A Disfigured Digit

This afternoon Charles Westlake, an employe of Stabler & Donnelly's factory, had the top of the third finger of his left hand taken off by the jointing machine. The injured man was taken to Dr. Kincaid's surgery for treatment, when it was found necessary to have the finger amputated.

The A. C. A. Meet.

HORSESHOE ISLAND CAMP, NEAR ORILLIA, Aug. 1.—This morning a well-contested tandem race came off, with five starters, over a mile course. Sess. Britton and H. F. McKendrick were the winners; D. B. Jacques and Hy. Wright, of Toronto, 2nd; D'Arcy and Percy Strickland, Lakefield, 3rd; W. J. Read and M. J. Collins, 4th; Dr. Douglas and Mr. Wright, Peterborough, 5th.

Wm. Thomson, president of the Longford Lumber Company, has presented the canoe-ists with a cup to be raced for, and has been generally very good to them.

An impromptu tournament took place last night in front of headquarters, the prize being a paddle offered by Colonel Harry Rogers, of Peterborough. In an A.C.A. tournament each boat carries a paddler and a lancer, who wields a long bamboo rod with a large pad on the end. The boats oppose each other in pairs, and each lancer tries to knock his opponent out. There were six entries last night as follows:—D. Strickland, Lakefield, paddled by E. Cox, was opposed to W. S. Lister, of Lakefield, paddled by P. Strickland; G. Sparrow, Toronto, paddled by F. Mason, was opposed to G. Wright, Lakefield, paddled by F. Goodwin; E. B. Edwards, paddled by J. Spier, was opposed to J. Jephcott, Toronto, paddled by W. C. Jephcott. In the first round Sparrow knocked out Wright. After a few rounds Strickland knocked out Lister, and was then opposed to Sparrow, whom he succeeded in downing after a sharp struggle. About the same time Edwards placed his man in the water with his boat on the top of him. He was then opposed to Strickland, when, after an interesting contest, without either securing a victory, the event was declared a draw, and left over for future decision, as night was approaching.

The special sailing race for the Orillia cup yesterday, resulted as follows;—F. Mason, Toronto, 1; W. A. Fraser, Toronto, 2. There were seventeen entries, but only two finished; the high winds upsetting all the rest. The feat of Fraser in sailing successfully a small open canoe with a racing sail in the gale is said to have been equalled only in the history of the A.C.A. by the performance of the same skipper at Stoney Lake in 1883.

Willow and Wicket.

To-morrow afternoon a match will be played between the members of the club over 30 years old and those under that age. Play will begin at 1:30 o'clock.

It is not probable the Irish Gentlemen will play at Peterborough at all this season.

Mr. C. J. Logan has been asked to play with the Orillia club against the Irish Gentlemen. It is rumored another prominent member of the Peterborough club will be invited to help the Torontos in their struggle with the Irishmen.

Since the Toronto match the cricketers have got down to a regular system of practice. Each night is now devoted specially to some particular play. The result will, no doubt, be improved team play.

On Friday, 10th inst., the Seabrights, of New York, play on the Peterborough grounds. A brilliant exposition of the game is expected and the public are asked to patronize the match liberally. The club is endeavoring to bring the best class of cricketers to town and their laudable efforts should be backed up by the people.

Sporting Notes.

Next Thursday, 9th inst., the Garden Hill baseball club plays at Peterborough. The necessary arrangements have all been made.

The third monthly match of the Rifle Association is called for this afternoon at 5.30 at the butts.

The Gun Club has its weekly shoot to-morrow.

A lacrosse match takes place to-night between the Riverside and Y.M.C.A. clubs. The Shamrocks and Y.M.C.A club play next Monday night.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are out to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

DUNN COULDN'T WAIT.

A Montreal Convict With Two Months to Serve Breaks Jail.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—A most daring and successful attempt to break jail took place this morning. James Dunn, an old shoemaker who celebrated his 53rd birthday in jail a few days ago, was under sentence of two years' hard labor for indecent assault. As the man was old and apparently to an extent decrepid and as the regular cells were overfilled he was placed with sixteen other old prisoners in the mansard of the jail building where the prisoners shared a large and airy room and were not confined to any cells. This morning at 1.30 o'clock the guard of the jail on his usual rounds passed through the mansard room and on telling off the prisoners he found them all in their respective places. When the guard came around again at four o'clock he was thunderstruck to see clear sky through a portion of the roof, and the cot which Dunn had occupied all taken apart and of course without its tenant.

On investigation it was found that the prisoner had escaped in this ingenious manner. He first took off his bed all the bedclothes, tore some of them into tiny shreds and made a strong rope out of them, then he took two planks from his bedstead and tied them to one end of the rope and finally he lifted himself up to the skylight. There, he tied one end of the rope to an iron crossbar and carefully lifted the two planks out of the skylight and let them down till they reached the ground. Then he himself followed on the rope until he stood safely on terra firma and outside of the jail building. There was no guard in the prison yard at the time. The prisoner had been notified that his sentence had been shortened and that he would be liberated in two months from now.

Drowned While Rescuing a Dog—A Wholesale Firm Call a Meeting of Creditors.

TORONTO, Aug. 3.—White, Joselin & Co., wholesale dealers in laces and embroideries, decided yesterday to call a meeting of creditors, which will be held at Nottingham, Eng., Aug. 24. The liabilities amount to $175,000, of which $75,000 are indirect, and the assets are placed at $100,000.

Yesterday afternoon John Avison, a carpenter, was drowned in the Don close to the railway bridge. Mr. Avison went out for a walk, taking with him a favorite dog belonging to Mrs. Davis, his mother-in-law. Whilst walking by the river the dog got into the water, and Mr. Avison, it is supposed, overreached himself in trying to get the animal out, fell in, and before aid arrived was drowned. Mr. Avison was about 44 years of age and leaves a widow and four children, all under 11 years of age.

The Rossin House has changed ownership. Mr. Mark Irish, the well-known proprietor, has sold out to Abner Scott of Nova Scotia.

A blaze occurred yesterday morning in the rear of Mr. Frunton's bakery, at 120 Queen-street (west, Parkdale. The bakehouse as well as Mr. Greenshield's stables, were burned. The horses were rescued. The loss aggregates $1600, which is partially insured.

On Thursday next in Shaftesbury Hall the eleventh annual session of the High Court of Ontario, Independent Order of Foresters, will be opened.

THE TAIL TWISTER TALKS.

RIDDLEBERGER'S RANT ABOUT THE FISHERIES TREATY.

The Virginia Fire Eater's Votes to Assist the War—Senator Morgan of Alabama Speaks to His Constituents.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—In the Senate today Mr. Sherman moved to proceed to the consideration of the Fisheries Treaty in open executive session. The motion was agreed to, 24 to 22, a strict party vote, and the Fisheries Treaty was taken up, the question being on Mr. Morgan's (Dem., Ala.) motion to postpone its further consideration till December next.

Mr. Riddleberger (Rep., Va.) said that the vote just taken settled conclusively the only question that could possibly be in controversy from this time on in reference to the treaty, and that was the Republican party of this country was opposed to the ratification of the treaty, and that the Democratic party was in favor of it. It was being considered as a party question on the other side of the Atlantic Ocean, and it was proposed to consider it as such on this side. When he offered the resolution some months ago to consider the treaty in open session he had in his hands documents which gave him the right to judge that this was a representative English or pro-English Government.

He quoted from Sir Charles Tupper's speech in the Canadian Parliament a statement, which he said had never been denied, to the effect that Mr. Bayard had assured him that if the fisheries irritation were allayed there would be no obstacle to arranging for a free interchange of the natural products of both countries in accordance with the policy of the Democratic party. That meant that the Fisheries Treaty was to lead up to free trade.

He arraigned the Administration and the Democratic party which backed it, as a pro-English organization and he proceeded to read extracts from English periodicals to prove that the Mills bill and the President's tariff message were in the direction of free trade, and that the presidential election contest was a conflict between free trade and protection, and nothing else.

He read an extract from the speech of S. S. Cox in the House, speaking of protectionists as robbers, rascals and plunderers, and said he was not surprised at that sentiment when he read a book published by the same gentleman many years ago, entitled, "The Beekays Abroad," in which such sentences as this occurred: "Old England: God bless her! With tears in my eyes I beseech Heaven's best benison upon her. I remember her only as the land of noble deeds and generous hearts." He (Riddelberger) knew Mr. Cox had pleaded the "baby act" in reference to that book and he supposed he would plead dotage in reference to his later utterances.

In conclusion Mr. Riddelberger declared that we could never be a national government until we had whipped England for the third time.

Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) proceded to address the Senate. The remarks which he proposed to submit were, he said, in reference to the plan of the case covered by his resolution declaring, that in the opinion of the Senate, the treaty has been properly authenticated and is lawful and valid and that the time has not passed for negotiating on the subject of the fisheries. The country was already aroused by the action of a caucus of the Republican party that the treaty was doomed to defeat, and the purpose of his resolution was to save to the Government of the United States as good an attitude as possible after the rejection of the treaty. If he were opposed to the treaty and believed it to be a sacrifice of the honor of the people of the United States he would nevertheless insist on the adoption of his resolution for the purpose of disembarrassing the future diplomatic or other relations of the United States with Great Britain and providing the means by which the two Governments could get in accord. He could not conceive a more unfortunate situation than for the Government of the United States to make the declarations as proposed in the majority report of the Committee on Foreign Relations, first, that the fisheries relations of the two countries were not a fit subject for negotiation, and secondly that the time for negotiations had passed. He did not believe in either of these statements. The country would receive such a declaration with very serious doubt. He desired, by a vote of the Senate, to free the question from any such embarrassment as that. If it was decided to reject the treaty in solido, without attempting to improve it or to reform it by amendment, let it be so rejected, but let that rejection be accompanied with a declaration, made necessary now by the majority report, that the time for negotiations had not passed and that the subject was a proper one for negotiation.

If the declaration proposed by the majority of the Committee on Foreign Relations were made by the Senate, what reply could Great Britain be expected to make in regard to these Northwestern fisheries which it was now so necessary should be regulated by treaty agreement?

Proceeding to discuss the question in detail and coming down to the treaty of 1818, he was asked by Mr. Hoar, "Do you think that the treaty of 1818 would have been improved if it had contained a provision that the trial of our fishermen, (while exercising their own rights,) should be before Canadian tribunals with the burden of the proof on our fishermen?"

Mr. Morgan: "I think the treaty of 1818 is greatly improved by the present negotiations."

Mr. Hoar: "That is not an answer to my question."

Mr. Morgan: "Perhaps not, I do not propose to answer any irrelevant question."

"Mr. Evans: Suppose the treaty of 1818 were abrogated by the United States or by Great Britain what would be the subsisting arrangement between the two countries respecting the fisheries?"

Mr. Morgan: "Inasmuch as ours was a perpetual renunciation of fishery rights except as to a certain area, I judge that we should have no rights in respect to the fisheries and that was the great misfortune with the treaty of 1818."

Mr. Evans: "I understood the Senator to say the other day that he was in favor of abrogating the treaty of 1818."

Mr. Morgan: "I said and I say now that when a bill is brought here to abrogate the treaty of 1818 and to assert the rights which our negotiators then abandoned arriving under the treaty of 1783, and which were the gift of the revolutionary war, I would join the Senator from New York, although I know in would lead to war, in voting for and receiving our rights, resulting from the revolutionary war."

Mr. Evarts: "Then it is worth while to fight for our revolutionary rights but not for our rights under the treaty of 1818."

Mr. Morgan: "It is not worth while to fight about a matter which you intend to give up. It is better to try to amend the conditions and live under them. If we have to wear a yoke let us put something soft under the collar."

Labor Day in Halifax.

HALIFAX, Aug. 2.—The first celebration of Labor Day occurred in Halifax to-day and was a grand success. It took the form of a big parade and picnic. The procession started at 8 o'clock in the morning and marched through the city, making a splendid appearance. It was composed of all the trades unions in Halifax and between 700 and 800 men were in line. The public turned out en masse to witness the demonstration.

TOUCHING WHAT TOOK PLACE IN THE PARNELL INTERVIEW.

Mr. O'Shea's Version and Views of the Controversy—Patrick Egan Says He is Willing to Stand a Fair Investigation.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Mr. O'Shea writes to The Times in regard to the interview between Mr. Parnell and Mr. Chamberlain. He says: Both are right; but, full of horror as Mr. Parnell was on the day after the Phœnix Park murder, it is not astonishing that he has forgotten when he asked me to arrange an interview with a minister he then considered his benefactor. It is quite true that he went with Mr. McCarthy after I left Mr. Chamberlain. I only wish that those who believe Mr. Parnell cognizant of crime had seen him on that day. Innocence never showed itself more clearly under a terrible ordeal. Wild as his attack may appear, I know that for a long time he has been imbued with the fixed idea that Mr. Chamberlain divulged Cabinet secrets. The last time I spoke to Mr. Parnell, shortly before the division on Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule Bill, he threatened to publish the charge, and I advised him to make up his mind that Mr. Chamberlain could not object.

In regard to local government Mr. Parnell's memory is curiously at fault. The scheme was altogether Mr. Parnell's own. Mr. Chamberlain hesitated, and only adopted it because it was Parnell's. Why he now repudiates it is a mystery. Surely also there is some mistake about the renewal of the Coercion Act. Mr. Chamberlain must have in his possession a draft of the Coercion Act amended in Mr. Parnell's own hand into the form in which he proposed it should be passed, with just enough show of opposition in Parliament to satisfy those concerned.

Egan Interviewed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 2.—Patrick Egan, in an interview on the Parnell Commission and its effect upon the Irish party, expressed himself as willing to meet a fair and impartial investigation. He declared the letters published by the London Times to be forgeries. Regarding the charge made by Parnell on Tuesday against Chamberlain, Egan said that during the whole time Chamberlain was communicating a Cabinet secret to the Irish party Chamberlain's object was to undermine Gladstone. In reply to an enquiry he said that if Chamberlain would demand an investigation, he (Egan) knew where the evidence could be got to sustain Parnell's charge. Some of this evidence was in writing and in the hands of their friends. Egan further said that the information which Chamberlain secretly divulged to the Irish party was of "considerable importance from time to time."

The Parnell Commission Bill.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—In the House of Commons last night a number of amendments to the Parnell Commission Bill were rejected. The remaining clauses were carried without a division and the House adjourned at an early hour this morning, the report stage being fixed for Monday.

Emin and Stanley.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Despatches from Zanzibar state that two native messengers who were captured from one of the early expeditions by tribes in the Ugandi district bordering on the Albert Nyanza and escaped last April have arrived there. They report that the situation of Emin Bey is very difficult, provisions being scarce and the feeling of discouragement among his troops very great. In April Emin received a summons from the Mahdi, dated at Khartoum, to surrender or disband his followers. He also received a letter from Lupton Bey advising him to submit to the Mahdi's terms in order to save the lives of the Europeans at Khartoum and Wadelai. The reported advance of the Mahdi's forces being confirmed, Emin decided to surprise him. He considered the Lupton letter a forgery and the non-arrival of Stanley disturbed him greatly. Emin was then in receipt of reports that Stanley was hemmed in between the Maboda country and the Albert Nyanza country, and also that he had been compelled to direct his course to an unknown route.

STORMS IN THE STATES.

School Girls Struck by Lightning in Indiana—Minnesota Casualties.

JEFFERSON, Ind., Aug. 2.—Julia Whalen, aged 14, and Alice Fleming, Mamie Hayes and Mamie Glasgow were on their way home from school last evening when a bolt of lightning descended, killing the Whalen girl and rendering the others unconscious. The Hayes and Glasgow girls quickly revived but it was some time before the Fleming girl was restored. She is still suffering much and talks incoherently. The physicians think her reason has been dethroned. The body of the dead girl a few minutes after the electric current prostrated her was as black as ebony.

Terrible Thunderstorm in Minnesota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 3.—Specials from St. Cloud and Sauk Rapids, Minn., state that a most terrific thunderstorm occurred Wednesday night, and torrents of rain fell. Many houses were struck by lightning, but there was no loss of life. Whole fields of wheat are under water. A St. Cloud party going to a funeral was overturned in a washout and barely escaped drowning. Two persons were struck by lightning at Sauk Rapids but recovered. Twenty-one houses were struck by lightning at St. Cloud. Two of Mrs. Klengert's children will die from the effects of the bolt that struck her house. Two horses were also killed. Three passenger trains on the Manitoba road are in the yards at St. Cloud unable to proceed.

A Disastrous Hailstorm.

BROWN'S VALLEY, Minn., Aug. 2.—A hailstorm passed over the Sisseton reservation Tuesday and ruined all the crops in its wake. The swath it cut was over a mile wide and ten miles long. Great loss of property is reported. Near Rosemont, Minn., a young man named Cummings was killed by lightning.

THE "BOVININE" PATENT.

DECISION RESERVED ON THE BUSH CO.'S APPLICATION.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—The application of the J. P. Bush Company of New York, to cancel the patent granted to Messrs. Hanson and McLaughlin of St. John, N.B., for the manufacture of "Bovinine" was argued in the Department of Agriculture to-day and decision reserved.

In connection with the writ for Halton, which, as already stated, has been issued, nomination Aug. 15, polling Aug. 22, it is understood that writs for elections in several other constituencies now vacant will be issued in a day or two.

There is no truth whatever in the statements made that the ranchers in the neighborhood of Fort McLeod are suffering from the effect of vexatious cattle quarantine regulations. The only regulations in force are those requiring ninety days' quarantine, which are necessary in order to avoid having Canadian cattle scheduled in the English market and have been in force several years.

The loss to the Eddy Company by the fire at Skead's Mills yesterday is now placed at about $150,000. There is an insurance of $98,000 divided as follows: United States Mutual, $25,000; Royal of Liverpool, $14,000; Imperial, $10,000; Royal Canadian, $8000; Citizens', $6000; Queens, $6000; Guardian, $5000; Phœnix of London, $5000; Ætna, $3800; Hartford, $3800; Northern, $3000.

Capt. Colville, of the Guards, who was unable to leave England with Lord Stanley, but who came a few weeks afterwards, has been gazetted as military secretary to His Excellency, Capt. Baget taking the place of A.D.C.

The city has been under a pall of smoke all day from bush fires, which are raging in every direction. So far there has been little destruction of buildings reported, but the damage in the woods will be very great.

Hon. Mr. Haggart arrived in the city from Perth to-night and will proceed at once to Quebec to be sworn in.

The statement that there have been fifty desertions from A Battery is a gross exaggeration. There have not been more than eight or ten desertions from the Battery this year. Fifty would mean nearly one-third of the force.

The Guards' difficulty remains in statu quo. It is understood that Lieut.-Col. Macpherson has not yet forwarded to the Militia Department the resignations of his officers.

Tenders for unlet sections of the Cornwall canal and for the section below Guard lock on the Galops canal will probably be called for by the Department of Railways and Canals in a few weeks.

MANITOBA'S BIG CROPS.

A Promising Outlook—Immigration from the States Increasing.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 2.—Reports from thirty places in the province indicate a much larger crop than was expected. The harvest will be about a week or ten days later than last year, but as yet no harm has been done to cereals. Wheat will probably yield 20 to 40 bushels per acre, barley 35 to 50, oats 65.

There are no new developments in the railway deal. It has been learned that Chief Engineer Kendricks of the Northern Pacific left New York for Winnipeg today.

Sales of land by the Canadian Pacific Railway are daily increasing and letters are received from different parts of the Northwestern States from people who want to come here and settle.

A young Icelander went crazy to-day because his sweetheart went to British Columbia.

BLINKEY MORGAN HUNG.

The Drop Falls at 1.32 this Morning—A Hideous Death.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 3.—Charles S., alias "Blinkey", Morgan, the chief of the notorious Ravenna rescuers, was hanged in the penitentiary annex this morning, the trap being sprung at 1.32.

Morgan passed the day without incident and ate heartily at supper-time. The small execution room would hardly hold the people.

The doomed man was led out by Warden Coffin, and after the death warrant was read was asked whether he had any statement to make.

He shook his head in the negative without making any audible reply, and stood indifferently eying the crowd.

An enthusiastic friend whom he had invited to be present persisted in objecting to the execution and was removed from the room, but came back again at the warden's leave.

Morgan met his fate with stoical indifference, the only words uttered being: "Goodbye, Nellie," just as the black cap was pulled over his head. The Nellie in question was his mistress in Cleveland.

The drop failed to break his neck and he struggled hideously for several minutes before he was relieved by death which occured in 27 minutes.

Morgan left a written statement, copies of which were given to the local papers. He simply asserted his innocence and declined to make any statement [illegible]

Forty Per Cent Off Their Wage.

How the Milk was Watered.

TRAMSFORD, Aug. 2.—Allan Dowsham appeared here the other day before a bench of magistrates on the charge of watering milk which he sold to customers. A number of witnesses were sworn, and one of them, the defendant's hired boy, testified to having given the cows salt the day previous to the alleged watering of the milk, and that the cows on that day drunk an unusual quantity of water, at least one tank full more than usual. Judgment was reserved for a week.

The Trent Valley Canal.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—I wish to make a few remarks on Mr. Laidlaw's letter, lately published in the Globe, to the Trent Valley Canal Commissioners in answer to their circular. Mr. Laidlaw remarks:—"How the vessels are to be lifted from Lake Simcoe to Balsam Lake over the height of land between these two without damming up either lake to a great height and drowning out half the country, I do not understand." I am perfectly unacquainted with the topography of the country beyond Balsam Lake. I have relied entirely in my advocacy of the building of the canal on the reports of the engineers with regard to the sufficiency of the water supply. Mr. Tait's report is very elaborate on this subject, and Mr. Rubidge told myself, when he was about commencing his survey, that he had satisfied himself on the water supply more than thirty years before. I lay stress on this fact, namely, that Mr. Page, the Chief Engineer of the Dominion, if not hostile, has never favored the scheme, and, if he could have reported any such defects and difficulties as referred to by Mr. Laidlaw, to the Government, he would have gladly done so, as being fatal to it. He has made no such report. I have not a copy of Mr. Tait's report by me, but if I remember rightly it contemplates the raising of the water in Balsam Lake four feet, without material injury to the surrounding country.

"Regarding finance," Mr. Laidlaw says, "if the canal was to be built it must be built with public money as a public work, or upon borrowed money from private individuals in Great Britain, and the misery that followed the building of the Grand Trunk would be little in comparison to that which would follow private investment in the Trent Valley Canal." Why? The Grand Trunk has never, I believe, paid the shareholders any dividend, and the Trent Valley Canal could not do less. And besides, the same enormities that were committed in the building of the Grand Trunk need not be repeated in the building of the Trent Valley Canal. Every man on the Grand Trunk construction, if he could claim the rank of an officer of any kind, if only in charge of half a dozen men working with wheelbarrows, had a horse and buggy for his own use, with a man to take care of them, and all sorts of extravagance in accord, making the expense of construction $50,000, when $25,000 properly expended would have been ample. Altho' extravagance has not altogether disappeared from our public works, it is on the wane, and the Grand Trunk folly will never be repeated.

Mr. Laidlaw compares his supposed cost of the T.V.C. with the expenditure on the construction of the Grand Trunk. But a comparison with the cost of the original Welland Canal would be much more to the point. I purpose, therefore, in answer to Mr. Laidlaw's $75,000,000 cost of the T.V.C., to give a short historical sketch of the original Welland Canal, and the cost thereof. The Welland Canal was not a Government measure, but that of a private company. It was built in opposition to the scheme of the British Government, with a single eye to the building up of St. Catherines. The scheme of the British Government was to open the Trent waters, and make them a continuous canal connecting with the Rideau, by which gunboats could be taken from the Ottawa river at Bytown (now Ottawa) to the upper lakes by inland navigation. With this object in view the British Government had the route partly surveyed by Mr. Baird. It granted a bonus for its inception, mentioned in Mr. Baird's report, built a fort at Penetanguishene and established a military depot there for the protection of the mouth of the canal intended to be built, which station was kept up many years without anything to defend. Whilst the British Government were handling their red tape, they found themselves forestalled by Canadian enterprise and the canal nearly built, before they opened their eyes to the fact. The Trent Valley scheme was then allowed to drop. No British engineer, having any knowledge of military strategy, would have located a canal where the Welland is, in the very maw, as it were, of a then very hostile nation. It would have been like as if the Queen, when the matter was referred to her, had made Trenton or Cobourg the capital of the Dominion, instead of the inland and easily defended town of Ottawa. The original Welland Canal Company, incorporated on the 19th day of June, 1824, with a capital stock of £40,000 or $200,000 in $50 shares, consisted of George Keefer, Thomas Merritt, George Adams, William Chisholm, Joseph Smith, Paul Shipman, John Pecow, William H. Merritt, and others. The work was begun on the 30th of December, 1824, and was not discontinued for a single day during five years until two vessels passed from lake to lake, 106 miles. The Welland was about the same length of time under construction that the T.V.C. has been under survey.

The report of the Directors in 1829, after the first two vessels had passed through from lake to lake, contains the following remark: "To shew the Government and the stock-holders that their money has been economically expended, the following statement is presented:

TOTAL COST OF WELLAND CANAL.

Amount paid contractors, on the estimate of the engineers	£ 45,000
Awards and real estate	4,8[illegible]
Duties to Government and interest to Bank U.C.	9,[illegible]
Thomas Frost, agent, New York	2,486
Contingencies, including salaries, etc., making nearly 5 per cent. on the outlay	12,710
	£272,795

The canal was 106 miles of solid cutting, about twice as much as there would be on the T.V.C., and accomplished for the sum of £272,795, or $1,363,975. Now what has been done once I contend can be done again, and especially when we have such powerful mechanical appliances, for the accomplishment of the work, which were not known to the contractors of the Welland Canal. The pick, the shovel, the wheelbarrow and blasting materials were the implements on which they chiefly depended. The extent of the work is thus described in the report:

Length of ship canal from Lake Erie to Ontario	28 miles
From Port Robinson to mouth of the river Welland	9½ "
From river Welland to Port Erie	12 "
From Point Maitland to Dunnville	5 "
From Dunnville to Cayuga	15 "
	70½ "
From Junction to Dunnville	26½ "
	106 miles

The sea-at, 356 feet, was surmounted by forty wooden locks—three harbours were constructed, Port Dalhousie, Maitland and Colborne—an aqueduct over the river Welland 265 feet in length and 24 feet in width, represented in the report as the "best wooden structure in America, designed and built by Marshal Lewis"—a dam and embankment over the Grand river, nearly one mile in width, and fifteen feet deep in the channel—"and one and three-quarter miles of the deepest cutting in America, averaging from thirty to fifty-six feet." I regret very much to have to differ in opinion from Mr. Laidlaw, but I formed my conclusions from the study of facts, which are stubborn things, and cannot be got over. I will accept Mr. Laidlaw's margin between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000, and furnish men to build the canal, provided Mr. Laidlaw is wrong in his statement about the water, and certainly it is at variance with all that has been scientifically reported.

GAMBLERS IN STOCKS.

The Men Arrested at Hanrahan's in Toronto Heavily Fined.

TORONTO, Aug. 3.—The nine men arrested in Hanrahan & Co's office on July 20 were brought to trial at the police court yesterday. The defendants were charged with unlawfully playing in a common gaming-house—Logan, the manager with being the keeper of such a house, a count being added against three of the accused charging them with making a contract for the purchase of certain shares of railroad stock in which no delivery of the stock was intended or made "with the intent to make profit by the fall of the price in such stock," the prosecution being under Senator Abbott's "Bucket Shop Bill," passed at the last session of Parliament.

Inspector Archibald who was in charge of the squad which made the arrest testified that when he entered the office Logan was writing and on the desk beside him was this paper:

No. 21. Report—

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 19, 1888.

Margin, $60. Stop order limit 80¾.

You have this day bought 3000 of Dec. wht. at 81⅞ on margin as above, subject to conditions now posted in our office.

To F. Nk. HANRAHAN & Co.,
H. R., Toronto. Per R. L.

Cut your losses short. Let your profits run long.

There was a "ticker" and a blackboard in the next room where the other defendants were found.

Detective Reid testified to buying stock in the office of Hanrahan & Co. and being "wiped out," that is, he lost the money which he put up as a "margin."

Fitten, one of the defendants, was discharged and called for the prosecution. He testified to six or seven "deals" in stocks and oil on which he lost about $60.

No evidence was given fort he defendants. The contention of the defence was first that the defendants were being tried under one act, the Gaming Act, for carrying on transactions which another act, the Stock Act, declared illegal, secondly that the certificates and other papers seized were not "instruments of gaming," under the act, and third that the contracts were made not in Toronto but in Buffalo, and that the Canadian law had therefore not been broken.

The magistrate after summing up the case, said: "I consider the charges proved and I fine Murphy, Paddan and McCoppin $20 and costs or 30 days imprisonment; Logan the keeper $100 without costs, or 60 days; Nelson $20 and costs, or 30 days; Barton, Cornell and Brisbane, $50 and costs, or 50 days.

Notice of appeal was given by all the defendants.

A RIOT AT A CIRCUS.

Habitants Victimized at River du Loup and Trouble Ensues.

CACOUNA, Que., Aug. 2.—A serious riot, probably ending in several fatalities, occurred to-night at River du Loup on the occasion of the performances of Howe's circus. The show had been advertised as a "colossal circus" but turned out to be a colossal fraud and most of those who attended felt they had been duped.

The evening performance was just about to close when the people in the main tent were startled by the report of rifle shots outside. The audience rushed for the exit, but, women and children screamed and fainted and a panic ensued.

It soon became evident to those who got out that a fight was in progress. The row occurred between the habitants and the circus gang, and the latter, including them cowboys and bogus Indians, discharged guns and revolvers indiscriminately into the crowd.

The trouble arose from the victimizing of countrymen by pea riggers. The circusmen joined the gamblers and shot at the people. One man is said to be fatally wounded in the head and four others slightly.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, Aug. 2.—The city ministers, medical men and many prominent citizens are invited by circular to seats on the platform on Monday evening next, on the occasion of the opening of the Inebriate Asylum movement, Col. Gibson, M.P.P., in the chair.

William Edgar, sr., a highly respected resident of this city, died on Tuesday evening. He was the father of William Edgar, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk system, who is in the city attending the last sad rites. The funeral is announced for Saturday.

Last evening a hack carrying a bridal party collapsed on James-street south, a wheel having come off without any warning. The bride was spilled into the street, but her white dress and orange blossom escaped without damage. The party walked the rest of the way.

A little daughter of Henry McGee, saddler, fell off the edge of the mountain at the head of James-street yesterday afternoon, but escaped with a severe cut on the head.

On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills so well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31'd is usually subject to dangerous and sudden attacks of bowel complaints, diarrhoea, dysentery, etc., caused by change of food and water. The sovereign remedy and surest safeguard against all such troubles is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Never travel without it. 2w31d

Summer Travel

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. dw

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Easily Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

OUT OF TOWN.

Subscribers to THE EXAMINER, who intend spending their holidays at summer resorts, can have their papers sent them by giving notice at the office. Non-subscribers will be supplied with THE DAILY EXAMINER at such resorts for 35c. per month or $1.00 for three months.

The Weather.

Moderate to fresh winds; mostly east and south, fair weather, with local showers or thunderstorms by night.

Delays are Dangerous.

Don't delay in purchasing your dry goods at the golden lion; every day bargains are to had, and the wise man in his generation will lay up a supply while the cheap reign lasts. R. Fair keeps a complete stock at rock-bottom prices.

Good Reaping.

The Hastings Star says:—Mr. Jas. Fleming, of Percy, cut in eight hours, with Hamilton's eight steel binder, four hundred stooks of wheat, all being done with one team, and without sweating them any, showing it to be a first-class machine and very light of draught.

Still They Come.

The arrivals at the immigration sheds in Toronto during the past month numbered 1,503. Of these 576 went to the Western States and the others remained in this province. In July of last year the arrivals were 1,685, of whom 75 went to the North West and 839 to the Western States, Ontario getting the balance. This is the dull season for immigration, but it is said the demand for agricultural help is good.

New Poles.

Mr. H. W. Kent, of the telephone office, is negotiating with the town council for permission for his company to erect new poles on George street for their use. The Bell Telephone Company promise to put up the best poles procurable and keep them nicely painted. The ones now in use are too small for the purpose. In return for this favor the company offer to give the town a complete fire alarm system. It is probable the "dicker" will be made.

A Different Meaning.

Mr. Chas. LeGros objects to the wording of a paragraph in the EXAMINER yesterday regarding the arrest of John Powers. The item stated that Powers was the man who got drunk in Legros' barber shop last week. The mistake is palpable. It was merely intended to show that Powers was in there while drunk, and was arrested for creating a disturbance. This correction is made gladly, and it is to be hoped "Charlie's" business will in nowise be injured by the inference contained in the paragraph.

A Railway Error.

The Campbellford Herald is a little astray in the facts of the following item: "Trains on the Grand Junction now make convenient connection with trains on the Grand Trunk. Passengers on the morning train going west arrive at Peterborough in time for the train going to Port Hope, and there connection can be made a few minutes later with the mail train from Toronto." The morning train from Campbellford connects here with the through train from Port Hope to Toronto via Lindsay.

Campers En Route.

The exodus of campers bound for Stony Lake was not so large this morning. Among those who left was a party composed of Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, of Belleville, Miss Aldridge and Miss Wallace; another comprised Mr. and Mrs. T. Dolan, and Mrs. B. Morrow. Mr. Sheriff Hall and part of his family left for their cottage on Stony Lake. Miss Menzies and Master Menzies left for "Keenore" lodge. Mr. John Harley accompanied them and will return to-night. Mr. T. Barrie will join camp Wee-mis-ti-coe-sen-wa-sis.

A Pleasant Affair.

Beautiful weather graced the occasion of the fruit festival on the grounds of the George street Methodist church Thursday evening, and numbers of people strolled about the spacious illuminated grounds and school room. There must have been over 200 present. The band supplied music at intervals for those outside, while in the school room the refreshment tables were liberally patronized. Ice cream, berries, cake and confectionery were dispensed by the young ladies of the church, whose abilities as saleswomen are not to be doubted. There was no programme of any kind, the evening being spent in social recreation. Rev. M. L. Pearson, the new pastor, was everywhere, welcoming strangers and meeting the members of his church with affable cordiality. The proceeds must have netted a handsome sum.

Otonabee Show.

The directors of the Otonabee Agricultural Society met on 26th July, and after revising the prize list decided to hold a show at Keene early in October. The Milk Cases.

Mr. E. B. Edwards, counsel for Mr. John Wasson, the defendant in the recent milk adulteration case before P. M. Edmison, has applied for and been granted a writ of certiorari by Mr. Justice Robertson, of Toronto. The case will be tried again at Toronto next September. It was singular that the very same day Mr. Edwards made his application, a couple of Bellaville lawyers were also seeking to have two similar convictions made in their county quashed.

Forest Fire.

An extensive and destructive forest fire broke out yesterday and is still raging immediately in the rear of Messrs. Aylmer and Rubidge's cottages, at the head of Clear Lake, threatening destruction to woods, buildings and crops in that vicinity. Mr. Chas. Wynne, who is at present occupying Mr. Rubidge's cottage, has a force of men fighting the fire, but unless the wind, which is blowing towards the lake, falls soon it will be almost impossible to arrest the progress of the fire.

PUT off prejudices and put in a good supply of choice Family Groceries from The Pantry.

A Dangerous Bush Fire.

A dangerous bush fire raged all day yesterday in the woods surrounding the quarry in the west end of the town, the property of Mrs. Dixon. A large posse of men fought the fire by bush-beating and plowing under, but not till late in the evening was it got under control. It was feared at one time Mrs. Dixon's house and barns would be burned. The fire is supposed to have originated from a spark thrown out by a locomotive.

A Brace of Accidents.

Mr. Harry Stevens fell through a floor the other day and had his leg badly bruised, not seriously, however.

Mr. H. Sherwood, stonemason, met with a peculiar accident a few days ago. He was working alongside a laborer, who was wielding a pick, when the latter unintentionally drove the point of the implement deep into Mr Sherwood's leg, making a very painful wound. Dr. Scott is attending him.

An accident policy in the Manufacturers' Insurance Company, Wilson & Morrison, agents, would bring $5 per week for every $1,000 insured during disablement.

The Nine Hour System.

The Peterborough branch of the Knights of Labor are agitating the adoption of the nine-hour labor system in town. At a regular meeting of the K. of L. Wednesday night there were about 250 workingmen and mechanics present, including representatives from the different Unions and Brotherhoods in town. The question was debated and a resolution favoring the nine-hour system, unanimously passed. It is the intention of K. of L. and Unions to hold a monster labor demonstration in Peterborough next September, at which the proposition will be farther urged forward, and it is probable a strong resolution forwarded to the Trades and Labor Council at Ottawa. The laboring men of Peterborough are now pretty thoroughly organized and evidently intend to look more closely after their own interests in future.

Bad Water.

Recently there has been issued from the Department at Ottawa a bulletin containing the results of analyses of samples of drinking water procured from all over the province. On the whole the miscellaneous waters taken from lakes, taps in houses and schools, reservoirs and springs, show the largest proportions of good waters, the proportion of good to bad in river and well waters being about one third. The following extracts are made from the bulletin:—Public well, market square, Perth, Ont., impure; well in West end, Perth, impure; well in general use, Brockville, impure; well on Wellington street, Kingston, of doubtful purity; public well at Belleville, impure; well at Peterborough, Ont., impure; well near school, Stratford, Ont., fair; well at Royal Exchange hotel, Berlin, impure; well at Central school, Berlin, of questionable purity; well on Norwich street, Guelph, very impure, much green vegetable matter developed itself on standing.

The Stationing Committee.

The following communication appears in the Mail of Thursday:—

To the Editor of the Mail:—

SIR,—In several of the Conferences of the Methodist Church the Stationing Committees seem to have ignored the invitations extended by Quarterly Boards, and it appears to have been done in such a manner as to create much feeling. As a sample case, permit me to state how George street church, Peterborough, was dealt with.

On the death of Dr. Nelles, Rev. F. H. Wallace, B.D., who had just been six months in the pastorate of that church, was appointed to a professor's chair in Victoria College. His people recognized his fitness for the place without hesitation, but with great regret parted with him, and for the rest of the year were served by a young unordained minister. The Quarterly Board after long and careful deliberation, invited Rev. James Allan, M. A., of Brockville, in the Montreal Conference, to the pastorate of their church, and he accepted the invitation, subject to the sanction of the authorities of the church. The Peterborough church applied, in the regular way, to the Transfer Committee, and at their request Mr. Allan was transferred to the Bay of Quinte Conference. At once, however, it was whispered, and then plainly stated, that the ministers in the Bay of Quinte Conference who had their eye on Peterborough were offended, and that a minister who had exerted himself to get to the George street church would be our pastor, and not Mr. Allan. A committee was appointed to watch matters, and insist on the appointment of Mr. Allan. Sure enough, when the Stationing Committee met, Rev. Mr. Pearson was down for Peterborough, and Mr. Allan for Cobourg. The Conference met and lo! Mr. Pearson was President of the Conference, and chairman of the stationing Committee. The delegation representing the Peterborough church were on the ground, and they were calmly told that the discipline did not provide for the Stationing Committee receiving delegations or committees, and they were not received or noticed. Mr. Pearson was plainly told that the board would not receive him, to which he calmly replied that he was sent to Peterborough (by Providence, I suppose) and to Peterborough he would go, board or no board.

Now, sir, Mr. Pearson may be worthy of being chairman of the committee which stations the ministers, and of being president of the Conference—as to his qualifications I have nothing to say. But I do say that a man who stations himself on a church against the wish of a church comes to that church under circumstances not favourable to its best interests. And a system which tolerates such a defiance of the wishes of the people must soon find that men who retain their self-respect will not continue in its membership. There was a time when it was thought by Methodists to be wicked to invite or in any way interfere with the action of the Stationing Committee. The minister sent was received as sent by Providence. But soon the engineers began to work to secure the coveted places; a negotiation was opened; A's people invited B, and B's people invited A, and so the people, all unconscious of the ministerial hand, thought it was all done by the hand of Providence, till at last the system of swapping prevailed to such an extent that is self-defence the Quarterly Boards took the matter into their own hands.

Last year the Picton people were refused the minister they invited. The church got on its muscle, and told the authorities that they would not know or recognize, or have anything to do with, their appointee. The President of the Conference wisely took upon himself, in the exercise of his authority after Conference rose, to give Picton their own choice. This seems to have offended the ministers, and hence throughout the whole country this brave effort to put the official foot "on the neck of the invitation system." The ministers have thrown down the gauntlet. The issue is of their creation, and it will lead to a settlement they little expect, but one which will be for the peace of the church. The laity seek no contest. They are loyal and true. They have revered and honored their pastors as fully as any people their priests. The Methodist ministry possesses priestly authority and power beyond the ministry of any Church save one. They have retained it by the forbearance of the laity, and because, for the most part, they have exercised it wisely and well. But this arbitrary power of the Stationing Committee, which ignores the churches, provides no means of approach, will not receive deputations or representatives from the Quarterly Boards, which parcels out the fat things to its own liking—this is an institution which must be modified, for the laity of the Methodist Church, be they ever so loyal, will not submit to many such efforts to put the ministerial foot on the neck of the invitation system as have this year created so much trouble in the churches.

Yours, etc.,
D. W. DUMBLE.

Local Sports and Pastimes.

Notes.

The monthly rifle match Thursday afternoon was not completed on account of darkness, only two ranges being shot. The match will be concluded at an early date.

The Riverside-Y.M.C.A. lacrosse match, Thursday evening, resulted in favor of the former by 4 goals to one, in about an hour's play.

The silver medal offered by the manager of the shooting gallery for the best average of ten shots, was won by J. E. Blair, who scores 86 out of a possible 90.

Port Hope and Millbrook lacrosse clubs were to play to-day, and the Guide says:—"As the latter are the champions in this district, a good game may be looked for." Where did the Millbrooks get the title of "champions?"

The Orillia Packet says:—"A member of the Lindsay club places the number of canoes owned in that place at about two hundred. A Peterborough man doubts whether there are that many, but says that if there are, his town certainly has more. A Lakefield man estimates the number in use there at seventy-five or eighty."

On the occasion of the visit of the Sanbright cricket club of New York, the visitors will be tendered a banquet the evening of the match by the local cricketers.

The A. C. A. Meet.

ORILLIA, Aug. 2.—At eight o'clock last night the annual meeting was held in the pavilion at headquarters, when the following officers were elected for next year:—Vice-Commodore, Robert Tyson, Toronto; Rear-Commodore, S. S. Robinson, Orillia; Purser, Colin Fraser, Ubique; Executive Committee, F. S. Rathbun, Deseronto, and J. F. Edwards, Lindsay. The Executive Committees of the divisions form the Executive for the whole association, and the committee elects the commodore. Votes of thanks were passed to the retiring officers, and the members expressed a very high appreciation of the hospitality of the people of Orillia and their efforts to make the present meet a success.

Next year the general meet of the A.C.A. will be held in the Northern Division, and the opinion of the meeting last night was that the meet for next year should be held near the frontier in the St. Lawrence or Bay of Quinte.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

BANKRUPT STOCK EMPORIUM, No. 3 COX'S BLOCK, GEORGE ST.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting on invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

A TERRIBLE HOLOCAUST.

Thirteen Persons Burnt to Death in a New York Tenement House.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Thirteen people were burned to death in a six-story brick building in the rear of 197 Bowery this afternoon. Six more, burnt so badly that they will probably die, were removed to various hospitals.

The house was a ramshackle hidden in the middle of the block, the only entrance to it being a narrow alley from the Bowery. In front of it was a four-story building, on the first floor of which was a saloon called the White Elephant. Adjoining this is Harry Miner's People's Theatre. In rear of the burned building were two houses hemming it in on the Christie-street side. In this caged-in building lived about 150 people. Each of the six floors was occupied by a single family the head of which was a tailor who made clothing for the cheap wholesale clothing houses and employed from fifteen to twenty men, women and children in addition to his own family in making up the clothing. They were all Polish Jews and the employers and the employed worked, ate and slept in the rooms of the dingy tenement.

About 4.15 o'clock this afternoon, while all the occupants of the building were busily at work in the closing hours preceding their Sabbath eve flames broke out in the lower floor. The fire had already made such headway that it was in full possession of the stairway and escape by it seemed impossible. Many of the frightened inmates, however, rushed through the flames into the narrow court with clothes ablaze. Six of them were so severely burned that they were taken to the hospital and may die. There were fire escapes on front and rear of the house, but before any of the inmates had time to escape by them the flames had ascended through the house and were rushing from the windows, so that descent by the fire escape was impossible. One man, already half burned to death, escaped from a front story window and fell a mass of mangled flesh in the little courtyard. Others jumped from the second story windows and escaped with bruises.

A. H. Sheldon, manager of the People's Theatre, on discovering the fire sent out an alarm and the firemen responded, but when they arrived the flames already had complete possession of the house and nothing could be done to save it and little to save its inmates. Chas. W. Norman, property man of the theatre, with several of his comrades ran to the roof of the theatre, carrying a ladder which they stretched over to a window of the burning building. A woman with her hair and clothing already ablaze appeared at the window and Norman called to her to cross over on the ladder. She cried back that she could not leave her two children. Norman tried to cross over on the ladder, but the flames drove him back and he could not save her. Afterwards the charred bodies of the mother and two children were found in the building. Three men, however, availed themselves of the ladder and escaped to the roof of the theatre.

When the firemen had at last drowned the flames so that they could enter the house, they searched floor by floor, as they ascended and on the third floor they found the burned bodies of a man, a woman and a boy; on the fourth floor they found five bodies so badly burned that it was impossible to tell whether they were men or women; on the fifth floor no bodies were found but on the sixth there lay on the floor five more bodies and they also were burned so that it could not be told whether they were men or women. This made thirteen bodies found in the building.

PEOPLE OUTSIDE THE HOUSE NO COOLER.

Violence of the Debate Against the Parnell Commission—Tremendous Imputations Flung Lightly About.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Mr. Parnell, his friends and allies are fighting against the commission as if it were a question of life or death. The Irish leader has the unflinching support of Mr. Gladstone, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Mr. Morley and the whole Gladstonian wing of the Liberal party. They have, nevertheless, carried resistance to a point which spells their Plan of Campaign. Mr. Parnell still intends to offer to bring an action for libel against The Times as an alternative to the inquiry before the commission. The offer will be in vain. The Government have resolved to proceed with a common action or no action. When they first made their proposal for an inquiry by judges it was open to Mr. Parnell to accept or reject it. He declined to do either. If he now seeks to go back to that offer, he will be told it is too late. He had the option and refused it. The offer was not a continuing one, is not now open to him, and will not be renewed. The situation, indeed, has changed in several respects for the worse. The Government and the House of Commons have steadily rejected every amendment and refused every concession demanded. Their bill remains what it was, a bill for unlimited inquiry into every charge made by The Times against everybody in connection with "Parnellism and Crime."

Mr. Parnell's counter charge against Mr. Chamberlain has, at least for the present, broken down. The debate on the amendments has been so violent that on neither side is there now any disposition to give quarter. The most tremendous imputations are flung lightly about and the language is such as has rarely been heard in the House of Commons in its worst days. Mr. Parnell, once the coolest of men, has been at a white heat all the week. Twice over has he accused his opponents of using poison and dagger. In his passionate peroration of Tuesday night, he protested against the miserable dodges of the Ministry, and cried out: "Oh! it is poor; it is cowardly; it is loading the dice; it is poisoning the dagger." Mr. Labouchere says unrebuked on the floor of the House: "It is conspiracy." Sir William Vernon Harcourt observed that the Government made themselves "a mere conduit pipe for the foul water of The Times." Then changing the metaphor, he said they had to deal with "the slimy web of calumny woven by The Times and its counsel, and to wallow in this slime," whereupon the Solicitor-General for Scotland reminded Sir William it was he who once described the Tories as "chewing in Parnellite juice."

Mr. Healy, whose invective amuses the House in its most serious moments, improved on Sir Wm. Harcourt's "slimy web of calumny." The Irish members, according to him, were "drenched from the hose of the Attorney-General's liquid measure leak" and shot at by "Ministerial moonlighters from behind a hedge with blackened faces." The Home Secretary, whose conduct of his share of this business has been even less adroit than Mr. Smith's, insinuated as Mr. O'Connor cried out, that Byrne was directed by abler, wickeder men than himself, meaning the Parnellites. This Mr. Matthews promptly denied. Mr. Morley declared that if Mr. Redmond's story about himself and The Times was true, The Times had been guilty of the deepest infamy in suppressing Mr. Redmond's letter. This morning's issue prints Mr. Redmond's letter verbatim. Mr. Morley offers no explanation. Mr. Gladstone, whose words are in common times studiously moderate, accuses the Ministry of shirking, of surreptitiously shifting the issue. Mr. Goschen attacked Mr. Gladstone with a vehemence all the more bitter because his words were quoted. An animated wrangle went on across the table on the point whether Mr. Gladstone did or did not believe Mr. Smith's word of honor. "I do," retorted Mr. Gladstone, but straightway he qualified his assurance by insisting that the assertion he was called on to believe must be rational and intelligible. When the Home Rulers laughed at Mr. Goschen he exclaimed: "Oh, I have nothing to do with the members below the gangway who laugh." "Nothing to do with them," replied Sir William Vernon Harcourt, "yet they represent a nation."

Nor are people outside the House cooler than those inside. The Times itself describes Messrs. Parnell, Healy, T. P. O'Connor and Sexton as pouring out a flood of blackguardism, and Mr. Gladstone and Sir William Harcourt as entering into competition with the foul-mouthed oratory of the Parnellites.

The most serious of all the many accusations against the Ministry are two. The first is that they inserted—for that is what it comes to—the words "other persons" in the bill under pressure from Mr. Walter. This has been denied again and again by Mr. Smith, Mr. Goschen and other Ministers, but their opponents will not accept these denials. The second is that Mr. Matthews has blundered out that the real or primary object of the commission is not as alleged to inquire into The Times' charges but into the history of the "Land and National Leagues." This is what Mr. Gladstone meant when he charged the Government with having broken the solemn covenant into which they had entered.

Mr. O'Shea's letter to The Times is another candid friend's contribution to this dispute. Mr. O'Shea was formerly Mr. Parnell's right hand man in his negotiation with the Liberal leaders. Having quarrelled with him he now comes forward to confirm Mr. Chamberlain's account of the interview between him and Mr. Parnell after the Phœnix Park murders. Mr. O'Shea arranged, he tells us, that interview. So of the National Council scheme, it was Mr. Parnell's very own and exists in his own handwriting. Mr. Parnell, however, has long had, according to Mr. O'Shea, a fixed idea that Mr. Chamberlain did divulge Cabinet secrets and had long threatened to accuse him.

"The best advice I ever gave him," says O'Shea, "was that Mr. Chamberlain would not object to his doing so at Charing Cross." But the sting of this letter is in its tail. It is astounding to hear that Mr. Parnell assented to, even prepared, in 1885, a Coercion Bill. Mr. Chamberlain has Mr. Parnell's draft. It is a copy of the original not altered, says Mr. O'Shea, by Mr. Parnell's own hand into the form in which he proposed it should be passed with just enough show of opposition in the House of Commons to satisfy those concerned. Mr Parnell's evening organ in the London press makes no reference to this letter. G. W. S

THE CANADIAN RAILWAYS

A CAUSE OF ALARM TO UNITED STATES SENATORS.

Mr. Cullom of Illinois Moves for an Investigation—What the Late Secretary Manning Said.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—In the Senate yesterday Mr. Cullom (Rep., Ill.) offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Interstate Commerce to ascertain and report whether any United States railroad lines are owned and operated or controlled by the Grand Trunk or Canadian Pacific or any other Canadian railway company, also whether commerce originating in the United States is diverted from American to Canadian lines, to what extent and in what manner; also whether any discrimination is practised in the charges for tolls against American vessels in the Welland Canal, to enquire into the position of the regulation of commerce carried on by railroad or waterways between the United States and Canada; the committee to report what legislation is necessary for the protection of the commercial interests of the United States and to promote the enforcement of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Mr. Cullom said he would not undertake to say in advance what the situation was fully but he had investigated the subject enough to satisfy him that the commercial interests of the United States, and he might almost say its honor, demanded that something should be done to protect American interests against the encroachments of Canadian corporations. The Canadian Pacific Railroad ran from Halifax and Quebec, skirting the St. Lawrence river and the northern border of the United States to Vancouver on the Pacific and was reaching into the United States by the purchase and building of railroads in this country. In addition the British Government or the Canadian Government had recently subsidized a line of steamers to China and Japan for the purpose of securing the commerce between those countries and the United States and Europe. Whatever might be the exact facts in these matters all senators would agree that whatever could be done consistently with the relations between the two Governments and under the constitution of the United States ought to be done so that the commerce between China and Japan and the United States shall be carried on American roads instead of Canadian roads. The purpose of the recent subsidy of £60,000 a year to a line of three steamships on the Pacific to the western terminus of the Canadian Pacific was to give the Canadian Pacific the business which would naturally come to the Union Pacific or the Northern Pacific or the Southern Pacific, and the result so far had been that 42 per cent. of the tea consumed in this country was carried by the Canadian Pacific.

Mr. Gorman (Dem., Md.) said that in 1884 the late Secretary Manning investigated the question of the transportation of goods in bond through American territory and came to the conclusion that there was but one way to settle the trouble between the British Government and ourselves and that was to strike out these transportation acts. That done, Mr. Manning said, we would get all the rights demanded for our fishermen and all that was required for the railroads interested, and he absolutely, by an order, prohibited the transit of the goods, but when the law officers came to examine the question they advised him that he had no right to prevent the transit. The Senator referred to the C. P. R. extension through Maine, which, he said, would give them an advantage over the American roads of two days between Liverpool and Japan, which meant a monopoly of that trade. Mr. Gorman also alluded to the fact that the Republican candidate for Vice-President, Levi P. Morton, was a director of the C. P. R.

Mr. Edmunds (Rep., Vt.) replied to Mr. Gorman and the debate was closed by Mr. Cullom, after which the motion was carried without a division.

The Senate then took up the Fisheries Treaty in open executive session and was addressed by Mr. Teller (Rep., Col.) in opposition to its ratification.

Incendiary Fires at Fredericton.

William's Best Thanks.

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—On leaving the fleet on his return from his tour, Emperor William signalled that he was perfectly satisfied with the manner in which the officers and men had performed their duty during the voyage. He concluded the message with "my best thanks." The message was received with vociferous cheers. While at Friedrichsruhe the Emperor allowed himself to be photographed with the Chancellor.

Big Phosphate Finds on the K. and P.

KINGSTON, Aug. 3.—There is considerable excitement along the line of the Kingston and Pembroke Railway, owing to phosphate finds. Boyd Smith's mine at Eagle Lake has turned out to be the largest now known in the Dominion. A vein 20 feet wide has been discovered from which 100 tons per day are being shipped. There is nothing in the Buckingham district to equal it, and as the excitement is spreading prospectors are actively engaged in all directions.

A Stratford Man Killed by Lightning.

STRATFORD, Aug. 3.—Thomas Rice, butcher, was instantly killed by lightning to-night. Mr. Rice had sought shelter from the rain in his barn, and not coming in to tea at the accustomed hour, one of the family went to search for him, when to their horror they found Mr. Rice dead. His hat was torn to shreds, but he was not disfigured.

But they did not mention it until they reached home, nearly half a mile from the river. It is supposed he was taken with cramps. He leaves a wife and six small children.

SOME NATIONAL EVILS.

Many writers have descanted eloquently on what are considered the chief besetting evils of our country, chief among which they generally place the sin of intemperance. In our humble judgment there are other dangerous and prominent national evils than this, great and awful as the curse is in some parts of Canada. We propose to speak of them briefly and plainly. No other style of writing is likely to attract any attention in these "dog days," when the thermometer is "up in the nineties."

We believe the worship of the "almighty dollar" is a great national evil. For the last half century this has grown with our growth and strengthened with our strength. Canadians everywhere are fast becoming a nation of devoted Mammon-worshippers like the people south of us. In every city and town throughout the Dominion examples can be cited of men and women received into the highest society of the land, simply because of their riches. Formerly moral worth, birth and good breeding were essential before the closed gates of aristocratic circles would open; now a full purse, no matter what crimes, almost, the possessor may have been guilty of, is an open sesame. Money is the main passport to a respectable standing in society, and even in the churches. This, we feel certain, is the chief cause of the present rush for wealth on every side. Men cannot wait for fortunes which are to be acquired by slow and gradual processes. They must procure money rapidly, and hence methods of the most questionable character are adopted, if not means which are positively dishonest, to secure the golden bait. Such a mad rush for material prosperity with its attendant evils, its temptations and its crimes, cannot be borne long by any nation without be getting demoralized.

Another national peril, not, perhaps, so threatening or dangerous is the great influx of people, young and old, to our large cities and towns under the impression that country life is not so respectable and genteel as life in a city. Owing to this, in many places the population of country districts does not increase, while its resources are far from exhausted, farming is neglected, education dwindles, society itself languishes, and the state of those who have gone away is very seldom improved. It is a great mistake for young men to leave the farm for the shop and think the latter more independent. Even the professions are greatly overcrowded. Christians of every class and sect would do well to imitate the Jews and compel their children to learn a trade. This continent imports nearly all its skilled labour from Europe, yet in the face of this fact, young men flock into the cities in search of clerkships with insufficient incomes, and where the work is little short of slavery. This unwillingness to go at hard, manual labour and to learn useful trades is one of the prominent evils of the day. The vicious classes in our great centres of population are largely recruited and supported by those foolish young men from the country, who are almost ashamed to acknowledge their fathers are farmers. Let it be remembered that country life is purer and more respectable, as a rule, than city life, and manual labor is never dishonorable. Another threatening national evil is the decay of home life, but on this and other points we have not time nor space to dilate at present. Would that what we have said on two evils might prove effective.

INDIA AND ENGLAND.

The glory of England is her possession of magnificient colonies in all parts of the globe. It has come to pass that this Empire has, almost without exertion, been permitted to acquire country after country, and there is none which so excites the envy of foreign nations as her acquisition of India. This little island of Britain, a mere dot on the map of the extreme western portion of Europe, has actually obtained absolute sway over a country in the eastern hemisphere which is thickly populated, and whose territory is simply enormous—many times greater than Britain's own—of course this is marvellous.

One of the most important questions is, can Britain retain possession of such enormous territory so far away? Is British India an established fact? Of course the British public think so. But indeed we fear they think very little about it, as they should do, for they are singularly indifferent to the condition of affairs in India. They assume that its permanence, as a part of Britain, is assured. They think things as they now are will go on for ever. Once this firm faith received a severe shock by the Indian Mutiny of 1858. But England then reconstituted the Indian Empire on a solid foundation and has thought ever since that security and permanence have thereby been secured.

A writer in the Contemporary Review examines the grounds of this faith and concludes that the indefinite retention of India is improbable. He asserts that the country is enormous in comparison with the simple machinery which governs it. There are for more Hindoos than there are white men in the United States, more natives in Bengal than there are Frenchmen, and more Mahrattas than would fill Spain. These vast multitudes are enriched with all the benefits of a proud nobility, learned priesthoods, splendid organizations and an ancient civilization. They are by no means savages, yet over these there is a corporation of only about 1,800 men as rulers, and a small garrison of 65,000 soldiers, an army less than that of Sweden or Holland. Then this governing body is constantly changing. Its English members never settle in India; no white race makes a home there. The Viceroy rules for five years and departs. Lord Lansdowne has just succeeded our former Governor-General, Dufferin. The councillor and the General each remains but five years and then departs. "There is not," says the writer, "one ruling man in India whom two generations have known as such." It is just as if in Europe no Sovereign or Premier lived six years! This certainly will not conduce to permanence.

Then in India there is no possibility of an amalgamation between the governors and the governed. In England, Britons, Saxons and Danes were all fused and intermingled into a single nation. Between natives and Europeans in India there is not the slightest prospect of such assimilation. The Asiatic and the European live by different rules, and the chasm is just as wide between them today as it ever was. The blessings which English rule has brought, liberty of conscience, unbroken peace, equal justice and perfect security, are not highly prized by Asiatics. The "classes" are all averse to British rule, and, on these grounds, Mr. Townsend argues, the British Empire cannot last in India. It remains to be seen whether his views are correct, but one source of our strength there is the great divisions among the Indian races themselves.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

Significant Signs Appearing Which Predict a Revival of Trade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's show unexpectedly early signs of a revival in several lines of general trade. In some lines the improvement has already begun, notably in dry goods, woolens and cottons and boots and shoes. The greater relative increase in the volume of general trade has been at Boston and Philadelphia, Louisville, Chicago and at the Northwest.

The crop outlook through the Ohio Valley is said to be excellent. Crop reports elsewhere are in the main quite favorable.

Mercantile collections are slow, and do not promise an immediate change. Stocks are still in the prime interior, first hands due to the country to pay for and move the crop.

The New York stock market continues narrow and professional, but strong and advancing on the crop prospects and expected improvement in railroad earning. Bullish feeling is increased by the settlement of the cable rate war. The demand for investment bonds is steady and improving.

Money at New York is easy on call, but slightly harder for commercial paper. Call loans are quoted at ½ per cent. Foreign exchange is weak on free offerings of both grain and security bills. Demand sterling stands at 4.87½ and 4.87¾.

Our monthly report of stocks of wheat in the United States and Canada, east of the Rocky mountains, covering nearly 1900 points, shows a total of 80,101,961 bushels, nearly 3,500,000 bushels less than were held on July 1, and about 10,000,000 bushels less than were held on June 1, 1888. The price of cash wheat advanced from 92½c, delivered, on Tuesday week, to 97½c, delivered. The leading cause is rainy weather in Europe and prospective deficient crops in England and France.

Mr. Raines Will Take Notice.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—United States detectives left this city for San Francisco on Sunday to arrest Mr. Raines, alias Raymond, alias Colby, a Baptist minister, spiritualist, gambler and train robber, for whom they have been searching since 1877. He is now playing the role of slate writing medium.

France's Poor Crops.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—The President of the French Agricultural Society has made a report regarding the losses caused by the recent rains. He says hay has been destroyed and that the peasants have been compelled to kill their animals, being unable to feed them. He also says that corn cannot ripen, that potatoes are rotting and that the vintage this year will be inferior. He estimates the loss to agriculture at half a milliard of francs, and says if the bad weather continues a month longer the crash will extend to enormous dimensions.

Drowned While Bathing.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 1.—While Benjamin Cable aged 14, son of Night Policeman Cable, was bathing with a number of others in King's mill-pond last night, he was seized with cramps and sank in about 20 feet of water. Those on the spot dived but could not find him. The body was recovered in two hours.

Really Unbalanced.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

A Woolen Mill Purchase.

Some time ago it was reported that Mr. Brodie, of Peterborough, had purchased the Hespeler woollen and cotton mills. At that time the purchase was only under negotiation, but since then the sale has been finally effected. The Hespeler mills are very large ones, some $300,000 having been spent on them. Mr. Brodie intends operating the mills next summer.

Struck by Lightning.

Mr. Thos. Robinson, residing on north George street, was struck by lightning about nine o'clock last evening while at her own home. The thunderbolt rendered her unconscious, in which condition she remained for some time. Dr. Kincaid, who is attending her, thinks she will recover all right.

Ontario's Mineral Exhibit in Demand.

Hon. Chas. Drury, Minister of Agriculture, has received from Mr. J. H. Johnston, secretary of the St. Louis Exposition and Music Hall Association, a letter in which that gentleman speaks very highly of the impression which the Ontario exhibit of minerals at the Cincinnati Exposition made on St. Louis visitors. The citizens of St. Louis, through Mr. Johnston, invite the Ontario Government to duplicate the exhibit for their exhibition, assuring them that it stands unrivalled in the United States, or any other country, as a successful and meritorious enterprise. Mr. Drury finds that, owing to the date of the St. Louis Exposition being similar to that of the Industrial Exhibition in Toronto, the Cincinnati exhibit cannot be sent to St. Louis, and the time before the opening of the St. Louis Exposition is so short that it is impossible to duplicate the exhibit.

A World on Wheels.

Next Monday Miller & Freeman's circus will exhibit in Peterborough. Of its appearance in that city the Kingston Whig says:—Early this morning two engines and seventeen cars, including sleepers, by which Messrs. Miller & Freeman transport their show, reached here, and shortly after all the actors were ready for the street parade, heralded by the fine band conducted by Professor Andress, which discoursed sweet music throughout the city. The procession was not gaudy or pretentious in any way. There were elegant gondolas and rich coaches, horsemen and women, grand Norman and handsome Percheron horses. The herd of elephants and the led dromedaries, together with the collection of wild beasts, all lent attraction to the parade. The managerie consists of a selection of fine specimens of the monarchs of the forest and jungle, the ice fields of the north, and the rolling prairies of the west. The Ceylonese and Indian elephants are wonderfully trained. The four quarters of the globe have each contributed their quota to the collection. The specimens are fine, clean and form an instructive and interesting exhibition. When the time for commencing the performance this afternoon had arrived the tent was well filled. One attraction of the show is that the spectator's attention is not distracted by a multiplicity of events all going on at once in several rings, but with only one ring every one of the acts can be seen with comfort by all. In fact, it is an old-time circus. The acts are cleverly performed. The whole entertainment can be patronised by all classes.

Advice To Bathers.

Although the proper rules for bathing are understood, says Dr. Bailey in the People's Health Journal, a few words concerning how and when to bathe will be profitable. Bathers should enter the water swiftly, not allowing the lower limbs to become chilled, thus driving the blood to the head. Most of our boys plunge into the water head foremost, but this is not necessary. To submerge the body up to the neck is enough. After this the body resumes an even temperature, and when this course is followed injurious results are rare. The common belief that it is necessary to wet the head upon entering the water is based upon the assumption that otherwise too much blood is impelled upward. This is not true if the rest of the body is quickly immersed. Ladies cannot be expected to soak their hair every time they bathe, nor is it necessary that they should do so. A common error is that of remaining in the water too long. Blue lips, shivering limbs and subsequent headaches should be sufficient warning. A nap after bathing is advised by physicians. Sea bathing induces drowsiness, and has the effect of a sedative and nerve tonic; hence a dip in the salt water just before retiring for the night, generally ensures sound sleep. When the water is colder than usual, postpone the bath. Because some robust people can bathe in and out of season and stay in longer than others, should not induce sensible people to imitate them. Fifteen minutes is quite long enough to remain in the water under ordinary circumstances, and for delicate persons even that short space of time may be injurious. Too violent exercise in the water should be avoided. The extreme fatigue which follows, is in itself sufficient evidence that it is injurious.

Methodist Boards.

The following communication appears in the Mail of to-day:

To the Editor of the Mail:—

SIR,—I notice in the Mail of yesterday a communication from Mr. Dumble, anent the stationing committee question in the Methodist Church. There may be some truth in what this gentleman complains of. If there is, and it is thought necessary to effect a change in the method of stationing ministers, the best way of making such a change is not by writing such letters. Mr. Pearson is generally regarded as one of the most modest and disinterested of our clergy. The public will, therefore, exercise some caution in accepting the statements of Mr. Dumble. They will rather incline to regard such statements as the outcome of petty spite or abnormal bumptiousness. For no man of good taste or judgment would have forgotten that, though injustice may be wrought by the present system of stationing, the system is, until it has been repealed or changed, the law of the Methodist Church in Canada, and that, consequently, the ministers who acted in accordance with that system are not so very censurable after all.

If the present system is unjust let the injustice be rectified by well-advised action before our own courts and Church legislatures, and not by parading a particular case before the general public. I, as one of the laity of the Methodist Church, do not sanction Mr. Dumble's action.

Yours, etc.,
L. MANNING.

Toronto, Aug. 3.

Temperance Meetings.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—I saw a notice a few days ago that no meetings are allowed to be held in the park, and asking the chief of police to assist them to carry out the resolution of the committee. All we have to say is we are law abiding citizens and do not require police to compel us to respect the rights of others, but thought we had equal rights with those dog-fighters, ball-players and stone-throwers that took possession of the park several weeks before we held a meeting there. And our meetings do not prevent flowers blooming or grass growing, nor cause the breaking of young shoots off newly planted trees, like I saw a lad trying to toss a hat for fully twenty minutes on the top of one of these trees.

Now sir, we do use strong language about men, but were not aware that temperance could hurt grass, trees or flowers, so we have decided to hold our meetings on the market square from 4 to 5 o'clock, every Sunday afternoon.

We remain yours truly,
H. ROSSITER,
R. HOLLAND.

Millbrook Casualties.

A Dam Swept Away—Fire in the School-house.

(By Telephone.)

MILLBROOK, Aug. 4.—The rainfall last night was very heavy in this section, and the creek was swelled to such proportions that Gordon McKiver's dam was broken down and a flood of water swept over part of the village. Cellars were inundated, gardens destroyed and loose material floated off. The damage will be considerable.

A fire started in the school house this morning, but was fortunately observed and extinguished before much damage was done.

The A. C. A. Meet.

In its notes the Orillia Packet has the following:

A Peterborough man was observed a day or two ago giving swimming lessons to a friend; "Now, put that paddle under your chin," said he; "imagine yourself a mule, with some fool tickling your heels, and kick like thunder. It will come quite natural, you'll find!" Perhaps no personal reflection was intended, but the pupil seemed doubtful.

In the lady and gentleman's tandem race, Mrs. Melville Millar paddled with Mr. S. S. Robinson, and they came in wonderfully close to the winners, considering that Mrs. Millar had not had a paddle in her hand for twenty years previously. Compliments were showered upon her from all quarters.

There are thirty-six lady honourary members of the A. C. A., and among them the following Canadians:—Mrs. Edward Leigh, Toronto; Miss Mary E. Burnet, Miss Sophie Burnet, Mrs. E. B. Edwards, Miss G. Hall, Miss T. Hall, and Miss B. Hall, Peterborough.

The Otonabee Canoe Club's black cat always keeps its back up, but when it comes to caterwauling at a race, for the encouragement of a confrere, there is at least one good-looking member of the Ubiques who can discount it.

Lacrosse.

The Y.M.C.A. Lacrosse club have received a challenge from the Hastings club to play that village on the 24th inst.

The match between the Shamrocks and the Y.M.C.A. clubs which was to be played on Monday evening, has been postponed till Wednesday.

The standing of the clubs in the North-eastern district is now as follows:—

Club	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.
Orillia	3	1	75
Peterborough	2	3	40
Barrie	1	2	33
Bradford	0	1	00

Barrie Bradford match a draw to be played off Wednesday. Bradford-Peterborough 12th of July match will be played off Aug. 29th.

The Orillia News-Letter says:—"The news that Peterborough had defeated Orillia at lacrosse, arrived at Barrie during the progress of the Bradford-Barrie match. The Barrie players were tickled to death over it, and showed their delight by vociferous cheering, as did the spectators. They work on the principle of "If I can't lick you, I know a fellow who can."

Constant Advertising in the Examiner Pays.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of these we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are out to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE NAVAL MANŒUVRES.

OBAN CLEVERLY CAPTURED BY THE CALYPSO.

A Ransom of £100,000 Imposed for the Release of the Town Provost—Mr. O'Shea's Straight Blow.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The naval manœuvres have suddenly become exciting. The Calypso of the enemy's North of Ireland fleet, cleverly took the coast guard station at Oban, cut the telegraph wires and marched her mariners and sailors into the town. The provost of the town was asleep in bed and was summoned to appear before his captors. This he did, when a ransom of £100,000 was imposed for his release. At about the same time the Iris, Hero and Nevern ran the blockade of Ballantry Bay in the fog and will probably retaliate for the acts committed by the Calypso by capturing several Irish towns.

Mr. O'Shea, in an interview yesterday referring to his recent letter in The Times relative to the meeting between Mr. Parnell and Mr. Chamberlain immediately after the Phœnix Park murders, said: "I do not hesitate to characterise as insincere the Parnellite lamentations over my writing to The Times as a gratuitous act, etc. It was a straight blow in return for the wild one aimed at me by Mr. Parnell in Parliament on Tuesday last. From 1880 to 1885 I sat on the opposite side of the House to Mr. Parnell and was elected for Galway in 1886 without having given pledges to any political party whatever."

Sir Charles Esmonde arrived at Kingston from England last night. This is the first time he has been in Ireland since his return from America. He met with a cordial reception and was presented with addresses by the Kingston Commissioners and the South County Dublin Registration Society.

Lord Claude John Hamilton, M.P. for the West Derby division of Liverpool, has resigned his seat. He is a Conservativt.

DESERTED BY THEIR PARENTS.

Three Little Girls Turned Out into the Streets of Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 3.—Three pretty little girls were brought to the Central Police Station to-day by Sergt. Murphy, who found them on Centre-street last evening at 11 o'clock without a home and without food. The eldest, Maria Cunningham, told the Recorder that their father left them and their mother some months ago, and a few days ago their mother also left them and last evening they were put on the street by their landlord, whose name they did not know. They were very hungry, she said, she and her two little sisters Celia and Gracie, twins, 3 years old. The Recorder instructed Chief Hughes to arrest the father and mother. Meanwhile he would try to have the children brought to the Providence Asylum.

The Timber Raft Making Progress.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 4.—Captain McKay, of the steamer Olivette, at this port to-day from Bar Harbor, reports that at 9.40 o'clock last night when eight miles north by east from Matinicus, he passed the Jogging timber raft in tow, making probably five miles an hour.

THE FISHERIES TREATY

PROBABILITY OF ITS REJECTION BY THE U.S. SENATE.

In Which Event a Leading Democratic Newspaper Says President Cleveland Will Proclaim Non-intercourse.

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—The Free Press' Washington special says: It is now conceded on every hand that the Senate intend to carry on their opposition to the Fisheries Treaty until they defeat it on purely partisan ground. They think that by making a showing of antagonism to England they will attract votes to his grandfather's grandson. It is believed here that the moment the treaty is defeated the President, with his accustomed force, vigor and dispatch, will at once proceed to put the will of the Senate into effect and under the law suspend relations with England and Canada. He will do his whole duty in the premises, and do it at once. Canada and England would undoubtedly promptly respond to the Presidential interdiction with retaliatory measures. These highly strained relations could not continue long without either a war or new efforts at a settlement of the questions in controversy.

Michigan is as patriotic a State as any in the Union and as ready to fight England or any other power of the world as any of her sisters, but she will not enjoy a serious blow at her interests and a season of stagnation of business, just to afford a partisan pretext for appealing to the Irish vote for Harrison. Michigan would be ten times as greatly interested in the suspension of commercial relations with Canada as any other State in the Union, and their suspension, through political reasons, would be a cruel blow at the State and all its great interests. One immediate result of the close of commercial relations would be the breaking of the Grand Trunk and Michigan Central through lines the closing to American vessels of the Welland Canal and Hay Lake Channel and St. Lawrence Canals, causing great embarrassment to all the marine interests of Michigan.

Michigan's sons would surely be ready to shed their blood gallantly on any fields to which the country might call them, but the State can't wish to be called upon to pay thousands of dollars of tribute to the paltry partnership of the Senate, and yet Michigan's two senators, in their efforts to help his grandfather's grandson catch Irish votes for the Presidency, intend to vote to defeat the treaty with all the evils to Michigan that must follow at once. They do this notwithstanding the fact that the treaty was negotiated in part by Jas. B. Angell, a wise, patriotic and prudent Republican.

The Democrats' Hope.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The Fisheries Treaty in open executive session promises to absorb the attention of the Senate during the present week. The pending question is the motion of Senator Morgan to postpone further consideration until December. No doubt is entertained that it will be decided adversely, after which the treaty will come formally before the Senate, article by article, for amendment. It is inferred from some utterances of Democratic senators in debate that efforts will be made to amend the treaty considerably in the hope that it may finally command the support of some Republicans.

A STREET CAR TIE-UP.

Great Excitement at Greenpoint, L.I.—Blotting Among the Strikers.

GREENPOINT, L.I., Aug. 5.—Not since the great sugar house strike and riots two years ago has there been so much excitement in this place as has prevailed since 7 o'clock this morning. The streets have been crowded with men, women and children hooting and yelling while the striking employes of the Cross-town Railroad Company have engaged in rioting and in barricading streets to prevent the running of cars. The cause of the excitement was a tie-up on the three lines controlled by the Cross-town Railroad Company, the Hunter's Point and Erie Basin, Calvary Cemetery and Oaklands-street and Park-avenue. The tie-up was entirely unexpected by the officers of the road. The causes which led to the sudden movement of the men are said to be the discharge of certain employes upon frivolous charges, the importation of green drivers under contract and favoritism on the part of one of the starters

No car left this end of the routes to-day. Six cars were started with "scab" drivers from Erie Basin, and the strikers here upon learning by telephone of the fact prepared to stop their progress. A detachment of the strikers started off to Digga-street, near the Manhattan Beach crossing, where they waited for the appearance of the cars, meanwhile placing large blocks of stone and other heavy obstacles across the tracks. About 11 o'clock, car No. 28 crossed the bridge over Bushwick Creek and as it came in sight the strikers and a large crowd of men and women which had followed them set up a howl. Some of the men jumped on the car and pulled off the driver and the conductor, while others cut the traces and let the horses go. The strikers tried to induce the driver and conductor to join them and on their refusal beat and kicked them. A detachment of police from the 7th precinct arrived with a patrol wagon at this time and made short work of the fighting strikers and arrested two of them.

The car was not moved until after 1 o'clock, when a fresh team having been taken up from the stables under a strong police guard it was started for the stables. All the way from Greenpoint-avenue to India-street it was greeted with shouts and hisses and but for the strong force of police it would have been thrown from the track.

At 2 p.m. the strikers were holding a session in their hall when word was received that car No. 11 was on its way from Grand-street under a guard of 20 policemen. Occupants of the car were hooted all the way down Manhattan-Avenue.

In the meantime the Executive Committee of Assembly 5173 had issued orders that this car must be stopped and thrown from the tracks at all hazards and that the coal boxes and stone wagons should be placed on the tracks at Huron-street. This order was carried out as the force of policemen had been depleted by detachments being sent to other points. When the car arrived midway between India and Huron-streets there were on board, besides half a dozen policemen who stood on the platform, several ladies but regardless of this fact the strikers made a rush for it as it was brought to a stop by a couple of huge stones lying across the track. The police charged the crowd with their clubs, and then sticks and stones began to fly. The driver of the car was knocked senseless on the floor of the car by a large stone thrown by one of the strikers, which hit him on the side of the head. Sergeant Rob Reid, of the seventh precinct, who stood beside the driver was also struck on the right temple with a smaller stone and a dozen other policemen were seriously wounded in the same way. The fighting was hot and heavy for over two minutes, resulting in the strikers being routed. Six arrests were made at this time. All the prisoners are drivers.

A Maine Murder.

LEWISTON, Me., Aug. 6.—Last night John Lahey and James Connors were seen walking with two other men. Shortly afterwards cries for help were heard and Lahey was found dead and Connors insensible from stab wounds. Jerry and Michael McGillicuddy and James Connors have been arrested on suspicion but deny any knowledge of the affair.

HE WILL GO TO ENGLAND.

A Change in Emperor William's Itinerary —Bismarck Expected to Accompany Him.

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—Emperor William's monarchical itinerary since his interview with Prince Bismarck at Friedrichsruhe has been modified in most important directions. It was supposed that the Emperor, in accordance with a family arrangement, would pay his respects to the Queen of England during her projected stay at Baden. The Queen, however, intimated through the German embassy at London that she did not intend to go to Baden or any other place on the continent. Yesterday a formal note was sent by Prince Bismarck through the English embassy asking that the Queen receive Emperor William who, the note states, intended to visit England. If the plans of Prince Bismarck are executed the Emperor will arrive in London in November during the session of Parliament. Under the circumstances His Majesty's visit to England will be a state and not a family affair and the Queen must meet him either in London or Windsor. Foreign Office officials believe that Prince Bismarck intends to accompany Emperor William to England, for the purpose of conferring with the Queen on affairs relating to the late Emperor Frederick.

Nothing is settled regarding the Emperor's proposed interview with King Humbert. Dr. von Schlotzer arrived at Frederickshruc to-day, bringing, it is surmised, the Papal ultimatum. The Pope has been asked, if the Emperor goes to the Vatican and remains as the guest of the Pope for a day prior to his reception at the Quirinal, whether he will withdraw his objections. Mgr. Galimberti is understood to have replied that the Pope must maintain his temporal rights. The nuncio continues to urge the Emperor to forego his visit to King Humbert unless the meeting takes place at Milan or Turin.

Communications are passing between Prince Bismarck and Signor Crispi, the Italian Prime Minister, on the subject of the marriage of the Duke of Aosta with the daughter of Prince Napoleon. The French Monarchists expect that the alliance will divert Italy from Germany and assist in resuscitating Bonapartism. Signor Crispi is understood to repudiate any responsibility for the match.

King Milan, of Servia, with the Crown Prince, arrived at Vienna to-day. He wires here to say that he will remain in Vienna until to-morrow night when he takes the Crown Prince to some place in Southern Bavaria. The King himself goes hunting with the Prince Regent.

The eldest son of the Regent, Prince Rupprecht, has got into trouble through an amour with the daughter of a wealthy citizen of Munich. He wants to marry the girl, but her friends refuse to allow him to see her unless the Regent assents to a formal betrothal.

The Berlin police have seized 15,000 volumes of immoral French novels and 2000 photographs. The booksellers concerned in the selling of the novels and other prohibited works demand a trial.

A band of masked Anarchists attacked the postoffice at Neu Kaunel, near Pressburg. The officials fought and repulsed the robbers, but the latter secured the cash box and took that and their wounded away with them.

Favor a National Organization.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A meeting of the general council of the British-American Association has been held here and among other business transacted was the adoption of resolutions favoring the formation of a National British-American Association. The secretary of the Illinois Association was instructed to communicate with the associations of other States with that object in view.

An Earthquake in Scotland.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt at Kilsyth, northeast of Glasgow on Saturday.

The Burlington Strike.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 4.—The hearing of the rate cases by the State Board of Transportation has been adjourned to September. Secretary Mason of the board has filed a 250 page type-written report on the Burlington strike, which is concurred in by the board. In conclusion it states that the strike of the Brotherhood of Engineers on Feb. 27 and their attempts to dictate whom the railroad company should employ was clearly illegal and the brotherhood was liable for conspiracy and for damages sustained thereby.

DEATH OF JUDGE COURSOL.

His Long Illness Ended—Brief Sketch of His Life.

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—C. J. Coursol, M.P., died at St. Thomas, Montmagny, at 11 o'clock this morning. He was 58 years of age.

[Charles Joseph Coursol, Q.C., was born at Malden in 1820; he had a creditable career at college, studied law, was called to the bar of Lower Canada in 1841. During the Trent Difficulty he raised a dashing regiment known as the "Chasseurs Canadiens" and in 1886 Mr. Coursol put himself at the head of his battalion and marched to the frontier to repel the Fenian invaders. He was afterwards appointed Judge of Sessions. In 1871 he was elected mayor of Montreal without opposition and since 1878 has represented Montreal East in the Dominion House. In politics he was a Conservative. Mr. Coursol was ill during the whole of last session.]

Death of Mr. James S. McCuaig, Ex-M.P.

PICTON, Aug. 4.—Mr. James S. McCuaig, ex-M.P. for Prince Edward, died this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. McCuaig has been confined to his room for some six weeks but was thought to be improving till Thursday night when a change for the worse took place and he sank rapidly. For the last 35 years Mr. McCuaig has been a prominent figure in this country in political and business circles. In politics he was a Conservative.

EAST ASSINIBOIA ELECTION

NOMINATIONS ON SEPT. 12 AND POLLING ON SEPT. 20.

The Rumor of a Deal Between the Northwest Central and the Northern Pacific Denied—A New Phase of the Foot Guards' Trouble.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—The writ for the election to fill the vacancy in Eastern Assiniboia, caused by calling Mr. Perley to the Senate, was issued yesterday. Nominations will take place on Sept. 12 and polling on Sept. 20. Hon. Mr. Dewdney, the new Minister of the Interior, will be the Government candidate and it is possible that he may not be opposed.

Senator Clemow, President of the North-west Central Railway, denies the rumor that there have been negotiations with the Northern Pacific for the sale of his road. He also states that it is not true that the Canadian Pacific Railway has running powers over the road.

A man named McCullough, from the Nation River district, came to the city Friday with $800 and had a time with some of the boys. Yesterday he complained to the police that he had been robbed of his money in a Lower Town hotel.

Mayor Blacklock of the Fifth Royal Scots is here making arrangements for the opening of the Province of Quebec Rifle Association matches at Rideau rifle range on Tuesday next. It is expected that about 150 riflemen will be present.

The Foot Guards matter has assumed a new phase: Lieut.-Col. McPherson has sent notices to all the officers, requiring them to turn in all arms, uniforms and other Government stores before he forwards their resignations to headquarters. Several of the men who were spoken to on the subject say they will not obey the order, as they entered for three years and are not aware of having committed any offence. They regard the order as a step in the direction of disbandment and if the uniforms are taken from them will not join again.

Death of a St. Catharines Tobacconist.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 5.—Mr. C. Steinberg, the well-known tobacco merchant of this city, died suddenly this evening. He was walking along Church-street when he was seen to fall. Dr. Dougan and several other who happened to be near by at the time ran to his assistance, but he died about three minutes after he fell. The deceased was about 60 years of age. Heart disease is said to be the cause of his death.

Burglary at Tilbury Center.

TILBURY CENTER, Aug. 4.—Burglars broke into the jewelry store of R. K. Smith, of this place, last night, securing about $300 worth of goods, consisting of watches, chains, brooches, etc. No clue as yet.

Cut to Pieces by a Saw.

GRAVENHURST, Aug. 4.—A man named Thomas Bailey was instantly killed to day in Lambert Love's saw mill, at Port Sandfield. Bailey was tail sawing and was caught on the carriage and dragged on to the saw. He was cut to pieces. Bailey had lived in Port Carling for a number of years and leaves a wife and family.

Tortured to Death.

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—Advices from Sitka, Alaska, say a woman of the Takon tribe gathered certain herbs and administered them to the wife of the second chief, Yato Hok, from the effects of which she died. After her death Yato Hok gave orders that the woman should be put to death, and accordingly a system of torture was inaugurated by heating stones red hot and placing them in her mouth. When life was almost extinct he had her hanged. He also gave orders to have her husband hanged, but when the latter was suspended in the air he got his hands in the noose and prevented strangulation. While in this position the chief cut his hand with a knife, but failed to make him remove his grasp. Other Indians then interfered and the poor fellow was saved. Yato Hok was arrested and brought to trial at Sitka but it turned out that the village was in British Columbia and the prisoner had to be discharged. It is likely that the Dominion Government will bring the fiend to justice.

Found Drowned.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 4.—This morning the body of a man named Michael Russell was found in the old Welland Canal near the White Mill. It is not known whether it is a case of suicide or whether Russell lay down in the vicinity to sleep and rolled over into the water. He was found upright in the water. There was no mark of violence and in his pocket was $2.63 in money. He was a man of dissipated habits and was discharged from the axe factory a few days ago. He was fifty years of age or over.

A Quebec Schooner Wrecked.

CHATHAM, Mass., Aug. 5.—During the southwest gale of last night the schooner Quoddy of Quebec, coal laden for Boston, went ashore on Handkerchief Shoal and will probably prove a total loss. The crew was rescued by wreckers from Monomy.

Swindled by a Worthless Check.

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—Another sharp confidence game was played at the Windsor Hotel last evening. A Mr. Dunham from Halifax, N.S., came to the Windsor and was met in one of the passages on the first floor by two well-dressed young men who managed to get into conversation with him. "By-the-way," said one of them after a while, to his friend, "have you any money on you? The banks are closed now and I must have cash this evening." The other pulled out a few bills but not enough for the wants of his friend. The Nova Scotian thereupon pulled out a large roll of bills and said he could help him out. The confidence man offered him a check for $750 and asked Dunham to cash it, which, however, the latter was not willing to do. He said: "I'll give you a hundred or so till to-morrow morning and I'll keep your check for security." He gave him $120 in good cash and put the check into his pocket arranging to see Watson, as the confidence man had introduced himself, next morning. As the latter did not turn up this morning Dunham went to a bank here and offered the check but found that it was worthless.

SOME NATIONAL EVILS.

In our last issue we referred to one or two threatening national evils, from which, it is to be feared, danger of one kind or other is certain to ensue in the near future.

One was the pride in material wealth—the worship of "the almighty dollar," which gives money a preference in the public mind over intellectual wealth and moral worth. The other mentioned was the influx of all sorts and conditions of men to cities and large towns and the forsaking farm life and manual labour by young men and women for what are considered more genteel occupations.

Another prominent national evil is what may be properly called the decay of family life. Whatever tends to weaken the integrity of the family, threatens the existence of the nation. A nation without the sweet amenities of home life is on the high road to destruction, and will unquestionably fall behind in the race among civilised peoples. Is there nothing to alarm us in this connection? True, we have not fallen so low in this respect as the nation south of us. The mockery which divorce laws have made of a divinely-instituted relation, and their influence in the sure and rapid extinction of family life in its highest and truest sense, has not yet become so common as to form a threatening evil. We have, however, among us, and especially in recent years, such social scandals among poor and middle-class and rich, in all parts of the Dominion, as to constitute a grave evil and danger to the purity and perfection of home existence.

But more apparent than this to the thoughtful mind is the fact that the thoughts and energies and attention of the family are claimed by something and given to something outside of the home. Family life should receive the first and best attention on the part of all the inmates of any home, the freshest, brightest, best thoughts and devotion of each of its individual members.

Instead of this what do we find? In almost every town and village scarcely a night passes that one or two members of the family are not absent from home. The absence is not always of an inspiring or elevating kind. It is not always to attend a prayer meeting, Bible-class or other religious service. Even the churches themselves in the winter season, with their lectures, concerts, business meetings and associations of one sort or other, partake altogether too much of the character of a club. But the night's absence is not always to show interest in religious matters. Generally speaking it is the club, the lodgeroom, lectures, balls, parties which attract our people, and the day is given to active preparation for the night's enjoyment. And in all this hurry and bustle the members of the family have no common object or sympathy except to utter perhaps a few common-place sentences on the coming entertainment. Each one goes his own way. Monday is devoted to sport; Tuesday to this or that society; Wednesday to a concert, and so on throughout the entire week. Instead of seeking pleasure in each other's society each member goes from home for his own enjoyment, and the union of the family is utterly broken. It becomes a family of boarders, with no purpose or object shared alike by any two of its members. Paterfamilias sets the example and the boys, as they grow up, do not fail to copy it and even to out-herod Herod.

Now a home society in these days of numerous labor organizations is, we believe, a great desideratum. For if the family life, if the home be not preserved in its purity and fulness, woe be to the nation. A stay-at-home society in our days would meet a felt want and tend perhaps to lessen an evil which is threatening the nation and destroying its vitality. Again we say, a nation without the family ties which make life sweet and pleasant, is on the highway to destruction and barbarism.

DEATH OF "LITTLE PHIL."

The Hero of Winchester Passes Away at 10.10 Last Night.

NONQUITT, Mass., Aug. 5.—Gen. Sheridan died at 10.10 to-night of heart failure.

THE DEAD GENERAL'S CAREER.

Philip Henry Sheridan was born at Somerset, O., March 6, 1831, of Irish parentage. Aspiring to become a student at the West Point Military Academy, he wrote to the member of Congress for the district in which he lived, asking for the appointment, and got it at 17 years of age. A good, but not one of the best scholars, he allowed his high spirit to lead him to flog a cadet who insulted him, and was set back a year in his graduation. At 23 he left the Military Academy and on the border he was summoned for the great work he was later called to perform. When the war broke out he was a first lieutenant, and when he was made a captain, standing sixty-fourth in the list, it was his reasonable hope that he might win a major's commission before the war was over. In three years he was a major-general, in five years more he was lieutenant-general, and fifteen years later he assumed the command of the army in which he had been so brilliant and successful a leader.

In the war of the rebellion he fought all over the State of Tennessee. He was in the big battles about Chickamauga and Chattanooga, took part in the terrible Wilderness conflict, led the brilliant Shenandoah raids, and when he had cleaned the valley out he followed up the army of Lee, brought him to bay and sent him to Grant to give up his sword.

Brilliancy was Gen. Sheridan's leading characteristic. But military critics valued quite as highly his determination and readiness of device, his personal courage, sympathetic power and strategic ability. His fine presence in battle fired his soldiers though his prudence had little of the Celt in its composition. As Livy said of Hannibal, nothing that was going on among the enemy escaped him, and like the Carthagenian soldier, from his first arrival he drew the whole eyes of the army upon him.

In personal appearance Little Phil was very short and each year seemed to add to the rotundity of his pudgy figure. When I saw him i nthe lobby, says a recent correspondent, he wore upon the back of his round, bullet head a very slim, high, old-fashioned silk hat of a style that was very popular about the time of the close of the war. It was about two sizes too small. His short iron-gray hair stood out from under the rim of his hat at nearly right angles with it. His red weather-beaten face did not show any new lines of advancing age, but his grimly iron-gray moustache and imperial were whitening very fast. He wore a short, light, yellow-gray overcoat which had only two buttons, and they were nearly ready to fly off from the undue strain of Sheridan's round figure. The coat, like the hat, appeared to have been long out-worn. The trousers were a gray plaid and fitted very snugly to the General's fat legs. His boots were thick-soled and unblacked. He wore no gloves. The side and rear views of the General suggested a low comedy man who had walked off the stage all made up for a funny part, but when you came to look the General square in the face its stern, solemn, composed lines were enough to make one forget his grotesque figure and careless dress.

Gen. Sheridan leaves a wife and four young children—three daughters and a son.

THE COMMAND OF THE ARMY.

The bill recently passed for Gen. Sheridan's promotion enacted "that the grade of Lieut.-General of the Army is hereby discontinued, and is merged in the grade of General of the Army of the United States, which grade shall continue during the life-time of the present Lieut.-General, after which such grade shall cease, and the President of the United States is hereby authorized to appoint, with the advice and consent of the Senate, a General of the Army of the United States." Consequently, with General Sheridan's death, both grades lapse. For the present, therefore, the senior Maj.-General will take the command of the army. The senior officer is General Schofield.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPY OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,126 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600.00 insured under 1,340 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,066 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $126,331.22 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this be believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in Income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in accumulations.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 99	$1,142,743 99
1876 to 1880, four years	23,590 67	195,188 29	1,147,288 14
1880 to 1884, four years	126,976 54	363,384 31	2,282,294 99
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 99	475,977 24	4,629,373 85
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 46	$10,201,697 00

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Convicts Brief Glimpse of Liberty—Drowned in the Bay.

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—In February last George Helmont was sent to the central prison for six months for stealing a handcar and was subsequently sentenced to 4½ years in the Kingston Penitentiary for breaking into a bonded car at Whitby, the second term to commence at the expiration of the first. The six months was up on Saturday and as there was no officer here from Kingston and the prison authorities were also remiss, the doors were opened for him to walk out. Later in the day he was seen on the street and was run down and arrested in the Public Library.

Robt. Wrightman, of Owen Sound, was elected to fill the vacancy then created in the number of councillors, and the appointment of Isaac T. Lewis as registrar and treasurer was confirmed.

John Haight, an inmate of the lunatic asylum, pushed a hole in his throat on Thursday with a pointed stick, and died on Saturday.

C. F. Bunbury and his 15-year-old daughter Alice, of this city were upset in Mr. Bunbury's yacht Alliance on the way down from Hamilton on Saturday. They were picked up by the Macassa after being in the water [illegible].

A [illegible] man named McMahon walked off the Yonge-street wharf into the bay on Saturday night and was drowned.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

There was an active demand for discount in London during the past week at hardening rates, quoted at 2½ and 1.

On the London Stock Exchange, business was dull during the past week owing to the holidays but prices were maintained.

The continental bourses were generally quiet during the week and prices firm.

At Paris last week there was a considerable rise in the price of flour and wheat.

Mrs. Mary McMahon, the oldest person in the Chemung valley, died at Elmira yesterday afternoon, aged 103.

A Smuggling Preacher.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—A preacher of Rice County, Minn., arrived here from Rotterdam yesterday. He told the Customs officers he had no dutiable goods, but a false bottom was found in his trunk where 3000 cigars, an Indian shawl and a lot of cutlery, ladies' and gentlemen's underwear and a sealskin cape was stored.

A Missing Telephone Manager.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 4.—A. J. Enyart, manager of the Telephone Exchange, is missing and the office is in charge of J. J. Wilson, who came from Chicago to straighten matters up. Enyart left here a week ago, having in his possession money and valuables belonging to the company, and is supposed to be sojourning in Canada. The amount of the defalcation is not known.

The New Pain King.

Polson's Nerviline cures flatulence, chills, spasms, and cramps.

Nerviline cures promptly the worst cases of neuralgia, toothache, lumbago, and sciatica.

Nerviline is death to all pain, whether external, internal, or local.

Nerviline may be tested at the small cost of 10 cents.

Buy at once a 10 cent bottle of Nerviline, the great pain remedy. Sold by druggists and country dealers. 6dw31

On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills to well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d is usually subject to dangerous and sudden attacks of bowel complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, etc., caused by change of food and water. The sovereign remedy and surest safeguard against all such troubles is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Never travel without it. 2w31d

Summer Travel

TO THE DEAF.—A Person cured of Deafness and Noises in the Head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy, will send a description of it FREE to any Person who applies to NICHOLSON, 30 St. John Street, Montreal. dwly

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Gold Coronet Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Really Undeserved.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A BURN OR CUT will heal quickly and leave less scar if Victoria Carbolic Salve is applied at once. dw

MALARIAL FEVER AND CHILLS are best broken up and prevented by using Mishburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine. dw

Extremely Singular.

Much comment is caused by the fact that out of 64 pupils of the Collegiate Institute who tried the second and third class teachers' examinations only 10 were successful—7 second and 3 third. This was almost as bad as the result of the recent entrance examinations, and it is extremely singular that such poor success has marked both examinations this season.

Sunday School Presentation.

Sunday afternoon at the George street Methodist Sunday school Miss Jessie Munro, a teacher, who is about to leave for Japan, was presented with a handsome morocco Bible and hymn book by the other teachers and pupils of the school. Miss Munro was one of the most diligent and successful teachers, and her loss will be felt by the school.

Farewell Service.

A service of a most interesting character is to be held in the Methodist church this Monday evening. Miss Jessie Munro, who is well known as one of the most earnest Sunday school teachers and temperance workers, has been appointed a missionary to Japan, and leaves next Wednesday. Short addresses from several of the ministers of the town may be expected. The collection will be in aid of the mission work to which Miss Munro has been appointed. Chair taken at 8 p.m.

Valuable Mines in Smith.

Mr. Benjamin McIlmoyle, of Smith, has found on his farm, lot 23, 17th concession, three kinds of minerals, and he is quite certain there is a rich mine on his possessions. The samples of ore taken out show the presence of silver and lead, and an old miner who recently visited the place informs Mr. McIlmoyle that there were traces of gold in it also. The mine is situated near the shore of Buckhorn Lake, the steamers passing within sight of it every day, thus affording splendid shipping facilities. If Mr. McIlmoyle's expectations are realized he is to be congratulated upon his lucky find.

Conducive to Happiness.

If folk would let the world go round and pay their debts and eat their dinners, such doleful looks would not be found to frighten us poor earthly sinners. Another thing that would add to their happiness would be to patronize Gough Brothers' store; where they say, the best and cheapest clothing in the district is kept. In their advertisement elsewhere they offer pyramids of facts for purchasers, and reasons why they can outsell all others in the business. Gough Brothers' intend to lead the trade.

A Hard Row to Hoe.

Messrs. Rossiter and Holland conducted evangelistic services on the market square Sunday afternoon, or, rather, made the attempt, for the crowd of about 300 people that surrounded them subjected them to worse treatment than the Salvation Army ever met with in Peterborough. They were hooted and hissed and threatened even with stoning, and when one of them got down to pray for the crowd the yelling and shouting was tremendous. The speakers used pretty strong language, not at all flattering to the audience, hence the trouble. The evangelists announce their determination of not yielding an inch to the crowd.

"Ella Rhee" Park.

Bowmanville Methodist church Young People's Association has an excursion to Peterborough on Thursday next, 9th inst. The genius who wrote up the newspaper advertisements offers the following inducement: "The picnic will be held at Ella Rhee Park. Peterborough is one of the largest, liveliest and most flourishing towns in the Dominion, and has already gained for itself a high reputation as a picnic resort. Arriving at Peterborough at 10.30 a.m.; returning, will leave Peterborough at 6 p.m." Probably Iaverlea Park is meant; that is the only park in town whose name sounds anything like that of the place advertised.

Church Chimes.

What was Done in the City Churches Sunday.

Rev. Mr. McCrae, of Cobourg, preached in St. Paul's Church Sunday. In the evening his sermon was specially to young men.

In the George street church Sunday evening, Rev. M. L. Pearson preached a sermon having a direct bearing upon the near departure of Miss Munro for the Japan mission field. There was a large congregation present.

In St. Andrew's Church Sunday morning the pulpit was occupied by Rev. D. Tully, M.A., D.D., of Media, Penn. His sermon was remarkable for simplicity of language, eloquence of delivery and the grandeur of his thoughts. Rev. Mr. Tully is a higly successful preacher and lecturer.

At St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday special services were held in honor of the patron saint of the church. At 10.30 high mass was celebrated by Bishop Dowling, assisted by Rev. Fathers McEvay and Dubie. The music was unusually good, Millard's mass being rendered by a full choir. Solo parts were taken by Misses Minnie McIlmoyle, Annie Dunn and Mary Dunn, Miss Mahoney and others. That of Miss McIlmoyle, who sang an Ave Maria with violin obligato by Prof. Doucet, was particularly fine. In the evening a sermon was preached by Father O'Donnell, a Jesuit.

The services in the Methodist Church, Ashburnham, Sunday, were of unusual interest. In the morning from 7 to 8 the pastor conducted a prayer meeting, which though so early, was well attended and very impressive. The 11 o'clock services were the Quarterly love feast and sacrament of the Lord's Supper. One of the largest congregations ever assembled in Ashburnham church on such occasion met together. The subject of the sermon was, "The Lord's Supper," and was listened to with rapt attention. The Divine presence was felt in its fullness, as the many experiences of God's people testified. It was a service which will be long remembered. In the evening to a well filled church, the pastor preached a sermon in memory of the late Mr. John Sargent, taking for his text, John, 14:6; especially the last clause, "No man cometh to the Father but by Me." He showed that the idea of Heaven in the minds of many was a place, a city, &c., taking the figurative language of scripture literal. But Christ distinctly taught that it was a state—that Heaven and Father were identical. Going to heaven was going to the Father. In growing up to manhood of character, remember that the Father was the ideal, the possible of Christ's human nature; that His possible is mans' possible; Heaven is what we are. Christ is the way to it. He not only teaches the way simply, but is the way. Christ is Christianity, and Christianity is the Christian. The preacher showed how Christ went; 1st, by being conceived of the Holy Ghost and born of Virgin Mary; He evolved the human soul and the mind of Christ grew up to divinity; the instrument of this was the Holy Ghost. The very path through which he led His disciples and church was the only way for men. His going up to the Father was conditional by His life here—Jno. 17; 1—5. The same was taught John and James, who asked for the right and left hand state. "Are ye able to drink of the cup?" It is impossible to give the complete line of thought pursued by the speaker in this sketch. Though the church was very hot, the sermon was listened to with breathless attention all through.

Hagerman after Bird.

Hearing that Mr. Hagerman is anxious for a ten mile foot race, I would state that I have retired from the path and do not wish to go into training again for the amount of fifty dollars a side. I would respectfully decline. But if the race is arranged I will run him for one hundred a side or more. But I will not go into training for less than the above amount. I would very much like to meet Mr. Hagerman for that distance, and decide who is the best man. I would like to run on or about the 25th of September.

M. BIRD.

Peterborough, Aug. 6th 1888.

Excitement on the Otonabee.

The most casual observer could not fail to note that there was something unusual occurring in town to-day, else what meant the eager crowds, the gay holiday attire and the look of expectancy upon the faces of the hundreds of people, from the town and country, who were out upon the streets and pouring in an endless tide "over the river" to Ashburnham. What else but a circus could cause such undue excitement? Miller & Freeman's great united shows were billed to give performances in town, hence the unusual stir and bustle. The circus arrived in town Sunday morning on the G.T.R., and soon everything was transferred to the Riverside Park, which was all day yesterday an irresistible attraction to the small boy, and many of his elders also. Sunday School lessons were forgotten in the hilarious delight over the arrival of the circus. This morning the streets were quickly crowded, the exodus of people being towards the show grounds, where the mammoth tents made a "big spread." Soon the grounds were crowded, and about 11 o'clock the street parade left, and went through the village of Ashburnham. Having no license in town, they had not the privilege to appear on this side. The procession was neat, compact and tasty, and was greatly admired. Prof. Andre's band evolved some marvels in music. The balloon ascension, however, was a disappointment, the aeronaut having hurt himself in a recent ascent and being unable to appear. This afternoon's performance was attended by a large crowd, while the sideshows also did a big business. Those who attended spoke highly of the performance. It is of the good, old-fashioned order, all in one ring and highly interesting and amusing. No doubt the tents will be jammed to-night.

Camping Notes.

A Large Crowd Take Their Departure This Morning.

About 20 members of Camp Crescent, Anchorage Island, left for a fortnight's stay at Stony Lake this morning:—Mrs. L. J. Dixon, Misses Fanny, Lillie and Violet Dixon, Peterborough; Mrs. Whyte, Campbellford; Miss B. Gillespie, Hamilton; Miss M. Nattress, Port Hope; Miss E. Harvey and Miss M. Greene, Woodstock; Miss P. Clarke, Toronto; Misses S. Cameron and E. Stenson, town; Mr. J. E. Kelso, Rochester; Mr. Harry Smith, Hamilton; Mr. C. E. Clarke, Toronto; Mr. A. Hutchinson, Norwood; Messrs. A. E. Dixon, W. H. Hill, A. E. Scott, W. Packenham, L. W. Allingham and W. E. McCamus, Peterborough. A few of the party cannot go up for a number of days yet.

Another large party will stop at Mr. Wm. Brownscombe's island for a week or ten days. They are:—Mr. R. McWhinnis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Brownscombe, Misses Knight and True of Chicago, Mr. W. Brownscombe and family of Port Hope.

Mr. L. Sherlock and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson and family, have gone down the Otonabee to spend their holidays. They will camp near the mouth of the river.

Messrs. W. A. Sanderson, A. E. Thompson and Willie Thompson left for Stony Lake this morning. They will be joined in a day or two by the rest of their party, Mr. E. Tate, Mrs. Sanderson, Miss Joe Bradburn and Miss Kirby of Ottawa.

Mr. E. W. Gnaedinger and Mr. Walters, of Montreal, accompanied Miss Lash to Stony Lake this morning, where they will spend a few days at Pompadour Island.

Mr. Wm. Bates and family left this morning for a couple of weeks' outing on Stony Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nugent have gone to Sturgeon Point for a holiday pleasure trip.

Local Sports and Pastimes.

Baseball.

Next Thursday the Garden Hill Giants will play the Peterboroughs on the home grounds.

It is now considered probable that the contemplated tour of the Peterborough club will eventually take place, perhaps in a couple of weeks. They expect to be gone about a week, playing a match every day.

An interesting six-inning game of baseball was played on Riverside park Saturday evening between the Lock Works nine and the Ashburnhams. The teams were:

Lock Works.		Ashburnhams.
Graham	catcher	O'Brien
Farley	pitcher	Tighe
Corcoran	short stop	Gilman
Burdette	1st base	Fligg
J. Daly	2nd base	Bain
Martin	3rd base	Sanderson
Taber	centre field	Milligan
Jerry Daly	right field	McCabe

Umpire, Kincaid.

The Ashburnham battery did great work and were the main cause of the defeat of the Locks Work's nine. The latter were week at the bat, while Farley was struck freely. Taber, for the Locks Works, made a fine double play, catching out a man at centre and cutting off another at first. The fielding was fair on both sides. Score:

Lock Works	1	0	2	3	0	2	—	8
Ashburnham	0	3	5	1	1	1	—	11

Lacrosse.

The Ontarios, of Toronto, play the Riversides here on Monday next, 13th inst. It will be a grand game, as the Ontarios are about the best intermediate championship club in the province.

The standing of the clubs in the Northwestern District, as published Saturday, did the Riversides an injustice. Their actual record is two won and two lost, not three lost. This last game was given against them by their defaulting to Bradford on July 12th, but as the game has been ordered to be played on the 29th, it, of course, stands undecided. The Riversides thus stand a safe second on the list.

Sporting Notes.

The return match between the "over thirty" and "under thirty" teams will be played on the grounds to-morrow, beginning at 1:30.

Personal.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., addresses his constituents at the Town Hall, Harvey, this evening, on the work of the past session of the Legislature.

Mr. Alex. Jacques, advertising agent for Miller & Freeman's circus, gave us a call this morning, paid the circus advertising account, and left happy.

Mr. Hampshire, a former resident of Peterborough, now of St. Catherines, played the closing voluntary at St. Luke's church Sunday evening. He and his wife are visiting friends in town.

Mr. Wm. Cluxton leaves this afternoon to join his son, Mr. W. H. Cluxton, who, with his family, is spending a few weeks at Sandy Point, Pigeon Lake. Mr. Cluxton, sr., will be away from town a week or so.

Mr. J. L. Hughes has been appointed by the Charlotte street church, and Mr. W. J. Mason by the George street church, to represent their respective churches at the district financial board meeting in Millbrook on Tuesday.

Mr. V. Best, Mrs. Best, Miss Moore and Miss Beckett arrived home on Saturday morning from Old Orchard Beach, Maine, where they have been rusticating for the past month.

Mr. Jas. Alexander has procured a situation with S. F. McKinnon & Co., one of the largest wholesale millinery establishments in the country. He leaves for Toronto in about a week. It will be with regret that Mr. Alexander's many friends will hear of his intended departure from town.

The Western British American of last week says:—Mr. Ryerson Ritchie, secretary of the Commercial Club of Kansas City, and an old Peterborough, Ont., boy, passed through Chicago last week, en route for Kansas City. He was accompanied by his mother, whom he had been visiting in Peterborough.

Mr. P. M. McIntyre, of Edinburgh, Scotland, accompanied Mr. T. Menzies to "Kenmore" lodge, Stony Lake, this morning, for a day's trip. Mr. McIntyre is a Q.C., and one of the most successful lawyers in the old country. He has just completed a tour of the American continent, and leaves for home to-morrow morning.

In Chicago.

The Western British American, of Chicago, publishes weekly brief autobiographies of prominent Canadians resident in that city. In the last issue it has the following, accompanied by a portrait of the subject:—

John B. Wilson, the well-known photographer, 339 State street, was born in the city of Glasgow, Scotland, twenty-seven years ago, and at the age of eleven, came with his people to Brockville, a city beautifully situated on the St. Lawrence River, in Ontario. Mr. Wilson is a nephew of the famous "blind poet of Scotland," John Young, whose masterpieces are issued in two volumes. At the age of fourteen, Mr. Wilson commenced the study of photography at Peterborough, Ont., under the well-known artist, James Little, and he has ever since devoted himself to the study. In 1880 he came to this city, and for some years following his vocation in the best studios of Chicago. In the fall of 1886 he received to enter upon business on his own account and chose his present location, 339 State street, where he has achieved rapid and well-merited success. Through one of his prominent specialties, military photographing, he has become extremely popular and well-known in every portion of the State. He makes a practice of going to Springfield every year when the Camp is there, and thus has an unrivaled collection of military personages, from Governor Oglesby and staff down to the raw recruit

Beautiful Bridgenorth.

A Voice from the Shores of Chemong.

Beautiful Bridgenorth. This is no hyperbole of enthusiasm; it is the simple truth. If you, dear reader, had been moved up in a close, hot, stuffy town, and had been, all summer, stewed, roasted, broiled, grilled, fried, frizzeased, sunstruck and done brown with hot weather, suffocated with dust, fatigued with working in the tread mill of toil, and had escaped for ten days to the cool, genial shores of Chemong Lake—if this morning after the glorious rain of last night, you had sat on the balcony of Robert's Hotel about 6 o'clock, with the freshened landscape, dotted with its graceful clumps of trees and woodland, fields of waving grain and reviving pasture, spread out in graceful and grateful view; with the lake lying in shadow and its steel blue surface fretted with the fresh breeze, crisp, cool, reviving, you would not only say, beautiful Bridgenorth, but would thank God for planting so restful a spot so close to the hot and bustling town. Everyone knows where Bridgenorth is, but the full knowledge of what it is as a pleasant retreat, a healthful home for the heated term, can only be realized by those who have tasted the enjoyment of a stay on the shores of Chemong Lake. There is quite a population at the park this summer. There are eight cottages, all populously tenanted, besides the accommodation supplied by four or five tents. This population is largely juvenile, and the way those youngsters enjoy themselves is wonderful. From early morning till late in the evening they are on the stir—boating, fishing, romping, laughing, swimming and eating—no tongue can tell how they eat—everybody eats with the appetite of an applicant for the town clerk's office. It's a mere formality to divide the people into old and young for everybody seems to grow young under the rejuvenating influences that surround the visitor at the park. Here is found a beautifully timbered, clean, grassy park, cool and refreshing at any hour of the hottest day (in town), washed by the shores of a clear watered lake, combining capital boating, good fishing and the finest bathing places imaginable. Here they have enjoyment; clothing is not regarded as a vehicle of variety, but simply as a covering, and little regard is had to style or effect, so long as it is cool and light. All day is spent in the open air, and the little lads and lasses have a particularly jolly time—as a rule they discard shoes and wear the least amount of clothing the law allows. They principally go barefoot and are always ready to take a roll or scramble down the sandy banks and a plunge into the cool waters. The bathing facilities cannot be surpassed. A wide fringe of sandy beach joins the water and slopes so gently and gradually that there is no danger to an infant bathing there and tumbling and romping about in the water. All day long children of both sexes and ladies are to be seen disporting themselves in the water, while the adult men take a row to some quiet spot and enjoy the luxury of a swim. For happy cottage life, for home enjoyment there's no place within a hundred miles of Peterborough like Bridgenorth.

Put the one great draw back is the lack of hotel accommodation—that is in extent but not in quality, for the visitor can find at Faubert's hotel the best of accommodation, the kindest treatment and the most hospitable entertainment—a splendid table, delightfully clean beds and the kindest of attention in every respect. The hotel accommodation is just as good as the most fastidious could desire, but there's not enough of it. The hotel building is too small for the demands made upon it. Scores have to be turned away because they cannot be provided with rooms. Bridgenorth as a summer resort has a future before it. Those who seek rest, health resting recreation, and rational enjoyment can find these in their completest development at Bridgenorth. I should like to send you a little gossip about the village itself, and a great deal more about the alterations of the place as a summer resort, but those who want to know more, must come and see for themselves; that's the only way to find out, besides, they say its a good morning for fishing, and I can't miss that for ever so much gossip. If I find time I shall drop you a few more lines.

Yours robustly,
SOLID COMFORT.

Bridgenorth, Aug. 4th 1888.

BANKRUPT STOCK EMPORIUM, No. 3 COX'S BLOCK, GEORGE ST.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE CLOVEN FOOT SHOWN.

U.S. SENATOR BLAIR REVEALS THE REPUBLIC'S SCHEME.

A Joint Resolution Introduced in the Senate Requesting the Opening of Negotiations for the Political Union of Canada and the States.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—In the Senate today Mr. Blair (Rep., N.H.) introduced the following joint resolution which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

Resolved, That the President be requested to open negotiation with the Government of Her Britannic Majesty, in which the Dominion of Canada and the several political sub-divisions thereof shall be represented, with a view to the settlement of all differences between Her Majesty's Government and the United States, and especially to the arrangement of terms mutually just, honorable and satisfactory, for political union between the Dominion of Canada, or between any of the several provinces or sub-divisions of the Dominion of Canada and the United States, subject to the approval of the people of the Dominion of Canada, or of the people of any province or sub-division thereof who may be included in such arrangement, and to the ratification of the United States, in such manner as Congress may prescribe; such political union to be republican and in accord with the general system and the constitution of the United States, and the negotiations may embrace such further treaties, compacts and alliances as shall be deemed necessary for the future peace, happiness, security and general welfare of Her Majesty's Dominion and of the United States.

FOR DIPSOMANIACS.

A Provincial Inebriate Asylum Advocated at the Hamilton Meeting.

HAMILTON, Aug. 6.—At a largely attended public meeting to-night held in the Central Presbyterian Church to consider the question of establishing an inebriate asylum, Mr. J. M. Gibson, M.P.P., presiding, addresses were delivered by Mr. Adam Brown, M.P., Dr. Mullen and others strongly advocating the proposed institution, and favoring its establishment on a purely provincial basis, supported and controlled by the Provincial Government alone.

A resolution was unanimously adopted to the effect that evidence be collected showing the necessity of a provincial inebriate asylum and that such evidence be laid before the Government at an early day.

Rev. D. Sexton delivered a lecture on "Dipsomania," and on "Sleep and Dreams."

The Lumber Cut on the St. John.

FREDERICTON, N.B., Aug. 6.—There is an immense quantity of lumber in the booms and along the shores in the vicinity yet unrafted. The lumber cut of this season is far in advance of last year and for several years previous. The estimated cut on the St. John this year is placed at 140,000,000 feet, which is some 40,000,000 in advance of last season. When Connor's big drive reaches the booms, all, with the exception of a few millions of this large cut, will be in. The work of rafting is proceeding with vigor at the booms at present.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

INCREASED TRAFFIC ON THE INTER-COLONIAL.

The Export Duty on Logs—The Papers in Forger Bergen's Case Received by the Department of Justice—Royal Military College Contributions.

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—It is understood that the contributions in aid of the messing and education of cadets admitted to the Royal Military College will in future be $300 instead of $100 as heretofore.

Both passenger and freight traffic on the Intercolonial has increased very largely during the present season. The output of coal is exceptionally heavy, but the increase is not in this item as it applies as well to the general freight returns.

The Customs Department recently issued a circular to the collectors with reference to the export duty on logs. Some collectors it is believed, have interpreted the act to mean only saw logs, but it is pointed out that the duty of $1 on spruce and $2 on pine logs per thousand applies to spars, piles and all spruce or pine logs, no matter for what purpose they are intended or by what trade name they are known.

The Department of Justice has received the papers in the case of Bergen, the Baltimore forger now in jail at Montreal. Detective Hall of Baltimore had an interview with Acting Deputy Minister Power this morning and was informed that the usual fifteen days must elapse before Bergen could be removed.

The Marine Department to-day received information from the receiver of wrecks for the North Sydney District that the schooner Dustholm on July 23 picked up off the coast of Newfoundland about 500 pieces of deals supposed to have come from a wrecked Canadian vessel. Some of the deals were marked E.B.E.

Messrs. McMicken of Niagara Falls and Duncan of Toronto, two of the Wimbledon team, arrived here on their way home to-day, but will remain to take part in the provincial rifle matches.

Wm. Shore and John D. Robinson, members of the Ottawa Field Battery, were fined $5 each in the Police Court this morning for refusing to attend the annual drill at Gananoque. They pleaded that if they went they were likely to lose their situations, but the magistrate refused to recognize that as an excuse.

Sir Hector Langevin left this afternoon for Joliette, where he will lay the corner stone of the new postoffice to-morrow morning. In the afternoon there will be a political picnic and in the evening a banquet. Sir Hector returns to the city on Wednesday.

Hon. J. H. Pope, Minister of Railways, left this afternoon for his home at Cookshire.

THE MINING COMMISSION.

Considerable Evidence Taken—Promising Leads in the Manitoulin District.

LITTLE CURRENT, Manitoulin, Aug. 7.—The Mining Commissioners have left this place for Sault Ste. Marie, having completed their investigation of that part of the north shore of Lake Huron opposite this Island and of the Island itself. The commission assembled for the first time here last Monday week.

The duties of the Commissioners, as set forth by the Crown, are to enquire into and report upon the mineral resources of Ontario and the best measures for their development.

Two sittings of the Commission have been held and a good deal of evidence already obtained. This has been supplemented by personal inspection of a number of locations. It may be summarized as follows: The prospector wants more protection and desires to be able to locate or stake out claims, as is done under the Dominion, the British Columbia and the United States laws. The present Ontario law requires him to pay for the property at once on application or someone else may buy it over his head, while the laws above mentioned allow him some years before he pays for his claim, but obliging him each year to do so much work on his claim.

With regard to this district there appear to be promising leads of iron ore, copper, gold and silver, but practically no development yet done. Our prospectors are hopeful, confident, and their number has increased from a single one to some dozens this season.

SKIN GRAFTING.

The Operation Successful in the Case of Maggie Pierce of St. John, N.B.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 6.—In the case of Maggie Pierce, who is now in the General Hospital here, the operation of skin grafting has been going on for some time, and, although necessarily slow, it would appear to have been fairly successful so far. When her scalp was torn off, it carried with it the flesh of the forehead, as well as the skin on the eyelids, and as far down as the bridge of the nose. Up to the present time the skin has been grafted on the nose, also on the eyelids and a small portion of the forehead. There are also grafts on other parts of her head, which have attached themselves. The grafts were taken from the arms of her friends and from some of the inmates of the hospital. The general health of the patient is fair. She spends the greater portion of her time in bed, and does not appear as anxious to get out as she was some time ago. What the ultimate result in her case will be the hospital physician cannot fortell, but so far as the grafting is concerned he considers that it has been attended with a fair degree of success.

A Kingston Burglar's Attempted Escape.

KINGSTON, Aug. 6.—An 18-year-old lad named Robert McCarkell, who was arrested Saturday night for buglarizing the residence of B. M. Britton, Q.C., stolen jewelry, money and other articles being found in his possession and in his trunk, made a desperate attempt to escape from the cells, and when detected had succeeded in removing a portion of the masonry about six inches square. He demanded a jury trial at the Police Court this morning and was remanded for a week.

U.S. Shipping Sheep to the States.

ANNAPOLIS, N.S., Aug. 6.—Two hundred and eighteen sheep were shipped from the port of Annapolis, last week, to Portland, Me. This is the first consignment of the kind ever shipped from Annapolis. If the venture pays, the same number, or thereabouts, will be shipped weekly until 4000 are transported.

Winnipeg Wirelets.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6.—The Local Government offer three cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25 respectively for the best collection of seeds, grains and roots for exhibition at the Ontario fall shows.

Five hundred immigrants arrived during last week.

Postmaster General Haggart Sworn In.

QUEBEC, Aug. 6.—Hon. John Graham Haggart, Postmaster-General, was sworn in here to-day by His Excellency the Governor-General.

The British Wheat Crop Injured.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Mark Lane Express in its review of the British grain trade during the past week says: August opened with disaster to the agricultural interests of the whole country. The rainfalls have been unprecedently heavy and the damage done to the wheat crop is irreparable.

A HUSBAND'S BRUTAL ACT

He Gouges Out Both the Eyes of His Wife.

ROCKAWAY BEACH, L.I., Aug. 7.—Wm. Bovas, a saloon-keeper, is locked up at police headquarters here for committing one of the most brutal crimes ever known at Rockaway. Bovas, whose saloon is on Fairview-avenue, is a hard drinker and is a perfect fiend when he is in liquor. Whenever he gets drunk he quarrels with his wife and abuses her terribly, even if he does not try to kill her. Several months ago, when he was in the ugliest condition of drunkenness, he drove his wife into a corner of their bedroom and, clutching her throat with his left hand, he gouged out one of her eyes with his right thumb.

The woman was terribly disfigured and sightless in one eye, but she refused to make complaint against her husband, and even before the wound had fairly healed she had forgiven him.

Bovas seemed to glory in his fiendish act and has often sneered at his wife's disfigured face. He frequently threatened to gouge out her other eye and, to use his own words, "make her as blind as a bat." He went to Brooklyn on Sunday and returned in the afternoon fighting drunk. He was evidently looking for a quarrel and began to curse and swear at his wife at once. For a long time she made no reply, but at last, driven beyond the point of endurance, answered him.

"Now I'll get your other eye!" the fiend yelled, and he sprang upon her as upon the previous occasion and in the same way gouged out the other eye. Then while the poor woman groped blindly for the door, nearly crazed with agony, he made his escape and was not captured until yesterday.

Physicians were hastily summoned, but one glance at the bleeding creature was sufficient to tell them that she was irretrievably blinded. She is now under medical attendance. The neighbors are very much enraged at Bovas, and threats of lynching are freely made.

MORTON AND THE C. P. R.

The Vice Presidential Candidate's Connection with the Directorate.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Concerning Levi P. Morton's reported retirement from the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company inquiries at the office of Morton, Bliss & Co., made this afternoon elicited the statement that Mr. Morton was elected director about a year ago to fill a place temporarily in the board until a selection was made of a suitable Canadian director. Since that election he has never attended a meeting of the board or exercised any of the functions of a director. His resignation was forwarded to the board in the early part of the summer and his place will be filled at to-morrow's meeting in Montreal.

A General Shaking Up Predicted.

MONTREAL, Aug. 6.—Despite Mr. Van Horne's denial, it is know here that Sir George Stephen is going to resign to-morrow and Mr. Van Horne will be chosen his successor. There is going to be a general shaking up of the officers of the road in order to better prepare for the fight with the United States roads which is now becoming inevitable.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

Prices of Produce Practically Unchanged—Butter and Cheese Markets.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—There was no business to speak of at the St. Lawrence market yesterday. The supply was small, and prices were unchanged. Butter was a little easier than on Saturday, pound rolls selling at 22 cents, and tub at 18 and 20 cents. Eggs brought 17 cents and lard 13 cents. Potatoes sold at $1.50 per barrel, or 25 cents per peck. Corn was 15, and cucumbers 10 to 25 cents per dozen. Tomatoes were a little lower, selling again at $1.25.

Only four loads of hay were offered, selling at $20 and $22. Straw sold at $10 and $11. No grain was offered.

On call 97 cents was bid for No. 2 fall wheat on the track; 89 for No. 2 spring and 96 for No. 1 Manitoba hard. The latter was offered at $1.

FRUIT.

Red raspberries were quoted at 8 and 9c a box; cherry currants, at 75c and $1.25 a basket; red currants, 75c a basket; black currants, $1.50 a basket; apples, $1.70 to $2.25 a barrel; peaches, 75c and $1.25 a basket; watermelons, $20 and $30 a hundred; lemons, $5.50 and $6.00 a case; and bananas, $1.50 and $2.00 a bunch.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS.

There has been a heavy reduction in stocks of wheat at Port Arthur during the past week, the decrease amounting to over 200,000 bushels.

Yesterday was a bank holiday in England and consequently there are no English markets.

CHEESE MARKETS.

The Utica cheese market showed a firmer tone and prices were ¼c better than last week. Transactions aggregated 23,131 boxes as follows: 2000 at 8 3-8c, 6533 at 8¼c, remainder sold between 8 3-8c and 8 7-8c.

At Little Falls 58 lots sold at 8¾c, 44 at 9c, 1 at 9¼c; total sales 8399 boxes. Twenty packages of farm butter sold at 17c to 19c and 44 packages creamery at 20c.

Return of Enck's Comet.

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—A cable message received to-day from the European office of astronomy announces Enck's comet on its present return, at the royal observatory of the Cape of Good Hope, on Friday evening.

An International Riot.

PARIS, Aug. 6.—A despatch from Leon in the Department of Iser, says the Frenchmen engaged at work on the Brazil tunnel went on strike because of the refusal of the contractor to discharge an Italian. The contractor later assented to the dismissal of the man. The comrades of the Italian, 70 in number, thereupon made an attack upon the Frenchmen using revolvers. A severe encounter took place resulting in the death of one Italian and the wounding of several more. The Frenchmen afterwards sacked the canteen of the Italians. There were further conflicts between the strikers and the police and many prisoners were rescued by their friends.

SENATOR VANCE'S STORY.

THE N.C. SENATOR SPEAKS ON THE FISHERIES TREATY.

His Explanation of the Republican Opposition to Ratification—They Had to Do Something—Why the Brethren Rage—The Debate Not Concluded.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Senate resumed consideration of the Fisheries Treaty in open executive session yesterday and was addressed by Mr. Vance (Dem., N.C.) in favor of its ratification. He accounted for the remarkable heat exhibited by the Republicans against the treaty by telling a story of a fellow in North Carolina who was once caught with an extra "Jack" in his sleeve when playing a game of "old sledge" and who in reply to the fierce denunciation of his adversary said: "Bill, you know we were six and six and it was your deal, and I was obliged to do something." So, said Mr. Vance, the presidential election is coming on and the Republican party, which desires once more to get into power and whose chief joy is the flesh-pots of Egypt, knows the game stands six and six and that the deal is ours, and that they must do something.

He went on to say that owing to the stand taken by his friend on the other side of the Senate we presented to the world this spectacle of considering a treaty, not in the dignified way, not in a way respectful to the great power with which they treat, not in a way considerate of the interests of the 60,000,000 of our people, not in a way consistent with the dignity of this great and mighty nation, but as though the issue was to be decided by a ward primary.

Mr. Vance quoted at considerable length from a newspaper interview with Mr. Frye to the effect that American fishermen require nothing at the hands of the Canadians and said: If that be so, what is all this fuss about? Why do the heathen rage and desire the people to imagine a vain thing? He quoted Mr. Frye as saying that the remedy was a duty on salt fish and said: "You heard the senator from Maine (Frye) describe in words that burn, the tearing down of the American flag by Captain Quigley of the Canadian cruiser and you heard him taunt the senator from Ohio (Payne), shaking his fist in his face and telling him that he was apologizing for a man who tore down his country's flag. You heard all that, it created quite a ripple in the gallery, I thought I could already hear the shouts of the columns marching, and banners floating in the breeze, and could smell the powder burned to avenge the American flag, but the wounded honor of the senator can be amply atoned for by a higher duty on fresh fish."

Mr. Vance went on to describe the condition of the poor population along the Nova Scotia and Newfoundland coasts whose only source of support was fish in their bays, and said there was not a citizen of New England, who, if the conditions were reversed, would not find a hundred methods of repelling Canadian fishermen from trespassing on their rights. Bluster could not do any good though it might get some votes of those who could be controlled by such appeals.

It has been claimed for the Senate of the United States that it was one of the ablest and most dignified assemblies on earth. The present exhibition could not bear out those pretensions. It proved the fact that Senators were created of the same clay as other men, and that in the language of the Widow Bedott "Senators and representatives and what not were all poor critters."

No other Senator sought the floor when Mr. Vance took his seat, but Mr. Morgan intimated his understanding that several others did desire to speak on the subject of the treaty.

CONDUCTED BY CALUMNY.

Balfour Says That is the Way the Irish Controversy is Carried On.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Mr. Balfour delivered an address before 20,000 persons at Tunbridge to-day. He declared that the Irish controversy was conducted by calumny, instead of by argument. He had been told that the Parnell commission had been appointed to crush the Government's political opponents. He asked how this could be done if the accused men were innocent.

In the House of Commons this evening, Sir Jas. Fergusson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Foreign Office, stated that Mr. West, the British Minister at Washington, had been instructed to request the United States Government to postpone the sale at Port Townsend of four British schooners, pending an inquiry into the legality of their seizure.

Mr. Smith said the Government had received no information that Justice Day had resigned from the Parnell Commission.

Mr. Balfour, referring to the discharge of Magistrate Latchford, said it had nothing to do with the merits of the case, but was simply due to a technical error in the order of imprisonment.

Replying to Mr. Sexton's charge that Mr. Balfour was responsible for the death of Mandeville, the Chief Secretary said the prison rules had been adopted by the last Liberal Chief Secretary and he would never consent to draw a distinction between one class of offenders and another.

Discharged From Custody.

DUBLIN, Aug. 6.—In the case of a magistrate named Latchford who was convicted of the charge of rioting at Tralee, County Keray, the court here have declared that his sentence and imprisonment were illegal and has discharged him from custody.

O'Shea v. Parnell.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Mr. O'Shea, referring to Mr. Parnell's letter to The Times, says the matter of the letter is poor, but that the style is excellent. Mr. Parnell, he asserts, sent The Freeman's Journal a communication last week, in which he distinctly confessed that the Coercion Bill in question was his.

Against the Liquor Sellers.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 7.—In the Supreme Court yesterday, judgment was given affirming the validity of the Scott Act in Portland City. An appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Words of Farewell

Miss Munro Tendered a Farewell in the George Street Church.

A fair sized congregation braved the discomforts of a melting atmosphere last night and attended the public farewell tendered to Miss Jessie K. Munro, missionary-elect to Japan in the George street church. Rev. M. L. Pearson presided, and made a few opening remarks, followed by the singing of the well known old hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains."

Rev. A. C. Wilson next made a neat address, expressing his admiration of the courage of Miss Munro in taking up the cross and bringing the glad tidings to the Japanese. Her noble example he believed would be followed by others, and the result would be a grand conquest for the Master. His prayers went with her.

The chairman announced that Miss Munro had preferred a desire to take no part in the proceedings of the evening, but promised that she would, upon her return five years hence, address the congregation, when she would have a great deal to tell them.

Rev. S. J. Shorey spoke in admiring terms of Miss Munro, whom he greeted and congratulated as one elected for a noble work, a work that would yield more golden opportunities than there were sands on the shore. The congregation present were gathered to sympathize with and cheer the young lady, evincing as it did their faith in her and in God, and the remembrance of this occasion and the knowledge that her movements would be followed with interest by those at home, would no doubt be of great benefit to her while engaged in her work in far-away Japan. Referring to the discouragements which the laborer for Christ must meet with in that strange country, he urged her to trust all to God. Everything could not be accomplished in a day or a year; the work was a grand one, a privilege for anyone to engage in, and though there would be hours of gloom and despair, yet the reward would be great.

Rev. Mr. Pearson said that at the Love Feast Sunday morning Miss Munro had given her experience in connection with her determination to engage in the missionary work. At first she had been overwhelmed almost by a sense of the sacrifices she would be called upon to make, but after prayerful consideration she had realized that the highest honor was being conferred upon her in being selected for the Japanese mission field.

Mr. H. S. Griffin, superintendent of the Sunday school, referred feelingly to the near departure of Miss Munro from the school where she was prized as a successful teacher. The George street Methodist Sunday school had sent out some of the most prominent men in the Dominion. The late Hon. Thos. White was a member of the school; Dr. Ford, Rev. Dr. Rutledge, Mr. J. W. Flavelle, of Toronto, his brother in Lindsay, Mr. Dundas, ex-M.P.P. of Lindsay, Dr. Emmerson, and others; and now Miss Munro was leaving them. Besides this, another valued teacher was leaving this week to preach the gospel. Mr. Griffin prayed that the good work of the school might result in still greater triumphs. The prayers of the school, he said, went out to Miss Munro.

A collection was taken up to assist in defraying Miss Munro's expenses, after which the meeting was brought to a close. Miss Munro was present and gave a final handshake to a number of her friends. She leaves Peterborough Wednesday morning.

FIRE.—Mr. John Dwyer, who lives about two miles northeast of the village, had his out-buildings totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday, the 31st of July. It seems Mr. Dwyer had been absent from home and had just returned. He loosened his horse from the buggy and tied it in the stable, and ran to assist in saving a field of oats belonging to Mr. Barnes, but before he was long gone a spark from the swamp blew across almost a hundred acres and lit in the yard. Before his wife could get him back the buildings were in flames. With the buildings were burnt about twenty acres of fine fall wheat, a load of which was lying in the waggon on the barn floor. A valuable horse and a fine top buggy were also burnt. Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Dwyer, as he is only a young man, newly starting in life for himself. No insurance.

The Household.

SUMMER BEVERAGES.—First put into a large pan a quarter of a pound of fine fresh oatmeal, six ounces of white sugar, and half a lemon cut into small pieces. Mix with a little warm water; then pour over it one gallon of boiling water, stirring all together thoroughly, and use when cold. This makes a most refreshing and strengthening drink. If preferred, raspberry vinegar, citric acid or any other flavoring may be used instead of the lemon. More oatmeal may also be used if preferred. Second—Six ounces of fine oatmeal, four ounces of cocoa, and eight ounces of sugar mixed gradually and smoothly into a gallon of boiling water. Use when cold.

HUCKLEBERRY JELLY.—In selecting the berries take those with the bloom upon them, put them into an earthen jar and cover it closely. Set the jar in a pan of cold water and boil very gently until the juice is expressed from the fruit. Then strain the juice through a jelly-bag, measure it, put into a porcelain-lined preserving pan and let it boil for two minutes. Then add the sugar, in the proportion of one and one-half pounds to each pint of juice. After it is boiled for ten minutes put a spoonful upon a plate to try it. If it becomes firm it is done enough; if not boil a little longer, and put up into small jars, covering them the same as other jellies.

SPICED CHERRIES.—Make a syrup of one pint of white sugar and one pint of water for each quart of cherries, and add spice to suit the taste. Add the cherries, which must be perfect fruit, with the pits left in, when the syrup boils. Cook half an hour. Vinegar may be added with the spice if liked.

A HALLELUJAH WEDDING.

The O'Connell Celebration at Oakville—A Picton Skipper in Hard Luck.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—At the Salvation Army barracks last night on Wells' Hill 3000 people attended the hallelujah wedding of Major Bailey and Miss Annie Salmon. The bridegroom is a Londoner, where he was converted and engaged in business. The bride is the daughter of Rev. John Salmon, a Congregational minister. She was a school teacher in the counties of Lambton and Oxford for seven years.

There was a big turnout at the demonstration at Oakville yesterday, under the auspices of the Emerald Benefical Association, in recognition of the anniversary of O'Connell's birth. Branches from Hamilton, Dundas, Merritton, Oakville and Toronto were present and there were several thousand persons on the grounds. The Oakville Baseball Club played a match for $20 with the Bayside of Toronto, the former winning, and there was a well contested program of other sports.

The steamer Hastings brought nineteen plumbers to the city yesterday morning from the States. One of the strikers was on board, and scouting pickets were all over the city after the new arrivals, several of whom are said to have been captured and enrolled with the strikers last night. Both sides remain firm and express themselves as confident of ultimate victory.

Murray Ackerman, of Picton, owner and master of the schooner Nellie Hunter, was observed by Policeman Young about 1 o'clock last night loitering around a lane in rear of the Model Lodging House, and with him were two or three women. When Young approached the women fled, so the officer took Ackerman into custody. On the road to Police Headquarters the sailor told Young that he had been robbed of $300. At the station he reduced the amount to $78, and, finally, begging that he should not be placed in the cells, he stated that $10 only had been taken. He was locked up, however.

At the Police Court yesterday Charles C. Williams, cook of the steamer Chicora, pleaded not guilty to the charge of having feloniously wounded Fred Farragher, fireman, by stabbing him in the hand with a knife. It was stated that the injured man is still in the hospital and could not appear before Thursday, to which day Williams was remanded.

A number of years ago a Scotchman named Henderson, tired of his conjugal relations, left his native heather, his wife and son, an only child 2 years of age. He pitched his tent in Candaa and prospered, marrying a second time. After a number of years his second wife and family all died. Whereupon he sent to Scotland for his brother and sister and their families and bestowed upon them his superfluous wealth. Yesterday his son arrived in Toronto under an assumed name bent upon discovering his long absent father and securing a share of the wealth he had accumulated here.

Better Than a Hero.

"What a coward that Major Smith is," said Jones to Robinson, "why, the very sight of gunpowder would make him ill. How did he ever manage to become an officer in the army"? "Don't say anything against Smith," answered Robinson, "he once saved my life." "Saved your life! Nonsense, impossible! What do you mean"? "I mean that I was in the first stages of consumption; I was losing strength and vitality every day with the terrible disease, when Smith advised me to take Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had tried all kinds of medicines without success, and my physician had given me no hope; and here I am, as well as ever a man was, and I owe my life to Smith, and to the wonderful remedy he recommended." b

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

SUN
LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.
HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have more-over $3,207,600.00 insured under 1,340 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,069 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,000 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,590 67	195,188 29	1,167,286 14
1880 to 1884, four years	126,976 84	363,264 31	2,962,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,607 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

A French Ruffian's Brutal Crime and Just Punishment.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—The frequent repetition of murders in railway carriages during the last few years gives peculiar interest to a trial just concluded at Melun. A year ago the Melun Court Assizes sentenced a man named Andre to hard labor for life for assassinating a coachman in a train on their way to Troyes. Before this the mysterious case of M. Barrucq, prefect, murdered in a first-class carriage near Maisons Laffite, had excited the public, and now comes this trial of a ruffian named Pachimeny, who on April 3 last made a desperate attempt to assassinate M. Callin, a cattle dealer in a train a few miles from Laferte-Sous-Jomarre about 2 a.m.

M. Callin was travelling in a third-class carriage from Pantin to Nolian Court. In his pocket he had 3,500 francs, the proceeds of his day's business. The monotonous motion of the train soon sent him to sleep. He was blissfully dreaming of tremendous bargains in sheep and oxen when suddenly he was awakened by a terrific blow on the forehead. Though the blood was streaming down his face he had strength to get up and engage in a deadly struggle with his assailant. Pachimeny, the murderer, was armed with a heavy poker, but despite this advantage he was no match for his victim. Finding that he was likely to get the worst of the fight Pachimeny opened the carriage door, though the train was rushing along at full speed, jumped out and disappeared in the darkness. Meanwhile Callin had managed to pull the alarm signal and the train was stopped. Pachimeny was soon arrested by the local gendarmes and was recognized as a notorious criminal already condemned for two offences.

The jury at the Melun Court Assizes, taking the severest view of his new crime, refused to give him the benefit of the usual extenuating circumstances and found him guilty after a short trial. The ruffian was sentenced to death.

The adjoining buildings were damaged by fire and water. One of the horses lost belonged to Mr. Messecar of Burford.

OUT OF TOWN.

Subscribers to THE EXAMINER, who intend spending their holidays at summer resorts, can have their papers sent them by giving notice at the office. Non-subscribers will be supplied with THE DAILY EXAMINER at such resorts for 35c. per month or $1.00 for three months.

The Weather.

Moderate to fresh south to east winds, fair weather with local showers or thunderstorms, not much change in temperature.

The Great Day Past.

Circus day is over and the people may settle down for another year. The circus brought large crowds of people to town, whose primary object was to secure some of the elegant and cheap dry goods to be had at the golden lion. R. Fair keeps a fine stock, and the public are not slow to find it out.

The Grand Lodge Meet.

Canton Peterborough of Patriarchs Militant, accompanied by the 57th Batt. Band, left for Barrie this morning on the occasion of the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows. A number of the local delegates and brethren also went with the excursion. Others follow to-day or to-morrow.

Down the River.

The tailors' pic-nic went down the river on the "Golden Eye" this morning. There was a good attendance of excursionists, and in all the town tailoring establishments operations have ceased to-day as far as the employ'es are concerned. They will doubtless have a fine day's enjoyment at Jubilee Park.

From Bealbek to Jerusalem.

Bear in mind that, this evening, in St. Andrew's Church, the Rev. D. Tully, M. A., D.D., of Media, Penn., will deliver his great lecture—"A Ride from Bealbek to Jerusalem," commencing at 8 o'clock. Organ solos by Mr. Carter during the evening Admission, silver collection at the door. 4d29

Sunday Selling.

The keeper of a cigar store in town was fined $5 and costs by Police Magistrate Dumble this morning for selling on Sunday. The P.M. requested the newspapers to "make a note on't," and added that the authorities intended to put down this profane practice. Some people, he said, considered that they are privileged to sell such things as cigars, tobacco, etc., on Sunday, but the law said emphatically not.

The Teachers' Examinations.

The total number of pupils who tried the teachers' examinations at the Collegiate Institute was 64, but of these less than 40 were from town. Of those sent up from the Collegiate Institute there were 14 or 15 who tried for second and about 23 who tried for third, besides a few who undertook the examination on their own responsibility—about 37 or 40 in all. The remainder of the 64 came in from the county and other schools.

PUT off prejudices and put in a good supply of choice Family Groceries from The Pantry.

The Circus.

The circus performances on Riverside Part Monday afternoon and evening were attended by paying audiences. The show is generally well spoken of. Though the features were all of the old, standard variety, their quality was superior, some of the events being good indeed. A word may be said for the favorable appearance and conduct of the circus employes. They were very quiet and orderly. The circus is in Lindsay to-day.

Sporting Notes.

Thursday afternoon the Garden Hill and Peterborough baseball clubs play on the home grounds. A good game is expected.

The Peterborough cricketers feel confident that they can place a team in the field that will beat the Seabrights next Friday. The New Jersey club played in Hamilton Monday, winning on the first innings by a score of 99 to 81. The newspaper reports say:—"The New Jersey men have a good team, but it is not particularly strong, and had the Hamilton seniors been in good shape they would have had little difficulty."

Anglers Away.

Among those who took the Lakefield train this morning, en route to Stony Lake, were Messrs. Geo. Walker and Miles Froats, two knights of the sheers connected with well known firms in town. They went out after "blood"—or, rather, fish. Fitted out with all the appliances and tackle known to modern fish-craft, with a pail of fresh minnows that they labored hard all day Monday to procure, these two piscatorial pulverisers went forth like roaring lions, seeking to exterminate all the fish in Burleigh Bay. They expect to accomplish the feat in two or three days. Look out for dense fish stories and a disturbed atmosphere on their return.

STRONG, double-barreled Coffees and Teas for critical tastes at The Pantry.

The Street Parade.

The circus people consider that they have an a 1 grievance against the town of Peterborough, whose authorities they stigmatize as highway robbers of the first order. Their cause of complaint is that they were not allowed to have a street parade. They say that in almost every town where they show they locate just outside the limits to avoid paying the town or city license, but Peterborough is the first place they ever struck where their parade was prohibited. "Old Man" Jaques, who has been travelling through Canada with circuses for the past 35 years, says "its the all-firedest mean piece of work he ever saw." He evidently doesn't appreciate the economical and sharp business instincts of our city fathers.

Serious Accident.

A rather serious accident occured to Mr. Philip Crough, of Ennismore, on the Communication road Monday evening. He was returning from town, and when at the spring about a mile this side of Bridgenorth, the road being filled with equipages coming from the circus, by some mishap while moving at a rapid pace, the wheels on one side of the vehicle went off the end of the bridge, and upset the buggy (a top one) throwing out Mr. Crough on his head with considerable violence. He was picked up insensible and removed to Fobert's hotel, where he soon recovered consciousness, and his wounds washed. He was considerably cut about the head and face and appeared to be suffering great pain. He was carefully removed to his home. Dr. Collins, of town, was at once sent for, but he was unable at this time of writing to tell how serious Mr. Crough's injuries were.

A Prominent Mason Dead.

(By Telephone to the Examiner.)

PORT HOPE, August 7.—Mr. Charles Doebler, one of the foremost merchants of Port Hope, died this morning after a short illness, in his 61st year. The deceased was a prominent and enthusiastic member of the Masonic Order, and had filled many onerous positions in the craft, among them W. M. of Ontario Lodge, Z. of Victoria Chapter, and Grand Supt. of Ontario district, R.A.M., for four years. Mr. Doebler was well known to the members of the fraternity throughout Ontario, and was deservedly held in high esteem. He leaves a wife and one daughter, who have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire population of Port Hope, as well as of many in Peterborough, where Mr. Doebler was well known and highly esteemed.

The funeral will take place under Masonic auspices on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. A number of the Peterborough brethren are expected to attend. We are requested to state that railway arrangements are in progress for securing return tickets at single fare to those wishing to attend the funeral.

The goods are fresh and stylish and worthy of inspection. Call and see what bargains are being offered. 2d1w

The Priests' Retreat.

Monday evening a priests' retreat for the diocese of Peterborough began at St. Peter's Cathedral and will continue all week, during which time the church is reserved for the clergy. Rev. Father Connolly, who so ably conducted the mission here a few months ago, is preaching the retreat to the clergy. Rev. Father McEvay remains off retreat to attend to pressing parish duties. The following clergy of the diocese are in attendance: Bishop T. J. Dowling; V. G. Laurent, Lindsay; V. G. Browne, Port Hope; Rev. Fathers Quirk, Hastings; Conway, Nowood; O'Connell, Douro; Murray, Cobourg; Keilty, Kanismore; Casey, Campbellford; Connolly, Downerville; Larkin, Grafton; Sweeney, Burnley; McCloskey, Victoria Road; O'Brien, Fension Falls; McGuire, Bracebridge; Bloom, North Bay; O'Connell, Brighton; Bretherton, Lindsay; Lynch and Dub'e, Peterborough.

The Laborer's Reward.

A laborer serves his country with his spade, just as a man in the middle ranks of life serves it with sword, pen or lancet. If the service be less, and therefore the wages during health less, then the reward when health is broken may be less, but not less honorable; and it ought to be quite as natural and straightforward a matter for a laborer to take his pension from his parish because he has deserved well of his parish as for a man in higher rank to take his pension from his country, because he has deserved well of his country. These are the words of Ruskin, and it is unfortunate that the suggested state of affairs is too largely true. In these days of hard toil and small returns the people turn to gough brothers to relieve their pressing wants. This firm keep a stock of clothing suited for the millionaire or the laborer. Their goods are pronounced first class and, what is more important, cheap. Their prices stagger the trade. Workingmen and all others who find it an object to economise (and who does not?) will study their interests by patronizing gough brothers.

A Very Sudden Death.

Mr. Wm. J. Thompson, an old and respected resident of the county, died very suddenly at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Wm. King, near Nassau, Monday forenoon. Last fall he fell off a straw stack and never fully recovered from the effects of the shock; but though complaining he was never confined to his bed. On Monday morning he arose as usual and was about the house till about 11 o'clock, when he lay down to sleep. Arising in a short time he seated himself in a chair and asked for a drink of water. His son Samuel handed him the cup and as the old man was in the act of rising to receive it he fell backward in a faint. His son immediately caught him and took him in his arms, but before he could lay his burden on the bed the old man's spirit fled. He passed away without a struggle. Deceased was born in the year 1820 in Yorkshire, England. Coming to Canada in 1838, he first settled near Toronto, where he owned a farm of 200 acres within a few miles of the city. After living there ten years he sold out with the intention of returning to England, but changed his mind and came to the County of Peterborough instead, residing in Smith for nine years. He then removed to Douro township remaining with his family in the vicinity of Nassau till his death. In 1850 deceased was married to Jane McClelland, who died about six years ago. Four children are left to mourn his loss, William George, Samuel, David and Mrs. Wm. King, with the latter of whom he was stopping at the time of his death. In religion, deceased was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, while in politics he was a staunch Liberal; of a quiet, unassuming nature, sterling character and strict integrity, he was beloved and respected not only by his family, but by all his acquaintances as well. The funeral takes place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Degrading and Undignified Greed.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—About three years ago I thought that the piece of ground in Ashburnham, then known as "Mowry's Point" and now as "Riverside Park," could be improved so as to provide a playground for baseball, lacrosse, etc., and a capital circus ground. I accordingly expended a very considerable sum in levelling the ground and fitting it up, and today it is a great contrast to its former state. I cannot say that the financial results I anticipated have been realized; but the citizens of the neighboring town of Peterborough fully appreciate its advantages, and play base ball, lacrosse, etc., upon it without payment. I would rather they would pay for the use of the ground, but that is not the way the citizens of Peterborough care to deal with us villagers; they prefer to take all they can lay their hands on gratis, and then want more. I thought at all events the circus business would help to pay for my outlay, but the corporation of Peterborough looked with a jealous municipal eye upon my little enterprise, and after one circus had ventured to use what the proprietors described "as the best circus ground in Canada," it was decided, if possible to prevent a repetition of so glaring an act of injustice to the town. The council of the town therefore, in order to punish me for daring to compete with them in the circus business, passed a by-law charging a license fee of $100 for a street parade to any circus that did not exhibit in the town. The result was satisfactory to this enterprising corporation, for the circuses did not patronize me any more. On one occasion they went to Monaghan instead. As I was not interested in these grounds, the town remitted the $100 license. Howe's circus which was here recently arranged to occupy my grounds, after finding the town rate too high, and we agreed upon the price; but the town in order to beat me reduced their license to $15. The circus at present exhibiting here got the Riverside Park at a very low rate, whi I was obliged to give to compete with the corporation. The corporation were very stiff in adhering to their by-law and on Saturday insisted on $100 being paid for street parade, which the circus men declined to pay. This morning the corporation, seeing that the circus was, in spite of their by-law, actually going to exhibit on Riverside Park, sent them word that they might parade for $20. This was also declined. Now, Mr. Editor, I write these lines, as I think its proper that the public should know how matters are managed. I may have been guilty of presumption and even of high treason against the corporation of the town of Peterborough in investing my money as I have stated and deserve to be crushed out, but I leave it to the public to decide. It seems to me that it is degrading and undignified for a wealthy corporation like the town of Peterborough to devote its energies to depriving me of a return for what I and many others think was a commendable enterprise.

Yours truly,
HENRY CALOUTT.

Ashburnham, August 6th, 1888.

School Board Meeting.

The regular meeting of the school board is called for this evening.

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

For Manitoba.

Police Magistrate Dumble leaves to-morrow for a fortnight's trip to Manitoba. In his absence county P. M. Edmison will occupy the magisterial chair and deal out the even-handed justice for which the Peterborough court has become noted. Mr. Dumble combines business with pleasure on this occasion.

A Day of Drunks.

The effects of circus day were apparent on the streets Monday afternoon and evening. Drunks were numerous, and the rarity of the sight was sufficient to surround each staggering applicant for police escort with a gaping crowd of boys and men. It is a fact that drunken men are comparative rarities on the streets of Peterborough, and the presence of so many on Monday was a sad commentary upon the evil influences of "circus day." "Big Injun-m-(hic)-me, full as er goose," from the county reserves, was painfully conspicuous, while a great many pale-faces were also under the influence of liquor. The police only made one arrest, however, and he created quite a disturbance before he was locked up. There were a number of street brawls but fortunately no one was seriously hurt.

THE cry is general that The Pantry takes the lead in the tea trade.

Sharps and Flats.

It is bad enough to see a raw, country youth roped in by the sharks who always accompany a circus, and one can always sympathise with a man whose ignorance and credulity are played upon by tricksters. But when men who have always lived in cities and towns, who profess to be men of the world and well acquainted with all its deceptions, at least in this line, when these men deliberately bite at the golden bait held out by the suave swindler, pity ceases to be a virtue. This was the case with several residents of Peterborough on Monday. The pea-and-shell racket, the sweat-board, the whip-drawing and other "skin games" flourished on the circus grounds Monday (and what makes it worse, with the apparent countenance of the circus proprietors), and many were the victims of the tempting allurements. One young man lost $150, others, amounts ranging from $25 to $100. Several were touched for big amounts, and when their pockets were drained they complained to the police. But nothing could be done. The police had no power to arrest anyone; the victims were without redress, and had to grin and bear it as best they might. It was a dear-bought experience, but, it is hoped, one that they and all others who hear of it may remember.

Death From a Bee Sting.

Miss Ella Baker, youngest daughter of Mr. T. Baker, of the Inner Temple, and Kingscote, Wokingham, was stung under the eye by a bee in the garden, about 12 on the 12th inst. She treated the matter lightly, and suffered no pain after the customary simple antidote had been applied, saying that she had been stung before, the swelling would run its course and go down again, and she continued to be quite cheerful down to 8.30 on the 14th, when she fell asleep on the sofa. At 9.15 she suddenly woke up in a convulsive fit, and died from syncope within a minute, aged 29. Miss Ella Baker was highly intellectual, and the author of "Bertram de Drumont" and other tales for young people; also "Stories from Old History," "The Sovereigns of England," "Songs of the Seasons," and other fugitive pieces.—Yarmouth Independent, July 21.

MONEY Probably not one business man in a thousand who has made a close study of newspaper advertising could be found who would say that there is no money in it. If it is beneficial in business to have a large circle of acquaintances, in the same proportion is it beneficial to reach the masses of the people. There are hundreds of merchants and dealers who are interested in reaching town and county readers and if they knew that they could do so at a small cost through a newspaper with a large legitimate circulation. To such THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER come as welcome and sure benefactors. They are the reliable papers of the Midland District for merchants to advertise in, and penetrate into every corner of the town and county. Advertising rates are such as will ensure the continuance of business relations with any advertiser after once started. We shall be pleased to give figures for advertising space in THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER, and send sample copy on application. All letters of inquiry promptly attended to. Address J. R. TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are out to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE SHUFFLE IN THE C.P.R.

SIR GEORGE STEPHEN RESIGNS THE PRESIDENCY.

Mr. W. C. VanHorne Unanimously Elected His Successor—Senator Donald McInnes of Hamilton Chosen Director.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—Sir Geo. Stephen yesterday resigned his position as President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and was succeeded by Vice-President and General Manager VanHorne, who only on Monday declared that no changes in the board were contemplated. Perhaps he was correct, for the changes were in the executive. But it is a mighty fine distinction.

There was a full attendance of the Canadian directors at the meeting, which began at 10 o'clock and continued until nearly 5 p.m. The proceedings were very secret, and as a consequence all sorts of rumors were current, which proved on investigation to be as delusive as Mr. VanHorne's denial of Monday.

It was learned, however, from Secretary Drinkwater that after the resignation of Sir George and the election of Mr. VanHorne, the directors passed this resolution of regret at Sir George's step.

"Resolved, that the directors learn with extreme regret that Sir George Stephen feels himself compelled to relinquish the cares and responsibilities of the presidency of the company and desire to place on record their sense of the deep and lasting obligation the company owes to him as the head of its affairs from the time of its organization and of his great ability and foresight and his unfailing courage, faith and energy, to which the success of the enterprise and its high standing at home and abroad are chiefly due, and while feeling compelled to accept his resignation in compliance with his earnest wish the directors consider it a matter of congratulation that he remains a member of the board and of the Executive Committee and will continue to co-operate with them in furthering the interests of the company."

Sir Geo. Stephen has issued a circular note of farewell to the shareholders. It is chiefly interesting because it explains the reasons of the "shuffle" and gives the public the first official intimation of the important alliance with the Wabash by which the Canadian Pacific gets an entrance into Chicago. The circular says:

To the Shareholders: From the time when I became a party to the contract with the Dominion government for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway and consented to accept the position of president of the company it has always been my intention to relenquish the active chief control of the affairs of the company as soon as the task which I then undertook should be completed. This task was partially finished when the line was opened for traffic through to the Pacific Ocean two years ago, but at that time so much remained to be done towards the firm establishment of the enterprise and its future development and success that in deference to the wishes of my colleagues I consented to continue for a time in office. Warned now by the state of my health attending that severe and constant strain which I have had to bear for the past eight years which has unfitted me for the continuous and arduous duties of an office in which vigor and activity are essential, feeling the increasing necessity for practical railway experience, and believing that the present satisfactory and assured position of the company offers a favorable opportunity for taking the step I have so long had in contemplation, I have this day resigned the presidency of the company which I had the honor to hold since its organization. In taking this step it may not be out of place to say that in my pecuniary interest in the enterprise remains undiminished and that the welfare of the company is and always must be to me a matter of the deepest possible interest, and that as a member of the Board of Directors I will always be ready to aid and co-operate with my colleagues in everything calculated to protect and promote the interests of the shareholders.

In resigning the position of president of the company it is to me a matter of the greatest possible satisfaction to be able to say that in my successor, Mr. VanHorne, the company has a man of proved fitness for the office, in the prime of life, possessed of great energy and rare ability, having a long and thoroughly practical railway experience, and above all an entire devotion to the interests of the company.

In conclusion I cannot refrain from congratulating the shareholders upon the arrangement recently completed by Sir Donald A. Smith and myself, which will have the effect of securing the Canadian Pacific Railway the permanent friendship of two new and important American lines extending from Sault Ste. Marie to Minneapolis and St. Paul on one hand and to Duluth on the other, and reaching a traffic of importance which it would be difficult to overestimate.

It is also a matter for congratulation that arrangements have been practically settled with the Wabash Railway for a permanent connection between Detroit River and Chicago and the Southwest, and further, that the long-pending negotiations with the Imperial Government for the establishment of a first-class steamship line between Vancouver, Japan and China have at last been concluded.

I have the honor to be your obedient servant, GEORGE STEPHEN.

Montreal, Aug. 7, 1888.

Sir George remains a member of the board and of the Executive Committee. The resignation from the board of Levi P. Morton of New York, which he had forwarded immediately after his nomination by the Chicago convention was also accepted and Senator Donald McInnes of Hamilton was chosen in his stead.

That is all the officials will say was done, but it is learned on what can be considered good authority that a great portion of the afternoon session was spent in drawing up a new plan of campaign to carry on the war with the American roads, who will probably find that they have greatly underrated the strength of the Canadian road.

Cutting Down Expenses.

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y., Aug. 8.—The Mount Vernon and Clason's horse railroad last night discharged all their drivers and employed new men. The new men are to get 50 cents less a day than the old drivers who were paid $2 for 16 hours' work.

GRAND ENCAMPMENT I.O.O.F.

The Officers Elected at Barrie Yesterday—Prosperity of the Order.

BARRIE, Aug. 8.—The Grand Encampment I.O.O.F. of the Province of Ontario met in the Court House here yesterday, Grand Patriarch John Sinclair of Petrolia in the chair. The past year has been marked for its prosperity in connection with this branch of Oddfellowship, the officers' reports showing an increase in encampments and membership. These officers were elected for the ensuing year: Abner Fraser, Hamilton, Grand Patriarch; John T. Hornibrook, Toronto, Grand High Priest; John A. McDonald, Arnprior, Grand Senior Warden; M. D. Dawson, London, Grand Scribe (re-elected); E. Beltz, London, Grand Treasurer; E. W. King, Barrie, Grand Outside Sentinel; N. S. Young, Bowmanville, Grand Marshal; Representative to Sovereign Grand Lodge.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Methodists Who Want to be Presbyterians—The Labor Troubles.

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—At the monthly meeting of Toronto Presbytery yesterday a communication was read from a number of Wexford methodists asking to be organized into a change of the Presbyterian denominations. The matter was deferred until Rev. Dr. Stafford, President of the Methodist Conference, can be consulted.

Rev. Dr. McTavish, late of Lindsay was inducted into the pastorate of the Central Presbyterian Church last night.

N. Clarke Wallace, M. P., was given an enthusiastic reception by the Orangemen last night on his return from the triennial council of the order at Carrick Fergus, Ireland.

The steamfitters went out on strike this morning in the shops where the employing plumbers are holding out against the men's demands.

By consent of the counsel engaged in The World injunction case the argument on the question of making the injunction permanent stands over for a week. In the meantime the injunction remains in force. The defendants are anxious for a settlement.

Yesterday the Mayor was served with a notice of action against the city brought by Charles Glydden for injuries received by his two-year-old boy by what he claims to be the negligence of the city. On Monday Mrs. Glydden and her little son were walking along Queen-Street when the latter's foot went through a piece of rotten sidewalk, bringing him to the ground. The force of the fall caused his jaws to close suddenly, with the result that the tongue was bitten almost in two.

Yesterday afternoon Catharine Roland of Duchess-street was arrested for beating her husband.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

MR. SHERMAN SPEAKS IN OPPOSITION TO RATIFICATION.

He Says It Would Open New Controversies—Political Union between the Dominion and the Republic Predicted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Senate resumed consideration of the Fisheries Treaty to-day and was addressed by Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) in opposition to its ratification. He said he had made up his mind not to engage in the debate, but the remarks of the senators from Alabama and Delaware (Morgan and Saulsbury) referring to what had occurred in the Committee on Foreign Relations had made him change his mind. He denied their assertion that the course pursued by the Republican senators in declining to offer amendments was the result of a party caucus and assured those senators that so far as he knew there had been no caucus orders and no proceedings of a caucus to influence in the slightest degree the action of any senator as to offering amendments. The only subject of conference had related to the question of considering the treaty in secret or public session.

The charge made on the other side that the policy of the Republican party was to make an appeal to the Irish vote he considered one of the casual remarks made without any foundation. The contest about to be waged before the people of the United States would turn on other questions. They would be the same old questions talked about for twenty years: The duty of Congress to protect, first, the industries of the country from undue competition with the labor of Europe, and second, the rights of United States citizens at home and abroad. These questions would enter into the campaign and would probably control the result.

Opposition to the treaty was not a dernier resort on the part of the Republican party. That party needed no such resort, standing as it did on its record.

He regarded a controversy with Great Britain as infinitely more important and more injurious than a controversy with any other nation, for of all the people who inhabit the globe the people of the United States and Great Britain were the most intimately allied by every tie of consanguinity, of history, of faith, of institutions, of similarity of character and disposition, of ancestry and everything which tended to make ties between separate nations. Therefore he would have been glad to see in the pending treaty a settlement of the controversy, and had approached its consideration with a desire to find in it such a settlement. But the more he had examined it the more he had became satisfied that the treaty if ratified would open new avenues of controversy and lead to new irritations and therefore not accomplish its purpose.

He had a strong desire to maintain the most cordial relations with the Dominion of Canada. He looked upon the Dominion of Canada and the United States as twin sisters that had the same institutions, that were governed by the same ideas and that lay alongside of each other for 4000 miles. It would be impossible to establish a bar sinister between the two peoples. The people on either side of this border of 4000 miles were of the same descent, the same birth, the same ideas, the same aspirations and interests. The productions were alike. This was especially so as between the State of Ohio and the Province of Ontario, and their relations were as close as those between the States of Ohio and Kentucky. Citizens of Ohio had large interests in Canada where they owned mines and forests and other property amounting, perhaps, to hundreds of millions. Ohio sent its coal to Canada and exchanged with Canada a vast multitude of things.

He was willing and anxious to accomplish a public policy that would make more intimate the relations between Canada and the United States. The interest of both tended that way and nothing pulled them apart except the jealousy of local interests and the aspirations of leading men. Anything that tended to promote free commercial intercourse—nay, anything that tended to produce a union of Canada with the United States would meet his support. In his judgment the Dominion of Canada would be within ten years represented either in the Imperial Parliament of Great Britain, or in the Congress of the United States and it would be in his opinion, the Congress of the United States. He therefore favored the policy of bringing about exchanges with Canada of the freest character possible, perhaps something in the nature of a zollverein which would relieve both countries from the necessity of establishing a line of custom houses and fortifications along the border.

He would vote against the treaty because he believed it tended to erect a barrier and to prevent the very purposes sought to be accomplished by it. He wished to proceed further with his disclaimer. He wished to say that he did not regard the treaty as a party question nor as a sectional question. It affected the fishermen on the southern coasts, in the Gulf of Mexico and on the Atlantic Ocean just as much as the fishermen of New England. Neither was it an Irish question nor was the opposition to it "fishing for Irish votes."

The fifteenth section of the treaty was a Siamese twin to the Mills Bill and both ought to be defeated together.

When Mr. Sherman finished his speech Mr. Frye stated that Mr. Ewarts would close the debate on the Republican side, tomorrow morning and he hoped Senator Morgan would close the debate on the Democratic side and let the Senate have a vote on the question.

Mr. Morgan said several other senators on the Democratic side desired to speak on the treaty and he did not propose to enter into any agreement about limiting the debate.

Mr. Frye reiterated his intention of pressing the matter in the Senate to-morrow.

M. Morgan said that Mr. Sherman's speech was on a plane so much higher than the other speeches on that side that he desired to see it in print before he undertook to reply to it.

Mr. Ewarts took the floor and the Senate proceeded to legislative business.

The National Zeitung says that the memoranda of the late Emperor Frederick have been returned to Berlin.

BICKERINGS IN BERLIN.

EDMUND YATES STICKS TO HIS DIARY STORY.

German State Papers First Published in a French Periodical—Salisbury's Promise the Sore—The Jubilee Juggler's Collapse.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Bitter squabbling is now going on in Berlin and Potsdam about the jointure of Dowager Empress Victoria, the allowances of her daughters and the will of the dead Emperor. Emperor William threatens to take steps to invalidate the will unless the diary is brought back from England and surrendered to him in order to be placed in the family archives at Berlin. I hear that the King of Saxony, Prince Albrecht of Prussia, the Grand Duke of Baden and Prince Bismarck are endeavoring to bring about an amicable arrangement between the Emperor and his mother, in order to avert a public scandal of the gravest kind.

The publication of State documents of a confidential character through hostile channels always excites widespread interest. That German State papers had first to obtain publicity in a French periodical makes the effect still more piquant. It is not surprising, therefore, that the publication in The Nouvelle Revue of what purports to be a confidential communication addressed by Prince Bismarck to Emperor Frederick should have attracted much attention in all the capitals of Europe. An analysis of the paper itself does not, however, justify the excitement which has been aroused. There is nothing in it which was not a matter of common report in Berlin at the time of the projected Battenberg marriage. Official character has, however, been given to the common gossip of the day by the dignified tone of the language and the formal style of writing. When the wife of the most popular feuilletonist in Berlin eloped a few weeks ago with the portly Adonis who represents a highly sensational French journal, revelations of a startling character, in which the use of the imagination was not neglected, were expected. It is only a matter of surprise that something more astonishing has not been fabricated.

Lord Robert Cecil, Lord Salisbury's third son, who is going to marry Lady Eleanor Lambton, Lord Durham's sister, is a barrister. He was called to the bar last January and is considered a young man of great promise and ability—the flower of the family. Lord Robert ought to succeed at the bar. He has a pleasant manner and appearance, is a good speaker and on his mother's side ought to have inherited the legal qualities of his grandfather, Baron Alderson, who was one of England's greatest lawyers. Lord Robert will be the first member of the aristocracy if he succeeds at the Bar who will have begun his career with the distinctive title of "My Lord." No one, I believe, has ever attempted a legal career in such circumstance, and I will be curious to hear how judges will address the noble lord when he is practising before them.

The Government can hardly feel happy or satisfied with the result of the debate on the Parnellite Commission. The whole matter has been a mistake from the beginning. Both parties have placed themselves in a difficult position. If the Government had been left alone they would probably have let the matter drop, but the feeling of the Unionist party and the young bloods of the Conservatives, who were determined to go into the whole subject, was such that they could not afford to disregard it. Mr. Parnell never expected that the Government would take him at his word and grant a commission, or he would instantly have begun proceedings, but with a curious mixture of audacity and hesitation which characterizes all his conduct, he could not be prevailed on to make up his mind to adopt decisive steps. The leaders of the Liberal party were also very vacillating. Had he at once, on the passing of the second reading of the bill, announced his intention of bringing an action for libel against The Times he would have made it impossible for the Government to proceed with the bill. The case of The Times is undoubtedly very strong, but one can easily see that the proprietors would have preferred an action for libel to a commission.

An attempt to bring off a prize fight at Goodwood on Friday morning between two promising lightweights was in a measure frustrated by the police, who broke in upon the ring after two rounds had been fought. But Lord Dudley and Lord Marcus Beresford, who were among the interested spectators, each took a combatant up behind his saddle and galloped off to another part of the downs, where the fight was completed, much to the satisfaction of the two noble lords who had spirited the combatants away, leaving only one of the seconds to be arrested by the police.

The sensation of the week at Goodwood, apart from the weather and the downfall of so many favorites, was the collapse of a gentleman who for the last year or so has been known as the Jubilee Juggings. The ring would only bet with him in ready money at Sandown, and as he had failed to settle his differences, amounting to about £1,400 last Monday he was refused admission to the ring. On Tuesday his horse, Easton was not allowed to run for the opening race, and all his horses in training are to be sold shortly. The calculation is that he has got through about a thousand a day, Sunday excepted, since he took to racing, though I hear that he has lost more money at cards than on the turf. EDMUND YATES.

Beautiful Bridgenorth.

Industrial Intelligence and Topical Talk Railway Prospects.

I have no recollection, Mr. Editor, that the beautiful little lakeside village of Bridgenorth has ever been described in print—except, perhaps, in fragments, at wide lapses of time. In my letter to you a few days ago I dealt with the summer resort aspect of the place; I will now, with your permission, supply a sort of descriptive directory of the village, its prominent industrial institutions and its characteristics.

Away back about sixty years ago the first house was built on the present site of Bridgenorth. It is still standing—a log structure on the east side of Colborne street, near Westlake's boathouse at the foot of the street. The house, which has since been covered with plaster, was built as boarding house for the use of workmen employed in building some kind of a craft for the navigation of the beak lakes and was kept by a Frenchman named Doree. In the latter part of 1854, Mr. Ward, who owned the farm composing the present site of the village had it laid out in lots and on Jan. 24th, 1855, the plan was registered. The chief street, a continuation of the Communication road (from the gates of Chemong Park, northward,) was named Ward street, the names of the other streets bearing regal and viceregal titles, such as Prince, Colborne, Simcoe, Gore and Maitland, the names of the others being Hunter and Spradabow streets.

There has never been a separate census of the place, but an estimate in winter, and, if the suburb of Chemong Park is counted in, about 300 in summer.

PLACES THE POPULATION AT ABOUT TWO HUNDRED

For the religious wants of this population there is only one church, a rough cast, modest Methodist structure, situated in a dense pine grove at the corner of Maitland and Hunter streets. Of the other denominations, the Church of England people worship in Peterborough, the Roman Catholics in Peterborough and at the "Cross," Keniamore, while the Baptists can attend the church on the communication road in the township of Smith. That portion of the population with no decided religious convictions is ministered to by the Salvation Army, a squad of the force stationed in Peterborough coming out periodically to hold battle with the devil, either by street fighting or by pitched battle in the town hall at the northern end of the village. The educational wants of the people are provided for by a fine brick school house on Colborne street (S. S. No. 4, Smith). The present teacher is Miss Whitfield, and the average attendance of pupils is about sixty. The villagers are proud of their school, and claim that it has turned out more teachers than any other school in the county, within the same period of time.

The most important industrial establishment in the place is Mr. W. B. Kelly's saw and shingle mills, situated just north of the Smith end of the Floating Bridge. These mills turn out a cut of between three and four million feet per year and employ on the average the year round about twenty-five hands. Mr. Kelly is, perhaps, the wealthiest citizen of Bridgenorth, having, besides his mill and personal estate, several valuable farms in the townships of Keniamore and Smith. Mr. M. S. Dean, who keeps a general store and the post office, ranks next. He owns the flour mill at the floating bridge and has made several additions and improvements to it this year. The building has had added to it two additional stories, and the long roller process is now being put in and the mill is receiving all the modern improvements. It is expected that it will be running in about a fortnight and capable of turning out fifty barrels of the choicest of flour per day. This is one of

in this district, and can hardly fail to be a remunerative venture.

About a mile and a half from the village proper is Brumwell's custom saw mill with a cut of perhaps a million and a half during the season. G. W. Bell has a steam planing mill which amply answers the demands of the vicinity in this line of work. The other industries are represented by Mr. Joseph Suese's wagon shop and blacksmith shop, Mr. B. Mitchel's blacksmith shop and Mr. John Wylie's shoe-making establishment on Ward street. There are also two woollen mills on Hunter street, the weaving establishments of Mr. John Robertson and Mr. Sandy Morrison, the latter also running a small store in connection. Mrs. Moore also conducts a small store. Mr. G. Jopling, carpenter and builder carries on a general jobbing business in his line. Mr. George Westlake has a boat livery at the foot of Colborne street. Mr. Wm. Moffat, the veteran tailor, who has spent over thirty of the eighty-five years of his life in Bridgenorth, keeps a shop on Hunter street at the point where the latter street merges into Lover's Lane. Mr. Moffat, in addition to being exceedingly clever with his needle, was, when his breath was not quite so short, an accomplished flautist—so reminiscent villagers assert, playing the flute divinely. These are the chief industries, and the village has a good opening for a butcher who will devote his whole time to the business, and a tinsmith might also work up a successful business.

The public spirit of the citizens is shown in a scheme for street improvements. For the past six months a fund has been gradually accumulating for the purpose of building the first sidewalk. A series of concerts was held, under the management of Mrs. Kelly and Miss Dean, and the funds thus raised were supplemented by private subscriptions and a grant of $30 by the township of Smith. The walk is intended to extend from the floating bridge to the park gates, or in other words from one end of the village to the other. A couple of months ago the walk was built to Mr. Dean's store, a month after another stretch was added and last week another. There is no contract let, but the young men of the village turn out after hours and devote an hour or two in the evenings to sidewalk building. They have been a little lazy lately, but the girls threaten to employ the boycott unless the work is more vigorously prosecuted, and it is expected that this threat will soon complete the work. The walk is three feet wide and will, when completed, be nearly half a mile in length.

It will not do,

IN THE INTERESTS OF TOURISTS,

to omit mention of the Bridgenorth hotel, which has been conducted by Mr. L. G. Faubert for the past seven years. The building was put up twenty-five years ago and Mr. J. Pope was the first tenant. Under the present management the hotel is well conducted in every respect. Everything is orderly and the guests receive, in earnest, the comforts and kindly attention of a home. To tourists, Mr. Faubert is a veritable mine of lake lore. It is probable that there is no man in this district who has a more minute as well as general knowledge of the "ins" of the back lakes and rivers than he possesses. He spent years in the lumbering business and in forest ranging in these regions. He was a shrewd observer and possesses the happy faculty of imparting his fund of information with both clearness and cheerfulness.

Bridgenorth's hopes hang on the prospective railway. The track-laying has reached to within about three miles of the village, or at the point on the old line where the new track must diverge from it to reach Chemong Park which it will strike at some point near the park gates. Unless the line ends here the object in building the new one is not apparent. If the old route to the lake is to followed the Chemong R.R. will run from Peterborough to No-where. There will be no hope of any considerable passenger traffic or freight traffic either. Mr. W. B. Kelly says that if the old route is followed that he would sooner draw his lumber to Peterborough for shipment. Whereas, he will have large quantities to ship and Mr. M. S. Dean's new roller flouring mill, with a capacity of fifty barrels per day, will also be a good freight customer. In case the line terminates at the village a grain storehouse will be built and a considerable shipping trade, drawn from the rich townships of Keniamore, North of Smith, Verulam, Emily and part of Ops, would be developed. The C. P. R. Company is alive to the collateral traffic to be drawn from this region. This company is said to have in contemplation the running of a spur line northward from the main line west of Peterborough to tap Chemong Lake at its south-western extremity. In any event, Chemong Lake seems bound to have railway communication at no distant date. Besides the freight traffic available for development, the railway terminating at the park would produce a large passenger traffic,—in summer, at least.

IF THE PARK TERMINUS IS USED,

The beauties of Chemong Park and Bridgenorth as a summer resort are becoming more generally known and better known. There is a long, well-wooded shore line available for summer residences, and the area of the present park is backed by a splendid stretch of young, thrifty timber, whose site would in time be in demand for summer homes. On Monday a couple of Toronto gentlemen, who had last season summered in Muskoka, with its rocky islands and ravenous mosquitoes, and who this season tried Boboaygeon, took a run in the "Maple Leaf" to Bridgenorth and were surprised that they had never before heard of so beautiful a spot, asserting at the same time that it was far ahead of Muskoka and that, if its attractions were more widely known, a large pilgrimage of tourists would be certain to follow. On Sunday a party of Americans from Cincinatti spent the day at Bridgenorth and were delighted with the coolness, comfort and quiet beauty of the place. It is so close to the town that, with railway communication, business men in town could live the whole summer at one of the prettiest, coolest and most attractive spots in Ontario, and be able to reach town during the day for business.

it is not necessary to buy corn cures. Men and women should remember that Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the only safe, sure, and painless corn remover extant. On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills no well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

Summer Travel

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Really Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. A Kicker from Kickersville.

Wainwright's horse is a kicker of the first water. This morning it kicked all over town, smashed the step of the ice wagon, filled the front boards full of holes and knocked all the paint off. It gave exhibitions of its broncho proclivities at almost every street corner, and invariably drew large crowds. If the animal had elongated ears it would be a first-rate prize mule for a circus. The check rein was tightened till its neck was nearly broken, but still it kicked. It's a kicker and no mistake.

For Stony Lake.

The train was crowded this morning, the majority of the passengers being excursionists under the auspices of the Young People's Guild of St. John's Church. The Misses Neil, town, and Miss Neil, of Barrie, join the others of the family at their cottage on Stony Lake. Messrs. W. E. Loch, R. Tate and W. H. Hill left for their respective camps. Mr. J. B. Ormond, of Smith's Falls, Mrs. J. R. Stratton and Miss Menzies will enjoy a few days at "Kenmore." Mr. T. E. Bradburn, Miss Bradburn, Miss Dundas and Miss Kelso will spend the remainder of the week at Syndicate Island. Miss Tucker, Miss McWilliams and others were also among the passengers for the north.

Down the River.

About 400 people attended the Tailors' picnic to Jubilee Point Tuesday. To the Golden Eye was attached a large scow for dancing. The day was spent in boating, athletic sports and other amusements, the excursion arriving home about 10 p.m. On the way up the river the scow met with an accident. A couple of planks were staved in her side, and a hasty transfer was made of everything to the steamer. The scow had to be left behind, thus preventing further dancing. Doucet's orchestra supplied music, while Mr. James Coughlin was floor manager. Despite these inconveniences, a jolly day was spent and the excursionists were all satisfied with the second annual picnic of the tailors of Peterborough.

Foresters' Civic Holiday Excursion to Toronto.

A cheap and delightful trip to Toronto will be the excursion (per G. T. R. via Port Hope) to the Queen City on Civic Holiday, Aug. 16th, under the auspices of Court "Little John," Canadian Order of Foresters. Note the exceedingly cheap rates—only $1.75 for return tickets, good for two days, to return by either route on any regular train. The lake shore route is cool and delightful every mile of the way. Excursionists will be admitted to the magnificent spectacle of the battle of Sedan at reduced rates. Tickets for children twelve years of age 90c. Tickets to be had of members of the committee, and at the stores of T. Menzies, A. L. Davis & Co., T. Dolan, W. Green, S. Ray and at the railway station.

WHAT'S THE RACKET? Those 5 lb caddies of tea at The Pantry are the best things in town—try one.

The Late Mr. Newbald.

The sad news of the death of Mr. H. B. Newbald, a recent resident of Peterborough, will be received with deep regret by all who had the pleasure and profit of his acquaintance during his stay in town. He was an expert draughtsman and was engaged in the Trent Valley Canal office here. His charming social qualities, artistic inclinations, musical abilities and general sterling worth of character, distinguished him, as the expressive phrase goes, as one young man in a thousand. As the result of an accident, he underwent the amputation of one of his legs. He seemed to recover and returned from Montreal to town. He set out for England, but had a rough voyage, and pleurisy supervening, that, combined with the shock of the amputation, closed the career of a young gentleman of more than ordinary promise.

Midland District Crops.

A Decided Improvement in the Outlook Reported

The following reports are published in the Toronto papers. They were received on Monday:—

LINDSAY.

The crop prospect in this vicinity continues to be of the same encouraging character as when last reported. The present rains are having a very beneficial effect upon the root crops and the pasturages. A large portion of the barley is harvested and is turning out an average crop, the quality being excellent. The same may be said of fall wheat, although the acreage of the latter is limited in this district. Spring wheat is doing well. In all cases the straw is very short. Hay has been a poor crop, but oats are looking well.

PETERBOROUGH.

The crops in this section cannot be grumbled at. Spring wheat is a good crop and away above the average, as is also the fall wheat in appearance. Farmers are cutting fall wheat and the samples are bright and plump. Oats are good and will prove more than an average yield. Hay has been found good and was well preserved, but light. From present appearances roots will fall below the average yield.

COBOURG.

The crops in this vicinity have been considerably improved lately in consequence of the showers which have prevailed here, and farmers now anticipate reaping a harvest which was in no way expected early in the season.

BELLEVILLE.

Although the crops in the southern townships of this county and in a part of Prince Edward are somewhat better than was at one time deemed possible, they are yet very far below the average. Hay and barley are the worst, wheat and rye being fair and peas having improved materially. The root crops will yield below the average. Twenty-five miles northward the crops are abundant.

Dr. Badgely, of Cobourg, will preach in St. Paul's church next Sunday.

Mr. T. H. Best and family have returned to town from Sturgeon Point. They were accompanied to the point by Mrs. Wetherup and family, of Lindsay, at whose lodge they remained. They were also accompanied by Miss Workman, of Toronto.

Mr. J. Edgar Croly, M.A., of the Stratford Collegiate Institute Staff, has returned from camping at Stony Lake and goes to-day, by way of Lindsay and Bobcaygeon to the Northern lakes, where he will spend the rest of his vacation.

Mr. G. A. Kingston, law student, of Messrs. Clute & Williams' office, Belleville, is staying in town for a few days, visiting his friend, Mr. Z. Gallagher. Mr. Kingston is a prominent member of the bicycle club known as the Ramblers, and, preferring the wheel to the iron horse, he rode up from Campbellford to Peterborough the roughest he has ever travelled.

Miss Jessie K. Munro, missionary teacher, left this morning per C.P.R. west bound express to go via Owen Sound and Port Arthur to Yokohama, Japan, en route to Tokio. About twenty of her personal friends met at the station to wish her a prosperous journey and bid her good-bye. Miss Munro has evidently put her whole soul into her work, having made up her mind to the great personal sacrifice involved in the separation from kindred and friends for five years and by 12,000 miles of distance and a sojourn amongst strangers of an alien faith and tongue, for she was the most composed party at the station this morning. She is followed by the prayers and good wishes of thousands.

The Land of Palestine

An Interesting Lecture by Rev. Dr. Tully—The Results of His Own Observation.

St. Andrew's church, with its spacious auditorium and lofty ceilings, is always cool and airy in summer, and the audience that attended the lecture by Rev. Dr. Tully Tuesday night had their enjoyment unmarred by the discomforts of the intense heat that usually prevails in-doors when the mercury is trying to force its way out of the top of the thermometer. A silver collection was taken at the door. The audience was rather slim, numbers no doubt having been deterred from dread of the heat. In this instance, however, they had little to fear, as but few fans were observed moving during the lecture.

Rev. A. Bell occupied the chair, and after an opening selection on the organ by Mr. Carter, introduced the lecturer, Rev. Dr. Tully, who, he said, had made the tour of Palestine and would give the audience the RESULTS OF HIS PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS.

His kindness in giving the lecture was all the more marked as he was now enjoying his holidays and should be resting instead of speaking.

Dr. Tully is quite an old man, but still vigorous in mind and body, and some consider that he bears a resemblance to Sir John Macdonald.

The land of Palestine, the speaker said, was one of peculiar interest to all readers of the Bible. In extent it was small, 200 miles long by 75 wide to that portion of it lying beyond the Jordan. In ancient days the two great nations of the then world, Syria and Egypt, lay to the north and south of it and the large caravans were perforce continually passing through Palestine laden with the rich goods of each country. Therefore God chose this land as the seat of Christianity because of the fact that the people in passing through it would necessarily learn of Him and would spread the news over all the world. After pointing out the

of Palestine upon a map displayed upon the platform for the purpose, the Dead Sea was briefly dwelt upon. It was an inland sea with no apparent outlet. The Jordan poured its water into the Dead sea, and the only way for accounting for its disappearance was by evaporation. A heavy fog, resembling smoke, hung constantly over the surface, representing the water evaporated. A remarkable feature of the sea was that it was 1,312 feet deep, and about 1,300 feet below the level of the Mediterranean. The water of the Dead Sea was salt, and contained no fish whatever. The country surrounding it was largely composed of a sort of limestone, that bore a white appearance, and was very cavernous. David, it will be remembered, hid his men from Saul in one of these same caves. Other peculiar facts regarding the country were mentioned, after which Jerusalem was touched upon. Travelling northward Nazareth was reached, a well built town, well supplied with schools and churches. It might be almost said to be a Christian town; no Jew, except he be converted, would think of living there, it was too much Christian for him. Other towns were pointed out, among them Damascaus, said to be the

though the Sidonians contended that their city was older still. But it was known that Damascus flourished in the time of Abraham, and it was remarkably well preserved to-day. It numbers about 200,000 people, who retain largely the primitive ideas and habits of their forefathers, so that the town may be seen now almost the same as in Bible times. The people had very crude ways of doing business, the speaker recounting several amusing customs that would appear absurd to the foreign traveller. In his wanderings about the village, said the speaker, he came across the grave of St. George, who, he was told, was the first man in Damascus to accept the Christian faith, and the Christian Greeks guarded his grave to this day. There were several historical spots in Damascus still to be seen just as when the incidents, rendering them Biblically renowned, transpired. The speaker described his visits to the mosques and temples in the city, and to the place where Paul was converted. The bazaars and other features were minutely described. The town of Baalbek, between Damascus and the sea, in the valley between the Lebanon and Anti-Lebanon ranges of mountains, was one possessing the grandest ruins in Palestine. The old temples still towered up in decayed grandeur. Jupiter's temple was a marvel in its way; under the foundations were large stones, some of them 60 feet long, 18 feet wide and 14 feet thick. How these huge stones were moved from the quarry, a mile away, has ever been a puzzle to modern engineers. Who cut them and who built the temples, history does not inform us. The stones were accurately cut and beautifully cornioed. At Baalbek Dr. Tully and his party began their journey

SOUTHWARD TO JERUSALEM,

and the incidents hereafter mentioned were observed en route. Sidon, in the land of Phœnicia, was first visited, and afterwards Tyre, the great mart of ancient times, which is to-day a desolate fishing place, where the fishermen, as Ezekiel prophesied, spread out their nets to dry on the rocks that mark its site. Other interesting things were mentioned by the lecturer, who in his remarks recalled to mind many of the well-known Testament incidents. He had visited among them Galilee, the place where the transfiguration of Christ is said to have taken place, Endor, Samaria, Bethel, Jericho and Bethany, on the road to Jerusalem. After dwelling a little upon the historic importance and sacred memories of Jerusalem, the speaker concluded with a panegyric of the land of Palestine. No man, he said, passing through the country with a Testament in his hand, could remain a skeptic, so impressive are the scenes and incidents to be witnessed. Referring in general terms to the composition, character, religions, etc., of the people, the speaker said their many differences and hatreds rendered it almost impossible for the inhabitants of Palestine to ever become a homogenous people, and for that reason the country, he believed, would never become prosperous. The Christian church was, however, doing a noble work in that country. Schools and churches were being established, Christian literature was being sent out in the different languages, and every means adopted to evangelize the people.

MANY HISTORIC SPOTS,

At the close of the lecture, Rev. Mr. Bell expressed the thanks of the audience to Dr. Tully, and the proceedings were brought to a close.

CURRENT CAPITAL CHAT.

An Interesting Rumour Touching a Cabinet Minister.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—Mr. Mann, Secretary of the emigrant fund of London, has had interviews with the officers of the Department of Agriculture with regard to emigrants of whom he claimed that some 300 had been aided by the society during the present year, all of whom had obtained employment here. It was pointed out to him that the Government had entirely abandoned giving any assisted passages to emigrants from other countries, that there was but little opening for immigrants who were not farm laborers or possessed of some little means to assist them in taking up land; and that in assisting emigrants to come to Canada he should be very careful, as undesirable settlers could not be admitted to the country.

A careful estimate places the number of hands employed during the summer by six leading lumber firms at the Chaudiere at nearly 6000, and the same firms employ in the woods during the winter 3000. The lumbermen say that only about 15 per cent. of the employes in the mills during the summer go to the shanties in the winter, the rest of their winter gangs are made up of outside men. Of the 3800 men who work in the shanties during the winter about 2000 live in Hull and about 1000 in Ottawa, the remaining 800 are strangers.

The Marine Department has been informed that the local Marine Board at Portsmouth, Eng., on July 14, suspended the certificate of Capt. Daniel E. Mahoney of the ship May Stewart, of Amherst, N. The Debate on the Commission.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—In the House of Lords last night Mr. Mathews moved to insert in the Commission Bill that if any person having been served with a summons under this Act shall fail to appear the Commission shall have power to issue a warrant for the arrest of such person.

An amendment, introduced by Mr. Clancy (Nationalist), empowering the Commission to report from time to time, was accepted by the Government and adopted.

Mr. Parnell moved to amend that any person refusing to make a full disclosure in all matters in respect of which he might be examined, should be liable to punishment by the High Court of Justice. The amendment was rejected.

A long discussion ensued on a proposal by W. A. Hunter to compel The Times to formulate its charges before the opening of the enquiry by the Commission. The proposal was rejected, 184 to 118. Mr. Healey moved that no accused member of Parliament should be detained in prison under the Crimes Act during the sitting of the Commons. Mr. L. H. Courtney suggested that Mr. Healy's object might be attained by means of a short proviso securing the attendance of accused persons. The Government leader accepted the suggestion and Mr. Healy withdrew his motion. Other new clauses were then debated and the House adjourned at 2.40 a.m.

MONEY Probably not one business man in a thousand who has made a close study of newspaper advertising could be found who would say that there is no money in it. If it is beneficial in business to have a large circle of acquaintances, in the same proportion is it beneficial to reach the masses of the people. There are hundreds of merchants and dealers who are interested in reaching town and county readers and if they knew that they could do so at a small cost through a newspaper with a large legitimate circulation. To such THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER come as welcome and sure benefactors. They are papers of the Mid FOR and sure the reliable paper land District for merchants to advertise in, and penetrate into every corner of the town and county. Advertising rates are such as will ensure the continuance of business relations with any advertiser after once started. BANKRUPT STOCK EMPORIUM, No. 3 COX'S BLOCK, GEORGE ST.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

A BIG EXPRESS CO. DEAL

THE NEW ARRANGEMENT ON THE G. T. R. WEST OF TORONTO.

The American Express Co. Turns over that Portion of its Business to the Canadian Express Co.—The Lines Included in the Shuffle.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—The express business over the Grand Trunk Railway lines in Ontario west of Toronto has hitherto been divided between the American Express Company and the Canadian Express Company, an arrangement resulting in extra cost on matter passing over both sections, as each company charged their local rate.

The Grand Trunk Railway have for some years been desirous of consolidating the service over their lines and have now completed an arrangement by which the American Express Company turn over that portion of their business referred to to the Canadian Express Company, who will, in consequence, add about 150 offices to their list and increase their mileage over 1000 miles.

The new lines of the Canadian Express Company include the main line from Suspension Bridge to Detroit, the line from Fort Erie to Glencoe, the Hamilton and Northwestern, the Toronto and Hamilton, the London and Sarnia, the London and Port Stanley, the Wellington, Grey and Bruce, the London, Huron and Bruce, the Brantford and Tilsonburg and the Welland and Allanburg branches.

The fruit gardens and the produce centres of Ontario, the fishing stations of the Georgian Bay, Lakes Huron, Erie and Ontario will now be on the lines of the Canadian Express Company which, in connection with the Intercolonial Express Company operating in the maritime provinces, reach every city and nearly all the towns and principal villages in the five eastern provinces.

ODDFELLOWS AT BARRIE

A Big Demonstration—Meeting of the Grand Lodge—Exhibition Drill.

BARRIE, Aug. 8.—To-day Barrie has witnessed one of the biggest Oddfellow demonstrations ever held north of Toronto, the occasion being the meeting of the Grand Lodge I.O.O.F. The town is handsomely decorated and excursions from all points brought in a large number of visitors in addition to the 500 Oddfellows now here. The display of the Patriarchs Militant branch of the order was a sight long to be remembered. Cantons are here from Bowmanville, Peterboro, Toronto, Hamilton and Newmarket, and bands from Peterboro, Newmarket, Beaverton, Stayner, Collingwood and Barrie.

The first session of the Grand Lodge commenced this morning, previous to which addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor Ross on behalf of the town and Bro. Fred Marr on behalf of the Barrie Oddfellows.

The session lasted till noon, and in the afternoon a monster procession proceeded through the town to the exhibition grounds, where an exhibition drill by the cantons took place. A lacrosse match was played between Barrie and Bradford, the former winning three straight games; an interesting program of races, etc., was carried out.

In the evening a procession of illuminated boats on the bay and a fine display of fireworks ended the day's proceedings.

BADGERED AND WORRIED.

HOW CANADA HAS BULLIED THE UNITED STATES.

Mr. Evarts' Attack on the Fisheries Treaty—The New York Senator Caught Napping—His Speech to be Concluded To-day.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the Fisheries Treaty yesterday, and was addressed by Mr. Evarts (Rep., N.Y.) in opposition to its ratification. In his opening remarks he spoke of the treaty as being wholly incongruous with the just position of the two countries and with the attitude to be maintained between them.

As to this treaty leading to war, he said he had not heard a breath above a whisper from the United Kingdom or any of its departments in power and authority that a rejection of the treaty would be cause for embrage. The nearest of anything in the shape of a definite statement was the reputed reply of the Secretary of State as to what would follow the rejection of the treaty, that then chaos would come again.

The most noticeable circumstance in the debate was the position of the Democratic party. It showed a geographical division as well as a political division. It was that noticeable fact that first attracted the attention of the American people and that would most attract the attention of the people of Great Britain, but it would not frighten the people of this country and would not deceive the people of Great Britain. The people of Great Britain know perfectly well when the patriotism of the American people was touched there was but one response from the heart of the people at large. Whatever obscuration, whatever perturbation might be effected by political adhesion or by party necessity, the people in their plenary capacity would judge for the United States and not argue for England.

Mr. Evarts went on to discuss at length and with much particularity the details of the treaty and the whole history of the fisheries controversy. He declared that the system of "worrying" was always brought into play by Canada and whenever United States asserted its fishery right Canada asserted its contravention in order to bring the United States to a departure from the fishing interests to the trading and commercial interests, and that the United States had thus been worried into the reciprocity arrangement in 1854.

He said that at every stage when the Dominion of Canada had undertaken to enforce the bay or headlands doctrine the British Government had declined to sustain it. Canada he said had proceeded on the philosophy of Hudibras, not by forces of carnal reason but of indefatigable reasoning. What Canada has always been after was reciprocity and free markets. He ridiculed the idea of reciprocity between the illimitable market of the United States and the stinted consumption of Canada and was reminded by Mr. Gray (Dem., Del.) that under the Reciprocity Treaty of 1854 the balance of trade had been on the side of the United States, that is, the United States had sold more to Canada than it had bought from Canada.

He was asked by Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) whether he also thought that the United States had been worried and teased into the treaty of 1871 as well as that of 1854, and said he was just going to enter on that question.

At this point, however, on the suggestion of Mr. Frye that the day was hot and that the Senator had now been speaking over two hours, Mr. Evarts ceased speaking and postponed the remainder of his speech till to-day.

THE DOMINION'S GREATNESS.

Alarms a U.S. Senator—Absorption of One Country by the Other Prophesied.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The Herald's Washington special says: Senator Cullom feels that the time is coming when Canada's presence on our northern border will be a standing menace to our peace and prosperity. The Illinois senator is not an alarmist, nor is he as all given to sensationalism. He is on the contrary one of the most clear-headed and conservative men in public life. But he thinks we have reason to fear Canada's growing greatness, both from a numerical as well as a material standpoint.

"It was for this reason," said Senator Cullom yesterday, "that I introduced my resolution on Friday last to investigate and report upon the number of railways in this country, which are owned or indirectly controlled by the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways. I think when the facts become known it will surprise some of our people to learn how much of the carrying trade to this country is diverted from its legitimate channels through these foreign agencies.

"Already, I am told, nearly fifty per cent. of the merchandise brought from China and Japan to America is carried by a line of subsidized English steamers to Vancouver Island. There it is transferred to the Canadian Pacific Railway and carried as far east as practical, and then reshipped to its destination by American lines. All this is working an injury to our transcontinental railways, and it ought to be remedied. These steamships and railway lines can underbid us. The are subsidized by the British Government, and if they can divert our commerce from regular channels they propose to do it until they have driven us out of the market, when they will remain masters of the situation. More than this, their influence with certain lines of American railways mainly, I suppose, because of their large interest therein, is such that they are able to freeze out new enterprises of this character, which might otherwise come into competition with them. This strikes me as carrying their impudence a little too far. It is these and kindred facts which we propose to thoroughly investigate.

"If Congress does not adjourn soon, our investigations will be necessarily postponed until next spring. I think we ought to begin at Halifax, and continue a trip along the Canadian border to San Francisco, gathering all the information we can regarding the matter under consideration."

"Why is it, Senator," queried the correspondent, "that you are afraid of Canada, with its meagre population of 5,000,000 people, which we can overshadow with our 50,000,000 of people?"

"It isn't the present," continued the senator, "it is the future I am considering. England is doing everything she can to build up the Dominion of Canada. How many years will it be, think you, before Canada's 5,000,000 people will become 25,000,000? Our interests are diametrically opposed to each other. Sooner or later they will clash, and when they do trouble will follow, for it is not in the nature of things that we can live on in harmony for ever. When that time comes Canada must either absorb the United States or we must absorb Canada, and I leave you to judge which of the two will be done."

Big Smash up on the Northern—Two Locomotives and 25 Cars Destroyed.

NEWMARKET, Aug. 9.—A big smash-up occurred about 7.30 yesterday morning at Ellerby's Mills, on the Northern three miles north of this place, and about a mile south of Holland Landing.

The accident was caused by two freights colliding on a single track, but the responsibility for the disaster has yet to be fixed. An investigation will be held immediately, at which all the train hands, and the despatchers will have to tell what they know to Local Superintendent Wragge.

The trains were in charge of Conductors Lewis and Haskett respectively, and the damage to rolling stock and freight is estimated at $50,000. Both locomotives have been put past further usefulness, fifteen freight cars have been reduced to kindling wood and about twenty others are more or less damaged, but no one was injured.

THE WALKERTON TOURNAMENT.

First Prize Taken by the Dominion Organ and Piano Co.'s Band.

WALKERTON, Aug. 9.—The tournament of the 32nd Battalion Band held here yesterday was a splendid success. The weather was fine and over 6000 people were on the grounds.

The Dominion Organ and Piano Co.'s Band of Bowmanville took first prize, $300, with 347 points; Massey Band of Toronto, second prize, $200, 326 points; Berlin Band, third prize, $100, 308 points. The judges were Mr. Hiscott of London and Mr. Carry of Kingston.

The second class bands compete to-day.

THE TROUBLED TRADES.

A New Phase of the Toronto Plumbers' Strike—A Lunatic's Escape.

TORONTO, Aug. 9.—Yesterday morning a large number of steam-fitters, all members of Powderly Assembly, K. of L., threw down their tools and left work. They have no dispute with their bosses and their action is simply to strengthen the hands of the striking plumbers. The steam-fitters say that they will not resume work and will remain out as long as the bosses refuse to accede to the plumbers' demands. The plasterers have also decided to strike whenever they are asked to work alongside of non-union plumbers and steam-fitters.

G. M. Strathern, house furnishing; G. G. Kerr, builder, and Patterson & Co., fancy goods and millinery jobbers, are among the Toronto merchants reported to be in business difficulties.

Rev. Y. Hiraiwa, who has been on a visit to Canada to report on Methodist missionary work in Japan, left yesterday for his native country.

Mr. Harry, Webb the well-known caterer and confectioner, who has made an assignment, attributes his financial embarrassment to unprofitable speculation in real estate. He expects to liquidate in full if allowed time.

Mr. Charles Bell, for over fifty years a resident of Toronto, is dying.

On Tuesday night a mob of Orange Young Britons attacked the St. Nicholas Home, on Lombard-street, doing considerable damage to the windows and fences.

A $15,000 building is in progress of erection in Queen's Park in connection with the biological department of the university.

Mrs. Pritchard, a second-hand furniture dealer, was evicted from her house in Queen-street west on Tuesday night and with her three children slept under a wagon in the open air. Mrs. Pritchard makes some serious allegations against a barrister of this city, claiming that the legal light obtained a deed to the property by making Mr. Pritchard drunk and shipped him off in that condition to England where he now is.

There was a lively fight yesterday afternoon, between the police and a gang of roughs, the result being the incarceration of six of the latter at the Wilton-avenue station. The difficulty arose out of an assault committed by one of the gang.

Hon. Oliver Mowat has telegraphed to Acting Attorney-General Hardy that judgment in the Indian Titles case will not be given till November.

The police were informed last night that Miss Bym, aged 32 years, for the past two years an inmate of the Toronto Asylum, escaped from that institution at an early hour on Monday morning, and so far no trace of her whereabouts has been discovered.

THE LORD MAYOR'S BANQUET.

Lord Salisbury Speaks on Irish and Foreign Affairs.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The ministers were banquetted by the Lord Mayor this evening. Replying to the usual toast Lord Salisbury said that the great curse of Ireland was poverty. The Government was not able to diminish poverty or to enrich men, but it could enable men without interference to enrich themselves. The Government had been successful in lessening the tyranny which an association exercised over the Irish people and had increased the sanctity of contracts. If the Government of Ireland, he declared, were administered with the same judgment and firmness as now for a few years longer the liberty and prosperity of the country would be restored.

In Egypt, Lord Salisbury said, the expectation of the Government had been exceeded. When Egypt should be able to deal with her foes without help Great Britain would gladly leave that country absolutely. As to Bulgaria he hoped that the statesmen of the continent were being convinced that it would be best to leave her to herself. He believed that the Emperor of Germany appreciated the value of peace, especially to Germany. Nothing, he believed, was more desirable for the peace of the world than that the policy of Russia should become more parallel with the policy of Great Britain. All that had occurred in Europe recently had been in the direction of peace and England's efforts were always in the same direction.

The Parnell Commission Bill.

MURDERER HOPPE'S EXTRADITION DEMANDED.

Patent Office Statistics—Were About the Alleged Enforcement of the Foreign Contract Labor Law at Port Huron.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—The rumor which was current some time since as to the probable retirement of Mr. Collingwood Schrieber from the Railway Department to accept the position of engineer-in-chief of the Canadian Pacific Railway is revived and it is a matter of common report that the change will be made very soon. Several persons are mentioned as probable successor to Mr. Schrieber, amongst them Messrs. D. Pottinger, general superintendent of the Intercolonial, T. C. Keefer, Walter Shanley and Assistant Chief Engineer Archibald of the Intercolonial.

Application has been made by the United States authorities for the extradition of Max Hoppe now in jail in Lethbridge, N.W.T., on the charge of murdering John Adams in Montana on May 29. Adams and a companion who appear to have been horse-stealing were on their way to Canada and gave Hoppe a lift. On May 29 Adams' companion left Hoppe and Adams in camp together and on his return found Adams alone badly wounded. He took him to the nearest town where he died. In his ante-mortem statement he said that while he was lying under the wagon Hoppe came up and fired three shots at him and then made off. Hoppe reached Canadian territory and when arrested made a voluntary statement to the effect that he was riding in the wagon with Adams when the latter insisted upon his getting out and on his refusing to do so attacked him. Hoppe claims that he then fired in self defence and shot Adams.

It is expected that tenders for the new bridge to take the place of the Union Suspension Bridge, connecting Ottawa with Hull, will be called for in a few days.

The number of patents issued during the fiscal year ended June 30 was 2321, as compared with 2269 in the previous year, showing a falling off of 208.

Mr. H. Corby, M.P., is in correspondence with the Department of Marine and Fisheries with a view to getting fishing for bass in the Bay of Quinte, with nets and lines, prohibited. It is stated that the bass are being exterminated owing to the use of nets by fishermen who consign the fish to the States under the title of "bull heads." It is recommended that the use of nets of all kinds should be prohibited during July and August.

The Collector of Customs at Sarnia, who is in the city, says that the stories about Canadian workmen who live in Sarnia and other ports on the border being prevented from crossing to Port Huron and other places in the States to work are gross exaggerations of facts. There was a protest against a colored band of Sarnia going to Michigan to furnish music, but on investigation it was found that almost all the members of the band had been born in the United States and had never become British subjects. The Collector says that the American Collector of Customs at Port Huron realizes that the foreign contract labor law was not intended to apply to Canadians living on the border, and consequently there has been no interference with Canadian workmen employed in Michigan.

Capt. Colville, the Governor-General's secretary, says it is very doubtful whether His Excellency will return to Ottawa before the opening of the exhibition here.

Mr. W. Gibbons, for the last four years managing director of The Citizen Publishing Company, has resigned his position and will on Sept. 1 take charge of The Cornwall Standard, which, it is understood, he proposes to purchase.

Tenders for enlarging the St. Lawrence canals have been called and will be received by the Department of Railways and Canals until October 23.

THE WARD DIVORCE SENSATION.

Mr. Darrach Looking up Evidence at Montreal to Vindicate His Sister.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—Mr. John Darrach of New York, brother of Mrs. Arthur Ward, whose husband has given notice that he will apply to the Parliament of Canada at its next session for a divorce on the ground of adultery, desertion and other charges, is in the city looking after his sister's interests. This case, which has been disinterred after three years, has been sent broadcast over the whole continent, it being stated that Mrs. Ward had been arrested, charged with attempting to poison her husband.

Mrs. Ward (Miss Darrach) is at present engaged in New York as a telegraph operator, in an establishment where her brother is also similarly engaged. When this subject was again brought before the public it was feared that it might militate against the lady's prospects in her new sphere. Moreover it is claimed by the lady's friends that the story was and still is unfounded and that the different accusations brought forward are untrue.

In order to set the matter completely at rest Mr. Darrach came on to Montreal. He had an engagement this morning to meet Mr. Doucet, Deputy Clerk of the Crown, when the latter was to furnish him with an official certificate to the effect that no arrest had ever been made in the case and that no accusation had ever been formulated against his sister. Armed with this certificate Mr. Darrach will return to New York and take whatever steps he may deem necessary to vindicate his sister's honor.

On the other hand Mr. Duncan McCormack, solicitor for Mr. Ward, is preparing the divorce proceedings, which will go before the Senate next session. As soon as they are completed he will go to New York and serve them upon the respondent.

A large mass of most compromising correspondence written by Mrs. Ward to a young gentleman formerly of Montreal but now residing in the United States, will be put in evidence and some very racy developments are promised.

Winnipeg Wireless.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—The Call says the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba will take over the Emerson branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway and reduce the time between St. Paul and Winnipeg to fifteen hours, which is two hours less than the Northern Pacific can possibly make.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1888.

We refer with regret to the death of Mr. Richard Clark, M.P.P. for East Northumberland, which took place from an affection of the throat on Tuesday, at Colborne. Mr. Clark only sat one session in the Local Legislature. On February 1st of this year he defeated Dr. Willoughby, unseated after the general election, by a majority of 79 votes and took his seat a few days after. Mr. Clark was an earnest Liberal, and his death deprives East Northumberland of a zealous and able representative. The past twelve months death has been unusually busy with the people's representatives, numerous vacancies occurring by death, especially during the late session of the House of Commons. Another election will be in order now in East Northumberland, which of late years has had at least its full share of electoral contests.

At a meeting of the council of the Board of Trade yesterday Mr. C. N. Bell made the following report on the disposal of last years's crop :—

To the Council of the Winnipeg Board of Trade :

Acting under your instructions I present herewith a statement showing, so far as is possible, the disposal of the past season's gain crop of Manitoba

WHEAT.

The acreage under wheat crop in 1887 was 432,000 as per the returns received by the Department of Agriculture from 380 reporters. This board in September, assuming that the average yield would be 28 bushels per acre, estimated the crop at 12,000,000 but within a month they decided that the crop actually reached between 13,000,000 and 14,000,000, as threshing showed the yield to be greater. This crop is accounted for as follows :—

STATEMENT.

	bush.
Wheat exported to Eastern Canada and Europe	8 500,000
Converted into flour in Manitoba	2,000,000
Used as seed. 430,000 acres	1,100,000
In hands of millers and shippers and of farmers for close marketing	1,900,000
	13,400,000

To these figures may be added an amount (equal to a sum sufficient to make a grand total of 14,600,000 bushels) to cover the wheat used as feed on farms and what is still unthreshed, or at such remote points from railroads that it will not go into this year's business.

The amount of actual wheat exported has been arrived at by careful investigation and checked by totalling the grain inspector's records, after allowing for all reinspected shipments.

WHAT WENT INTO FLOUR.

To obtain the sum total of wheat converted into flour of the 1887 crop letters of request were mailed to each mill in the Province asking for a confidential return. Answers were promptly sent in from every mill of consequence, so that the figures stated are accurate. On the basis used by American statisticians, it requires five bushels of wheat, in flour, to feed each unit of the population. Supposing our people to number 130,000, we will consume 650,000 bushels; leaving 1,900,000 of that ground, to be exported. A considerable part of our flour is shipped west to the Territories, British Columbia and Asia, and to the balance to Eastern Canada.

After learning the total quantity in the hands of millers and shippers, on the 15th of July an estimate was made of that calculated to be in farmers' hands for marketing.

WHAT EACH FARMER AVERAGED.

The census of Manitoba, taken in 1886, shows that 16,000 farmers were in Manitoba that year, and it may be accepted as a fact that these farmers raised the crop of 14,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1883, having an average each of 875 bushels.

YIELD PER ACRE.

With a wheat crop of 14,000,000 bushels grown on 432,000 acres, the average yield per acre was 32.4 bushels.

INCREASED ACREAGE.

Returns received by the Winnipeg Grain Exchange of the increased area under wheat crop of this year over last, indicate that about 20 per cent. more area has been sown, making a total for this year of 520,000 acres. While the crop is from seven to ten days later than last year, the returns from fifty shipping points, with scarcely an exception, state that the prospect is that the yield will prove even heavier than that of 1887. Though it is premature to estimate yields, it may be said that never before have the prospects been better.

BARLEY.

It is difficult to obtain complete returns of the total amount of barley exported of the 1887 crop. So far as I can obtain date about 350,000 bushels were sent east and south. The crop was very heavy on the 36,000 acres cultivated, but as heretofore practically no barley was exported, farmers paid scant attention to properly harvesting it, and the great bulk of what was grown was used in the province for feed. The circular sent out by the Grain Exchange and this Board urging farmers to carefully harvest and market their barley and pointing out its high value for brewing as proved by tests at American malting houses during the past winter has evidently done good, and the Grain Exchange returns show an increased acreage of from 20 per cent. to 30 per cent. over that of last year, or a total of about 70,000 acres.

OATS.

The export of oats so far as can be determined reached fully 1,000,000 bushels. The increased area under cultivation this year is not less than 10 per cent. Last year the total acreage according to the government returns, was 155,176. Grain dealers report a large quantity of oats still held in the provinces, but the actual quantity cannot be determined.

VALUE OF EXPORTS.

Wheat	$4,875,000
Flour and meal	1,250,000
Furs, and fur products	750,000
Lumber	150,000
Hides and oatmeal	225,000
Dairy products, eggs, potatoes, vegetables, wool, hides, fish, egg	250,000
Total	$7,500,000

NOTE—The value of Manitoba furs is not included in this statement.

All of which is submitted.

WILLIAM AND HIS MOTHER.

Labouchere Says the Relations Between Them are More than Strained.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The projected marriage between Princess Victoria of Prussia and Prince Alexander of Battenberg is far from being off and will certainly take place within the next year. As to the plans of Empress Victoria, she is obliged to live for a certain number of months in the year in Prussia and I hear that she will probably fix her summer residence on the Rhine, either at the Castle of Stalsenfels, near Coblentz, or at the Schloss Rheinstein, opposite Aggemannshauser. The Empress is negotiating for the purchase of the Villa Ffreo at San Remo.

The relations between Emperor William and his mother are a good deal more than strained. Nothing but the influence of Prince Bismarck has prevented the Emperor from summoning the Hohenzollern family counsel for the purpose of formally declaring that the late Emperor's will and settlements are invalid, as his state of health should have disqualified him from ascending the throne last March. This step may yet be taken unless the Empress Victoria gives up the papers which were sent to England with the Queen and which are now understood to be deposited at Windsor. The result would be that while the public acts of Emperor Frederick would be unaffected, Emperor William would be placed in precisely the same position, so far as money goes, as if he had succeeded his grandfather, and his mother, Empress Victoria, would be reduced to the very moderate jointure of a dowager Crown Princess and her younger children would have their allowances greatly cut down.

I hear from a friend who has been staying at Copenhagen that the German Emperor was very coldly received there. Great crowds were in the streets, but there was no cheering and in some places vigorous hisses were heard. Only the public buildings were decorated and the residences of officials.

Zola's new novel, entitled "Le Reve," will be published in October. It is announced as a work so unexceptionable in moral tone that it can safely be placed in the hands of the most modest young girls and the most pure-minded women.

MONEY Probably not one business man in a thousand who has made a close study of newspaper advertising could be found who would say that there is no money in it. If it is beneficial in business to have a large circle of acquaintances, in the same proportion is it beneficial to reach the masses of the people. There are hundreds of merchants and dealers who are interested in reaching town and county readers and if they knew that they could do so at a small cost through a newspaper with a large legitimate circulation. To such THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER come as welcome and sure benefactors. They are the reliable papers of the Mid land District for merchants to advertise in, and penetrate into every corner of the town and county. Advertising rates are such as will ensure the continuance of business relations with any advertiser after once started. We shall be pleased to give figures for advertising space in THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER, and send sample copy on application. All letters of inquiry promptly attended to. Address J. R. LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,373,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600.00 insured under 1,340 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,069 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,000 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table :—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$189,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	36,580 67	196,186 29	1,167,386 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,924 31	2,982,934 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 80	475,977 24	4,669,373 55
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,664 45	$10,373,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

The supper in honor of the Seabrights at 9 o'clock Friday evening, in the Parlor Rink, Water street, promises to be a very attractive affair. Tickets are only $1.50, wine included. Flannels will be worn. Music by Doucet's band.

Still They Offend.

Complaints are still made of the nocturnal racket made by the drivers of trains passing through town. The railway authorities, it is understood, have issued strict injunctions to employes, but they take occasion to disregard these instructions in the most flagrant and offensive manner.

SEE HERE NOW! Bring along your good butter and get the highest price at The Pantry.

The Excursion.

The excursion train from Bowmanville arrived at noon to-day with about 300 people aboard, a number of whom got off at the station, the majority remaining on the train which carried them to Inverlea Park, where they are spending the day. They return home about 7 o'clock this evening.

Married at Belleville.

Mr. W. H. Donley, organist of Bridge St. Methodist church, Belleville, and Miss Laura Wensley, a member of the church choir, were quietly married Monday afternoon by their pastor, and took the evening train on their bridal tour. Miss Wensley was known in Peterborough, her sister being the wife of Mr. S. Moore, marble cutter.

Real Estate.

Mr. Macfarlane Wilson, of China Hall, has purchased "Albyn Villa," the handsome dwelling on McDonald street erected by Mr. Geo. M. Roger, lately occupied by Dr. Jenner, paying therefor the sum of $5,200. Mr. Wilson has secured a fine residence in a pleasant locality, with good out-buildings, at a low price; in fact, it is about the cheapest purchase made in private residence property in a long time.

A Fast Run.

One day last week the 23 miles of rail between Lindsay and Peterborough was run in 25 minutes, including one stoppage, by a Grand Trunk special train on which was Mr. Hickson, the manager, who was returning from Orillia. Engineer Lon. McGregor was at the throttle of No. 159, the flier of the division; and the time he made is considered fast.

Repairs to the Bridge.

Mr. W. H. Law, of the Central Iron Bridge Works, has the contract for putting new needle beams in the bridge at Campbellford. There will be sixteen of them, and they will extend beyond the bridge on either side, under the sidewalk on the north and the same distance on the south, sufficient for the laying of a new sidewalk which is to be built there. The work will cost $300. Mr. Law will do the work next month, and when it is completed, the planks will be laid.

Masonic Funeral.

The funeral of the late Charles Doebler at Port Hope Wednesday afternoon was conducted under Masonic auspices. About 150 Masons attended from all over the district. Peterborough was represented by Bro. A. Dawson, W. M. of Corinthian Lodge; Bro. H. Rusn, W. M. of Peterborough Lodge; Bro. Wm. Brandrette, P.M.; Bros. C. Cameron and W. Paterson, of Corinthian Chapter No. 36, R.A.M. Mr. J. J. Turner, who is a member of Port Hope lodge, also attended.

Information Wanted.

Information is desired of a Mr. Edward Brown Leigh, or his family. Mr. Leigh worked on board a steamer trading up and down the St. Lawrence from Montreal about ten or twelve years ago. It is thought by his relatives that he is dead. His age at the time mentioned was about 34 years. Any information would be thankfully received by Thomas Edwards, Barkfield, Upton, Torquay, Devon, England.

To the Back Lakes.

The weekly excursion rates of the Grand Trunk railway took a large crowd to Stony Lake to day. There were, besides, a few who intend to stop at the lake for some time. Mr. T. W. Robinson and Mr. E. S. Piper of Toronto formed the advance guard for their party, who will go out next week. They took all their camping goods with them. Mrs. Wm. Bradburn, Miss Joe Bradburn, Miss Kirby of Ottawa, Miss White, and Miss Russell of Pembroke, join Mr. W. A. Sanderson's camp at Boschink.

Drill and Calisthenics.

Attention is directed to the card of Sergt.-Major Rundle, which appears in another column of this issue, announcing the opening of classes for drill and calisthenics for the benefit of those outside the schools. Mr. Rundle finds a great desire on the part of many to get the benefit of his instructions. He has a peculiarly happy faculty of imparting instruction and interesting his classes. He has been engaged to give lessons in drill and calisthenics for Mr. E. Duff's School for Boys, Brock street, the principal rightly thinking that the superior advantages of his school are incomplete without the best physical training obtainable, which he has secured by the engagement of Sergeant-Major Rundle.

Provincial Sanitary Convention.

The summer session of the Association of the Executive Health Officers of Ontario will be held in Lindsay on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. The meeting of the Provincial Board of Health will take place there at the same time. The programme of the proceedings is an interesting one including many papers of practical importance in the domain of scientific sanitation, and questions relating to the public health generally. The people of Lindsay are making elaborate preparations to entertain the strangers whom the occasion will bring to the town. All the meetings will be open to the public, and a cordial invitation will be extended to all interested in the subjects to attend.

The Lash for the Laity.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—In your last Friday's issue is a very interesting letter written by Mr. D. W. Dumble, of Peterborough, referring to the manner in the Methodist church of stationing the ministers. Well, sir, who is to blame? I, for one, consider the laity more to blame than the ministers. I find in an old book I have, the following: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." The above command was given by the great divine Preacher and Master. Now, what business had the people or laity, if you please, to say to these commissioned ambassadors or ministers. "Now, sirs, if you will stay with us we will give $500 or $5,000, or more, per year," holding out the filthy lucre to these persons who are but men after all. It was wrong then and it is wrong now, and hence they are reaping the fruits of their wrong-doing by having to pay men that they do not want. Let salaried ministers be done away with altogether and then peace and harmony will be restored and all will move smoothly.

Yours, etc.
SPONTANEOUS GIVING.
Peterborough, August 7th.

Mr. Calcutt and his Park.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—I regret that Mr. Calcutt, in yesterday's EXAMINER, should have so quickly dispelled the notion that he was largely moved by a public spirit and a kindly feeling towards his fellow men, in throwing open Riverside Park. That it was from the first a commercial adventure is the only deduction I can draw from his communication and there can be no complaint that it should be such, only it would perhaps have been preferable that the citizens of Peterborough should have so understood it. It would have relieved, no doubt, from the imputation that our townspeople "prefer to take all they can lay their hands on gratis, and then want more," and that the town was guilty of "degrading and undignified greed."

It is quite true that the town claims a license fee of $100 for a circus exhibiting in Peterborough, but it is contrary to the fact that it wishes to keep such questionable concerns to itself or out of Riverside Park. Had Mr. Calcutt called on the Mayor, he would have learned that both the Howe "side show" and the last "Aggregation of Wonders," including the "grand balloon ascension," were informed that they were not wanted here, that we had no suitable grounds for their great moral shows, and that the only place to be got in the vicinity was Riverside Park. He would also have found that $20 was from the first, the sum asked for a parade, and that there was a memorandum in writing of it, and further that when the show that went into Monaghan some years ago, and which the town forgave the usual fee, as he says to do him out of it, that what the town did was to give the Agricultural Society the benefit of that fee.

We have not sought to obtain, but rather to exclude, every circus from the town, as the high license fee indicates, and late experiences I am certain are not likely to make us zealous to secure their company hereafter, nor to increase our faith in the desirability of their presence.

Of the Howe crowd, one remains in our gaol to be tried for murder, committed on our market square. The management of the last great combination of marvels I know nothing of, but much of the "following" it had was indisputably a combination of gamblers and blacklegs, the equal of which I'm sure never entered the country, and who, with their thimble-rigs, sweat-boards and whip swindle, lightened the pockets of the unwary, to the tune of hundreds of dollars.

If such thing must be, and if circuses will come to the county, I don't say Mr. Calcutt will do wrong in having them at his park, or that he should not get the largest fee possible from them, nor will the town, I believe, object to them going there, but would suggest that the Corporation of Ashburnham should, for its good name in the future, look up the rogues who are ever present at such affairs, to swindle the public.

Yours,
W. H. MOORE,

Local Sports and Pastimes.

Lacrosse.

The result of the match on the P.A.A.A. grounds Wednesday evening was quite a surprise. No one expected that the Shamrocks, who rank as a junior club, would have things pretty much their own way, as was the case. They showed the effect of steady practice, and two or three of their members played beautifully. If these young lads in the Shamrocks, Ætnas and other junior clubs continue to play lacrosse, in a few years Peterborough would have a club that would again be the terror of the district. The Y.M.C.A. team did not play their best game by any means. During the summer, practice has been almost entirely discontinued, and to this cause their defeat is largely laid. Some good individual play was done by one or two of the Association team, but the Shamrocks were superior in their lithe activity and handling of the stick. Several members of the Y.M.C.A. were either quite sick or had some hurt that crippled them; besides some of their best men were out of town. All these things helped the Shamrocks to victory.

Play was not begun till half-past seven. This was annoying, and only the Y.M.C.A. players are to blame. Their members came straggling in one by one after seven o'clock, and by half-past the hour for beginning eleven of them had showed up, and play was begun with this number. There were a couple of hundred people on the grounds. Before either side had scored it became too dark to play, but in the twilight the Shamrocks scored a goal. The ball was again faced, and though it was so dark that the rubber was lost several times, play continued and the Shamrocks took a second goal in a few minutes.

The Y.M.C.A. team are not satisfied with the result of the match; they feel confident they can beat the Shamrocks, and it is possible another match will be arranged. The general opinion was expressed by the Y.M.C.A. boys, that they must either practice more or quit altogether. They play Lindsay the latter end of the month, and have not too much time left. If they want to be in trim they must "knuckle down" and put in more hard practice. The field was placed as follows:—

Shamrocks.		Y.M.C.A.

Willow and Wicket.

To-morrow the Seabright, N.Y., cricket club play here. The New York gentlemen are a strong team, but the local club hope to be able to put an eleven in the field that will win, or at least hold their own. The match promises to be a beautiful exposition of the game. In the evening the visitors will be tendered a banquet in honor of their visit. Mr. E. Welsh will cater in the Roller Rink, Water street.

Next Monday the Hamilton city cricket club plays in Peterborough. The Flower City team recently defeated Toronto.

On Thursday, civic holiday, a team of the local cricketers go to Toronto to play the club of that city.

The Wheel.

Next Saturday night about a dozen members of the Wanderers' bicycle club, Toronto, will arrive by the late train to spend Sunday in Peterborough and vicinity. The local wheelmen met the Toronto boys at the C.W.A. meet, and the visit of the latter is the outcome of their conviviality on that occasion. It is probable the Peterborough and Toronto bicyclists will spend the day together at Chemong Park or some other convenient watering place.

Of this trip the Globe says:—The boys are organizing a tour which will leave here on the C. P. R. afternoon train on the 11th inst., and which for delightful scenery and roads can hardly be surpassed. For some time back the committee have been making arrangements, and now have completed the programme, which is scheduled as follows:—On C. P. R. train, arrive at Peterborough same night, stopping at the Oriental. Here the club are going to look after the visitors. Next morning the party will ride over elegant roads as far as the end of Rice Lake. Here dinner will be had and some five hours allowed for a sail or a bathe in the picturesque lake. Leaving about 5 p.m., the run into Port Hope will be made, the party stopping at the St. Lawrence Hall. After supper some of the riders will take a spin of fourteen miles to Cobourg and return. Next morning ride west to Newcastle for dinner, from there to Whitby, where it is a public holiday and a good time is guaranteed, next morning leaving there at 5 a.m. and arriving in Toronto at 8.30 a.m. Throughout the whole tour an even pace of six miles per hour will be maintained.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 8.—The Ramblers' Wheel Club had a balance of $212.33 from the meet of the C. W. A., one-half of which has been paid to the association. Mr. Dean, captain of the club, will be one of the judges at the Toronto meet

Sporting Notes.

The Garden Hill Giants arrived in town to-day, and play was begun at about 3 o'clock with the Peterborough nine.

At St. Catherines Wednesday the Ontarios of Toronto were defeated by the St. Catherines Athletics by three straight games.

The Torontos won the Seabright cricket match by 10 wickets.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, Aug. 9.

This morning Mr. A. Haskill was charged by Mr. C. LeGros with having purchased cigars at his cigar store in connection with his barber shop on Sunday last. Mr. LeGros stated that in his absence the defendant had induced his younger brother to get the key and supply him with the cigars he required. His brother innocently got the keys from Mrs. LeGros and sold 35c. worth of cigars. He contended that the defendant, who is a barber also, did it in order to injure his business and have him fined. Yesterday Mr. LeGros admitted the selling of the cigars and was fined a nominal sum. The defendant was brought up this morning for procuring a violation of the law, and admitting the offence, fined $1 and costs. Haskill claimed that the offence was committed for the purpose of procuring evidence. The magistrate in his remarks added that he thought the original prosecution had been prompted by a spirit of jealousy and rivalry, which he hoped would go no further.

The Stationing Committee.

The George Street Church Board Take up the Matter of Appointments.

At a meeting of the George street Methodist church quarterly board the following resolutions were passed:—

"That the existing practice of the Stationing Committee of ignoring the expressed wishes of the quarterly boards, as to their choice of ministers to serve in the pastorates, and the arbitrary and unappealable exercise of power by a body of men legislating largely for themselves, and consequently not disinterested, in case that must be modified in order to retain that loyal support of the laity, and that harmonious unity which has heretofore characterized the Methodist Church.

"That the division into small conferences in a measure limits the supply of available ministers, creates a narrowness of view as to the supposed right of the ministers of the particular conference, and leads to selfishness in the action of Stationing Committees which gives rise to friction between the churches and the ministers and alienates the love of a loyal people who are peculiarly democratic and liberal in spirit and unwilling to submit to any system of ecclesiastical government which ignores the laity as an element to be consulted in the stationing of ministers."

The Quarterly Board will have their views brought before the conference.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks; neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

QUEBEC'S ABUNDANT CROP

FAVORABLE REPORTS TO THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Fisheries Intelligence—The Sawdust Nuisance in the Ottawa River—Notes from the Capital.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—The Fisheries Department has received advices that the Government cruiser La Canadienne has returned to Gaspe after a trip to the Magdalen Islands and Labrador. Fishing on the North Shore is reported pretty good, the catch of cod is fair and there was a considerable run of large sized mackerel especially in the neighborhood of Bonne Esperance.

Postmaster-General Haggart has issued an address to his constituents and gone to North Lanark, where he will remain until after the election.

The Department of Agriculture has received reports from the Province of Quebec that the crops generally will be about the average. In Charlevoix and Portneuf they will be very abundant.

The council of the Dominion Rifle Association has decided to accept, for the Lansdowne Cup, the design of Hutton & Co. of Montreal. The cost will be about $100.

The contention of the Ottawa lumbermen before the sawdust committee last session that the spring freshets carried away all the sawdust in the channel of the Ottawa River is being daily knocked endways by the stubborn sawdust, which will stick in the river and refuses to be carried away by either theories or freshets. Last evening the tug Charlotte, while towing a raft of square timber, grounded upon the sawdust-bank opposite the Parliament Buildings, and with difficulty was got off. The raft swung round towards Nepean Point, and after much trouble was released. There must be at least thirty feet of sawdust, 300 feet long and 100 feet wide, between Pine Tree Island and the entrance to the locks, upon which the spring floods have had no effect.

The engineer of the Northern Light has been instructed by the Marine Department to proceed to Glasgow, where the new steamer for the service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland is being built, and oversee the construction of the engines.

The St. Hubert Gun Club, at a recent meeting, engaged the services of two men to protect the game on the Ottawa below this city until the opening of the duck shooting season. Wholesale slaughter of ducks near Rockland is complained of. Sportsmen guilty of illegal shooting will be arrested.

A VALUABLE DISCOVERY.

Rich Find of Gold and Silver in Nova Scotia—The Bellerophon's Cruise.

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 10.—The flagship Bellerophon and fleet leave on Aug. 20 for a cruise to the St. Lawrence, going as far as Quebec.

Lewis Newel, an aged Micmac, has discovered valuable deposits of gold and silver at St. Mary's-road, Guysboro County, and has taken up 20 acres at the Mines' Office. A small quantity of quartz was sent to New York to be examined and has been reported on as containing about an equal quantity of gold and silver, about $350 worth of each metal to the ton of quartz.

THEY WILL FIGHT.

The Hamilton and Milton Road Co. Not Satisfied with the Engineer's Report.

HAMILTON, Aug. 10.—The solicitors for the Hamilton and Milton road company have appealed from the report of the engineer, and have given notice of arbitration as to the question of repairs required by the statute. These proceedings, they state, will leave the question of taking off the tolls to the arbitrators. They also state to-day the company will sue out a writ from the High Court of Justice to set aside, as null and void, all the proceedings of the engineer. They also state that the company will bring actions against all persons who may refuse to pay toll.

A. Marentette, who has been assistant weights and measures inspector for the counties of Essex, Kent, Lambton and Huron, has been transferred to Hamilton, where he will be inspector of the scale factories. His salary has been increased $200.

Mr. Thomas Buckingham reported to the police last night that some man had tried to induce his little daughter to go away with him by offering to get her candies. It is probable that this is the same man who was trying a similar game some weeks ago.

STATE-AIDED EMIGRATION.

Mr. W. H. Smith Explains what the Imperial Government Will Do.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Sir Charles Tupper goes to Glasgow to-day to inspect the Canadian court in the International Exhibition, and afterwards proceeds to Skye, visiting the principal Crofter districts to ascertain how far this class of emigration, proposals concerning which are being pressed upon the Imperial Government, is likely to prove valuable to Canada.

Mr. W. H. Smith explained in the House of Commons to-night on behalf of the Government the course proposed in respect to State colonization. He said Natal was the only colony which had sent a favorable reply in respect to the scheme involving a joint Imperial and colonial guarantee of interest on money advanced by the public to the colonies. Seeing the reluctance of the other colonies the Government was unable to accede to the proposal that the Imperial Government should take immediate steps to promote emigration on the lines proposed. The Government thought it desirable to first learn how far success had attend the colonization schemes adopted in Canada and elsewhere. He intended therefore to move in the Autumn session for a select committee to enquire into the whole subject, as the matter was one of Imperial interest and concern.

Low Water in the Cornwall Canal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—Members of the Corn Exchange held a meeting at noon yesterday and passed a resolution, calling the Government's attention to the fact that two barges got stuck in the Cornwall Canal owing to there being only eight feet of water. It appears that when they entered the canal there was nine feet, but before they could get out it had lowered a foot, the water having been drawn by the mills.

THE TROUBLE IN PARIS

IS FRANCE ON THE EVE OF ANOTHER REVOLUTION.

The Gigantic Demonstration at the Funeral of the Late General Eudes—Comments of the Paris Press.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—All the elements of the social revolution, like the combustibles in a powder magazine, were in movement in Paris at Gen. Eudes' funeral and in the socialist centers—Lyons, Lille and Amiens. Fifty thousand men, under the guidance of professional revolutionists, and accompanied by freating youngsters, paraded the streets singing, dancing, and making things lively. All the fashionable quarters were utterly deserted. The windows in the Faubourg St. Germain, the Champs Elysee and the Boulevard Malesherbes were closed with shutters. Hundreds of thousands of Parisians assembled in honor of the late Gen. Eudes, whose motto was "Ni Dieu, ni Maitre," and who declared almost with his dying breath: "Si Dieu existait je le ferais coller au mur."

Copies of L'Homme Libre, Eudes' newspaper, were scattered broadcast by the hundred thousand throughout Paris, sounding the trumpet note of the revolution. In great black letters printed around Eudes portrait, it thus invited people to the funeral. The central committee of the revolution, the former members of the commune, the editors of L'Homme Libre and the family and friends of the citizen, Emile Eudes, invited the entire population of Paris to come to his funeral:

"We, the undersigned, old members of the commune and of the central revolutionary committee, appeal to all the men who fought in 1871 to accompany the remains of Citizen Eudes, who died while speaking for the cause of the commune and the revolution. All societies throughout France should unite with the workmen now on strike. Let all the poverty-stricken proletarians, all the pariahs of society, all those who wish the true republic of the people, join us in a supreme effort to end their misery."

Royalist papers like the Figaro and the Gaulois say: "This time we are surely on the eve of a social convulsion. Paris ne s'amuse plus, la revolution n'est pas loin."

The Figaro calls upon the Government to overwhelm the strikers with masses of troops, seize the gredins and imbeciles, agitators, and in 48 hours put an end to a plaisantrie that positively dishonors Paris and lowers the Floquet ministry as des sous de rien.

The Republicans and Radicals and even revolutionary papers like L'Intransigeant and La Lanterne accuses the Royalists of conjuring up a phantom of revolution to inspire a general panic and serve their own ends.

Rochefort says: "If the police do not provoke us, all will be quiet; but if M. Floquet wants to excite the workmen and have his petite journe and afterward telegraph all over France saying that he has 'mave la societe,' why, then there will of course, be trouble."

M. Clemenceau publishes in Justice a note calling upon all good citizens to remember that disorder can only serve the aims of the enemies of the republic.

Commenting on the day's doings, Charles Laurent, editor of Paris, writes: "The Royalists, Bonapartists and Boulangists, three heads wearing the same cap or crown, may now take back the uncalled-for prize they would have been so happy to bestow on the cabinet. The expected grand field day so confidently discounted at Sheen house, Brussels, and in the Rue Dumont d'Urville, leaves the republic as steady as ever, as determined to defend itself against its real enemies on the right, and as able to make itself respected by the instigators of violence, whoever they may be."

The firmness of the authorities has told, and orderly citizens, who form the great majority of Paris, are warmly congratulating the government on its victory.

The Labor Exchange Closed.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Another meeting of the Cabinet was held yesterday. M. Floquet informed the members that the Labor Exchange had long been used for purposes other than those for which it was instituted. It had therefore been closed by the Government. The approaches to the exchange are guarded by police. The strikers attempted to assemble at the exchange yesterday but were dispersed.

A NAVAL BATTLE.

The Cunard Steamer Samaria Captured by a British Cruiser.

QUEENSTOWN, Aug. 10.—The British squadron off Bantry Bay and Queenstown harbor is causing much excitement. The fast cruiser Sandfly, 5255 tons burden and 300 horse power, belonging to the British squadron, which escaped from Bantry Bay to this harbor, proceeded to sea and, after capturing two steamers, sighted the Cunarder Samaria from Boston with 107 passengers on board, about four miles southwest of the harbor. Immediately the Sandfly dashed at full speed after the liner, steaming at the rate of twenty-one miles an hour. Attacking the liner she fired at her repeatedly and at length succeeded in capturing the steamship after a hard engagement, causing great excitement among the passengers of the liner, who knew nothing of the naval mobilization.

The Allan liner Caspian, from Liverpool, en route to St. John's with 200 passengers, was also captured off the port, after which the Sandfly returned into harbor, and is now making preparations for the capture of the Brittanic, and Nevada, both due off the coast from New York.

Thinks the Dice are Loaded.

DUBLIN, Aug. 10.—United Ireland says the Parnell Commission Bill is the greatest fraud ever fashioned. The Parnellites did not reject it because their action would have been misinterpreted and did not accept it because it is a fraud and the tribunal will be packed. The Parnellites, however, will pass the ordeal earnestly and in good faith. Though the dice are loaded they feel that the game is theirs.

In the Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The Parnell Commission Bill passed the first reading in the House of Lords to-night.

THE FISHERIES DEBATE.

CONCLUSION OF MR. EVARTS' ADDRESS ON THE TREATY.

Other Speeches—President Cleveland Characterized by Mr. Blair as Bombastic, Pigheaded and Obstinate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—In the Senate yesterday Mr. Evarts (Rep., N.Y.) resumed his argument against the Fisheries Treaty. The position which should be taken by the United States was, he said, to insist that the United States had always rejected the headland theory and did not tolerate the claim of right on the part of Great Britain to make a bay by calling it a bay and to shut out of it American fishermen, and then there might be or there might not be an opportunity to find out what Great Britain meant. That would not mean war or fear of war.

In conclusion he said that he would prepare a comment upon the terms of the treaty itself, and he hoped not an unfair one, but he would forbear to proceed with it at present.

The discussion then turning on President Grant's message to the Senate, with a proposed treaty on the same, was taken up by Mr. Morgan (Dem. Ala.) who declared that the President had on that occasion given counsel in favor of a true and wise policy and now spoke from the grave better than any senator had done in this discussion.

Mr. Frye (Rep., Me.) resented the manner in which the payment of duties on preserved fish is evaded; that is by having the fish frozen solid and introduced duty free as "fresh fish for immediate consumption," while in fact such frozen fish could be kept for months.

Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) said that the object of destroying the treaty at once was nothing more nor less than political and was connected with the presidential election. One of the senators from Massachusetts had pronounced him (Morgan) a silly man because he had alluded to the fact that war might grow out of the question. He might be silly, but he had seen enough of war to be afraid of it, perhaps the senator from Massachusetts had not.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) disclaimed having spoken of the senator from Alabama as silly. What he had said was that if he had not so much respect for that senator he should pronounce the suggestion that war with England might grow out of insisting on the rights of American fishermen as supremely silly.

Mr. Morgan said that the Democratic party had in it the backbone of Andrew Jackson, that it was not going to make a foolish quarrel, but that if the quarrel came it would stand by the country right or wrong. When the negotiations should fail, then the Democratic party meant as the President meant, that the Retaliation Act—which then and not before would become mandatory—would be obeyed, and yes, when it was expected that the law was to be obeyed there came a howl from the Fishery Association because the President would not pledge himself in advance to limit the retaliation to the fishery business.

Mr. Blair (Rep., N. H.,) whose resolution had been alluded to by Mr. Morgan, declared sarcastically that if there was to be no war with England or Canada until the discussion on the treaty ended war would be postponed until the destruction of the world by fire or till a deluge came again. He supposed that the object of the senator from Alabama in talking war was for effect in the political campaign at home. He did not know of any Republican who talked about war as a result of the rejection of the treaty. The resources of diplomacy are all open and had not yet been exhausted. A recalcitrant, obstinate and pigheaded executive was not going to take the responsibility of inflicting on the American people needless injury, mercantile distress and the destruction of business unnecessarily and simply because he had the power. When it was intimated to the Senate that the President was going further and would destroy the industrial fabric of the United States simply because he and his party were in a fret, it appeared to him (Blair) that the whole party might as well be banished from the country as being too ignorant, too foolish or too unpatriotic to exist properly under the protection of American laws.

Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) criticised Mr. Morgan's position and that of the Democratic party on the treaty as being in the interest of free trade. There was no demand in any American quarter for free fish. It was only within the last year that a American administration was to be found that was willing to trample American interests under its feet and to make long homilies and have its friends in the Senate make long speeches in favor of "our enemies the British people." He congratulated the country on having seen in this debate what the animus of the Senator from Alabama was.

Mr. Morgan said that the senator from New Hampshire had spoken of President Cleveland as pigheaded and was not a fool. He had been wise enough to beat the Republican party every time he came in contact with it and he was going to do it again so easily that Republicans would not know how it happened.

Mr. Blair said he had used an unfortunate adjective, "pigheaded," in reference to the President's anticipated conduct as foretold and proclaimed by the senator from Alabama. He had no wish to qualify the expression. He did not want to interfere with the senator's adoration. That senator was at liberty to worship any fetish he chose and would naturally select such a god.

After some further interchange of like compliments between the two senators the day's discussion came to a close.

The Montreal East Election.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—The coming election in Montreal East to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Mr. C. J. Coursol is attracting some interest here. The Free Press says Mr. L. O. David will probably be the Liberal candidate. If Mr. David decides not to run then, says The Free Press, Mr. A. Perrier stands the best chance of being the Liberal nominee.

A number of Conservatives are named as possible candidates, amongst them Senator Lacoste, Joseph Tasse ex-M.P. for Ottawa, Mr. O. M. Augers, Q. C., of Montreal and others.

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1888.

JAMES AND JOHN; A CONTRAST.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

A history of the lives of different people often furnish matter for reflection and wonder. It shows the foolishness and the inconsistency of men, and of men who ought to be wiser and better. It shows that oftentimes persons brought up under the same circumstances frequently differ widely in their journey through the world, and also differ widely in their practice and their success. It shows that men may start out in life from the one standpoint and with the same motives and desires, yet that they do not journey long together, and that they follow different roads and come to different ends. A study of this kind furnishes food for serious reflection. It does good and is necessary and very useful. It shows men their faults. It shows them the many and dangerous pitfalls which beset their way. And if, after this, people fail, it is in a great measure their own fault. Men's characters should be moulded and guided by the conduct and the experiences of others. And this is a rule which holds good in public as well as in private life. The lessons taught us by those who have gone before are lessons for our good, and we should feel thankful for them. They save us from many trials and disappointments. A brilliant and successful statesman is mainly made such by the example set him by those who have gone before. But some people never learn anything. They will never listen to good advice. They think they know best what to do, and they do it, let the consequences be what they may. They know that they stand on dangerous ground, but they don't care for that. They feel their feet are slipping from under them, and yet they don't care. If you speak to them and warn them of their danger, they will tell you there is nothing to fear. That they are all right. They will tell you that drink does them good, although at the same time it is plain they are hastening to the grave. Ask them to think of their wives and children and they turn from you and go on their way. And although their pathway is strewn with dead men's bones, left there by the same abuses which are killing them, yet they will not take warning. And so, just as long as life lasts, they hurry on over the downward road until they, too, fall into the terrible gulf, which lies before, and into which so many have gone before. They won't listen to the cries of their little children, nor notice their fears when they are near. They turn a deaf ear to the remonstrances of their wives. Drink they will have while they can, and when their means to buy it are gone they will take the last article from the household and pledge it for more.

BABY'S SHOES.

A man with tattered garments old,
Upon whose face
Want and despair in letters dark

With wavering step by wine unnerved,
That heavy falls,
Passed where low gleamed in twilight mist
Three golden balls,

Neath which he entered, as if were
No time to lose,
And on the counter laid in shame
Two baby shoes.

"Take them," he said, "I must have drink!"
The clerk said, "Nay;
It were a shame the baby shoes
To take away!"

"She will not need them; cool and still
She lies asleep,
And Heaven will now the baby's feet
In safety keep."

"I have a baby, too, at home,"
One listening said—
And at the thought, in gratitude
He bowed his head—

"The little feet not still, thank God!
How could I lose
In ruin's crimson flood of wine
My baby's shoes!"

All drunkards have a beginning. At first they would seem to think there is no danger. They say they only take a little, and that can do them no harm, but they do not see how the wily enemy is luring them on. They will not look before. They feel like a man sitting in a boat and sailing on the smooth waters. All is calm and pleasant for the time. But there are rocks and breakers ahead right into which they are going, and still they heed not the danger. Tell them that they are near their ruin and they only laugh at you. But they go nearer and nearer and at last are gone. There is one gurgling sound and all is over. The two men, James and John, are examples of what abstinence and drinking will accomplish. They were born and brought up in the same neighborhood. James was industrious and temperate and John was the reverse. He said the world was before him and that he was able to take care of himself. So he and James became separated, each going his own way. It is scarcely necessary to say that James was a respected and well to do man and was happy. He often wondered what had become of his old friend and schoolfellow, and whether he had become a wiser and a better man. After several years he heard the truth and the news grieved him greatly. But as it is said that while there is life there is hope, so he trusted that John would see his error and reform. John had married a good woman, who died, leaving behind her one child, left to the care of a drunken father. It may be easily imagined what kind of care and treatment the child received. The father was often the worse of drink, and was thoughtless and unkind. If the child cried, which she often did, hard words and sometimes oaths and blows followed after. It was a terrible life for a poor, little, frail girl to lead, and she had to bear it as best she could. But a day of deliverance was coming when this poor little thing was to be the instrument, in the hands of God, of her father's reformation. The following lines will tell the story, and they show what great good a little child may sometimes accomplish:

A CHILD'S TEAR.

"My home—yes, it's bright and clean, sir,
And I'll tell how it came to pass;
It wasn't my work or doing at all—
It's all due to that little lass.

"I was going straight down to hell, sir,
And all through the curse of the drink;
How I treated poor Mary, my wife, sir,
God knows I can't bear to think.

"I didn't know as I loved her
Till the wild dark night she died,
When I found her lying so cold and still,
And that new-born child by her side.

"The little lass, she has grown, sir—
Last June she was eight years old;
And what she has been to me, sir,
Can never on earth be told.

"When a kid there was no one to mind her,
But a woman as lived next door;
And she being given to drink, too,
Let her roll one day on the floor.

"And ever since then the poor creatur'
Has been lame with a crooked knee;
So I'd often lift her up in my arms
To take her about with me.

"For I really loved the poor mite, sir,
And her sweet little eyes of blue
Was as nice and as bright as her mother's was,
And they looked me through and through.

"One night I was off to the 'public'—
I'd been drinking already—'twas late,
And I took little May to carry her,
But I couldn't walk quite straight.

"'Oh, daddy, don't go!' she whispered.
But I quickened my drunken pace,
And said, 'Not another word, young un,
Or I'll give you a slap in the face.'

"I was brutal, sir—I know it;
But the devil was in me then,
And when he get's hold of us with the drink
We are only brutes—not men.

"And the little lass, she wor quiet,
But I felt a hot tear fall;
And it seemed to burn right into my hand,
Though she wiped it off with her shawl.

"Straight into my soul it entered—
It melted my hardened heart;
So I said, 'I'll go home, lassie,'
That night I made a new start.

"Now, every morning and evening,
I kneel, and with heart sincere
I bless my God for saving a soul
By the touch of a little one's tear."

Everything has its beginning. The drunkard commenced with one glass. Then he made it two and then three, always increasing as time and habit wore on. Finally his ruin was complete. His friends warned him of his danger. His wife pleaded with him to desist, but he would not. He saw his wife often in tears. He knew she was unhappy but he would go on, always from bad to worse. He saw his children shunned him and looked frightened whenever he came near. He knew the cause but he would not do better. He would get angry but that only made them worse. His prospects became poor, his means of support became less, and ruin stared him in the face. He felt that he was a guilty man. That he had forfeited the confidence and respect of his family. But still he would persist in his wrong doing. If he ever looked back upon himself he could easily see how he began to go down but he would not look forward and see where he was to end. He knew he could easily regain his lost opportunities if he would, but he lacked the resolution and the energy to do so. How many men there are of good education and abilities, and of good opportunities, who have totally ruined themselves through the accursed habit of drink. Men who might have been the pride of their families and have made their mark in the world, and who might have lived honored and respected. It is a terrible sight to see a man of this kind degrade himself and go down to ruin and death just through a habit which he knows is fast destroying him and which renders him an object of loathing and contempt with others, who pity while they despise him. There is no doubt that there are times when such a man feels his position and sees himself as others see him. To such a man there is only one resource, to become a true Christian and to look to God alone for a reformation and for support. Such a refuge was never taken in vain. Let the temperance man and the young shun the first glass and they will shun the awful habit which leads down to sorrow and to an early grave.

SAY NO.

Dare to say "No" when you are tempted to drink.
Pause for a moment, my brave boy, and think;
Think of the wrecks upon life's ocean tossed,
For answering "Yes" without counting the cost.

Think of the mother who bore you in pain,
Think of the tears that will fall like rain;
Think of the heart and how cruel the blow,
Think of her love, and at once answer "No."
Think of the hopes that are drowned in the bowl,
Think of the danger to body and soul.
Think of sad lives once as pure as the snow;
Look at them now, and at once answer "No."
Think of a manhood with ruin-tainted breath,
Think of its end, and the terrible death.
Think of the homes that now shadowed with woe
Might have been Heaven, had the answer been "No."

Think of lone graves both unwept and unknown,
Hiding fond hopes that were fair as your own.
Think of proud forms, now forever laid low,
That might still be here had they learned to say "No."

Think of the demon that lurks in the bowl,
Driving to ruin both body and soul.
Think of all this as life's journey you go,
And when you're assailed by the tempter, say "No."

Better Than a Hero.

"What a coward that Major Smith is," said Jones to Robinson, "why, the very sight of gunpowder would make him ill. How did he ever manage to become an officer in the army"? "Don't say anything against Smith," answered Robinson, "he once saved my life." "Saved your life! Nonsense, impossible! What do you mean"? "I mean that I was in the first stages of consumption; I was losing strength and vitality every day with the terrible disease, when Smith advised me to take Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had tried all kinds of medicines without success, and my physician had given me no hope; and here I am, as well as ever a man was, and I owe my life to Smith, and to the wonderful remedy he recommended." b

MONEY

Probably not one business man in a thousand who has made a close study of newspaper advertising could be found who would say that there is no money in it. If it is beneficial in business to have a large circle of acquaintances, in the same proportion is it beneficial to reach the hearts of the people. There are hundreds of merchants and dealers who are interested in reaching town and county readers and if they knew that they could do so at a small cost through a newspaper with a large legitimate circulation. To such THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER comes as welcomed and sure benefactors. They are the reliable papers of the Mid [illegible] District for merchants to advertise in, and penetrate into every corner of the town and county. Advertisements are such as will ensure the continuance of business relations with any advertiser either space marked. We shall be pleased to give rates for advertising space in THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER, and send sample copies on application. All letters of inquiry promptly attended to. Address J. R. Tessmer Again Defeats Gaudaur — Ball Games Yesterday.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 10.—A single scull race for a purse of $1000 was rowed yesterday afternoon at Round Bay. The contestants were Tessmer, Hosmer, Gaudaur, Hamm and McKay. The course was 3 miles with a turn. The scullers got a good start, Gaudaur at once taking the lead, but Tessmer soon spurted and took the turn first. At the turning stake Hosmer was close up to the leader but was fouled by Hamm who then gave up the race. Hosmer made a strong fight but was unable to finish better than third. Tessmer crossed the line first, a length ahead of Gaudaur. Time 20.55.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9.—The Government intends to push the agreement with the Northern Pacific through the Legislature and if unsuccessful will resign. It is asserted that a binding pledge has been received of a maximum rate on wheat to Duluth which will effect a large saving to the province. It is also reported that the Milwaukee and St. Paul road will push to the boundary and secure running powers over the Red River Valley road. The officials expected here several days ago have not yet arrived.

Annual Meeting at Montreal Yesterday—The Election of Officers.

MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—The Canadian Cotton Association held its annual meeting at the Belmoral to day and was in session all day. Among those in attendance were J. H. Parks, St. John, N.B.; W. Birkett, W. For the Ladies

It is not necessary to buy corn cures. Men and women should remember that Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the only safe, sure, and painless corn remover extant. On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills so well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

Summer Travel

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Shoddy Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w32d

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Successful Fishing Expedition.

Some persons have extraordinary luck at fishing and some have extraordinary inventive powers in relating their exploits. On Thursday Messrs. Geo. Walker and Miles Froats returned from a fishing expedition to Burleigh and they have no reason to be ashamed of their success. They went up on Tuesday and therefore had only one clear day for angling. In this time they captured over eighty black bass and an indefinite number of maskinonge. They relate some prodigious fish stories, but it is to be feared that less weight is to be attached to these stories than to that of some of the bass, which are represented as turning the scale at six pounds. The fishermen did not wish their stories to be unsupported by proof, which they brought home with them; and they generously scattered a smell of cooking fish around their respective residences for several blocks. Mr. Walker is a veteran with the rod and spoon, but this was Mr. Froats' first experience.

The poster is neatly executed and is a credit to the EXAMINER office from which it was issued.

Millbrook Reporter:—Mr. E. C. Hill, advertising the Peterborough Central Exhibition, passed through Millbrook on Saturday last. The poster is the work of the Peterborough EXAMINER, and is, as usual with this office, an excellent specimen of workmanship. If the show is on a par with the printing, it will be a good one.

Lindsay Post:—Mr. E. C. Hill, the genial bill circulator of Peterborough was in town yesterday putting up the mammoth three-sheet three-color poster for the Peterborough Central Exhibition. The poster is from the EXAMINER presses and ' a brilliant and tasteful specimen of color printing. We understand seven hundred copies were printed. They go in for liberal advertising in Peterborough.

A Proposed Gymnasium.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

I have been frequently approached by several gentlemen in town, with proposals for me to establish a gymnasium for the exclusive use of those desirous of becoming subscribers. I would be delighted to start and conduct such an institution and give my best attention to making it a success, but it must be borne in mind that in order to teach the large number of subjects necessarily embraced in the course of a first class gymnasium an extensive and somewhat expensive equipment is necessary. I am not able to command the necessary financial means to procure such an equipment, without which a gymnasium could not begin operations with credit or be conducted with success. Now if there can be got a sufficient number of those interested in the project to advance funds, I am in a position and would be willing that they should recoup themselves by allowing the fees for instruction to apply to the repayment of the sums advanced. By this plan the gymnasium could be established upon a firm basis, and the risk incurred by each individual contributing could not be called a risk at all. Thinking that this proposition will meet with approval, I see no reason why operations should not be begun at once, and I would therefore invite all those concerned in the establishment of a first class gymnasium to meet me in the Orderly Room of the 57th Battalion on some date that may be agreed upon to confer upon the matter and arrange details. I would be prepared to submit an estimate of the amount required for equipment. I have in view a building which would, I think, be excellently suited for the purpose. In addition to the full course of gymnasium exercises I could teach, I can also have a department for ladies in calisthenics (the building in view admits of a separate apartment for this purpose) and also give complete instructions to those desirous of qualifying for a grade "A" 2nd class certificate.

Yours, etc.,

Methodist District Meeting.

Financial District Meeting at Millbrook.

The Peterborough district meeting was held in the Methodist church at Millbrook Tuesday, Rev. M. L. Pearson presiding. The morning session was devoted to the general business of the district. In the afternoon a Sunday school convention was held, when the following subjects were discussed:—

1. Who should work in the Sunday schools? Introduced by Rev. S. J. Shorey.

2. Helps and Hindrances in Sunday schools. Introduced by Rev. T. Johnston.

At 4 o'clock a mass meeting of the children was held. Addresses were given by Revs. D. Winters and M. L. Pearson, President of the Conference.

The evening session was occupied in the discussion of "The Relations of the Sunday School to Church and home," by Rev. D. N. McCamus. "Qualifications of Sunday School Teachers," by Rev. W. Burns. "Ultimate End to be Accomplished in Sunday School Work," by Rev. M. L. Pearson.

Personal.

Mr. M. A. James, of the Bowmanville Statesman, gave us a call yesterday, accompanied by Rev. Mr. Matthews.

Mr. E. J. Rowse, merchant of Oshawa, was in town yesterday on a short visit to his brother, Mr. O. C. Rowse.

Mr. K. Kincaid, of Peterborough, was one of the passmen at the recent Queen's University matriculation examinations.

The Norwood Register says that "Rev. Mr. Duff, of Peterborough, will conduct the services in the Baptist church on Sunday next."

The EXAMINER heartily congratulates Dr. R. W. Ball upon his election to the office of Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows.

—At the Belleville cheese board Thursday thirty factories offered 3868 boxes. 140 boxes were sold to Mr. Hodgson and 270 to Mr. Werrington at 9c.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., addressed his constituents at the town hall, Enniskore, on Thursday evening. The meeting was largely attended.

Mr. John Lockhart, of Cannington, formerly of the firm of Lockhart & Chowen of this town, is visiting his Peterborough friends this week. He is looking well.

Dr. W. E. Tilly, M.A., Inspector of schools for east and west Durham, was in town yesterday and gave us a call. Accompanied by Mr. W. H. Wrighton, he visited the school premises and buildings. Mr. Tilly is an excellent inspector and is very highly thought of wherever he goes.

The Kingston Daily Whig of Aug. 9th says:—"George A. Morrison, Peterborough, manager for Eastern Ontario Manufacturers' Life and Accident Insurance Company, is in the city. He reports business at the head office good. The company will write over $6,000,000 in the life department. He wants a special agent for Kingston in the accident department."

Dr. Carmichael, late of the New York Post-Graduate Hospital and formerly of Mount Pleasant, has decided to locate in Peterborough and will open an office for the practice of his profession early next week in Mr. Alexander's new brick residence on George street, immediately north of the residence of Mrs. O'Sullivan. The Doctor comes to Peterborough with considerable experience and well recommended, and we have no doubt that he will secure a share of the patronage of those who require treatment.

Local Sports and Pastimes.

Baseball.

The Garden Hill "Giants," as they have been dubbed, were easily defeated by a nine of the home club on the P.A.A.A. grounds Thursday afternoon. There were a couple of hundred people present. "Play ball" was sounded at 3:40, and at a quarter to six the game was over.

The Giants play a fair all-round game for a country team, and their batsery work, as the record shows, was not to be sneezed at, Muldrea striking out 8 men. At first base, though, they were weak, and in the field away behind the Peterboroughs. Their neat uniforms and heavy physiques commanded the admiration of the audience. The Giants, too, were at times wild in their throwing and did not play as sharply as they should. This can be overcome only by practice.

The Peterborough nine was largely a "scrub" one, as the personnel of the score sheet will show. Galley and Callahan officiated in the points and played steadily throughout. The club's playing battery, Cameron and Billings, had to be dispensed with on this occasion. Their places were, however, ably filled by Galley and Callahan. Cameron in the field and Kincaid at short distinguished themselves, while Figg, Pearson and Barnon on bases did good work also. Though only five of the regular team were playing, the Peterboro's had a comparatively easy job. They out played their opponents at almost every point.

The game was rather agricultural, plenty of errors being credited to both sides. Mr. Kells, Millbrook, umpired fairly, and his decisions were seldom disputed. In the last innings W. Muldrea, in stealing third base, collided with Barnon and was slightly stunned for a few moments. The game was conducted with the best of good feeling throughout and the visitors took their defeat with the utmost good grace.

Some of the innings were short and sharp, in a couple of them only 5 balls being pitched. In the third the visitors became a little rattled, but steadied down again. Both pitchers threw a straight ball, hence there was pretty heavy batting and consequently a great many catches in the field. Considering the slugging that was done the score is low. Very few chances were refused, the majority of the errors being wild throws and fumbles of grounders. The record is as follows:—

Peterborough	1	0	10	2	0	0	1	2	1—17
Garden Hill	0	0	1	0	3	0	0	0	4—8

Willow and Wicket.

The Seabright cricketers arrived this morning from Port Hope, where they secured an easy victory yesterday. They travel in a special car and are accompanied by several ladies. Play was begun about ten o'clock, Peterborough taking its inning first. They scored 144 runs by careful playing, the chief scores being Ray 40, Logan 22, Macdonnel 21, Rogers 18 and Stratton 10. The visitors are at their first innings as the EXAMINER goes to press.

FOR LOVE OF THE GAME.

In order to afford a stimulus to compiling double figure cricket scores Mr. W. J. Green, merchant tailor, and an active member of the celebrated Buffer-Duffer organization of last summer, offers a prize of a fine hat to the Peterborough batsman making the largest average score in their matches with the Seabrights, Hamiltons and Torontos—to-day, Monday and Thursday.

Sporting Notes.

PORT HOPE, Aug. 9th.—The following is the score of the Seabright v. Port Hope cricket match:—Port Hope, 1st innings, 109; Seabright, 1st innings, 120; Port Hope, 2nd innings, 32. Seabright won by 9 wickets.

A game of baseball was played in Port Hope yesterday between Whitby and Port Hope, resulting in a victory for the home team by 12 to 6.

Yesterday (Thursday) was the regular day for the rifle practice of the Association, but the butts could not be used. Next Thursday, Civic holiday, a good practice will be put in to make up for lost time.

—The Lindsay Warder says:—Mr. W. Braden, who for some years has made an excellent quality of ginger ale and soda water here, has purchased a farm at Selwyn, on the shore of Chemong lake, in Peterborough. He took his effects down by steamer and scow on Tuesday. "Good luck," is the wish of all.

Successful.

It is often asked, "How is it that H. S. Griffin & Co. have been so successful in building up a first-class trade in such a short time." Strict attention to business, buying in the best markets, and keeping a superior class of Goods is the secret. Mr. Griffin's brother is at present visiting the English and French Markets, and shipping to H. S. Griffin & Co. the choicest goods that can be procured for their trade. A BRUTAL MURDER.

Bradyapps Result of the B.C.R.R. Ballast at E. of Tecumseh With an Iron Wrench.

ESSEX CENTRE, Aug. 10.—A beastly affray occurred here at 5 o'clock Wednesday night. The particulars are as follows: The affair was between James Drummond, proprietor of a livery stable at Harrow, a village about fifteen miles from here, and Daniel Brault, a brakesman on a branch of the Michigan Central running to Amherstburg from here. The two, who were both under the influence of liquor, got into a quarrel and, after using abusive language to each other for a short time, Drummond walked into the American Hotel, in front of which the row occurred, and, picking up a heavy iron wrench, walked out and struck Brault a blow on the head, knocking him senseless. He was immediately carried into the hotel and medical aid procured. He remained unconscious until 6 o'clock yesterday morning, when he died. Both men have families, and are very quiet when sober. Drummond was immediately arrested and placed in the lock-up.

FIRE BRIGADES AND BANDS.

St. Kitts' Gala Day—Winners in the Various Competitions.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 9.—The opening day of the firemen's tournament has proved a gratifying success. There were about 500 firemen in the procession which comprised in addition to the bands, hook and ladder and hose companies from Merritton, Dunnville, Niagara Falls, Oshawa, Thorold, Smithville, Beamsville, Caledonia, Westfield (N.Y.), Tonawanda (N.Y.) and Dunkirk (N.Y.)

In the hook-and-ladder race Grimsby and the Phœnix boys of Caledonia were tied for first money, $75, in 44 seconds, the Cataracts of Niagara Falls making the run in 44½ seconds. Rather than run over for first money the Grimsby and Caledonia teams decided to accept first and second money, and it was accordingly divided between them.

The Protection Hose Company of Thorold carried off the purse of $100 in the hose reel race in 56 seconds, Dunnville second in 60½ seconds.

The Dominion Organ and Piano Company Band of Bowmanville was victorious in the first class band competition with 693 points, the Massey Manufacturing Company's Band of Toronto being a close second with 680 points. The third competing band was from Thorold, Ont.

The Walkerton Band Tournament.

WALKERTON, Aug. 10.—The competition at the second day of the band tournament yesterday resulted as follows: County bands—Hanover, first prize, $100; Durham, second, $50; Kincardine, third, $25. Second class bands—Brampton, first, $150; Port Perry, second, $100; Listowe, third, $50. The competition between Brampton and Port Perry was keen, the former winning by only one point.

MAXWELL TO HANG TO-DAY.

How the Murderer of Freiler Received the News—An Affecting Interview.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9.—Governor Morehouse has refused to grant a further respite in the Maxwell case. The news was conveyed to the condemned man by his confessor, Father Fehan. Maxwell blanched and his lips trembled, but he soon recovered. Mrs. Brooks, mother of the condemned and Miss Brooks, his sister, had learned of the result at Jefferson City. They asked to be permitted to go within the screen to meet the son and brother and the request was granted.

When they reached the cell Mrs. Brooks rushed into Maxwell's arms and embraced him warmly, kissing him twice and crying out; "Oh! my poor hunted boy!" Then the sister embraced the doomed brother. Both ladies were in tears but endeavored to hide their emotion. Maxwell was deeply affected and for a time lost control of himself but soon rallied and presented an undisturbed exterior. In response to a question he said he would like to see his father before he died. When Mrs. Brooks and her daughter departed it was with the understanding that they were to be granted another meeting with the condemned man.

There was a great crowd in and about the jail and intense interest was manifested.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

BANKRUPT STOCK EMPORIUM, No. 3 COX'S BLOCK, GEORGE ST.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

AN AUSPICIOUS OPENING

THE JULY STATEMENT OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

An Increase in the Former of over $600,000 and a Decrease in the latter of nearly $ 250,000.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—The statement of revenue and expenditure for the fiscal year ended June 30, made up to July 31, shows the total receipts on account of the consolidated fund to have been $38,143,991 and expenditure $35,539,191, leaving an apparent surplus of $604,800; but the accounts for the year are not yet closed and these figures will no doubt be considerably changed when the final balance is struck.

The new fiscal year opens most auspiciously, the revenue and expenditure for July being as follows:

Customs	$1,713,812
Excise	531,184
Postoffice	180,000
Public Works (including railways)	318,000
Miscellaneous	58,755
Total revenue	$2,807,337
Expenditure	2,539,727
Surplus	$267,610

This is an unusual showing for July, as, on account of the semi-annual payment of subsidies to the provinces being made in advance of the first of this month and over $1,000,000 interest falling due, the month generally shows an excess of expenditure over receipts of from $500,000 to $750,000. Last year the shortage on the first month was $569,504.

The increase in revenue over the same month last year are:

Customs	$176,105
Excise	145,011
Public Works	260,204
Miscellaneous	29,276
Total	$610,596
Postoffice (decrease)	10,340
Net revenue (increase)	$600,256
Expenditure (decrease)	236,857
Total	$837,113

A net increase in revenue of over $600,000 and a decrease in expenditure of nearly $250,000 is a sufficiently satisfactory showing for the first month of the fiscal year.

To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain notice of W. D. Perley's being called to the Senate.

E. A. Booker, President of the Cracker Fertilizer and Chemical Company of Buffalo, N.Y., is here examining Canadian phosphates with a view to utilizing this fertilizer on the works at Buffalo.

It is stated that Gen. Middleton has decided to appoint a board of inquiry to examine into the guards difficulty.

Business Sluggish.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number for the United States 205 and for Canada 28, or a total of 233 as compared with 216 last week and 221 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the failures numbered 180, being 151 in the United States and 29 in Canada.

MAXWELL AND LANDGRAF.

The Two Murderers Hanged at St. Louis—Scenes at the Scaffold.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11.—At a few minutes before 11 o'clock Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, the murderer of Charles Arthur Preller, fell asleep in his cell at the jail and rested quietly until 2 o'clock. He then awoke and sat up, looking haggard and fully realizing the fate that awaited him. A ray of hope was brought to him by his attorney, John P. Martin, who received a telegram from his partner at Jefferson City saying that the British Minister at Washington had sent a telegram to the Governor asking a respite. At an early hour in the morning Brooks gave to the press this address:

TO THE PEOPLE OF ENGLAND:

My English countrymen will doubtless remember the great boasts that have now and at all times been made by the American people in regard to the fair and just way in which they treat all people. I am satisfied that you are not acquainted with the unlawful, unjust and unfair way in which I have been treated, since you are accustomed in England to see justice administered impartially in the courts. An examination of the courts in my case will show that the prosecution resorted to every unfair means in their power—even to crime itself, for they procured a check to be forged, had the man arrested who presented it, and placed him in jail, and afterward the prosecution placed him on the witness stand to testify. His evidence was a tissue of lies from one end to the other. In fact, upon the witness stand, he said he would lie as far as he considered necessary, and the prosecution said in open court that they had paid $50 for said services. This is one specimen of the boasted American justice. This is only one of the means used by the prosecution and, had I time, I could give you numbers of them. The trial has been denounced as a travesty on and a miscarriage of justice by the leading lawyers here. Proof that one of the jurors said he was going on the jury to convict was presented to the Governor. The British Government interfered and requested an inquiry, but it was refused by Gov. Moorehouse on the ground that he had no right to grant it, and upon the fact as to the prejudiced juror, which we laid before the Governor, he said that the fact did not amount to anything. So I am made to suffer the penalty of the law without having a fair trial as is guaranteed to everyone by the state constitution. The prosecution states in the papers that the Governor ought to disregard the request of Great Britain on the ground that I was an Englishman, and that Great Britain had taken no notice of the United States interfering in the O'Donnell case tried at the Central Criminal Court. HUGH M. BROOKS.

A 8.47 Sheriff Harrington proceeded by a detail of police, entered the inner yard of the jail, and the Sheriff entered Brooks' cell, where he and Landgraf had been placed together, and announced that the final moment had arrived. Brooks paled and pulled his finger nervously. His was the first death warrant read and he stood up and heard his doom calmly. While his arms were being pinioned Brooks bit his lower lip and gulped several times. Landgraf received the warrant and pinioning as stolidly as a man well could. The procession to the scaffold was then formed, Father Ethan walking between Brooks and Landgraf, preceded by Sheriff Harrington and his deputies, and followed by the police, reporters and witnesses. As Brooks passed through the inner yard he walked firmly but slowly. There was a wonderful change from the apparently unconcerned man puffing a cigarette and the one en route to his death. His face looked pinched and drawn, of ashen hue, and his eyes were swollen. He glanced about him pitiously, his lips twitched and his appearance was calculated to awaken the pity of even those who were finally convinced that he ought to die. Landgraf looked and moved like a log, with a half smile and half sneer on his face. There was no time lost in reaching the scaffold, which the condemned ascended without assistance. Father Ethan read the prayers. Brooks was then asked if he had anything to say, and in an almost inaudible tone responded "No." Landgraf merely shook his head. The black caps were being drawn when Landgraf slipped backward, but promptly recovered. There was an awful look of despair on Brooks' face as the cap hid it from view and his knees showed weakening. The nooses were adjusted quickly and at 8.56 the drop fell. Landgraf never moved nor did a muscle twitch. Not so with Brooks; when he fell his breast heaved convulsively and his limbs were drawn upward while the spectators were shocked by a stream of blood pouring down the right side of his coat, which was afterwards found to have been caused by a cut on the nose inflicted by the rope in some way. Landgraf was pronounced dead in 11½ minutes. Brooks' struggles continued for 14 minutes, when he, too, was pronounced dead by the attending physicians. Landgraf was cut down at 9.12, Brooks at 9.15. The bodies were removed to the morgue and photographed, after which the post mortem was commenced. It was stated by the physicians that the neck of each man was broken.

Henry Landgraf was hanged for killing his sweetheart, Annie Tisch, in a fit of jealousy.

The history of Brooks' crime is well known.

THE FORESTERS CONVENTION.

A Busy Day in the High Court and Important Business Transacted.

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—At the session of the Foresters' High Court yesterday, these officers were elected: High Court Ranger—A. A. Milne, Kingston; High Vice-Chief Ranger—A. H. Backhouse, Aylmer; High Secretary—J. B. Halkett, Ottawa; High Treasurer—T. G. Davy, London; High Physician—John McConnell, M.D., Toronto; High Counsellor—W. R. Hickey, Bothwell; High Auditors—James Watt and David Miller, Toronto; High Chaplain—Rev. W. Walsh, Ottawa; H.J.S.—Thomas Lawless, Hamilton; H.S.W.—T. Moore, Kingston; H.J.W.—H. Pratt, London; H.S.D.—A. G. Pittaway, Ottawa; H.J.—Dr. Oronhyatekha, London; H. Marshall—Geo. Spence, Cobourg; H. Conductor—W. Heaney, Hamilton.

The Committee on the State of the Order presented their report. It informed the convention that during the year the association had prospered greatly. The increase during the twelve months ending June 30, 1887, was 4341. This was thought to be very large, but the increase for the twelve months ending June 30, 1888, was 5889. The death rate for the year was only 5½ per thousand of the membership. The order was congratulated upon its healthy financial condition. At the present there was $100,000 in the treasury.

A motion to ask the Supreme Court to change their next place of meeting from Thousand Island Park to Kingston was carried.

The convention adjourned about midnight.

Grand Lodge I.O.O.F.

BARRIE, Aug. 10.—The annual session of the Grand Lodge I.O.O.F. concluded its labors to-day. In addition to the officers elected yesterday the following were appointed: Grand Marshal, Thos. Colby, Toronto; Grand Conductor, J. A. Young, Thamesford; Grand Chaplain, Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, Bradford; Grand Guardian, John Turner, Chatham; Grand Herald, A. W. Cameron, Ottawa.

THE WORLD OF LONDON

LORD SALISBURY'S MANSION HOUSE SPEECH.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—In the House of Lords to-day, Lord Salisbury moved the second reading of the Parnell Commission Bill. In recent years, he said, the agitation in Ireland had gone on two parallel lines; one party professed to act constitutionally, the other party was connected with crime, intimidation, mutilation and murder. These organizations had been professedly a part, but they worked for the same ends. They had the same friends and enemies, and injured the same persons. An impression had arisen that they were really not so far apart as they seemed to be, and that there was complicity or a connection between them. The Times had published that opinion and supported it by an array of apparent facts. This excited a scandal as a breach of privilege of the House of Commons, which body refused to treat it as such, or to enter into a conflict with the press. Still it was desirable that means be provided to dissipate the scandal. Ordinarily, people accused of complicity tried to clear themselves legally, but the gentlemen incriminated refused to take that course, although the Government offered them every assistance in its power. The matter was allowed to rest until the O'Donnell trial, which changed the scandal from resting merely on newspaper statement to a statement made by responsible counsel in a court of justice. Still the gentlemen incriminated did not seek redress, alleging that they distrusted British juries. If they thought they could not obtain justice in England they could have sued in Ireland, but instead of adopting that course they reiterated their demand for a committee of the House of Commons. The Government considered the House incapable of furnishing an impartial tribunal where so much personal and political feeling was involved and thought it better to again resort to an inquiry by a commission, a course which had proved successful in cases of the Board of Works, the Sheffield outrages and the charges of corruption.

Baron Herschell (Lib.) indignantly repudiated Lord Salisbury's insinuation upon his (Herschell's) late colleagues for having taken in the House of Commons a course which, holding the views they did, they were bound to take. The Commission Bill was unfortunate in its origin, scope and object, and in the incidents connected with its passage through the House of Commons.

Vienna Pessimists.

VIENNA, Aug. 10.—The newspapers of this city do not share Lord Salisbury's hope of the maintenance of peace. They consider his reference to Russia and Bulgaria as subtle irony.

Another M.P. Convicted.

DUBLIN, Aug. 10.—James O'Kelly, journalist and member of Parliament, was to-day convicted at Boyle, of making speeches inciting to intimidation and boycotting and sentenced to four months' imprisonment without hard labor.

A Conservative Elected.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The election in West Derby division of Liverpool to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Lord Claude Hamilton (Con.) resulted in the return of William Henry Cross, (Con.)

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Swindling Italian in Court—A Novel Christian Institute.

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—At the Police Court yesterday morning Alonzo De Santi, a wierd-looking Italian charged with obtaining money from his gullible countrymen by sending them to work where there was no work, was remanded a week that further inquiries as to the extent of his fraudulent operations might be made.

Esplanade Constable Williams and a party of men have searched the north shore of the Island for the body reported to have been seen yesterday by Captain Armstrong, of the Ella Murton, but without success.

Another phase of the plumbers' strike was developed yesterday, when the plasterers and lathers employed on a building in course of erection on Yonge-street quit work because "scab" plumbers were started to work.

On July 12 a man named William Lee assaulted his wife in Nelson-street west so brutally that she was supposed to be dying, and Justice of the Peace Love took her deposition. She recovered and her husband was found guilty of aggravated assault and sent to jail for two months in default of paying a fine of $50. Yesterday, although his term had not expired, he was removed from the jail to his mother's residence on Claremont-street in a dying condition. He was seized with an apoplectic fit on Thursday night and is still unconscious. His wife is in the hospital.

On Sept. 1 will be opened in this city a novel Christian Institute, the gift to unsectarian Christians of Mr. Wm. Gooderham at a cost to him of $30,000. Nothing secular nor proceeds of bazaars, concerts or other entertainments will ever be associated with it.

A $10 Confederate note was successfully passed on a west end tax gatherer on Thursday.

Parkdalians are having a laugh at the expense of ex-Reve McMath, who accepted a bogus $2 from a young man who wanted a license to marry.

Monday will be Toronto's civic holiday.

The Big Raft.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 10.—The monster raft from Joggins, N.S., passed this harbor at 9.30 o'clock this morning. It was going three miles an hour.

The Davey Family Again.

OSWEGO, Aug. 10.—Young Will Davey, who is at present awaiting his trial for burglary and grand larceny in the jail here, and who a few nights ago left that institution without making his adieu to the officers who assisted in returning him to incarceration, belongs to a family formerly domiciled at Campbellford. His sisters will be remembered as the two girls arrested in St. Paul, while attired in male habiliments. Lillie recently turned up in Hamilton, and was sent to the penitentiary for a term for vagrancy.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

Lord Salisbury's Speech in the House of Lords on its Second Reading.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Lord Salisbury, usually the most cautious and even pessimistic in his views of foreign affairs, has suddenly become confident of peace. The object, he declared yesterday in the Mansion House, of all the rulers of the world is to secure uninterrupted peace. Even Bulgaria promises peace, at least so far as external appearances go. Lord Salisbury's words on this ever-burning Bulgarian question are remarkable, and many even hint at a new understanding between the great powers. The principal statesmen of Europe are beginning to think that the best thing to do with Bulgaria is to leave it alone. He answers for England, an assurance which will delight the soul of Lord Randolph Churchill, who indeed may claim Lord Salisbury as a convert; he answers, though less positively, for Germany and Austria. He hopes that this let-alone policy will suit Russia, as he has the right to after M. de Giers' declaration that Russia has washed her hands of Bulgaria, though of this Salisbury makes no mention. By way of encouraging her to persevere in this path of doing nothing, he pays a handsome compliment to Russian valor and Russian policy. Hopes, too, spring in his mind from the recent interview between the Emperor of Russia and the German Emperor, whom Lord Salisbury persists in calling the Emperor of Germany, which he is not. His speech will be hailed all over Europe as an assurance against any fresh disturbances of the eternal eastern question at present.

One black spot Lord Salisbury left untouched—France. None of the recent French news is good. The strikes which at first were thought local are extending, and with them the spirit of disorder. Yesterday's performances in Paris are more or less disquieting because the riots at Gen. Eude's funeral were carried on in remote quarters, and ended in no loss of life.

Paris is seething with reckless discontent. It is the attitude of the ministry which is reassuring. Floquet has been counted on by the communists not as a partisan of disorder, but as likely to tolerate demonstrations sure to end in disorder. They have found out their mistake. The police were handled yesterday with as much firmness as if Ferry, not Floquet, had been prime minister. Troops would have been used if wanted. The mob has another much-needed lesson to think over.

France, moreover, is trying to make trouble at Massowah, where she has no interests to protect and no apparent object but to thwart Italy. Her jealousy of Italian influence in the east is ever acute. But a note of warning comes from Berlin.

The Parnell Commission Bill passed the third reading yesterday, but not without some slight amendment in the interest of Mr. Parnell and his friends.

Labouchere bestowed his final blessing upon the measure, which he calls "The Times' protecting bill."

Sexton, in a few effective sentences, announced that the Irish members would neither support nor oppose the third reading. They walked out and the minority of 66 against the bill was composed entirely of Gladstonians.

Other Irish matters fill even a larger space for the moment. What Lord Salisbury said on Ireland at the Mansion House was brief, but included the interesting statement that within twelve months boycotting cases have diminished from 4800 to 1200.

The Ridley inquest brought O'Brien once more to the front as a martyr. He told Ridley that he was firmly convinced he had been taken to Tullamore to be buried alive there and be murdered. There was some cross-examination about O'Brien's famous suit of clothes, but how they were smuggled into prison is a mystery. O'Brien's evidence as a whole was to the effect that Dr. Ridley treated him as kindly as he dared, but that Dr. Ridley, the governor of the jail and other prison officials were all in terror of the prison board at Dublin.

Chamberlain, according to one of his Birmingham friends, sent yesterday to The Times for publication the promised correspondence with Parnell. Nothing, however, appears this morning.

The naval operations are beginning to arouse the British public. Now that the blockade has been broken, both at Beerhaven and Loughswilly, the British posts are being carried, British seaports captured, and British commerce in danger. The fact that the capturing fleet is British this time only modifies the alarm. The point is that fleets of superior force have failed to seal up the fleets they were blockading. The argument is that they would equally fail in preventing the escape of French fleets in time of war. Greenock, Aberdeen, Hartlepool and a dozen other towns have fallen; London itself is supposed to be in peril. Meantime part of the pursuing fleet has arrived at Plymouth, and part is disabled. The manœuvre by which Admiral Tryon broke the blockade is thought by naval experts extremely clever. G. W. SMALLEY.

The Fisheries Debate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Frye gave notice that on Monday he would move to go into open executive session immediately after the morning business and so from day to day next week until a conclusion was reached in the Fisheries Treaty. Mr. Call, who was to speak on the treaty, said he was not prepared to do so to-day and suggested that the matter go over to Monday, which was agreed to.

NATIONAL PROVIDENT INSURANCE.

After a somewhat lengthened deliberation, a Select Committee of the English House of Commons has issued a report on the subject of National Insurance. It contains a vast amount of evidence, although the inquiry practically narrowed itself into an examination of one particular scheme—Canon Blackley's. The Committee have been unable to recommend its adoption, and for the present at least, compulsory insurance is not likely to be accomplished in Britain. It may be well to refer briefly to the proposals made upon the subject, and to give a short resume of the reasons why the scheme was rejected.

It is, of course, every man's duty to make a proper provision against want and sickness in old age, and this duty is very grossly neglected in England, as it is also in other countries. Now, the promoter of a plan for provident insurance of the nation, assumes 1) that if men can make their own provision for the future, and will do so, they should be shown how; and (2) if they can and will not they should be compelled. It ought, perhaps, to be admitted that men should be compelled to do their duty, but then it does not follow that that compulsion must be a legal one and applied by the State. There are such things as moral suasion and the pressure of natural laws. But the compulsion which this scheme of insurance advocated is one of the most drastic kind.

Here are some of its features:

1. A national friendly society or club was to be started under the guarantee of the State, to which every inhabitant was to be compelled to contribute.

2. This national club would require a fixed payment of, say £10, by each earner of wages at the age of 17. This payment might be spread over a period of years and the benefits were to consist of eight shillings per week in sickness up to seventy, and four shillings [per week pension after that age. The work of the club was to be performed by the post office.

The promoter of this scheme anticipates great advantages from its adoption. He assumed that it would not cost a shilling of public money, and says that in the course of a generation it would necessarily abolish the improvidence, which is the curse and unchecked, must become the ruin of the English nation. He also claims that such a system of national insurance would give to every man a direct personal money interest in the public weal, and in the stability of our institutions. It would make a pauper in sickness or old age impossible to find, and rates for the support of such unnecessary for evermore. It would very greatly diminish English poor-rates which now amount to eight millions of pounds sterling per annum.

Such an ambitious programme is very enticing, indeed the advantages the promoter claims could hardly be greater if he contemplated the abolition, through it, of all enforced idleness from want of work. The abolition of pauperism, the freedom from care which the masses of the people would henceforward experience are such inestimable blessings, one wonders the committee could have rejected the plan if there were any reasonable chance of its being succes-fully carried out.

The English statesmen and philanthropists who created the poor-law system of the old country thought they had solved the problem of pauperism. They effected their work in Queen Elizabeth's reign. By giving to every indigent person the right to claim relief and by imposing upon every property owner the duty of contributing to the support of the indigent, they imagined pauperism would be made impossible. After 300 years experience of this law, English writers and statesmen admit freely, that in proportion to the population, pauperism is greater n England than in any other country. These law-makers appear to have had good ground for their action. They said in effect, we are not encouraging habits of idleness, because no man in his senses will claim relief as long as he is able to work. During the active portion of his life he will be a contributor to the rates, so that in sickness and old age he will only be receiving back what he formerly contributed to the fund.

Yet this law, correct as these assumptions appear, has miserably failed to accomplish what its promotors hoped. Of course everybody knows the reason. It is simply that the poor-law does not make any allowance for the weakness of character of a large section of society. The lazy and improvident yield to the temptation held out to them by the poor-law. The moral fibre is weakened. They know they have a legal right to claim relief to a far larger extent than their own contributions to the rates, and they claim it to their own injury. Precisely the same thing would be effected by any plan of national insurance. The enforced contribution of £10 would not provide for the promised benefits. The scheme would simply mean taxing the rich for the benefit of the poor—a species of socialism which no socialist would accept. It would weaken the moral fibre of the masses, discourage thrift and cause men to lean less on their own exertions than on the resources provided by others.

The old dictum that "the State should never be called upon to do for the individual what he can do himself," is not so very far astray. State interference at any rate should never diminish self-reliance. Thrift depends upon habits with which it is not the function of Government to interfere. People cannot be made sober or provident by Act of Parliament. A partial scheme of national insurance has been tried in Germany, but its irregular application has taught us nothing. New Zealand adopted it, but abandoned it again, owing to the excessive cost. Such a system would injure the existing friendly societies. These societies are a noble monument, erected with many tears and much toil, of the intelligence, patience and power of self denial of the working classes. It would be wrong to interfere with their work.

To exercise supervision in the administration of sick pay claims, so that they would be faithfully and honestly met, and to prevent "malingering," would be an utter impossibility. On these, and for other reasons, the committee have decided against the proposal for a national provident insurance society. They sum up their objections to it by saying it is neither politic nor practicable, and close their report by declaring that "the proposal for compulsion, which is an essential part of the scheme, is a proposal which is open to very strong objections;" that "there is no proof that this scheme, according to which the employer would hand over a large part of the insurance money without any personal effort on the part of the wage-earner, would teach habits of thrift;" that "it might, it is to be feared, work in the opposite direction;" that the scheme is not one for enabling working people to be insured with their own money alone, but is dependent for its success upon the enforced contributions of those members of the community that are not wage-earners, some of whom could ill afford such contributions, and would receive no benefit from them;" and with regard to the payment of the 10*l.* that—

"Among the poorest class so many exceptions would have to be made in the case of both woman and men, that the scheme would to a great extent fail to benefit many of those who at present add very largely to the pauperism of the country."

THE JARVIS-CAMPBELL SCANDAL.

The Principals Once More on Canadian Soil—Living in a Hotel at Windsor.

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—About three weeks ago high society in Canada was shocked by the escapade of two members of the upper ten—the elopement of George Jarvis, son of the late Sheriff Jarvis, of Toronto, with Madeline Campbell, the wife of a well-known Torontonian. The woman left a husband and the man a wife and children, and came across the border landing at Cleveland. They soon found they had made a mistake, for they were arrested and jailed and stood a fine chance of being convicted of a serious offence and suffering the penalty therefore. However they secured their liberty on bail, and took the first opportunity to leave for parts unknown.

After his very unsatisfactory experience with Cleveland, Justice Jarvis concluded to get back to the Dominion, Accordingly some ten days ago he landed in Windsor, and has been living there quietly with Mrs. Campbell ever since. Up to yesterday afternoon they had been staying at the Crawford House, but after dinner yesterday they moved over to the Manning House. On the register is inscribed "G. Wilkie and wife, Boston." Inquiry at the Crawford House elicited the information that the pair had left there of their own free will and had settled in full, that no fault was found with them or their behavior. At the Manning House nothing was known of the pair. A reporter called at the Manning House last night, and sent a request for an interview with Jarvis. It was early in the evening, but Jarvis sent word that he had retired and could not see anybody until the morning.

Jarvis has been recognized by several residents of Windsor, and is fully aware that his identity is discovered. To an acquaintance whom he recently met face to face, he said he had no excuses to make and didn't intend to go home. His wife's people had not treated him well, he said, and he wanted no more to do with them. He intended to remain in Windsor until he got his property straightened out and then he proposed going to Europe. His father is dead, but the estate is not yet settled up. When it is, Jarvis will come into for about $100,000, on which he expects to live right royally. Jarvis is receiving financial help from friends in Toronto.

Two Babes Burned to Death.

KINGSTON, Aug. 4.—A very sad calamity befell the Evans family, who live at the back part of Verona. Yesterday, while Mrs. Evans was away some quarter of a mile, milking, she left two children in the house, aged 3 and 5 years. On returning in the course of about fifteen minutes, to her horror she found the two children by the bed, on the floor, burned to death. It is supposed they got some matches to play with, hence the fire.

A Little Boy Drowned in a Cistern.

WELLAND, Ont., Aug. 4.—The five-year-old son of Mrs. Topp, of Brookfield, was found drowned in the cistern yesterday. The "John Powers" mentioned in another columns as having been sentenced to 18 months in the Central Prison for larceny, is not the John Powers who boards at Clancy's and who some years ago was in the employ of Mr. Jos. Market Items.

Economical housewives rolled up their eyes and uttered an ejaculation of surprise when they priced butter and eggs this morning. Twenty-five cents was the ruling price for butter and 16c. for eggs—quite a rise since last Saturday. There was a large market to-day. Apples sold at $1 per bag and potatoes 25c. per peck or $1.25 per bag. Garden vegetables were offered in abundance, tomatoes 50c. a peck, corn 15c. a dozen, cucumbers 10c. a dozen, cabbages 10 and 5c. a head and so on.

A French Feeder

St. Paul's church organ requires more wind than the bellows at present in use can conveniently carry, and Jackson & Co., organ and piano manufacturers, corner Simcoe and Aylmer streets, have undertaken to supply the deficiency. They have built a large bellows with French feeders, the first of the kind yet introduced in Canada. It is the largest bellows in town, and will supply more wind with only half the engine work of the old one. The bellows is of a peculiar model and built to give a steady, strong pressure without jarring. It will be put in St. Paul's church organ next week, but will for a few days yet be on exhibition at the warerooms, where Mr. Jackson will be found ever ready to explain its principle to visitors.

Grand Lodge at Barrie.

The remainder of the local delegates to the Grand Lodge meeting at Barrie, returned home at noon to-day in company with the delegates from other points east. Dr. R. W. Bell, Deputy Grand Master and Grand Master-elect for 1889-90, returned home with them. Dr. Bell occupies the unprecedented dual position of being actually elected and installed Deputy Grand Master and practically Grand Master. No other being in nomination, he was declared by the chair duly elected to the latter office, the highest position in the Order, which, it is understood, he will assume in August of 1889. This extraordinary occurrence has been brought about by the entire change in the constitution in electing Grand Officers. The EXAMINER will on some other occasion deal more fully with the matter, which will be of peculiar interest to all Oddfellows.

Heavy Losses from Bush Fires.

Notwithstanding the recent heavy rainfall, says the Norwood Register, the bush fires in this section of the country still continue to rage. About four miles northeast of Norwood the fires are devastating the country. Thousands of dollars worth of valuable timber, standing crops, barns, dwelling houses, cattle, etc., have been destroyed. Between Rotten and Round Lakes, in the townships of Dummer and Belmoat, some five or six square miles have been laid waste. Excessive bush fires are also raging in the township of Methuen and Douro. In this latter township, Mr. John Dwyer, jr., had one horse, one buggy, one wagon, several sets of harness, a barn and thirty acres of fall wheat destroyed. In Dummer the fires have been unusually destructive. Mr. David Kelly, had eleven head of cattle burned so badly that it will be necessary to shoot the majority of them. Mr. Jas. Morrison's dwelling house on the 12th concession was burned to the ground and a large quantity of rails consumed. Messrs. H. Mustard (12th con.), M. Hannon (10 con.), George Ross (10th con.) and C. Simpson (11th con.) have all suffered heavy losses. Mr. Ross had a number of out-buildings destroyed. Mr. Hannon had a large quantity of hay and sixteen acres of meadow consumed. Mr. Simpson has had over 1,000 rails burned. Quite a number of farmers in Belmont have also cut heavily.

Masonic Presentation.

Mr. James Alexander Presented With a Past Master's Jewel on the Eve of his Departure for Toronto.

At a joint meeting of members of Peterborough Lodge No. 155 A. F. & A. M, and Corinthian R. A. Chapter No. 36, Mr. James Alexander, who is about to leave Peterborough for Toronto, to assume a position in the wholesale firm of Messrs. S. F. McKinnon & Co., was presented with an address and a handsome Past Master's jewel. The presentation was made by Wor. Bro. H. Rush, on behalf of the brethren. The following is a copy of the address:

To Wor. Bro. James Alexander, Past Master Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, and Past Second Principal Corinthian R. A. Chap. No. 36:—

DEAR SIR AND BRO.—On the eve of your departure from Peterborough, your numerous Masonic friends and admirers take this occasion to have a few parting words with you, in order to give expression to our warm personal respect for you as well as to give voice to our general regret at having to take leave of you after so many years of pleasant intercourse.

Your career among us during the past twelve years, both as a brother Mason and a citizen of Peterborough, has attracted to you many warm friends and well wishers, who have had ample opportunity of attesting your qualities of character. We have admired your affability and frankness of manner, your fair-minded disposition, gentlemanly deportment, and intelligent zeal for the welfare of your brethren and companions; and it is these that have contributed so largely to knit us closely together, and render separation now so difficult to contemplate.

We congratulate you upon your removal to a new field of more active work, where your duties will open the way to improving your position in life, and trust that happiness and success may always attend you. Please convey to Mrs. Alexander our kindest regards, coupled with our earnest prayer that the rays of heaven may continue to shed their benign influence around you and your family.

As a souvenir from your Peterborough brethren and companions, and as a slight token of their personal regard for you, we ask you to accept this P. M. jewel, trusting you may be long spared to wear it.

(Signed) H. RUSH, W.M.,
(on behalf of Peterborough Lodge No. 155)
R. A. MORROW, First Prin. Z.,
(on behalf of Corinthian R. A. Chapter, No. 36).

The jewel referred to is a beautiful insignia of the rank of Masonic Past Masters, and is highly prized by such of the fraternity as are fortunate enough to be made the recipients of such a special mark of favour. It is skillfully engraved and elaborated, and bears the names and data appropriate to the occasion.

Mr. Alexander replied briefly and feelingly to the pleasant times he had enjoyed among the brethren in Peterborough, whose kind assistance and encouragement he had received on more than one occasion. He esteemed it an honor to be a Mason, and the jewel presented him would keep fresh in his memory the brethren of Peterborough who were honoring him.

Other gentlemen present made addresses regretting Mr. Alexander's departure, all referring in complimentary terms to his many good qualities as a Mason and a gentleman.

Tourists.

Last night a steam scow arrived at the Peterborough wharf with the following party aboard:—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Dennis, Cobourg; Mr. T. W. Jackson, Qu'Appelle; Mrs. Angus Morrison and Misses Ada and Alice McKellar, Toronto. While in town the visitors stopped at the Oriental. They have been cruising about Rice Lake on the scow, which is fitted with a cabin and propelled by steam, and ran up the Otonabee. They leave town to-night.

A Great Success.

The sale of A. McNeil's stock of Clothe, Tweeds and Gents furnishings which commenced on Thursday, has been a great success. The bargains are genuine, 50 cents for a dollars worth of goods catches every time. Willow and Wicket.

SEABRIGHTS VS. PETERBOROUGH.

There never was a more pleasant game nor a finer exhibition of good cricket than that which was given on the Ashburnham grounds on Friday. There was not a very large number of spectators present in the morning, but in the latter part of the day there was a large attendance, a fair proportion being ladies. Wickets were pitched at 10 o'clock, and Stratton and Montgomery faced the bowling. The latter had indifferent luck and was bowled after a very few balls. Stratton was joined by Logan, and these put together thirty-two runs Stratton retiring for 10. Ray coupled with Logan and before they dissolved partnership the score was run up to 72—Ray 40, Logan 22—got in good form. The rest of the team added good figures, McDonald's and Roger's being double—20 and 18 respectively—and the innings closed with the respectable total of 142. The fielding of the visitors was not quite up to the mark this innings, eleven extras having been allowed. The visitors' first innings only counted 81, of which Barton, by a nappy combination of good luck and good cricket, put together fifty. Absolom was sent in with Clarke but he was taken neatly in the slips for a "duck" by Rogers. The rest of the eleven tallied small, Butler (pro) with eleven being the only other man to get double figures. This small score was largely due to the excellent bowling and fielding of the home team, only one extra having been allowed to reach the score sheet. The field showed good form throughout. If they would always be like this in the field it would take an imported cricket eleven to beat them. The visitors' score being 63 runs short of a tie, a follow-on was necessary, and the Seabrights rather redeemed their credit having much better success in their second attempt, which altogether yielded 122. To this Absolom contributed 42 and Butler (pro) 25, though both these records are to be credited to bad play as well as good. While they were in they put a good deal of life—two or three each—into the game. Peterborough doesn't deserve any credit for its fielding in this innings, loose fielding preventing what was apparent in the beginning, a one-innings victory. A tally of 13 extras is an extra bad showing. Seabrights' total for the two innings was 63 short of a tie, and Sam sent in Stratton and Montgomery again and he picked his men well. For an hour and a half they gave the finest exhibition of cricket one could wish to see. The bowling was fresh and well on, while the fielding was sharp, and every run gained was well earned. Both batted beautifully and they were splendid types of the the defensive and aggressive style of batting. They played every ball and played it correctly, and neither gave the slightest chance. Montgomery's 17 and Stratton's 44 were the pure product of skill and the applied principles of scientific defence and attack. A pair of extras added to their scores made up the 63 needed, and both men retired, not out, a very few minutes before the time limit of play—6.30—was reached. They were heartily applauded on their splendid hon rand a half's work. The match throughout was a delightful one in every respect; no better day's cricket for both players and spectators was ever played on these grounds, and the home eleven got away with a strong and well balanced team when they defeated the Seabrights. The EXAMINER has contended that the boys have the stuff in them, if they will only develop it by practice, especially at fielding, the benefit of which was especially observable in the result of Friday's match. Following is the score:—

NOTES.

The ladies who accompanied the Seabrights stayed on the grounds throughout the match, one of them doing the scoring. They seemed to be well up in the points of play, knowing and applauding good work as they saw it.

This is the last place the Seabrights play in Canada. They return home from here. A few of them went out to Stony Lake this morning to remain with friends until Monday.

They are delighted with their trip, and they say the Peterboroughs gave them the best treatment and the best cricket they got on their tour.

The fielding of the home team in the first innings was excellent. "Dick" Rogers and "Jim" Montgomery deserve special mention—both made fine catches and sharp recovery of played balls.

This match drew a large attendance, and the spectators were delighted with the day's exhibition, which awoke a new interest in cricket, and it is probable that the bout with the Hamiltons on Monday will be an even more interesting match than the one played on Friday. The Hams are strong both on the crease and a-field, and a lively tussle may be looked for.

Lacrosse.

Next Friday night the Shamrocks and Y.M.C.A. lacrosse clubs play again on the P.A.A.A. grounds. This will likely be the last match this month of the Y.M.C.A. team; week after next nearly all the members will be away. The Lindsay, Port Hope, Norwood and Hasting matches cannot be played, it is expected, till September.

The Norwood Register, referring to the recent Norwood-Y.M.C.A. match, says:—"The Y.M.C.A.'s plays good lacrosse and are composed of a gentlemanly lot of fellows."

The Riverside-Ontario lacrosse match next Monday promises to be the best seen in town this year.

Sporting Notes.

The visit of the Wanderers' Bicycle Club, of Toronto, to-morrow it causing a stir among local wheelmen. The visitors will be given a good time.

At the regular weekly shoot of the Gun Club Friday the scores made were:—R. Tivey, 9; H. W. Kent, 9; H. Neil, 6; G. Miller, 4.

Cricketers' Convivium.

A Cold Spread in Honor of the Seabright Visitors.

Last night about 40 persons sat down to the tables spread in the Parlor Roller Rink by Mr. E. Welsh, caterer. The occasion was a wine supper in honor of the Seabright, N. Y., cricketers. The "spread" was all that could be desired, and a most jolly evening was spent. The guests were all there and helped to make the occasion the pleasant one it was. Dr. Geo. Burnham occupied the chair and Mr. H. T. Strickland the vice-chair. Prof. Doucet's orchestra supplied excellent music.

After the cloth had been "removed," so to speak, toasts and songs became the order of things.

To the "Queen" and the "President of the United States," the glasses were emptied and the orchestra played the National Anthem and "Yankee Doodle" for each toast respectively.

"The Professions," proposed by J. Hampden Burnham, was replied to by Dr. Kincaid and Mr. Beasley, of the Seabrights.

"Cricket," proposed by the vice-chairman, brought to their feet Messrs. Absolom, Clarke and Barton of the Seabrights, and Ray of the Peterborough club.

Other toasts followed, interlarded by music and songs, solos being rendered by Messrs. Shaw, Watson, Absolom, Barton and Macdonell, of the Bank of Montreal, the latter giving the magnificent song, "Mia Cara."

"The Ladies" were proudly championed by Messrs. W. A. Stratton and W. D. Parker.

The jolly proceedings were terminated about midnight, the American cricketers greatly pleased with the hearty reception they met with at the hands of the Peterborough "brethren."

Successful.

It is often asked, "How is it that H. S. Griffin & Co. have been so successful in building up a first-class trade in such a short time." The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE CARPENTERS' CODE.

PROGRESS OF THE MEETING OF THE BROTHERHOOD AT DETROIT.

June 1, 1890, Fixed for the Inauguration of the Eight Hour System—Election of Officers—The K. of L. Lecturers.

DETROIT, July 13.—The first business taken up by the national convention of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners at their session Saturday morning was the selection of a place for holding the next biennial convention. The contest was between Cincinnati and Chicago, and resulted as last in a victory for the latter city.

Cincinnati, however, was given the Grand President in the person of D. P. Rowland. Mr. Rowland was president of the Cincinnati local union for 2½ years and is one of the founders of the organization, having joined in 1882. The other officers are: First Vice-President, Henry Lloyd, Toronto, Ont.; Second Vice-President, Joseph S. W. Saunders, San Francisco, Cal.; Grand Secretary, P. J. McGuire, Philadelphia. The National Treasurer is elected by the local unions which exist within a ten-mile radius of the President's residence.

The afternoon and evening sessions were devoted to amendments to the constitution.

A resolution was adopted in this connection pledging the organization to make one concerted movement to establish eight hours as a day's labor, to take effect June 1, 1890, and soliciting the help of the American Federation of Labor to that end. This resolution was carried unanimously and the work of preparing the way for the success of the movement will begin at once.

The important changes in the constitution adopted during the day were all framed with a view to make strikes more effective, and empower the grand officers to extend immediate financial assistance in cases where the strike has been approved by them.

Knights of Labor Lecturers.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—James A. Wright of this city; C. A. Hall of Marshall, Tex.; A. W. Wright of the Labor Reformer, Toronto, Canada; and Morris L. Wheat of Colfax, Ia.; who were selected by General Master Workman Powderly to compose the travelling educational board of the Knights of Labor, have received final instructions from Mr. Powderly at the headquarters of the order in this city. The men were each given a certain territory to cover and will leave this city to-day to begin their labors, which will continue without interruption until November. It is the intention of the lecturers to make addresses to the public as well as to the assemblies. This will, it is thought, strengthen the membership.

A Californian's Double Crime.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Aug. 13.—Zachariah Field aged 55, fatally shot his young wife aged 20, then blew off the top of his own head with a shot from a Winchester rifle. His wife's relatives have been endeavoring to induce her to leave him which was probably the cause of the tragedy.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 13—Six converts to the Church of the Faith Cure Believers were baptized yesterday afternoon in Newark Bay.

SKIPPED WITH HIS CASH.

A MONTREALER MOURNS HIS WIFE AND HIS DUCATS.

Law and Order League—Detective McDiarmid in Custody—The Coughnawaga Murderer Captured—Another Firm Robbed by Their Customs Clerk.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—The wife of a boarding house-keeper in the east end of the the city, was considered by her husband to be too free with one of the boarders and he had her removed to Farnham. From there, however, she has skipped out taking $300 of her husband's money.

Captain John Beckingham of the Salvage corps, has taken an action for $5000 damages against La Monde, claiming that that paper stated he was an Orangeman.

Constable Hill arrested Law and Order League Detective McDiarmid last night under peculiar circumstances. While he was walking along the platform of the Bonaventure depot, a man who gave the name of Hugh Cameron rushed up to him and pointed at McDiarmid saying: "Arrest that man, he is armed." The constable said: "Go home, you are drunk." The man persisted that McDiarmid should be arrested but both Cameron and McDiarmid went up Windsor-street. A few minutes afterwards two shots were fired and the constable heard cries of "Murder." He rushed a short distance up the street and caught McDiarmid on the top of Cameron. He arrested McDiarmid, and shortly afterwards someone brought a 32-calibre revolver to the constable. When searched, McDiarmid was unarmed. He has a ticket in his pocket for Prescott and $25.53 in American money. To-day McDiarmid pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was given a private hearing by the Recorder. The prisoner's father explained that McDiarmid was leaving the city for the United States to-day and that his son had ceased to be a constable.

After thirty-one years of married life Dame C. Berthe aume, of this city has taken an action for separation as to bed and board against her husband, Oliver Gerard, and she has been granted leave to plead in forma pauperis. She alleges that at the marriage at St. Eustache in 1857 the only property that was brought into the community belonged to her. Since then her husband has disposed of this and appropriated the proceeds. She also alleges illtreatment, that she has been turned out of his house, and is compelled to seek refuge among strangers.

Benny, Macpherson & Co. of this city have just discovered that they have been the victims of extensive frauds in connection with custom house business and the handling of cash. A few years ago they took into their employ a young lad who quickly worked his way from a very subordinate position to the responsible one of customs clerk. Following the usual practice Benny, Macpherson & Co. in order to save delay were in the habit of giving their customs clerk a check for a round sum in excess of the probable actual amount of duty upon a consignment of imported goods. The firm now find that they have been systematically defrauded by their clerk of large sums of money that should have been returned to them. Later the young man was advanced to the position of cashier which he appears to have inaugurated a regular and most skillful system of falsification of his accounts and an audit just completed shows that during the six or seven years the clerk was in the service of the firm he defrauded them of some thousands of dollars. After the death of the clerk which occurred under unusually painful circumstances, it was made public that the deceased had left considerable property in real estate. Mr. Macpherson was greatly surprised and becoming suspicious ordered a cursory examination of the books. This brought to light sufficient evidence to warrant a strict audit being made, with the result that Mr. Macphersons' suspicions were verified. A settlement has been effected with the friends of the young man.

An unknown man, about 18 years old, was run over to-day by the Canadian Pacific Railway train at Longeuil Ferry and killed.

Word was received from Detective Trempe to-night that he had Angus Jacobs, the Caughnawaga Indian, in custody at Laprairie, having arrested him this evening at La Tortue. He will be brought to Montreal in the morning.

SIR GEORGE'S PLANS.

The Stephens Intend Spending Some Months of Each Year in Canada.

MONTREAL, Aug. 13.—Sir George and Lady Stephen leave Montreal this week for England via New York, not to return until next April. There is no truth in the rumor that they are leaving Canada forever. They intend spending some months of each year on this side and will keep their fishing lodge at Metis and a smaller house in Montreal. It is true, however, that Sir George is willing to sell his mansion here and there is already some talk of buying it as a residence for the Governor-General, who would then spend three months of the year in Montreal.

The Stephens will doubtless make their London house the centre of Canadian influence in England. Sir George is as actively interested as ever in the Canadian Pacific and will continue to devote his energies to its further development.

Canadians need not be surprised to hear of Sir George Stephen entering the British House of Lords at an early date.

After an absence of some thirty years Sir George will, this coming winter, visit his old Speyside home in Scotland.

Bowmanville High School Teachers.

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 11.—The board of Education this morning unanimously appointed Mr. M. M. Fenwick, M. A., principal of the Farmersville High School, to the position of head master of the high school here at a salary of $1300 and Mr. D. H. Coates, B. A., of the Bradford High School to the position of Mathematical master at a salary of $1000. There were thirty-three applicants for the two vacancies created by the resignations of Messrs. Tremblyn and Millar who have been appointed to similar positions at Whitby and Parkdale.

Drowned in a Cistern.

MT. FOREST, Aug. 11.—This morning Denis, the youngest child of Eugene Murphy, was drowned in a cistern belonging to F. McCulloch. Murphy's people had taken a board of the fence between the two yards in order to obtain water. The child had crept through the opening and fell into the cistern and had been in probably ten minutes when found. Life was extinct when found.

Sudden Death at Flesherton.

MARKDALE, Aug. 13.—Mr. T. H. Carr, lumber buyer for McCraney, McCool & Wilson, of Toronto, while assisting to load flat cars at Flesherton station, was suddenly seized with an attack of heart syncope and fell from the car to the ground so violently as to sustain a fracture of the skull. Death was instantaneous. He was unmarried. The body was sent home to Allandale. His age was about 38.

Denies the soft Impeachment.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 13.—Hon. M. Bowell who is spending a few days at the San Banks with his daughter, positively denies that he is to be married on the 15th to Mrs Stevenson, of Napanee. "It is true," he said to a confidential friend, "that I paid the lady some attention on the occasion of my last visit to that town, but the announcement of the wedding day has been made without my consent."

ROYAL CONVERT TO ROME.

RUMORED CHANGE OF FAITH OF A RELATIVE OF THE QUEEN.

Queen Natalie Shadowed by Detectives—The St. James' Gazette on the Presidential Campaign.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A Catholic newspaper announces that a Princess, a near relative of the Queen, has been converted to Romanism. The statement has aroused considerable curiosity as to the identity of the royal lady, and conjecture is pretty evenly divided as between the Princess Louise and the aged Duchess of Cambridge, though the latter is oftenest fixed upon as the person alluded to by the paper.

Queen Natalie of Servia is in Paris. She is constantly shadowed by detectives, presumably in the pay of King Milan, and a daily record of her movements is deposited at the headquarters of the police.

The St. James Gazette, in an article on the American Presidential campaign, sneers at Mr. Harrison as Mr. Blaine's dummy, and declares that the object of the contest so far as the Republicans are concerned is to hoist Blaine into power by false pretences.

Arrestments were served to-day upon The Edinburg News' agents for $20 each at the instance of Mr. Parnell in proceedings against the proprietor and printer of The Times. This action was taken for the purpose of founding jurisdiction in Scotland. The issuance of the arrestments is a practice in Scotch law to enable a foreigner to sue before Scotch tribunals, hence it is obvious that Mr. Parnell intends to prosecute The Times in the Scotch Courts. Mr. Parnell has retained Mr. J. B. Balfour, formerly Lord Advocate of Scotland and Mr. Asher, formerly Solicitor-General for Scotland, both in Mr. Gladstone's administration, to conduct his suit in the Scotch Courts against The Times. Mr. Strachan has been retained as junior counsel.

John Morley and Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt have consented to become Vice-Presidents of the Home Rule Union.

The Economist says that Lord Salisbury's declaration that the European situation seems to be more reassuring, has something to support it. As long as the private relations of Emperor William and the Czar are cordial some sort of guarantee for peace exists.

FATAL MISTAKE OF A NURSE.

A Toronto Woman Killed by a Dose of Carbolic Acid.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Fannie Hardy, 21 Tait-street, was the victim last evening of a terrible mistake made by the nurse who was attending her during illness. Mrs. Hardy has been ill during the last few days, and although not dangerously so, required constant attendance. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the nurse, intending to give her a dose of medicine prescribed by the attending physician, administered instead a dose of carbolic acid. Despite the efforts of several doctors who were speedily summoned the poor woman, after suffering intense agony died about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Hardy, who was a sister of Mr. Joseph Davis, assistant chief at the Portland-street Fire Hall, has left five children.

John Reilly was arrested about 8 o'clock on Saturday evening charged with breaking into the house of Mrs. Noverre, 224 Wellington-street. During the afternoon Mrs. Noverre had observed Reilly and two other men hanging around her house, and was suspicious of their movements. She lost sight of them as it grew dark but shortly afterwards was alarmed by a noise in one of the bedrooms. Going out to the street she met and informed P. C. Wilson, and that officer returned with her. A search revealed Reilly under a bed in the room where the noise had been heard.

Judge Morson passed his first criminal sentence Saturday morning, when he sentenced Jacob Hoey to the Central for a year for stealing a horse.

Another batch of imported plumbers reached Toronto Saturday and settled down to work, taking the places of strikers. The union are determined not to give in, but the bosses appear to have the best of the dispute.

The infant son of J. Kendrick died at York-street and on Saturday the door of the father's house was decked with crape. On Saturday night the meanest thief who haunts that section of the city came along and stole the crape off the door.

The Toronto Archbishopric.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—Dean O'Connor of Barrie, the highest Roman Catholic dignitary north of Toronto, will in all probability be the nominee of the Sacred College of the Propaganda for Toronto's vacant archbishopric. A western priest, who is high in the confidence of the Hierarchy told a reporter on Saturday that Dean O'Connor was the coming man, and of the three names sent to Rome his stood first.

MORE FARMERS COMING OUT.

Large Shipment of Pedigree Stock—Canadian Consul for Liberia.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Ninety adults, consisting of farm laborers and others, selected from the agricultural districts, have left Liverpool for farms at Balgonie, Sir John Lester-Kaye's Northwest colony. Forty more men will follow in a fortnight. The company intends to develop forthwith the Balgonie farm, which consists of 5,000.

The most important shipment of pedigree bulls ever sent to the North-west left Liverpool yesterday by the Lake Ontario, also destined for the Balgonie farm, including fifty Polled Aberdeen Angus, from noted herds; also fifty promising Galloway bulls from noted breeders. The opinion is expressed that the influx of such high-class stock into the North-west must hasten the portant export trade from the North-west to Britain in cattle and dairy products.

The Queen has approved of John Roch Thompson as Consul-General for Canada for the Republic of Liberia.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 13.—C. A. Mallory, reeve of Percy and warden of the united counties, is spoken of as the probable Reform candidate for the Legislature in East Northumberland.

IN THE WILD WEST.

Three Prominent Citizens of an Iowa Town Killed by a Desperado.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A special from Omaha, says: Late last night at Shenandoah, Iowa, Frank Gallup, a member of a rather tough family, began beating his aged father. So brutal was he that a number of citizens interfered when young Gallup fired into the crowd killing F. J. Tine. The unexpected shot and the dire consequences following it threw the citizens into confusion but they soon rallied and made an advance to the house whither Gallup had retreated. The young desperado soon appeared with two revolvers and opened a fusilade with deadly effect. The first man to fall was Dan. Campbell, who was shot through the neck and fatally wounded. The next victim was B. O. Rice, shot through the heart and dying instantly. T. H. Winfrey was the last man to drop with a bullet in his leg. In the meantime old man Gallup was shot through the shoulder but it is not known by whom.

Young Gallup returned to the house and began making preparations for an escape, when Mooney Fletcher fired a shot from a rifle which it was subsequently ascertained went through the desperado's body, killing him instantly. This latter fact was not known to the crowd until Gallup's wife cried out to the crowd to stop firing, that her husband was dead. The citizens fearing treachery called her out and giving her a rope told her to fasten it about her husband's neck. This she did and the wholesale murderer's naked body was dragged through the streets until it was fearfully mutilated. It was finally deposited on the floor of the City Hall, where it was viewed by hundreds of people during the day. Old man Gallup and his wife were arrested and lodged in jail. The two dead men, Tine and Rice, as well as the wounded, were prominent citizens.

A Dynamiter's Attempted Revenge.

WILKESBARRE, Pa, Aug. 13.—An attempt was made early yesterday morning to blow up the residence of Mr. Collier of Pittston. While he and his wife were asleep in an upper room a charge of giant powder was placed in a hole bored in a pitch pine log. The bomb thus prepared was placed on the front porch, leaning against the house, and fired with a fuse. The explosion tore away the porch, blew in the front of the house and tore down a fence 18 feet away. Beyond a severe shock the occupants of the house were uninjured. The duties of his position make Mr. Collier unpopular with the miners, and it is believed that some one of them thought to get revenge by killing him in this way.

HAMILTON, Aug. 12.—Rev. Mr. Belt, of Burlington has met with a painful accident. He was returning from the beach on the 7.30 train, and as it was passing under Barton-street bridge a stone crashed through the coach, and struck him on the face, inflicting a serious wound.

SUBSTITUTE FOR GRAIN RAISING.

Year after year the experience of Canadian farmers in grain raising becomes more and more unsatisfactory. The fact seems to be that excessive cropping has impoverished the soil, generally speaking, to such an extent that it is impossible to make grain-raising profitable. That farmers see this and act accordingly, some of them perhaps unconsciously, is shown by the fact of the large increase of the dairying industry in Ontario. In the northern portion of this province there are, as in the township of Harvey, vast tracts unfit for general agricultural operations, but excellently adapted for grazing, and, so far, not generally utilized. But if too much attention is given to the dairying industry, the competition will largely tend to depression in prices and a consequent decrease in profit. The industry of breeding stock for importation to Great Britain is not unpromising, and the trade only needs development, and the wearing away of insular prejudices to make it an important one to the Canadian land holder. The North-west is a formidable competitor in grain-raising, and the hope of Ontario is in her horses, cattle and sheep. Other countries succeed in the exportation of frozen meats, and why should not Ontario do likewise. To show how firmly the frozen meat trade is established in Great Britain, the following figures, representing the number of carcases imported for the past quarter of the present and three previous years may be submitted :—

From	1885	1886	1887	1888
Australia	26,826	2,264	22,206	16,133
New Zealand	97,436	155,974	126,397	203,013
River Plate	51,122	91,505	83,548	25,097
	176,106	249,743	244,511	250,325

This trade is already developed and there is nothing to prevent Canadians from joining in the benefits. Changes come slowly but the farmer must come to realise that, if cropping is to be done at all profitably, it is the cropping of his pastures by his live stock.

CROAKERS are fond of pointing to Great Britain as a sample of decay in commercial importance and national greatness, that she has ceased to be mistress of the sea, and that the day of her decay is dawning. But figures tell a far different tale, and give the lie to the claims of those Canadian protectionists, that say Free Trade is ruining Great Britain. She is still in the lead and her commerce shows gratifying expansion, showing her ability not only to maintain that lead but to increase it. The trade returns for the past six months of the present fiscal year show a decided improvement over those of the corresponding half year of 1887, as will be seen from a perusal of the following statement of British foreign trade for the first six months of 1888 commpared with the first six months of 1887 :—

Imports of merchandise	$348,648,535	$364,336,450
Exports :
British goods	$363,389,795	$521,479,795
Foreign and colonial goods	160,376,190	150,796,490
Total exports	$723,765,915	$672,275,940
Total values handled	$1,072,414,450	$1,036,611,735
Excess of imports over exports	$224,882,620	$292,059,855

THERE are already five applications for divorce published in the Canadian Gazette, the same to be heard during the next session of parliament at Ottawa. Four of them, viz., B. Rosamond, of Almonte, W. G. Lowry, of Carleton Co., G. M. Bagwell, of Hamilton, and W. H. Middleton, of Ottawa, are from husbands praying for release from alleged adulterous wives, and one, Eliza J. Nicol, nee Collins, from her husband, W. Bryans Nicol, of Toronto, for adultery, cruelty and desertion. If things go on at this rate, our Senate will ere long be kept busy with divorce cases alone.

IT seems to be very proper to call the C.P.R. the National Canadian Line, the link in the Imperial Federation chain, etc., for the railway was built largely with the people's money and it is able to serve Imperial interests without Imperial interests sacrificing a cent by way of expenditure; but it does seem to be a little out of order to have a native born and bred Yankee to be the president of the great National Canadian Line and Imperial Federation link.

THE population of the asylums on the 31st of July was as follows :—Toronto, 709 ; London, 904 ; Kingston, 681 ; Hamilton, 703 ; Orillia, 276 ; a total of 3,273, of which 1,638 are males and 1,635 are females.

THE Brockville Times asserts that "the fact that the newly appointed Cabinet Ministers are found fault with by the Grit press is in their favor," which is an admission that no politician can be too corrupt to make a good Tory Cabinet Minister.

No greater proof of the decadence of Sir John's judgment than the appointment of Lieutenant-Governor Dewdney to succeed a man like Hon. Thomas White as Minister of the Interior can be required.

RUSSIA'S ORIGINAL PROGRAM.

Touching Bulgaria to be Carried out—The Kaiser's Visit to Rome.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—It is stated on reliable authority that Russia adheres to her original program of ousting Prince Ferdinand from Bulgaria, excluding Prince Alexander and sending a Russian commissioner to restore diplomatic relations without interfering with internal affairs, preliminary to allowing the Bulgarians to elect any prince they think fit provided he be legally elected and a member of the Orthodox Church.

Herr Von Schloezer, German representative at the Vatican, has had several long interviews with Prince Bismarck during the week. The result of these conferences has not become known, though there are rumors that they have caused a hesitancy in completing the plans in the Kaiser's visit to Italy. It is stated in some quarters that the Kaiser's proposed visit has been abandoned but this is untrue. The Italian Government is arranging railway excursions from all parts of Italy in order to bring together a large concourse of people at the demonstrations in honor of the royal visitor, and other preparations are being made for his entertainment including public fetes, a naval review, etc. It is stated that the Kaiser's visit will cover six days.

PARIS AND CONSTANTINOPLE.

The First Train on the New Railway Service Arrives at Sofia.

SOFIA, Aug. 13.—The train inaugurating the direct railway service between Paris and Constantinople arrived here yesterday. A grand banquet was given in honor of the occasion at which Prince Ferdinand presided. Among the guests were a large number of prominent persons representing various countries of Europe. Prince Ferdinand in a speech said that the completion of this splendid work concluded solely through the efforts and the resources of Bulgaria in the first year of his reign, filled his heart with legitimate pride and satisfaction and he hoped that the country which had chosen him ruler would henceforth be better appreciated and more clearly judged. He thanked all present and congratulated them upon the success of the enterprise. Great enthusiasm was manifested throughout. A reception at the palace followed the banquet.

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,126 for $10,873,777.00, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,000.00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.00.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,231.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,000 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table :—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,492 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	33,580 07	126,188 29	1,167,336 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,092,934 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,807 24	4,022,573 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,664 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding five years.

THE BIG RAFT ENDS ITS TRIP.

Crowds Watch it from the Shore and Brooklyn Bridge.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—From Hell Gate to the Battery, all the water front was on the watch Saturday morning for the appearance of the great Joggins-Leary raft from Nova Scotia. She lay anchored all night off College Point, and at the break of day her crew and those on the tug prepared for the final trip through Hell Gate. With day break came scores of boats of all descriptions from the surrounding shores, filled with people anxious to inspect the great mass of floating logs.

No such forest of lumber had ever passed through Hell Gate. If the 3,000,000 feet of spruce timber were packed in schooners for shipment it would have loaded a fleet of fifty vessels. By 10 o'clock the tide had risen and three tugs had arrived from the city to lend a hand in steering the big cigar-shaped craft to its haven. The Boston tug Underwriter, which helped to bring the raft from Joggins, took a line off the bow and led the fleet, and the Ocean King, the Underwriter's consort, stuck her prow into the stern of the raft, and the procession began.

At first they moved slowly and with great caution, but the affair soon became a triumphant procession, and they steamed with greater confidence. A slight ebb tide pushed against and helped to hold back and steer the big craft.

It was noon when Flood Rock was reached and the craft entered Hell Gate. Two more tugs were at hand and made fast to the floating forest. With this escort she moved easily past the dangerous points, holding well to the west shore. Flags were flying from all the tugs, and a Union Jack and an American flag were floating in the light breeze fore and aft from the spars of the raft itself.

The big chained forest was towed down the East River, under the Brooklyn Bridge, where crowds cheered it, around the Battery toward Bedlow's Island, and then into the Erie Basin, where it was safely moored.

Shot His Sweetheart and Himself.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 13.—In Plainville, twelve miles west of this city, Saturday afternoon, Geo. Bradley, aged 23, shot his sweetheart, Lillie Potter, aged 17, and then shot himself. The affair occurred at the girl's home on Broad Street. Lillie died early yesterday morning and Bradley cannot recover.

The Electric Light

is a matter of small importance compared with the other applications of electricity. By this agency Polson's Nerviline is made to penetrate to the most remote nerve—every bone, muscle and ligament is made to feel its beneficient power. Nervilina, pleasant to take, even by the youngest child, yet so powerfully far reaching in its work, that the most agonizing internal pain yields as if by magic. Neglect no longer to try Nervilina. Buy to-day a ten cent trial bottle and be relieved from all pain. Sold by druggists and country dealers everywhere. 6dw33

On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and purifying medicine. 2w31d

Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills to well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

Summer Travel

is usually subject to dangerous and sudden attacks of bowel complaints, diarrhoea, dysentery, etc., caused by change of food and water. The sovereign remedy and surest safeguard against all such troubles is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Never travel without it. 2w31d

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dornwood's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Really Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. MONEY Probably not one business man in a thousand who has made a close study of newspaper advertising could be found who would say that there is no money in it. If it is beneficial in business to have a large circle of acquaintances, in the same proportion is it beneficial to reach the masses of the people. There are hundreds of merchants and dealers who are interested in reaching town and county readers and if they knew that they could do so at a small cost through a newspaper with a large legitimate circulation. To such THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER comes as welcome and sure benefactors. They are the reliable papers of the Mid land District for merchants to advertise in, and penetrate in to every corner of the town and county. Advertising rates are such as will ensure the continuance of business relations with any advertiser after once started. We shall be pleased to give figures for advertising space in THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER, and send sample copy on application. All letters of inquiry promptly attended to. Address J. R. STRATTON, Publisher and Proprietor, No. 426 George street, Peterboro.

"The Relief of Derry."

The celebration of the anniversary of this historical event is held in Lindsay to-day. The local 'Prentice Boys contented themselves with the annual sermon on Sunday and did not go up. Civic Holiday.

There will be a great exodus from town on civic holiday—Thursday next. There are no less than five excursions outward bound on that date, besides all the private affairs that will more or less deplete the town. There are two cheap excursions to Toronto by G.T.R. and C.P.R.; the Band and Canton excursion to Lindsay and Sturgeon Point; the Emerald Beneficial excursion to Jubilee Point, and Ft. Luke's excursion to Stony Lake. Everybody will be off business that day and the town will be as lonely as the business house that doesn't advertise.

There were about five hundred in the party, including the team of the Ontario Lacrosse Club. The Foresters were met by the local brethren and shown about the town, and were very much pleased with its appearance. A considerable number of excursionists came down by the C.P.R.

Civic Holiday.

The cheapest and best excursion of all on the 16th inst. will be the Sons of England trip to Stony Lake. Limited number of tickets issued. The Lakefield fleet of steamers has been chartered. Train leaves Grand Trunk station at 8.25 a.m. Return fare, only 50 cents. Tea and sugar provided on the boats, gratis. Early application for tickets necessary. See small bills for particulars. d

Died in Japan.

Intelligence has been received of the death of Mrs. Odlum, wife of Professor Odlum, of the academic department of the "Targo Kina Gakka," Tokio, Japan. The deceased lady, who was an earnest and successful Christian worker, was a Canadian, daughter of Mr. O. W. Powell, one of the most respected and influential citizens of Cobourg, and sister of Mr. Geo. Powell, George street north, town. Her three months' illness was borne with Christian fortitude and resignation.

The Cheapest and the Best.

The cool lake shore route to Toronto with choice to return by either Port Hope or Lindsay, eight hours in the city for business or pleasure, and the return fare only $1.75, make the Foresters' excursion to Toronto on civic holiday the cheapest and best of the season. The sights in the city are well worth seeing, especially the Cycloramas, to which excursionists will be admitted at reduced rates. A chance will also be given to witness the fine cricket match between Toronto and Peterborough. Don't neglect to make arrangements for joining this excursion. Tickets, good to return in two days by any regular train, only $1.75, to be had of members of the committee or at the stores of T. Menzies, T. Dolan & Co., W. Green and S. Ray.

Don't blunder past The Pantry Store and get disappointed in bargains.

Visit of the "Wanderers."

On Saturday night there arrived by the 7.50 C.P.R. train eight of the members of the "Wanderers'" bicycle club of Toronto. They were G. H. Orr, Geo. Toye, H. H. Knowlton, B. Nicholls, E. H. Walsh, W. Hunter, W. J. Douglass and Will Shaw. They were met at the station by the members of the local club and shown the sights of the town, making their home at the Oriental Hotel. The octette came down by train to town to wheel back—slid down hill to Peterborough for the fun of walking up—to Toronto. At ten o'clock on Sunday morning they mounted their wheels and set out for Port Hope, the first stage, convoyed by four members of the local club, Messrs. Gibson, Greatrix, McNamara and Matthews. The two former went as far as Frazerville and returned to town at one o'clock; the two latter went as far as Rewdley, at the head of Rice Lake, and reached home at five o'clock. The Wanderers propose taking a run to Cobourg before setting out for the return trip to the Queen City. The boys were highly pleased with Peterborough and the courtesies they received from the local wheelsmen.

Only Half Finished.

The beautiful little gem of architectural taste placed in Central Park as a monument to Capt. Brown, and to serve as a drinking fountain only answers half its use. It serves the purpose of a monument admirably but it is a delusion and a snare as a drinking fountain. For two whole, hot, dusty summers it has stood a monumental mockery of the passer's thirst, and from this point of regard it is absolutely useless—and worse. Hopes are excited only to be killed with the drouth. Who is to blame for uselessness of this fountain? Some means should be taken to fix the responsibility and then we could call those accountable to a reckoning. It is understood that the Water Works Company has made connection with the fountain. All that is needed is to place an ice box so that the water will be cool and fit in this respect for drinking, and to provide a cup. It is singular that the matter has been so long neglected. A very trifling cost will make the drinking fountain a fact not—as it now is—a fancy. Mr. Frank Mason, with his characteristic public-spiritedness and generosity, has offered to put in at his own expense two handsome plots of flowers, one on each side of the fountain, if he can only find some person responsible and willing to turn the water on. Will some person inform the publice, through these columns, who is to blame for the neglect that deprives the public of the use of this fountain?

Belleville's Fire System.

Secretary Pell, of the Underwriters' Association, has been overhauling Belleville's fire system, and insists on a complete reconstruction—new hose to replace the rotten and unreliable—an electric fire alarm paid firemen, etc. Mr. Pell concludes his report as follows:—"The fire company consists of 31 men in all, made up of Chief, Assistant Chief, Engineer, three drivers and 25 hose men. All are partly paid. Four hose men and two drivers sleep at No. 2 shed and five men and one driver at No. 1. At a test made this afternoon it was evidenced that regular drill was needed in the Belleville brigade, for, while the run of about an eighth of a mile was made in fair time—1¼ minutes from alarm—water was not satisfactorily thrown for nearly nine minutes, owing to the thread of the couplings to hydrants being crossed and blown off, the various couplings and lengths of hose giving worry. With better appliances and regular drill the men might do well, as they seem willing and intelligent. There is no fire alarm system properly so called. It is true that there is a telephone at headquarters, and persons giving alarm are supposed to call up central office, and get connection by police office, from which point alarm is given by bell in city hall tower, and telephone to fire halls. From two to five minutes, and even longer, may be spent in getting telephone connection, and in any case telephones are not reliable mediums for giving fire alarms. To put Belleville on a good footing to fight fire, it will be seen from the foregoing that it is necessary (1), that all hose should be tested and called, and couplings renewed: (1), that the fire brigade should be drilled regularly; (3), that some reliable means of giving alarms should be introduced.

Sermon to 'Prentice Boys.

Excellent and Practical Address by Rev. S. J. Shorey.

On Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock the annual sermon was preached to the 'Prentice Boys, Orange True Blues and other members of the Order, who joined with the 'Prentice Boys in thus celebrating the 200th anniversary of the "Relief" of Derry. Headed by the Fire Brigade Band the procession formed at the lodge rooms, Simcoe-street, and marched to the church, occupying about half of the middle range of seats. The order of procession was as follows:—

Fire Brigade Band.
Jubilee Lodge, 'Prentice Boys No 7.
King William Lodge True Blues, No. 43
Other Orange Brethren.

After the singing of appropriate hymns, reading the Gospel lesson and prayer, the preacher announced the text, Proverbs, chap. xxiii v. 23—"Buy the truth and sell it not," and St. John's Gospel, chap. viii v. 32—"And the truth shall make you free." He said that truth was that which had the quality of reality. There were axiomatic and mathematical truths—self evidently and necessarily true—the implements to work out the physical problems of life. There were truths which cost a great conflict, and which tested the true manhood of men. The value of truth was relative—some was more important to one than to another. There were some grand truths which applied to all men, who strive to be men, indeed. We should buy the truth because it is absolutely essential to the accomplishments of high purposes. Nothing but truth should govern a man's life and mould his conduct. There was inherited truth—from our forefathers—which we need not buy, and we could not too highly honor those heroic men who gave up their blood and lives to give us the priceless boon of civil and religious freedom. They paid the price and we were relieved from the responsibility of providing the price. We of this day value too lightly the religious freedom we enjoy—when every man can worship God as he pleases. In the acquisition of truth many sacrifices would have to be made, many things would have to be given up. Preconceptions and prejudices would have to be laid aside. The preacher feared that too firm a confidence in the possession of truth might preclude the probability of arriving at the whole truth. There was nothing to be more feared than the possession of the principle of truth in a spirit of bigotry which prevented the knowledge of truth in its most comprehensive aspect. The great idea of young men in the outset of life should be an arduous pursuit of truth at all hazards. Criticism of accepted forms of belief was not necessarily objected to. Truth should come to all in a shape to command their intelligent acceptance as principles. Religion might change its form but it would last so long as man felt his need of the help of God. People who are blown about by every wind of doctrine were those who accept the truth as handed down, and who had not wrought it out by themselves. Referring to the occasion commemorated, the speaker admired the spirit that prompted the commemoration, but they would not be in full possession of the truth unless they applied its principles in their lives and practices. Even the church had not reached perfection in the quest for truth. All truth is emancipating, and all falsehood bondage. We may believe that King James and his followers were wicked and deceived, but the real conflict arose because some would not have the truth and because others were bound to have the truth. Compassion might go out to those who have not the enjoyment of the blessings of Protestantism, yet the young men before him might not enjoy the application to their spiritual life of the very truths they professed to promote. Were, it was inquired, the young men of the present day men who love the truth for its own sake and men who were willing to give unto others what they claim for themselves? He urged his young hearers to carry into practice the application of truth in its fullest acceptation to every department of their lives. He urged them to stand up unflinchingly in behalf of the liberty bought for them by their fathers. The day may come when Protestantism may demand the best services and united efforts of those who regard it as the truth. He urged the young men to live lives free from error and falsehood, and to stand united in their loyalty to truth. The sermon was an unusually interesting and thoughtful one and if duly heeded will be a great blessing to those to whom it was especially addressed. At the conclusion, a collection in aid of the funds of the Peterborough Protestant Home, was taken.

A Useful Invention

By a Peterborough Compositor.

The Inland Printer, published in Chicago, contains the following description of an invention which every compositor will see the value of. Mr. Carl L. Smart, formerly of Peterborough, now of Los Angeles, California, is the inventor. The article is called the "Compositors' Wrist Protector." Its object is to reduce the labor and inconvenience attending the distribution of type. At present when a compositor distributes type, he rests the wrist of the left hand on the case, which is sharp, and unprotected by any cover. His wrist has a tendency to slide down, and the sharp edge severely hurts the wrist, especially when the water from the type runs on that part of the wrist and irritates it.

My invention consists of a soft rubber pad, oblong in form, about three inches in height, and two in width across the bottom, which is flat, and has a tendency to increase the friction between the pad and the case; and having the other side concave, to fit the joint of the wrist and base of the hand. The pad is held in position by a strap which passes over the wrist, and hooks into a small slot in each side of the pad. These straps are made of a soft rubber cloth, which has a tendency to strengthen the wrist, and are made of various sizes. The end of the pad nearest the type tapers down from the hand, and consequently all water from the type runs down the bottom of the pad, instead of down the wrist, and clean cuffs can be worn by the distributor without soiling them in the least. The water is also absorbed when it comes to the ledge of the case by a small blotter, which fits in the ledge, thus preventing it from running into the letter boxes, and causing the type to rust and stick together when it dries. By wearing one of these pads a compositor can hold a large handful of type with perfect ease and comfort, and when through distributing it can be carried in the pocket.

The Cricket Match.

The match between the Hamiltons and the home eleven is going on at the P.A.A.A. grounds. The visitors went first to the bat and before luncheon were disposed of for 139 runs. The first innings of the Peterboroughs is in progress.

Striking Brakesmen.

The Whitby Chronicle says that the first strike among the brakesmen on the Midland section of the Grand Trunk railway for many years, occurred on Friday last. The trouble in this instance was not in regard to either pay or hours of work, but on matters of promotion. It appears that when a conductor is wanted on the Midland, there is a promotion made of a Grand Trunk brakesman to fill his place. The Midland brakesmen claim the promotion should come from among them in all cases. Last week a Grand Trunk brakesman was put on the Belleville division of the Midland as conductor, and the company was asked to send him off. No compliance being granted, the brakesmen all quit Friday morning, but the strike only lasted for an hour, when the company sacked the new conductor.

Peterborough can boast of fine stores. H. S. Griffin & Co. have a model place of business, bright and cheerful, and their stock is well kept. They keep goods no different to anything we see in other places. We can always depend on getting stylish goods there. Have you seen their Dress Goods? They keep lovely goods, and this coming Fall their stock will be better than ever. We deal there, and intend bringing our friends.

Hon. Wilfred Laurier paid his first visit as Liberal leader to Toronto on Saturday. He came on the invitation of the Young Men's Liberal Club, and went to Oakville to-day to speak at the Liberal pic-nic.

Mr. Wm. Young, lockmaster Burleigh Falls, was in town to-day and reports matters as being quiet at this point. The supply of water, he says, is good at present and the "Dawn" will shortly commence running through from Lakefield to Lindsay.

Want of Sleep.

Are you afflicted with insomnia? says a contemporary. Perhaps you have too much time for sleep. Perhaps you depend on too much sleep for rest and recuperation. For sleep is not the sole rest of used up nerves. Sociability, congeniality, and the enjoyment of good company rest the body quite as much as sleep. The dreary monotony of life in many a household, involving this tumbling into bed with the mechanical regularity of a machine at nine or ten o'clock in the evening, does not always rest weary bodies. "Early to bed and early to rise" does not always make a man healthy, wealthy, or wise. Numbers of organizations are only capable of five or six hours' sleep at a time, and their early lying down to rest is often succeeded by an early waking up and a consequent restless tossing for hours preceding daybreak. The practisers of punctuality are often surprised after breaking their own cast-iron rules, and passing two or three later hours of mirth and jollity past their usual bedtime, to find themselves even more refreshed in the morning than usual. The relaxation of sociability has rested them more than would sleep or an attempt to sleep. But these are conditions not so easily reached in the average family. In fashionable life we have a formal, exhausting, and mechanical evening of more or less dissipation. On the other hand, the evenings of great numbers are monotonous humdrum. They involve an assemblage of the same people, the same surroundings, the same paterfamilias yawning over his paper, and the same querulous mamma ladies with family cares. Fresh people with fresh thought, fresh atmosphere, anything to stir up and agitate the pool of domestic stagnation, are sadly needed and sadly scarce. There needs to be also a constant succession of such fresh people to bring about these results. The world is full of men and women, and in a better regulated life, it would be the business, after the day's work was done, to entertain each other and give each other fresh life. As it is now hundreds, if not thousands, of our households are little better than cells for the incarceration of each family. Thousands are thus worn out prematurely from the utter lack of domestic recreation. There might be written over the graves of hundreds of thousands, "Bored to Death by the Stagnation of Domestic Life."—American Agriculturist

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

AID ASKED FOR AN INTERPROVINCIAL BRIDGE.

The Cornerstone of the New Cayuga Postoffice to be Laid This Month—Sir John to Open the Halifax Exhibition.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13.—A deputation from Ottawa County, consisting of Alonzo Wright, M.P., Warden Cormier, Father Beauchamp and J. Conroy waited on Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, to-day with a view to obtaining assistance from the Government for a bridge across the Ottawa River at Deschere, about 3 miles below Aylmer. The idea is to construct an interprovincial bridge similar to the one built by the Government at Les Joachims rapids on the Ottawa and towards which the Local Government, of Ontario and Quebec contributed. Sir Hector promised that the matter should receive consideration, and it is probable that an engineer will be sent to make asurvey of the locality.

The date for laying the corner stone of the public building at Aylmer by Sir Hector Langevin has not yet been fixed. Sir Hector will probably lay the corner stone of the new post office at Cayuga some time this month.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell returned to the city to-day and will leave for Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia on Wednesday.

Hon. J. H. Pope, and Sir Adolphe Caron will probably visit the Maritime Provinces shortly.

It is expected that Sir John Macdonald will arrive in Halifax about Aug. 20 and will formally open the exhibition there. He will not return to Ottawa until early next month, very likely only a few days before the arrival of the Newfoundland delegates.

The secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association has received an intimation that British Columbia will be represented by a team at next month's matches.

A young resident of Hull named Albert Legault while playing with some companions in rear of the Eddy mills this morning accidentally fell into the water and was swept over the Chaudiere Falls. Up to a late hour last night the body had not been recovered.

DESTROYED BY ABYSSINIANS.

A Force of 360 Italians Auxiliaries Cut Off by Treachery.

ROME, Aug. 14.—An official despatch received from Massowah contains the following startling intelligence: 360 auxiliary troops under the command of Italian officers have been destroyed by Abyssinians. The killed included all the officers. An attack was being made by the auxiliaries upon Tegazzi. The catastrophe was due to treachery on the part of native allies who joined the enemy during the fighting.

Uncle Sam After Cuba

MADRID, Aug. 14.—The Cuban Government reports that an agitation is being carried on in Cuba with the assistance of influencial American politicians in favor of the annexation of Cuba to the United States. The Cuban situation is becomming extremely difficult owing to the financial troubles and the increase of agitation in favor of home rule.

HON MR LAURIER'S SPEECH.

Below is a report of Hon. W. Laurier's speech at the Reform picnic that came off yesterday at Oakville:

MR. CHAIRMAN, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I would vainly endeavor to find words adequate to convey to you the full measure of gratitude I feel I owe you for the kind reception which you have pleased to give me on this occasion. And I can assure you that my words are not mere empty words or a mere perfunctory expression of conventional formality. I deeply feel what I now say, and if I may be allowed without any impropriety to add one word more in reference to myself, I would say that nothing whatever in the course of my life has ever touched me more than the receptions given to me by my fellow-Liberals of the Province of Ontario in the position which the too partial regard of my friends have placed upon me. To you, Mr. Chairman, I am especially thankful for the kind words you have spoken of me. I am a French Canadian. I need not repeat that to you. You have heard it before. I tell you at once that my heart ever warms at the mention of the land of my ancestors, but my first allegiance is British. [Cheers.]

STALWART EDWARD'S RETIREMENT.

He alluded to Mr. Blake's retirement and the loss the party had sustained by it, but advanced the hope that Mr. Blake's example as a politician and statesman would largely take the place of his personality.

Mr. Laurier then discussed the chief plank in the Liberal party's platform. His friend Sir Richard Cartwright had framed a policy at the last session of Parliament, which, though it might be assailed by passionate prejudice and party greed and selfishness, was bound to win, and he hoped they would win on that policy in the County of Halton not later than next week. [Cheers] They were all aware that there was an issue before them. The world could not remain stationary, neither could political conditions. New measures were required to meet the changing conditions. This was political progression—this the principle which actuated them.

REFORMERS OF THE PAST.

He called to mind the fact that other Reform leaders had spent their labors in introducing measures to benefit the country. Robert Baldwin had so labored and representation by population followed The good of the country was promoted, notwithstanding the prophecies that Canada would suffer by the innovation. George Brown had so labored, and his labors were crowned with success. Confederation stood in the place of Legislative Union. And now at this time, in the year 1888, they had a task to perform, a duty to achieve, and an evil to grapple with, and which if not grappled with must bring down ruin upon the country. [Applause.] He asked them to look at the situation. It was twenty-one years since Confederation was established. The people of the United Provinces started out with the fond hope of building up a nation. He asked everyone in this audience, regardless of their political proclivities, to review the past twenty years and ask themselves how much advance had been made towards the goal they started out to attain. "The painful answer must be this," said the hon. gentleman, "that we have not advanced one iota—one single jot."

OUR LACK OF PROSPERITY.

Canadians had not gained that degree of prosperity which they had a right to expect. It was true that the Ministerial press would not admit that; but he did not expect any admissions from the Ministerial press. The Ministerial press would say the country was overflowing with prosperity. They were like Sir John Falstaff when taken to task by the Prince. "You owe me a thousand pounds." "A thousand pounds! I owe you a million pounds. I have your love and your love is worth a million pounds." And so with the Ministerial press. They took sentiment for fact. When taken to task about the country they tell us that we belong to the greatest empire of the world. [Applause and laughter.] "And so we do," remarked the speaker [cheers]. It was reiterated by the Conservative press that the country was prosperous. Well, there was a criterion to resort to in order to ascertain the comparative prosperity of the country.

REAL ESTATE TELLS A STORY.

Real estate values was a fair criterion. If real estate is going up in value it is an evidence of prosperity; if it was going down, something was wrong somewhere. He ventured to assert without fear of successful contradiction, that apart from the great railway centres real estate was not advancing in value. Speaking for his own Province he could tell them that not a farm could be sold at the same price as it could be sold as 8 years ago. He invited their reflection upon this. What made real estate valuable? Population. It was population, and outside of the railway centres Canada was not holding her own people. Hundreds and thousands of their fellow countrymen were deserting the country. [Hear, hear.]

NO CHANCE FOR AN ARGUMENT.

The Ministerial press would deny this, but they might as well deny that water runs down hill or that two and two made four. Their intelligence told them that it was a fact. There was not a man of 40 or 45 years of age in the Province of Quebec who had not a relative living in the United States. And the same might be said, perhaps, of every man in this audience. He could understand emigration from ill-governed Ireland; from England and Scotland, where there was a constant struggle for food; from Germany, crushed under the heel of military despotism, but emigration from Canada to the United States he could not understand. Could it be that Canadian institutions were not equal to the American institutions? Every Canadian would say that our institutions were more elastic and more conducive to freedom than those of the United States. Nor was Canada inferior in climate or country to the United States. The United States might have a great variety of climate, but in everything that went to make a great race—a noble and manly race—Canada was the richer. If the evil was not to be found in the soil or climate, where could the evil be? It must be somewhere. It was in the economical policy of government. [Cheers and applause.]

A voice: "That's the root of the evil."

IT WAS INDEED.

Mr. Laurier: "That is the root of the evil indeed." [Laughter.] He had made it a rule to speak honestly to his fellow countrymen, whether the truth be told was palatable to his partisans or not. And he would say that he did not lay the whole blame on the Government's National Policy. But he arraigned them before the electors of this country for their non-fulfilment of promises made ten years ago. They promised ten years ago to remove the evil that existed at present. And now they not only did not remove it but they, by their policy, intensified the evil. Ten years ago was the closing of the Mackenzie administration. Every stump in Ontario that could hold two feet was occupied by a Conservative orator, preaching that if Mackenzie only had a little of the brains of his opponents, he would devise means for removing the existing depression. Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Cartwright said that the country could not be made rich by Act of Parliament, and if ever two men were vindicated, it was Mr. Mackenzie and Sir Richard Cartwright. But Sir John Macdonald and his friends promised that the land would be covered with manufactories.

WHAT THE OLD MAN SAID AT PARKDALE.

Sir John at Parkdale, a few years ago, said:

There we are not only suffering in every trade and industry, but our people are leaving the country to seek employment in the mills and manufactories of the United States. Was it not a crying shame that this country had a fertile soil, a healthy climate, a strong and well educated people, and good laws, 200,000 of our own people should have crossed the border in these years and taken up their abode in the United States, because they could not find employment here for their skill and industry? Was it not a disgrace in connection with the false policy of the rulers.

Well he would ask if it was not a crying shame that not 200,000 of our people should be forced to seek employment in the United States but a round million. [Cheers and applause.] He did not want to be lead upon Sir John Macdonald and his friends. It was better to be numerous when one was so young country. Libs had the advantage in Sir John Macdonald's own words. Some people, they know, were known to have repeated a lie till they believed it was true. George IV. was fond of dressing military clothes and he never smelled powder. He began to say that he was present at the Battle of Waterloo and by degrees told of the heroic part he played in the great encounter. One day he placed the Duke of Wellington in an awkward fix. The king was telling his Waterloo exploits to a courtier who was indisposed to believe what His Majesty said. "Then" said the king "sat the duke there, was I not at the battle of Waterloo, Arthur." The great duke was once more equal to the occasion. He did not affirm or deny. He said, "I have heard your majesty say so before." [Laughter.] It was just possible that Sir John had allowed himself to be deluded into the belief that he really had saved emigration by the National Policy. He may have actually hamstrung himself into the belief. [Loud laughter and applause.]

UNCLE RUFUS ROASTED.

And now what had been the result of this policy of contraction after 10 years of experience? We had an example a few years afterwards in Rufus Stephenson, then member for Kent, but now he knew not what. [Laughter.] He understood that Rufus, at five thousand a year, was inspecting colonization companies in the Northwest when did not seem. [Loud laughter and cheers.] Rufus said in 1880: "I am going to vote for the party who raised the price of wheat from 79 cents a bushel to $1.40." Why did not the party exert the same power now. The proposition was a reductio ad absurdum.

There must be a new departure in Canadian political affairs. They must change the policy of restriction into one of expansion. Ten years they had tried restriction and had found it wanting. The farmers were promised a local market for their produce and they had not got it. Ten years ago we had two cities of over 100,000 inhabitants and to-day we had no more. The United States was the real market for farmers to look to. A pretence was made that such was not the case—that the Americans were competitors, not buyers. He would quote an authority in support of what he said, and that authority was the great apostle himself, Sir John Macdonald.

THEY LACKED FIXED OPINIONS.

The Government of the day had no fixed opinion as to the issue now under discussion. A clause of the Statute Book stated that when the American Government chose to to admit certain natural products, free of duty, into the United States, the Canadian Government would reciprocate by permitting the same articles to enter Canada, duty free. Specified fruits and seeds were placed on the American free list and when the attention of Government was called Sir John stated that the rights of Canadian fruit-men and seedsmen had to be considered and protected. Hon. Mr. Thompson declared that it would be nothing short of treason to allow these goods to come into Canada, and yet ten days afterward they were placed on the free list. If they could not get Unrestricted Reciprocity en bloc they could hope to get it piece meal.

IT MEANS ANNEXATION TO THEM.

One good result of their agitation was already apparent. The National Policy men were becoming very, very loyal. (Laughter.) He never considered it very, very loyal to shut the British manufacturer out of our market. But the National Policy men were now very sensitive. Any attempt to enlarge our markets suggested to them Annexation. Their efforts to get an enlarged market by the opening of the American avenues had started a counter movement—reciprocity with Great Britain. If that was practicable he was in favor of it. If it was practicable to have free trade between all the English speaking people of the world he was in favor of it. The Anglo-Saxons were the great commercial people of the world. They had appropriated the North American continent; they peopled Australia; they had South Africa and were rapidly peopling eastern and central Africa; they had the islands of the sea. The time might come when these peoples might seek common free trade. If such a time did come while he lived he would hold up both hands for it. But now they were discussing a practical issue—free trade between the people of North America. [Cheers.]

THE PEOPLE CAN BE TRUSTED.

Opponents of Unrestricted Reciprocity objected to it on the ground that it would promote Annexation. He asked them to have some faith in human nature; to have some faith in the instincts of the human beast; to trust the people. He did not believe that annexation would come from it. On the contrary, it would produce content and result in loyalty. It was prophesied that other changes they had made heretofore would put an end to their political existence; and yet good had come from these changes. Annexation agitations were carried on before the advent of the first reciprocity scheme but when reciprocity came these agitations were scattered as clouds before the sunlight. [Applause.] He anticipated no evil from it, but good. Sir Richard had proposed this Unrestricted Reciprocity motion in the House last session with the expectation of defeat. He would renew it next session and next and next and even the next, but in the meantime there would be a struggle. They were prepared for that struggle. In that struggle Unrestricted Reciprocity was to be the chief plank. All other issues must take a back seat. This was to be their battle cry, and in their battle they expected to win not only Halton but Ontario and the whole country and that victory would be with the Liberal party.

LIBERALS AT OAKVILLE.

The Picnic of the Young Men's Liberal Club Yesterday.

OAKVILLE, Aug. 14.—A political demonstration and picnic was held here under the auspices of the Young Men's Liberal Club of Toronto. About 600 or 700 people came out from Toronto, and there was also a considerable delegation from Hamilton, so that about 2000 people gathered under the grateful shade of the trees in George's Grove to listen to the speeches.

Mr. John Waldie, the Liberal candidate for Halton, where, by-the-way, there will be an election a week from to-day and political excitement runs high, took advantage of the opportunity to address the picnickers. He was followed by Mr. Rymal, ex-M. P., and Mr. Awrey M. P. in support of Mr. Waldie's candidacy. Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright spoke for about an hour each, devoting their remarks chiefly to advocacy of the policy of Unrestricted Reciprocity with the United States.

CHAMBERLAIN—PARNELL.

REPLY TO THE IRISH LEADER'S RECENT LETTER.

The Birmingham Member's Version of the Matters in Dispute—He Thinks There is Evidence in Parnell's Communications of Which the Latter Need Be Ashamed.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Mr. Chamberlain's reply to Mr. Parnell's recent letter is published this morning. Mr. Chamberlain says: "Pressure of work prevented my replying to Mr. Parnell earlier. I find difficulty in ascertaining what is now the issue between us. Previous to the appearance of his letter I understood that he denied that Mr. O'Shea had any authority to represent his views, and that he repudiated all responsibility for the scheme of a National Council submitted to me by Mr. O'Shea. Now I gather that what Mr. Parnell intended to repudiate was all cognizance or approval of what he calls my plan. This plan was really a suggestion contained in a short paragraph of a confidential letter addressed to an old personal acquaintance, and since, with my permission, shown to a few gentlemen in Ireland. The idea was never worked out in detail nor discussed with Mr. O'Shea. I consequently am quite ready to admit Mr. Parnell's disclaimer of any assent to it."

Mr. Chamberlain proceeds to state that "the scheme attributed to Mr. Parnell, appended to this letter, was the subject of conversation with Mr. O'Shea from the end of Nov., 1884. It was brought to me in writing by Mr. O'Shea on Jan. 16, 1885. Mr. Parnell's letters prove his authorship and also that Mr. O'Shea was a confidential exponent of his views at the time. These points, however, are not disputed in Mr. Parnell's lette to The Times. The correspondence also corroborates Mr. Parnell's statement that he did not intend the proposal as a substate for an Irish Parliament.

"I understood the proposal was offered as an acceptable settlement. Though I felt that no statement made even by Mr. Parnell could bind the Irish people in future and though I believed then as now that a large and safe extension of local government would remove all practical grievances. The whole subject was fully discussed with my colleagues and was not finally rejected till May 9, 1885, when a new government was formed. I tried to learn whether Mr. Parnell adhered to his proposal.

"In the middle of July Mr. O'Shea informed me that in view of the altered state of affairs and Lord Carnarvon's speech Mr. Parnell doubted the policy of encumbering the Irish question with a larger extension of local government to Ireland than to England. Upon this point I don't think there is any conflict in the testimony of myself and Mr. Parnell. The question of the renewal of the Crimes Act was discussed simultaneously with the foregoing. In the spring of 1885 Mr. O'Shea brought me Mr. Parnell's revised Coercion Act of 1883. I find on an inspection of the document that the following clauses remain as constituting the bill. Mr. Parnell had no serious objection to the then clauses 4 and 5, the first being altered by the transfer from clause 1 of the definition of offence—excluding, however, treason and treason-felony. These are the special jury clauses; clause 6, change of venue; clause 13, alien clause; clauses 15 and 17, private enquiries; clauses 19 and 20, compensation for murder and injuries to be levied on the districts in which the offences are committed; clause 24, omitting the first sub-section; clause 29, clause 30, omitting the first 3 sub-sections, clause 31, clause 35 with an inconsequential omission; clause 36, clause 37 with an amendment limiting the duration of the Act to one year."

Mr. Chamberlain says that in the course of subsequent conversations he told Mr. O'Shea he was of the opinion that no Government could dispense with some provision against boycotting and intimidation. This point was much discussed. "I understood that if the Act was limited to a year, Mr. Parnell would consent to more stringent provisions than if extended to three years. I therefore pressed this limitation strongly upon the other members of the Government. In conclusion I may say that neither at this time nor subsequently has it appeared to me that there was anything in these communications of which Mr. Parnell has cause to be ashamed. I believed then that he was sincerely anxious to see the end of the dangerous agitation that had so long distracted Ireland. It was with this object that I understood him to propose a compromise between the views of the separatist party and the existing system and I readily accepted the statement made to me of his attitude as entirely consistent with what I know of it myself, especially with his offer to Mr. Gladstone after the Phœnix park murders to return from Parliament and abandon politics, I have always entertained the conviction that one of the most serious difficulties in the government of Ireland has been the isolation of the Castle and the want of a confidential interchange of opinion between the Parnellites and the Government and I must express my great regret that this difficulty has been rather increased than diminished by the experience of myself and others who have in recent years endeavored to overcome it."

More Libel Suits.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Star says that T. P. O'Connor, its editor and a member of Parliament for Liverpool, and Mr. John Redmond, M.P. for Wexford, have entered actions for libel against The Times in the English Court of Queen's Bench. The Parnellite members of Parliament have determined to apply to the commission of enquiry for the appointment of a special commission to go to America for the purpose of inspecting certain documents.

The Times Profoundly Astonished.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Times says it is profoundly astonished at the step Mr. Parnell has taken in bringing suit against it in the Scotch Courts. It says that whether his action is seriously meant or only designed to waste time and money, the work of the Parliamentary Commission of inquiry will be unaffected.

THE WEATHER AND THE CROPS IN ENGLAND.

Last month has been an abnormal one in England so far as the weather is concerned. It required a very strong faith in the almanacs, to believe that a month of such chilly cold, with sharp north-easters, occasionally varied by slight falls of snow, could, by any possibility, be July. Winter fires were continued in every mansion and cottage. On St. Swithin's day a deluge fell and the whole country is an emerald green. A noted observer states that there has been no parallel to the present July for sixty years. Many days in January compare favourably with it, for instance, the lowest temperature in England on the 1st of January was 49·3, while on the 16th of July it was 42·8. The highest temperature during July was 55·7, as against 54 in January.

Of course, such exceptional weather has not only affected personal comfort and convenience; it has had a very bad effect upon the various crops. The beginning of the year was noted for its storms of snow and sleet and fog, and the spring was unusually late. On this account flowers and early vegetables were very backward, but the fruit blossoms were protected from chill blasts and nipping frosts, which so often destroy the promise of an abundant yield, and when the warm weather came nature burst forth into sudden luxuriance such as we are accustomed to in this country. Hay promised a most abundant yield, but the hopeful prospects were speedily checked. The weather was so continuously rainy that it was impossible to save the crop, and a very large proportion was left to rot on the ground. Last summer being unusually dry, compelled many farmers to feed their cattle with the winter's store, and the consequence is that there is a very small quantity of hay held in reserve. This makes the short crop all the more deplorable this year. It is just possible if the weather improves soon, that the grain crop may be saved but a longer continuance of wintry weather will destroy it and prevent the fruit crop also from ripening. The meterologists talk of unsettled weather and threatening depressions still pending, but it is hoped the summer may be better in England in its closing days, than it was in the beginning. We in Canada have suffered from a continuance of dry weather, and might very well have exchanged, had it been possible, one or two of our hottest, driest weeks for England's rain and murky weather. At any rate the rainy July in the latter country has not been an unmixed evil. In great cities and towns a water famine has been averted by it and the average of the rain fall has now been brought up to the normal figure. This may be set in the scale against the loss of the hay crop and the trouble and inconvenience occasioned in the home by the cold, rainy, cheerless days of last month. On the whole we have a great deal to be thankful for in Canada, and it is simply surprising with what a small rainfall this country can manage to get along and produce tolerably fair crops. Our climate is at any rate, with all its drawbacks, infinitely better than that of England and our crops are also uniformly superior, no matter what the drawbacks may have been.

MUSIC IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Much is said about music being put into the public schools as a regular branch of education. School boards are roundly berated because they hesitate. We thoroughly advocate popular musical education and believe that its place is in schools. The first day that a child goes to school it should have some musical education, and so each day thereafter. At twelve years of age the children should all be fair readers of music; at fourteen they should be good readers and at sixteen they should read oratorio music at sight. This is not wild speculation. A good method in ear, voice and eye training will easily do it. If those who teach music in public schools would show such a record it would not be ten years before the authorities would have it taught regularly, in every school.

Where the attempts have been made we are sorry to say that it has in many cases been abandoned because of unsatisfactory results. Wherever good, practical methods have been employed the work has gone on; but these are the exceptional cases. We are much interested in this matter and are making quite extensive investigations and find the above facts in the case. With rare exceptions, we do not find even fair practical readers as the result of continuous teaching. This matter is largely in the hands of music teachers; it is not altogether the fault of school boards. Many boards are willing to try the experiment. Besides, it belongs to the profession to educate the people to a desire for music in the public schools. This they can do rapidly if, when there is an opportunity to show what can be done, they show gratifying results. Successful work in one city will influence a dozen other cities to do the same thing. It has the right teaching and the general demand and appreciation is sure to follow.—Chicago Song Friend.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Interesting Type-Writing Contest — A Family Fracas.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—The Canadian Shorthand Society held its annual meeting yesterday. Thomas McGillicuddy was elected president; N. S. Dunlop, first vice-president; Miss M Quinn, of Stratford, second vice-president; C. R. Stanbury, secretary. Hon. G. W. Ross spoke at the evening session. The feature of the meeting was the type-writer speed test. There were twenty entries but only ten competed.

Five operators used the caligraph, and five the Remington. The contest was witnessed by a large number of interested spectators. The gold medal was won by Miss Mae Orr, of New York. This lady operated a Remington. She averaged over 98 words a minute and her copy was remarkably clean. The next on the list was F. E. McGurrin of Salt Lake City, who up to yesterday had been the champion of the continent. He also wrote on a Remington machine and averaged 95 words a minute. The best caligraph writer was Mr. F. W. Osborne of Rochester, whose rating would have been higher had not his caligraph got out of order by which he lost time. There were three Canadians in the contest, Mrs. A. T. Henderson, Toronto; Miss M. Barry, Toronto; and G. McBride, Ottawa. The official record gives Miss Orr 987 words in ten minutes, and Mr. McGurrin 961 words in the same time. Mr. Osborne won the silver medal for speed in writing a given sentence continuously for 5 minutes.

An alarm from box 32 about 9.50 last night called the brigade to the house of Mrs. Kelly, 67 Victoria-street, where fire had broken out originating in the basement cupboard through causes unknown. The damage is estimated at $150.

The Connors family, residing on Brown's lane, celebrated the civic holiday by indulging in a fight among themselves. The result of the fracas was the arrest of Mary Connors, the wife, and her son John, and the conveyance to the Hospital of Timothy Connors, the head of the household. Timothy's condition is such as to preclude the possibility of his attendance at court to-day, his body being one mass of bruises caused by his wife and sons' affectionate attention. The police are looking for Michael, a second son of the injured man, who is credited with being as active in the assault as his brother John.

Yesterday afternoon the friends of Duncan McDougall residing at 28 Richmond-street west, reported to the police that he had not been home since August 9, and they were afraid that something untoward had happened him. After they had gone the Sergeant put on his thinking cap, and came to the conclusion that he had met Mr. McDougall somewhere recently. He turned up the Police record, and found that the missing man was in jail for drunkenness, having been sent down on the very day of his disappearance.

THE FISHERIES DEBATE.

MR. CALL RESUMES THE DISCUSSION OF THE TREATY.

The Florida Senator Maintains Canada's Right to the Inshore Fisheries—The Senate Adjourns Without a Vote.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Senate resumed consideration of the Fisheries Treaty yesterday and was addressed by Mr. Call (Dem., Fla.) in support of its ratification. He argued that Mr. Sherman's contention that the great bays on the Canadian coast were high seas and public property would apply to the open-sea fisheries of Florida, between Key West and the mainland and to the coasts of Alaska and the Northwest, and would amount to a surrender of territorial possession and jurisdiction over all that vast line. To his mind a treaty which asserted a jurisdictional power and right over these waters was to be commended as establishing a principle more important than the enjoyment of the inshore fisheries of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. He said that the United States was great and powerful but only so long and so far as it conformed to right, to justice, to humanity in its relations with other nations. He declared he would not be willing to grant commercial rights in Florida waters to foreign fishing smacks and he was not willing that Canada should be retaliated against for taking that position. The effect of the proposed retaliation was to make people in the United States pay two prices for the fish they used. He regarded the pending treaty as fair and just and proper.

The presiding officer (Mr. Cockrell) announced the question to be on Mr. Morgan's motion to postpone the consideration of the treaty till December next, and asked if the senate was ready for the question.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.): "On that motion I call for the yeas and nays."

Mr. Gray (Dem., Del.) said that before the vote was taken he desired to say something on the matter. It had become evident on the Republican side of the chamber that the treaty was not to be ratified at this session. The Senate had been told in a more or less peremptory tone that it was not only to be rejected, but was to be rejected to-day. The treaty was being discussed in the very midst of an excited political campaign and Democratic senators had been told they were arguing the British side of the case. Why should consideration of the treaty not be postponed? Why should not those influences that come from the sober second thought and from the absence of extraneous influences and excitement be involved? The issues involved were momentous and the consequences that might arise were too grave to be lightly dealt with. The fisherman whose rights were the subject matter of the treaty, were pursuing their avocations now unprotected under the protocol attached to the treaty. The burden was on those who denied that the postponement should be made to give some good, strong and broad reason for their opposition. Mr. Gray then proceeded to criticise a published letter purporting to be from Mr. C. L. Woodbury, which stated that the 12th article of the treaty gave away the rights of the States to control their territorial waters. He declared this was an absolutely fatuous argument, that it was unlawyerlike and nonsensical and he did not believe that Mr. Woodbury had ever risked his high professional reputation by such an argument. He asserted that the claim of Canada over its bays was as absolute as the claim of Maryland to jurisdiction over Chesapeake Bay. These waters were as much a part of the local jurisdiction as the solid ground covered by cornfields and houses. The pending treaty came to the Senate ermined with the justice and magnanimity which should belong to a great people. It surrendered nothing and asked nothing which a proud and free people should not ask.

Mr. BeakDem, Ky., referred incidentally to the duty on bessemer steel by which he said Mr. Carnegie had been given a bonus of $1,500,000 "that he could carry on his carriage throughout Scotland the Warwick of the Republican party who had now come back to this country, to belittle all the rest of the Republicans."

Mr. Gray again resuming complimented Mr. Sherman on the statesmanlike exordium of his recent speech, but said that when he got down from the plane of statesmanship to that of partisanship he floundered. Concluding Mr. Gray said that if the treaty should be rejected and the annoyances to American fishermen should be renewed the responsibility would fall on those who voted to reject the treaty.

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Easily Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulcerations, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Silas Burnham's Escapades.

He Victimizes Two Young Ladies.

The following from the Montreal Witness refers to a person who was well known in this vicinity, where he moved some ten or twelve years ago. He was also well known in Port Hope. He figured for some time as an auctioneer at Keene, where he married a young lady belonging to that place. By the following extract it will be seen that he has been consistent with the reputation he enjoyed when he was a citizen of this vicinity:—

Some little time ago a gentlemanly-looking fellow, named Silas Burnham, called on a large firm of boot and shoe manufacturers on Victoria avenue. He said that he had been engaged in a profession that did not agree with his health, and had an anxious desire to find employment in some wholesale house. His bearing was that of a gentleman, and he was consequently engaged by the house as their traveler for Ontario. After he had been some time on the road the firm discovered that and that his sales were small. They also found out that he was acting as "spotter" for the Grand Trunk Railway when he ought to have been attending to their business. They discharged him on that account. During his visits to the city he made the acquaintance of the forewoman in the establishment. This young lady was of irreproachable character and held in high esteem by all who knew her. The acquaintance ripened into friendship, and the friendship into love—on the young lady's part. He said he felt the tender passion also. Under the promise of marriage this pseudo lover from her, which sum had been her savings of some years. She gave up her situation to prepare for the marriage. Her people reside in Kingston. The "happy day" was fixed, and everything got into readiness for the event. Burnham was to turn up at her parent's house where the ceremony was to be performed. He never did, and the young lady who had been thus cruelly treated was taken very ill.

OBTAINED SEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS

It seems that the next that was heard of Burnham was when he turned up at Trenton, Ont., where, it is said, he made false love to and again succeeded in obtaining a lady's affections. Under a similar promise it appears that the amount he succeeded in gaining possession of this time was $900. He was not to be found and people were beginning to give him up as lost when he, the other day, turned up in London Ont. It appears he has victimized several unsuspecting parties throughout Ontario.

The firm in whose employment Burnham had lately been while in Montreal were not surprised this morning when they received a lengthy communication from a person in London Ont., asking for full particulars of Burnham's escapades while in this city. The writer was anxious to know all about him, as he was, he stated, about to give the particulars to the press and to warn people against this man as an adventurer. It seems that in London he is also well known, and has been trying on some of his old games in that district. To the people up there, he represented that he belonged to a firm of lawyers. In Montreal his affable manner made him numerous friends. He is well known, especially in fashionable circles.

Personal.

Dr. and Mrs. McCamus of Bobcaygeon, are in town to-day.

Mrs. Charlie Winch, of Montreal, is visiting Mrs. Wm. Bradburn, Maple Hill.

Mr. J. H. Long, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, returned to town this morning. He has been rusticating in Nova Scotia and Boston.

The Orangemen at Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Aug. 13.—The "Relief of Derry" was celebrated here to-day by an immense gathering of Orangemen. It was the largest demonstration of the kind ever held in this town. There must have been fully 1,000 in the procession, which consisted of several brass bands, Hackett True Blue Lodge, No. 39, with the True Blues, 'Prentice Boys and Young Britons of Toronto, Peterborough, the Counties of Durham, Northumberland and Victoria, and the Coronation Lodge No. 1 Lady True Blues of Toronto and the Orangemen of Victoria County. At the Agricultural Park, able and stirring speeches were made by leading members of the Order and others. The streets were decorated by a very fine arch and display of bunting.

Ten Important Facts.

1—That Thursday is Civic Holiday.
2—That it is the day of the Foresters' Excursion.
3—That the Lake Shore route is the finest and coolest.
4—That tickets are good for two days.
5—That children of twelve pay only 90c.
6—That adults pay only $1.75.
7—That excursionists get reduced rates to the Cyclorama.
8—That the Peterborough-Toronto cricket match is on the 16th.
9—That you can return by either via Lindsay or Port Hope.
10—That a smooth, rapid run leaves you eight hours in the city, and the bill is footed both ways for $1.75.

The Labor Demonstration.

A preliminary meeting of the laboring men and mechanics of Peterborough was held in the K. of L. Hall last night to take steps towards holding a monster labor demonstration here the first week in September. Representatives were present from the Knights of Labor, the carpenters, moulders, shoemakers, tailors and bricklayers unions. Mr. George Ross was appointed chairman, Mr. Robt. McGregor secretary, and Mr. Richard Sheehy treasurer. Messrs. R. Sheehy and Geo. Ball were delegated to make railway excursion arrangements, as it is intended to invite labor representatives from the surrounding district. The features of the demonstration were discussed, but at this early stage it would be premature to publish an outline of the programme, as it is not yet complete, and, besides, is liable to change. In the interim between this and the next meeting on Friday evening, it is probable some definite shape will be given affairs. The demonstration will, however, include a pic-nic as a feature of the day. It promises to be an occasion worthy of its promoters.

Local Sports and Pastimes.

Lacrosse.

The Riversides won a name and fame for themselves by defeating the Ontarios of Toronto Monday afternoon. There were about 200 spectators present on the park, the Toronto contingent being largely represented. They were, of course, surprised and disappointed with the result of the match. The teams lined up as follows:—

Riversides		Ontarios.
J Phelan	goal	J Ambeshurst
A Ross	point	W Mot allough
J Joyal	c. point	R Cheyne
A Butler	1st defence	C Campbell
J Meagher	2nd defence	G Wheeler
M Halpin	3rd defence	W C Kennedy
F Larone	centre	S Burns
J Begley	1st home	G. Cheyne
F Pakenham	2nd home	W A Pope
T Duncan	3rd home	M Rose
M Lobister	outside home	F McIlroy
A Ransteman	inside home	W D Wonds
Jas Coughlin	field captain	R H Burns
D Clements	umpire	R Stevenson

H Phelan, referee.

The teams took their positions on the field at 3:20. Larone secured the ball at the face, but lost it, and, after a tussle, Begley got it, made a long run down the field and threw the ball on the Ontarios' goal, but it was captured by Cheyne who sent it back up the field. One of the visitors was hurt and time was called. The ball was again faced and it quickly passed down the field, where it was kept hovering about the visitors' goal until Cheyne secured it and sent it up field. Phelan and Butler made some fine long throws from the home goal, and fine field play was done by Meagher, Halpin and Larone. The ball was lost in the weeds behind the Ontarios' goal, faced between Duncan and Cheyne and secured by Duncan, who ran to the front of the goal and put it through the flags; time, half an hour.

SECOND GAME.—Larone secured the rubber at the face and passed it to Halpin who made a long throw up the field. It was returned again, but one of the spectators caught the ball in his hand. Time was called; the ball faced again, thrown to the centre and secured by Begley, who made a fine long run towards the visitors goal. The sphere was returned to the vicinity of the home goal and a fine shot on the flags by McIlroy, stopped by Phelan, who did some grand playing. "Joe" sent it up the field to Pakenham, who passed it to Begley, the latter making a run and putting it through the flags. Time, eight minutes. During the second game, Butler, Larone, Begley, Phelan, Rose and Isbister did some fine playing. Phelan stopping some pretty balls in goal. For the Ontario's, Kennedy, Cheyne and McIlroy distinguished themselves by good lacrosse playing.

After 10 minutes' rest, the ball was faced for the third game. The Riversides were in high spirits and every man played a fine game to the last. At the face the ball was taken by Burns, but he lost it to Duncan, and he in turn was relieved of it by Cheyne, who got it and sent it up the field. The sphere was secured by Joyal, who made a long throw. It quickly returned again and was thrown on the Peterborough goal, but it was cleverly stopped by Phelan. Butler, who seemed to be with the ball all the time, secured the rubber and made a long run down field and shot at the Ontarios' flag. The ball hovered around the visitors' goal for a while, was sent up again by Cheyne, secured by Begley, who made a fine shot on goal, returned again, and secured by Larone, who dropped it right on the Ontarios' flags; but Cheyne secured it and sent it up the field. Down it came again from Phelan, but it was sent back in a hurry. During a scrimmage, Rose was hit in the eye eye and cut. Time was called, and, after a few minutes' delay, the ball was faced between Burns and Larone, secured by the latter, thrown down the field, sent up again and secured by Phelan, who made a fine run and long throw; returned again and lost in the weeds; faced between McCullough and Rose and secured by Rose after some grand play. The rubber passed up and down the field, hovering near one goal for a time, then near the other. During this game Burns, Cheyne and Kennedy of the Ontarios played fine lacrosse, and Butler, Rose, Duncan and Ransteman for the Riversides also distinguished themselves. The game lasted till five o'clock, neither securing a goal. Time being up the game was stopped, after forty minutes' hard play.

NOTES.

Many of the old Peterborough's were on the grounds and took a great interest in the game.

Mr. J. Reynolds, of Toronto, at one time a player in the old "Peterborough's," was on the ground. He was sadly disappointed in the result of the match.

Mr. W. J. Devlin acted as field constable, and he filled the position well, keeping back the excited spectators.

"Joe" Phelan worked like a Trojan in goal, stopping some fine, swift shots. He was highly praised by the spectators and visitors, and well he deserved it.

The ladies were largely represented at the match, and were well pleased both by the playing and the result.

The boys are highly elated over their victory, and are beginning to think they are "no small potatoes" after all.

The referee and umpires performed their duties satisfactorily to all parties.

The visitors were well entertained by the Peterborough men, and returned home on the excursion train, apparently well pleased with the treatment they received.

Willow and Wicket.

PETERBOROUGH VS. HAMILTON.

Yesterday being Hamilton's civic holiday, an eleven from the "Ambitious City" came to Peterborough to try conclusions with the home team.

Play began a little after ten o'colck with the strangers at the bat. Owing to the rain which had fallen during the night and morning, the bowlers were heavily handicapped at first by the wet ball and insecure foothold. Logan and Day opened the bowling to McGiverin and Martin. At 21 Logan succeeded in finding his way to Martin's stumps, but the second wicket did not fall until 69 runs had been recorded, when McGiverin, who was beginning to "sieg," was bowled by Day for an exceedingly well-played 42. The crack bat of the team, Gillespie, now followed; and although at first he seemed scarcely at ease with the bowling, he soon began to play confidently, and the century was completed before Stenson, his partner, was taken by Hamilton for a well played 28. Gillespie was not got rid of until 124, when Logan took him off his own bowling; he had played in beautiful style for his 42. The wicket had been getting gradually better for the bowlers, as is shown by the fact that although the fourth wicket fell for 124, the whole team were got rid of for 139, none of the last men making any stand. The Peterborough fielding was hardly up to the mark several catches being missed, but this may be partly accounted for by the wet ball.

For Peterborough three wickets fell for eight runs, before lunch. After this, however, Stratton and Ray made a good stand, Ray's 14 including one four. The scoring, owing to the fine bowling and fielding, was very slow, six maiden overs being bowled in succession. Stratton played another fine steady innings for 22, it may be noticed here that he has scored double figures in every match he has played this season. McDonald played nicely for his dozen, but nine wickets were down for 72, eight runs being wanted, when the last man went in, to save the follow on. Parker and Pearson, however, played pluckily, the fielding, especially the throwing in, became demoralized, and the century was reached before Parker was caught at the wickets for a well played 17, Pearson being not out with 11.

Hamilton went to the wickets for a second innings and this time were got rid of for 85, the bowling and fielding of the home team being much better. Gillespie played another fine innings for 16, and Stinson, Martin and Southam also did well.

In playing to time, Peterborough lost 2 wickets for 14 runs, Rogers being not out, 9.

The fielding of the Hamilton team has already been noticed, and it may be said that the younger members of the team, especially, excelled in this department. The home team should take a lesson from in this department, especially in backing up. In which they are very weak. Score, etc.:—

Lacrosse.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—It is well known that the Riverside lacrosse club have before long to go to Bradford to play for the championship with the club of that place. Now, the members of the team are all young and most of them can ill afford the expense, including loss of time, the trip will involve. Peterborough at one time took the lead in lacrosse matters in this district, and the Riversides, by their capital playing this season, shown in several matches as well as in the magnificent exhibition they gave on the Riverside Park yesterday, have made a long stride towards restoring the town to that pre-eminence in lacrosse which it formerly enjoyed. I think the Riversides, by their record and the promises of future good work, are worthy of the confidence, sympathy and support of all lovers of this noble game, and I am sure if occasion offers they will receive it. Now I have a proposal to make. I would suggest that the secretary of the Riversides call a meeting to make arrangements for an excursion to Bradford on the occasion of the match, Aug. 29th, in that place, the profits from the excursion to be handed over to the club to assist in defraying their expenses. I am sure the friends of the game would turn out largely to recognise the plucky playing of the Riversides, and their worthiness of being supported.

Yours, etc.,
OLD-TIMER.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are out to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE REPORTS TOUCHING MR. BURGESS' HEALTH UNTRUE.

Crops, Horses and Cattle in the Northwest in Splendid Condition—Fined Under the Early Closing By-law.

OTTAWA, Aug. 15.—Mr. Hall, Acting Deputy Minister of the Interior, contradicts the statement which appeared in The Mail and other papers that Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister, had been struck with paralysis in Victoria. He says Mr. Burgess was slightly indisposed in Victoria but is now attending to departmental matters at Winnipeg and will be home next week.

The Department of Agriculture is in receipt of advices from Manitoba and the Northwest which indicate that the root crop will be almost marvellous. The alternations of warm rains and fine weather have had a magnificent effect on the crops.

Next Thursday being a civic holiday, Council yesterday decided that it should be observed as a departmental holiday.

Tenders for elevators in the new Departmental Buildings here will be called for by the Public Works Department in a few days.

S. L. Teskey, a boot and shoe dealer, was fined $2 and costs in the police court yesterday under the early closing bylaw, for selling a pair of slippers at 8.30, the hour for closing under the by-law being 7. Teskey signed the petition to the Council for the by-law, but has been twice summoned for breaking it, the first case being dismissed because the acting magistrate had some doubts about the hour of sale, which was only a few minutes after 7. The plea was raised that the passing of the bylaw was informal, and notice of appeal given.

THE WORLD OF LONDON.

PLANS FOR THE QUEEN'S VISIT TO SCOTLAND.

The Glasgow Exhibition—Fourth and Sixth Sounds at the Mansion House Banquet—A Bit of Gossip About Cannon Liddon to be Taken with a Grain of Salt.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Queen has finally decided to travel to Scotland next week by land, although, as I have already stated, the royal yacht Victoria and Albert is going round from the Solent to the Clyde, and several members of the royal party will be conveyed to her and remain on board during Her Majesty's stay at Blythswood. The Queen will pay a state visit to Glasgow on Wednesday afternoon, travelling by rail from Renfrew to St. Enoch's station. Her Majesty will first inaugurate the new municipal buildings, when she will receive an address from the corporation, enclosed in a special gold casket. Then the royal party will proceed to the exhibition, where the ceremonies are to be of a very elaborate character, beginning with a procession to the grand hall, where the Queen, standing on a dais, is to receive an address from the Executive Council, of which Sir Archibald Campbell, her host at Blythswood, is president, and the jeweled badge from the Lord Provost as a souvenir of the day. The Glasgow Choral Union will sing the national anthem and a special ode of welcome. Her Majesty will afterward visit several of the galleries and then return in procession to the principal entrance.

Half a million more visits have been paid to the Glasgow exhibition already than to the highly successful Manchester exhibition of last year during the same period—the first three months. Nevertheless, considerable less money has been taken. The receipts are over £20,000 short of the Manchester standard. The reason is that the canny Scot provides himself freely with season tickets and uses them early and often. Naturally the half-crown days have been a complete failure and have been abolished.

The accuracy of my statements about the voluminous diaries of Emperor Frederick is confirmed. All the volumes devoted to political and military comments have been given up by the Dowager Empress to the Government. She retains all those which relate to private affairs as well as the whole of her husband's correspondence, and designs at a future time to publish what she pleases, there being an implied understanding that nothing shall appear to which the Emperor or his ministers could reasonably take exception. Prince Bismarck has acted as the honest broker in bringing about this arrrangement, and has been untiring in his efforts to arrange a modus vivendi with the Empress.

The session, which has been productive of only one large measure and singularly barren of interest, has not brought forward among the rank and file of the House of Commons any man of more than average ability. None of the young members distinguished themselves, though they have had opportunities. This year the muzzled Ciceros, as the Chancellor of the Exchequer called them at the Guildhall banquet last August, have been unmuzzled, but have not distinguished themselves. Only two men have increased their reputation; both Cabinet Ministers.

The suspension of the usual rule as to the duration of the Wednesday sitting at Westminster somewhat interfered with the success of the ministerial banquet at the Mansion House. Although Lord Salisbury arrived so early as almost to escape observation, Mr. Goschen and Mr. Balfour did not come till long after dinner was begun. The gathering, nevertheless, was very successful. The mistress of the robes in black velvet wore quite enough diamonds to console the city for the absence of Baroness Henry de Worms. Lady Ermintrude Malet's strings of pearls were almost as magnificent as Lady Knutsford's blue gold brocade. The Lord Chancellor gazed in rapt admiration at a bust of the Premier enthroned on the high altar among palms and lilies; Lord Gransby, in excellent spirits, was accompanied by his wife in black and diamonds; George Curzon, in scarlet, communicated the latest political news to Lady Brooke, and during the long wait before dinner Mr. Buckle held a whispered conference with Lord Cranbourne.

It is curious that the greatest of living English preachers has not been raised to the Episcopal bench. Though a high churchman, he is not so strongly pronounced a ritualist as to disqualify him, but, indeed, possesses nearly all the qualities of intellect and learning to single him out for such a position. He is beloved and revered by his many friends in all kinds of life. The bishopric of Salisbury was said to have been offered him by Lord Salisbury and refused, but I have good reason to know it never was. The difficulty in proposing the appointment of Canon Liddon to the bishopric has always arisen with the Queen, with whom he is not popular. The reason assigned for his not being liked by Her Majesty is that on one occasion when he preached before her she was very much displeased at his style. Canon Liddon framed his style on that of the great French preacher, and as Massillon when preaching before Louis XIV. addressed the king as "sir," so Canon Liddon in his sermon addressed the Queen as "madam." The Queen, either from ignorance or forgetfulness of the authority on which he based his sermon, was very much shocked and annoyed, and expressed herself in no measured terms. Canon Liddon never since has been commanded to preach before her.

The election to the vacant full membership of the Royal Academy will not take place till shortly after Christmas. The choice is generally supposed to lie between Messrs. Herkomer, Burgess and Gow. The election of an associate will not be held till spring.

No settlement has been arrived at of the case in which Phyllis Broughton is plaintiff and Lord Dangan defendant. Sir Edward Clarke leads for the plaintiff, and the case will be heard at the end of the long vacation.

The Saganeti Massacre.

ROME, Aug. 14.—A despatch from Massowah says a French missionary who has arrived from the scene of the massacre at Saganeti reports that four of the Italian officers who were in command of the auxiliaries were killed. He does not know the fate of the fifth. He says that DeBebe, the Abyssinian chief, whose troops overcame the Italian command, had a force of 730 men, of whom 300 were armed with muskets. The report that the Assaortin allies proved treacherous is denied. Four hundred stragglers from the defeated column have arrived at Massowah.

ONTARIO TEACHERS.

Proceedings at the 30th Annual Convention at Toronto Yesterday.

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—The twenty-eighth annual convention of the Ontario Teachers' Association was opened yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. In the temporary absence of the President, Vice-President John Miller took the chair. Mr. A. Campbell, of Kincardine, was appointed secretary to the convention. When the minutes of the last annual meeting had been read and confirmed, the president, Mr. J. H. Smith, of Ancaster, entered and relieved Mr. Miller from the duties of chairman.

The treasurer's report was presented by Mr. Wm. J. Hendry. It showed that the receipts for the year ending Aug. 13, amounted to $914. The total expenditure was $415, leaving a balance of $498.

At the afternoon session a class of little girls attended to assist Mr. A. T. Crinean, of Toronto, in his illustration of the merits of the Tonic Solfa System.

Mr. T. Arnold Haultain, M.A., Peterboro, read an essay on "The Preparation of Candidates for Teachers' Certificates." He complained that the educational system at present in vogue in Ontario was too literary in its character. The education received by pupils in the High Schools, was not, he contended, of a sufficiently practical nature. In fact, they were trained for the intellectual professions, which were overcrowded. He advocated the increase of fees in the High Schools and Colleges and the institution of more Agricultural Colleges. He believed something should be done to counteract drawing young men from the farm.

Mr. W. F. Merchant, M.A., Owen Sound spoke at some length on the "Necessity of Changes in the Constitution of the Ontario Teachers' Association, with a View to Make it a Representative Body." He recommended the adoption of the following clauses: 1. That it shall consist of the officers. 2. Of one representative for every 25 members of each Teachers' Institute. 3. All Public Model and High School Inspectors. 4. One representative from each High School, Collegiate Institute and University, and one additional representative for every four teachers over three on the staff.

Mr. Woods, London Collegiate Institute, gave notice that at the next session of the association he would move, "That in the opinion of this association additional Normal School accommodation for Ontario is urgently required."

Mr. J. W. Garvin gave notice of motion that at a subsequent session he will move, "That in view of the rapid advance in this Province of the Tonic Solfa system of vocal music, there being not less than 20,000 pupils taught daily by this method, the association holds the opinion that Tonic Solfa should be placed on the same basis in our Public and High Schools as the staff notation, and would recommend that a Tonic Solfa Reader, or series of readers, be authorized at an early date by the Education Department.

At the evening session Mr. Garrison opened the discussion on the merits of the Tonic Solfa system. He moved a resolution to the effect that the system be placed on the same footing in the curriculum of public schools as all other styles of notation. The motion was carried.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Big Police Court Docket—The World's Injunction Made Perpetual.

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—There were above 100 charges, 40 of them for drunkenness, to be disposed of at the Police Court yesterday. Joseph Colberry, a member of the Derry Fife and Drum Band, was remanded till Thursday on the charge of participating in the attack on St. Nicholas Home. James Morrison, for an assault on Miss Orr, was fined $10 and costs.

A wagon loaded with gravel ran over a 5-year-old son of Assessor J. B. Brouse, at North Toronto station. Though seriously injured the little fellow will recover.

Yesterday afternoon the residence of W. J. Franks, at 22 Cecil-street, was entered, the house thoroughly ransacked and $22 in money and several articles of jewelry stolen. The servant girl was the only inmate of the house at the time, and she heard nothing of the matter, and was not aware of the presence of the thieves in the house.

Before Judge McMahon, at Osgoode Hall yesterday, the twice-enlarged injunction of W. F. Maclean, of The Toronto World, restraining Toronto Typographical Union No. 91 and others from publishing and circulating a handbill or circular calling for a boycott of the said paper was disposed of. This was effected by making the injunction perpetual. The order of the court also restrains defendants from issuing any like publication, and the cost of all proceedings in the matter the defendants have to pay.

To-day the property owners of the city will vote for or against the issue of "General Consolidated 4 per cent. Debentures" to the amount of $132,280. At the same time the Zoo by-law, or rather the question of purchasing the Zoo from the Zoological and Acclimatization Society will be submitted to the people.

At the Waterworks Committee meeting yesterday, City Solicitor Biggar handed in an opinion to the effect that it was not possible to recover from the sureties of Mr. P. Burns the value of 1000 tons of coal which it was alleged Mr. Burns had cheated the city out of.

The Judge and the Bishop.

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—In the Superior Court case of McCroll v. Bosquet in which the defendant, a churchwarden of Roxton, is summoned to render an account. The parish priest, Rev. Mr. De Santenac, had been served with a subpœna ordering him to appear in court with the books of fabrique and he was present to-day but instead of the books he produced a letter from his Bishop, Mgr. Moreau of St. Hyacinthe, ordering him not to bring the books. The priest explained that he was responsible to his Bishop, and notwithstanding all the respect he professed for Court he must disobey its order. Judge Taschereau ordered him to bring the books into court on September 12.

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 14.—During a quarrel last night Bob Brown (colored) shot and killed Dr. Halliday and wounded two other white men. Brown was taken from the jail and lynched.

SENATOR MORGAN TALKS.

HE FAVORS RATIFICATION OF THE FISHERIES TREATY.

And Says That the Senate is Not Wont to Make Such an Exhibition of Itself in Executive Session as It Has During This Public Discussion.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Senate resumed consideration of the Fisheries Treaty to-day, and was addressed by Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.). He expressed himself more and more impressed with the belief that the attitude in which the Government would be placed at the conclusion of these proceedings would be very embarrassing, and probably one of the greatest danger so far as the peace of the country is concerned, or at least so far as the quietness and proper progress of commercial affairs was concerned. He believed that after the treaty had been rejected by the Senate the country would again be abroad on that sea of turmoil that had so long agitated it on the Fisheries question, that renewed difficulties would be found in the way, that the American people would be found hardly in a state of preparation to receive with composure, and arguing along the line of experience he confessed that he had very serious apprehensions as to what the direction would be.

He proceeded to quote from the speeches of Republican Senators disparaging remarks on the President, the Secretary of State, the treaty itself and Senators who advocated its ratification. Mr. Morgan spoke of Mr. Bayard as a man of splendid bearing and immaculate honor, in whose presence some American citizens esteemed themselves very highly honored. The tongue of scandal, Mr. Morgan said, had been let loose in this debate in a way which might convince the world that when the Senate sat with closed doors, nothing but the scorpion's whip was applied to the backs of American citizens who had been nominated for office or who had taken a part in negotiating treaties. He would say, however, that this open and public exhibition, indeed and compelled by the necessities of the political situation, was the very first occasion that he had known such things to be said and done. He prayed God that senators would be sent back to the seclusion in which their fathers had put them a hundred years ago, when they might have an opportunity of affecting each others' mind in debate by logic and argument and reasoning, instead of being forced into the dirty condition where politics led them to scatter their filth among the mobs that howl around the stumps.

Much time was occupied by Mr. Morgan in reading from diplomatic correspondence on the subject of the seizure of American fishing vessels during the last half century.

In the discussion of the question of fresh fish Mr. Beck (Dem., Ky.) suggested to Mr. Morgan the fact that while the tariff bill was pending in the House no New England member had ventured to offer an amendment imposing a tax on fresh fish, and that therefore the President could not, under the retaliatory law, place an inhibition on fresh fish but would have, if he interfered with Canadian trade at all, to stop the subsidy paid by the Canadian railroad companies to railroad companies in Maine and Vermont.

Mr. Morgan assented to this proposition, and remarked that the New England senators and owners of fishing vessels thought that they were putting up the smartest kind of a job in urging to use the treaty-making power and the President's power to issue proclamations of non-intercourse as a means of prohibiting the introduction of free fish. It was a case of mere artifice and finesse.

When Mr. Morgan had reached in his argument the question of the protocol of 1885, arranging a modus vivendi, he said he would reserve the discussion of that and other questions till to-morrow.

The Senate then resumed consideration of executive business.

The National League Meeting.

DUBLIN, Aug. 13.—At the regular meeting of the National League yesterday, Mr. Connell who was chairman said that before the commission of inquiry had proceeded far in its work a decision will be obtained in the law courts to settle the fact that The Time's letters were forgeries. It would be perfectly immaterial what the result of the investigation of the Commission might be when Parnell had proved the letters forgeries.

Mr. Kenny, M.P., declared that Mr. Balfour stood at the bar of public opinion as the legal murderer of Mandeville and he was now using his tyrannous power to injure Mr. Dillon and Mr. O'Kelly. The latter, he said, had been imprisoned for telling the people to refuse to answer questions under an infamous act. If the people had not refused they would have been cowards. The last triumph of the Parnellites was the exposure of Joseph Chamberlain who by his own letter had proved up to the hilt the truth of Parnell's accusation.

An Important Question.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The mystery how the Parnell letters came into the possession of The Times, says Edmund Yates, will probably never be solved. The danger to the persons implicated, should their names be divulged, would be supreme. One may dismiss as untrue the stories current on the subject, though one of them is again revived, namely, that they were stolen from Sir William Harcourt while he was Home Secretary, and that £100 was paid for them. They probably came from different sources, for a peculiarity of nearly all Irish conspiracies has been the ease with which information can be procured after matters have got to a certain point. There are distinct statements now to the effect that the Irish party is in possession of information which leaves no doubt that the Parnell letters are forgeries, and when the time comes there will be no difficulty in proving it. It is hardly possible that The Times can be taken in, though it may prove so. They on their side are equally confident that they can prove their case. Everything must turn on the question whether they can give the names of the informants.

Winnipeg Wrecks.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 14.—Premier Greenway has written a letter to the press stating that so far as the Government is concerned they do not believe a conspiracy to overthrow them exists.

The Ontario Farmers' excursion has been welcomed by brass bands and leading men in the west, and are delighted with the country and crops. Only a few have yet returned from the West.

MANITOBA THE BEST.

Take it all in all, to the man who wants a new country to settle in, there is no better country than Manitoba. While we find in this province and the Northwest one magnificent harvest after another, we hear most doleful accounts from Dakota and adjoining country, south of the international line. A great many Ontario farmers have returned to this province disgusted with their attempt to make a home in Dakota. One farmer invested his all in Dakota, and six years' experience—each worse than the last—drove him out of the country, and the value of his crop may be fancied when he says he left it behind. Of his last year he says: "I had in 120 acres of wheat which was not worth staying to take off the ground. I told the neighbors if they thought it worth cutting they were welcome to it. There are other families there who would have left with me, but they are too poor to get away. Many of them are in destitute circumstances, and unless assisted will have to suffer this coming winter. Any man who owns a piece of land in Ontario would be foolish to exchange it for a county in Dakota." The moral of this is plain. A man living in Ontario must be at a very low pass when he can better himself by going to Dakota—nothing less grave than fear of a life term in the penitentiary should induce him to bury himself in this unhospitable region. Dakota had its boom and hundreds of foolish farmers were deluded into believing in it, and hundreds of Manitoba settlers driven from that province through misgovernment and the grinding injustice of monopoly. And now we will see many from both places returning to their former homes. Thanks to the exertions of the Liberals of Manitoba and of the Dominion generally, the curse of monopoly has been removed, and now no place on this continent presents so fine a field for the new settler. It has fertile soil, cheaper railway transportation, is honestly governed and is free from the grave objections that make Dakota an uninhabitable waste and an impossible field for success in agricultural operations. Cyclones, that in Dakota sweep away houses, barns and stock in summer, seem to cower into zephers as they strike the Union Jack at the boundary line. The blizzards that congeal Dakota solid and bury citizens while crossing a street, become in comparison mere snow flurries in Manitoba. The crops which in Dakota are left standing as not worth cutting, in Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest give such copious yields that railway facilities are not equal to sending the products to market. Verily the Lord of the harvest has chosen our Northwest for the home of millions of thriving, prosperous and happy people, and every Canadian is proud of it. Shameless Tory organs continue to twit Liberals and Liberal journals with having shown preference for Dakota as a place of settlement. This is all "rot" and they know it. They only make these slanderous imputations from a low spirit of party venom. They know that every sentiment of preference for Dakota which ever found place in the public heart, originated in the evils of Tory misrule in the Northwest, and the middle-age monopoly fostered there by Tory machinations. It is time these unseemly tirades were dropped. We are all Canadians and all have an interest in the progress of the country, and he is an unsavoury enemy of the country who strives for the paltry sake of party advantage to convert patriotic citizens into traitors by gratuitous slander.

For the month of July the excess of United States imports over exports amounted in value to $13,000. For the previous six months the excess had been about $61,000,000. In the item of wheat exports alone there was a large diminution. For the first six months of 1888 the wheat exported to Great Britain amounted to only 8,367,000 cwts. against 17,522,000 for the corresponding period of 1887. At the same time Russian wheat exportations to Great Britain for the six months of 1887 was 7,569,000 cwts. against 1,491,000 cwts. for the corresponding period of last year.

Church Bells.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—It has often surprised me that the members of the George street Methodist church and of St. Paul's and St. Andrew's Churches here have not provided their respective churches with good bells. It cannot be for the want of money that they have not done so, for they spend money enough on their churches, and a small part of what they do spend would provide the bells. The sound of so many bells would be pleasant to hear and would give a city appearance to the town. I hope this matter will be taken up by these church people, and that it will not be long before Sunday will be ushered in by the sound of five good bells instead of two, as at present.

A.

August 14th, 1888.

[While our correspondent is surprised that the churches he mentions have not bells, another suggests a chime or two of bells in some of the churches. We know of a gentleman who said he would give $100 towards the cost of a chime of bells in the tower of St. John's, and he is not a member of that congregation or church, either. But he was, he said, willing to give that much to have the chimes remind him of home.—Ed. Examiner.]

FOR THEIR MUTUAL BENEFIT.

The Sixth Biennial Convention of the C. M. B. A. at Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—The sixth biennial convention of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association commenced its three days' annual session in Union Hall yesterday morning. Before proceeding to business the delegates marched to St. Michael's Cathedral, where they assisted at a solemn high mass.

The sermon, which was an eloquent discourse, was preached by Rev. Father Tiernan of London. On the conclusion of the services, the delegates formed in file of two, and marched to the Union Hall, and at once entered into executive session. Mr. D. J. O'Connor, Grand President of the Grand Council, presided.

The committee on credentials reported, after which the Grand President gave his biennial address. It was listened to with profound attention, and dealt with the past history and future prospects of the association. The organization was shown to be in a most prosperous condition. The reports of the Grand Secretary, S. R. Brown of London; and Grand Treasurer, W. J. McKie of Windsor, followed, and proving satisfactory, were adopted without discussion.

In the afternoon the delegates reassembled, and listened to the reports of the representatives of the last convention to the Supreme Grand Council. The Chairman of the Grievance Committee announced that he had no grievance to report upon.

Another Dynamite Find at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—What the police think was an attempt at the wholesale destruction of property on the Burlington road was discovered yesterday morning. While traveling his beat a policeman's attention was attracted to an object on the "Q" tracks on 15th street near the viaduct. On picking it up he found that it was a gas pipe bomb containing enough dynamite to blow up an entire train. The bomb was 6 inches long and 1¼ inches in diameter, one of the largest size made by the anarchists. The police have no clue as to who placed the bomb on the track. The dynamite was almost under the viaduct, and had it exploded it would have resulted in heavy loss of property if not in the destruction of life.

The Servant and the Kerosene Lamp.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 14.—A servant in the family of Rev. Mr. McCuskie, who are living in a cottage on the Mount Tabor camp meeting ground, tried to kindle a fire this morning with kerosene. An explosion occured. Mrs. McCuskie was asleep in the cottage and narrowly escaped with three of her children. Two others were burned to death. Mrs. McCuskie was badly burnt.

"That Miss Jones is a nice-looking girl, isn't she?"

"Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town if it wasn't for one thing."

"What's that?"

"She has catarrh so bad it is unpleasant to be near her. She has tried a dozen things and nothing helps her. I am sorry, for I like her, but that doesn't make it any less disagreeable for one to be around her."

Now if she had used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, there would have been nothing of the kind said, for it will cure catarrh every time. c

DOMINION COUNCIL, R. T. OF T.

Seventh Annual Session of the Order at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 14.—The seventh annual session of the Dominion Council, Royal Templars of Temperance, convened in this city to-day, Dominion Councillor Buchanan, of Hamilton, presiding. All the members of the council were present except Rev. W. Kettlewell, of Oakville, and Rev. T. R. McNair, of London.

The council received the reports of the various officers. The report of the Dominion Councillor was exceedingly encouraging, showing that the order had made wonderful progress during the year, the increase in the various provinces ranging from 65 per cent in Manitoba to over 300 per cent in Quebec.

He advised extension of investment in the publication department with a view to increasing the quantity of temperance literature. He recommended that the constitution be altered so as to make members who could not pass the medical examination for the second or select degree, eligible as honorary members. In the beneficiary department the death rate has been only 4 per 1,000, statistics that show that temperance is conducive to longevity. During the year $21,000 has been paid out for benefits, leaving a net surplus gained during the year of $14,000, making a total surplus in the beneficiary fund of $25,000.

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,492 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,188 29	1,167,286 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,962,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,607 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,664 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

The Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1888.

The Weather.

Moderate winds, partly cloudy and warm with showers.

THE CENTRE OF GRAVITY in the earth is its centre, of man in his pocket, and the centre of attraction in Peterborough is the Golden Lion dry goods store, where the finest stock of imported goods at the most moderate prices is found.

Lacrosse.

A team of the Shamrock lacrosse club goes to Lindsay to-morrow on the excursion to play the Y. M. C. A. club of that place. The Shamrocks play the local Y. M. C. A. club Friday evening.

Cricket To-morrow.

A "scrub" match is called for to-morrow afternoon on the grounds. All members who do not leave town are requested to be on hand as soon as possible.

WHEN YOU WANT the best of imported drygoods, millinery or mantles, at reasonable prices, call at the Golden Lion. No place like it for variety and style.

Range and Rifle.

There will be rifle practice at the range on Thursday, Civic Holiday, beginning at 1.30 o'clock. It is hoped that there will be a large turn out.

Stony Lake Excursion.

Tuesday August 21st, the Baptist Church Choir's excursion to Ivanhoe Island (Harry Grundy's). Fare for round trip, 65 cents. No pains will be spared to make this one of the most enjoyable day's outing of the season.

Willow and Wicket.

An eleven of the Peterborough Cricket Club go to Toronto to-morrow morning to play the return match with the Queen City Club. The team will be about the same as the one that played against Hamilton.

Declines the Contract.

Mr. John Hayes now declines to accept the contract for the stonework of the Brock street bridge at $1,675, the amount of his own tender. Another meeting of the committee will have to be called to let the contract.

Acknowledgement.

The committee of the Peterborough Protestant Home, thankfully acknowledge $12.62 from the 'Prentice Boys, the proceeds of last Sunday's collection in George street Methodist church. Also flowers from Mr. McClennan, caretaker of Court House Park.

DON'T blunder past The Pantry Store and get disappointed in bargains.

New Hardware Establishment.

In another column appears the advertisement of J. Muckleston & Co., who will open a hardware shop in the new block, Hunter street, next the post office. This firm has a good reputation and Mr. Archie Moffat's connection with it will favorably introduce it to the Peterborough public.

Excursion To-day.

The 'Prentice Boys of Peterborough and a number of friends had an excursion to Hastings to-day, where they join with the Belleville district brethren in celebrating the Relief of Derry. The local 'Prentice Boys are announced to play a baseball match with the P. B.'s of Belleville. Our boys will win of course.

Central Exhibition Prize List.

There was accidentally omitted from the published prize list the special prize of a "Blanchard Churn," value $15, presented by Mr. Geo. Stethem. Since the list was printed the following contributions have been received:—A plough, value $16, made by Fleury & Sons, Aurora, presented through their agent, Mr. T. Cochrane. Ten pounds of tea, presented by Messrs. Daly, Grange & Co.

It Reaches Everywhere.

Mr. Geo. B. Sproule this morning received a letter from a former resident of Peterborough, now of Idaho, U.S., asking him (Mr. S.) to send a collection of photographic views of Peterborough. The letter states that the writer read in the EXAMINER a paragraph referring to the excellent character of Mr. Sproule's photographic work. This circumstance not only indicates the reputation Sproule's work has gained but also shows that the EXAMINER as an advertising medium is unsurpassed.

Pill Rollers and Print Rippers.

Thursday afternoon, from two o'clock to four, there will be a convulsive commotion in Ashburnham, in the neighborhood of the athletic grounds. The druggists and dry goods men will wrestle for supremacy on the baseball diamond, and great will be the wrestle thereof. This will be the principal feature of the mammoth demonstration in Peterborough on civic holiday, and it is expected will draw thousands of visitors from Warsaw, Gore's Landing and other points along Indian River. A physician and large staff of assistants will be on the ground to look after the wounded heroes. The batteries will be, for the druggists, Arnica Willis and Strychnine Greatrix; for the dry goods team, Calico Carter and Balbriggan Armstrong. Sarsaparilla Schofield, though he doesn't know any more about the game than the players themselves, will umpire fairly on fouls and base hits. The first pill will be administered about 2 p.m. amidst the plaudits of the assembled thousands.

WHAT'S THE RACKET? Those 5 lb caddies of tea at The Pantry are the best things in town—try one.

A Coming Match.

Some day during the first week in September the Young's Point baseball club is expected down to play with the Ashburnham village club. Both are good amateur clubs and a close match will be looked for.

To Jubilee Point.

Peterborough branch No. 21 of the Emerald Benevolent Association will hold an excursion to Jubilee Point on Civic Holiday, August 16th. The committee is making every preparation to ensure the comfort and pleasure of the excursionists. d

Change of Livery Business.

Mr. Wm. Lewis and Mr. Robert Redman have purchased the livery stable business of Connors' Bros., on George-street, and took possession to-day. The public will find the new proprietors obliging and courteous, and in a position to meet the demands of their customers. The firm name will be Lewis & Redman. The EXAMINER bespeaks for them a share of public patronage.

To-morrow's Programme.

To-morrow is civic holiday, and the pleasure-seeker has the choice of a number of legitimate channels to gratify his taste. No less than six excursions leave town, all of which have been advertised in the EXAMINER. In town there will be nothing in particular doing, and as it is probable there will not be many people left in town to read the newspapers, the EXAMINER will join with the rest and take a holiday.

Garden Party.

A garden party was held in the Murray street school grounds last night, at which there was a good attendance. Prof. Doucet's orchestra supplied the music for dancing. Refreshments and promenading under the electric light were other means of amusement, and an enjoyable evening was spent. The proceeds were to assist in paying for a new organ for the boy choir of St. Peter's Cathedral. Quite a handsome sum was netted.

The Late Dr. Errett.

The following, in relation to the death of Dr. Errett, a relative of R. W. Errett, Esq., town, appears in the Carleton Place Herald: "On Friday the sad news reached us of the death of Dr. Errett, of Merrickville, a few years ago principal of the public school, here, where he became very popular. Dr. Errett was a gold medalist at Queen's last year, a prominent athlete, a leader at college, and was very popular for the few months he was able to practise. The gold medal cost him his life, as it was without doubt over-study that broke down his constitution. Consumption was the dread disease which carried him off. The sorrowing friends have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their hour of affliction. He was quite a young man."

Stony Lake Tourists.

This morning Rev. Walter Roger returned from a fortnight's stay at Northfield, Mass., where he has been attending Moody's Evangelistic Convention. He left for Stony Lake this morning and will return in time to preach in Knox church, Toronto, on Sunday. Mr. Wm. Brownscombe went out this morning to join his party on Stony Lake. Mr. Geo. Pope, street inspector, and family and his brother-in-law, Mr. Jos. Bennet, also left this morning for a seven or eight day's outing on Stony Lake. A "hen party" consisting of about a dozen married ladies, without incumbrance, went out to the Lake to spend the day.

Notice of Visit.

Mr. P. H. Morris, from the establishment of B. Laurance & Co., the Opticians of Montreal, will be at the store of the Agent, as under, for consultation, and for the purpose of suiting to all difficult and unusual cases of defective eyesight, the most perfect aids to vision known, the "B. Laurance" Spectacles and Eye-glasses. Mr. P. H. Morris is eminently qualified to adjust Spectacles to every case where relief can be afforded, and as his visit is for the convenience of the public, no charge being made for consultation or any extra charge for Spectacles, advantage should be taken of it. Note the date of visit. For two days only, Wednesday and Thursday August 15th and 16th, at the store of John McKee, Druggist, Peterborough. d

Successful Candidates.

The total number of successful candidates from the Peterborough Collegiate Institute at the recent matriculation and certificate examinations was 15, distributed as follows: Second-class certificates, 7; third-class, 3; Victoria University, 1; Queen's, 1; Toronto University, 1; Military College, 1; Law Society, 1. Besides these, another pupil passed as Queen's in all subjects except Latin, and another not in attendance, however, during the past year, matriculated into the same university. The number of candidates recommended by the masters for certificates was 23, although many more wrote on their own responsibility. One of the matriculants at Queen (W. Bryce) obtained first-class honors in mathematics. The total number of successful candidates last year at all the examinations was 5. It is only fair to say that two of the matriculants, although pupils of the Institute, received private tuition from Mr. Duff. It may be added that the average of successful candidates for certificates was this year at the Peterborough Institute 65 per cent., and throughout the province 20 per cent.

Cricket at Ottawa.

The Hamilton team which technically defeated Peterborough on Monday, was on Tuesday badly defeated in Ottawa. Hamilton, in its first innings, only put up 47, of which Stinson made 14 and Patterson 10, and in their second "go" they only got 27. Ottawa's first innings netted 65, and it cost them six wickets to gain the ten necessary to win. Local cricket critics or croakers are inclined to be hard on the Peterborough team for allowing Hamilton to down them. Hamilton only won by a technicality. Their first innings of 139 was given them by the wet state of the ground, which was all in favour of the batmen and against the fielding and bowling. Hamilton was dismissed in the second innings for the small score of 85, and had the game been played out Peterborough had nine good men to put up the 110 necessary to win, and there is little doubt they would have done it. There is no disposition to excuse the defeat of the home team on Monday, except by a plain statement of facts, but they should not be condemned simply because the chances of cricket gave the game to the Hamiltons, perhaps the best cricket club in Canada.

News from the North.

Sunday on Stony Lake—Almost a Drowning Accident—A New Hotel Proposed—Another Steamer in Prospect.

Sunday on Stony Lake is quite as much a holy day as in the towns and cities. It is a frequent subject for joke that Sunday ends at Young's Point, but the campers at Stony Lake have their religious observances just the same. And these Sunday trips are becoming quite popular with the townspeople. The Saturday night train is always well loaded with excursionists of this kind, who are enabled to enjoy the blessed quiet of the Sabbath amidst nature's sweet surroundings and soothe their worried brains by calm contemplation and undisturbed communion with their thoughts. The first impression of the visitor is that Stony Lake is a watery desert and that there are very few people on its shores. But such is not the case. Almost every available camping ground is occupied and populously inhabited. Lake, for instance, Anchorage Island, seven or eight acres in extent. There are over fifty people living on it, though to the casual observer there might not appear to be a dozen. The Peplows, Salters and Deans, and Camp Crescent, with its score of members, comprise a half century of people altogether. Other islands all about as well supplied, and when the residents of Syndicate, Sharp's Point, Kenmore, Grassy, Calumdhu, Juniper (several camps), Pompadour, [illegible]'s, Grundy's, Hamilton's, Sandy Point, Brownscombe's, Catamaran and [illegible] headquarters for campers, turn out in full force, the total is swelled up into the hundreds.

Sunday morning there was service at Mr. Rogers', on Juniper Island, and in the afternoon a song service at Anchorage, while a number attended service in the Dummer church. In the evening song services were held at Sharp's Point and Brownscombe's. At the former place an orchestra led the singing and played several overtures. Messrs. W. A. Sanderson, W. E. Loch and R. Tate, members of the Peterborough amateur orchestra, are there with their instruments and produce nice music. These Sundays on Stony Lake are very enjoyable indeed.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

In the course of conversation one manages to pick up lots of interesting news. Minor accidents and mishaps are frequent, such as walking off the wharf into the water on a dark night, as one of the young gentlemen of Camp Wee-mis-ti-coo-sen-wa-sie did Sunday night. There are many upsets but fortunately no drowning accidents have occurred yet this year. A very serious affair, which might have terminated in a terrible fatality, occurred one day last week. A number of young men of Crescent camp paddled to Hull's mill for lumber, and some of the ladies accompanied them. The canoes were drawn together and the lumber piled across them, some sitting on top of the boards and others in the boats. All went well till quite a distance from shore, when the heavy swells began washing into the heavily-loaded canoes, and the whole flotilla began to slowly sink. Down, down they went till the canoes were completely submerged. The boats began spreading and threatened to separate, but some of the boys managed to keep them together and thereby prevented a wholesale drowning accident. The boats sank until the top of the lumber was almost on a level with the water, when relief arrived and the party were rescued. Every one of them were thoroughly wet, those standing in the canoes having been up to their necks in water. Boats came out from the shore and carried off the badly frightened and nearly drowned "shipwrecked mariners," who have good reason to be thankful that they escaped the awful death that appeared inevitable. It was a foolish piece of work to load the canoes as was done when such a heavy sea was on, and the party came near paying a heavy penalty for their thoughtlessness.

A NEW HOTEL.

It is a matter of wonder to all visitors to Stony Lake that there is no summer hotel for the accommodation of guests. It is rumored that this "long felt want" is about to be supplied. A couple of American gentlemen have been negotiating with Mr. McCracken for the purchase of his landing on the south shore of the lake, in Dummer. They made him an offer and he is considering the proposition now. He is advised on all sides to sell out, as it is thought that the hotel must come as a matter of necessity, and if that site is not secured another will be.

CHEAPER RATES WANTED.

Property owners on Stony Lake are talking of forming a "combine" to reduce the steamboat fares next year. Many residents of the town are only able to visit their summer cottages for a few days at a time, and have to make frequent trips up and back. They propose next summer to arrange with the boats now running for cheaper rates, and in case this cannot be accomplished they threaten to organize a joint stock company and build a boat to be run by themselves. This is as yet only "talk," but it may take definite shape before next season.

BIRCH BARK.

The manufacture of birch bark envelopes and post-cards to send to friends at a distance occupies the attention of the campers. Some write on birch bark paper and enclose in an envelope of the orthodox size, though made of the bark, and place a 3 cent stamp on it. Others merely write a post-card and stamp it with a one-cent government badge. These latter never arrive at their destination. They require a three cent stamp as well as a letter. At the Peterborough postoffice the authorities state there are a number of these cards received daily from the north, but they never get to their destination. The dead letter office opens it capacious bags and takes them in. Campers should remember this and send no more post-cards labelled with a cent stamp. A three-center will carry it through for them.

Last (Monday) evening a ball was held at Julian's by the people of Anchorage and Sharp's Point.

Police Court.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 15.

George Burn was arrested last night near the south ward school, where he was kicking up a rumpus. He was drunk, and P. M. Edmison this morning gave him a couple of hours to get out of town. He got. Burn is said to be a farm hand working in the neighborhood of Peterborough.

Seven little urchins from the west ward were arraigned on a charge of tormenting and annoying Mr. and Mrs. Little, who have not resided long in town. The boys, they say, call them names and play all sorts of tricks to make them feel uncomfortable. The delinquents were named Dannie Hoolihan, Mickey Daly, Tommy Turcott, Eddie Lynch, Willie Strain, Fred Marshall and Frank Appleyard. The magistrate warned the boys not to repeat the offence, and dismissed them without sentence.

Personal.

Mr. Mark Orde, of Minneapolis, Minn., arrived in town on a visit last night.

Mr. T. W. Robinson and family left for a camping holiday at Stony Lake Tuesday.

Mr. George F. Orde, accompanied by Mrs. Orde (nee Miss Carnegie), came to town last night for a visit.

Slight Accident to the Cruiser.

On Tuesday afternoon the steamer Cruiser, while coming down the lake to Lakefield, became disabled by losing the key of one of her paddle wheels. The captain at once took measures to get his passengers to the village in time for the train. He took a canoe and paddled back and after a great deal of hard work and difficulty succeeded in encountering the "Mary Ellen," to which his passengers were transferred and they reached Lakefield in time to catch the train for town. The passengers felt much indebted to the kindness of Captain Grylls on the occasion, as it saved them the annoyance of detention in the lake over night.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

JACOBS' SORROWFUL "NO!"

THE MURDERER HAS NOTHING TO SAY IN HIS OWN DEFENCE.

Van Dosch Asks for a Jury—Le Monde Sued for $25,000 by Senator Trudel—Assignment of a Dry Goods Firm.

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—Maximilien Van Dosch, who is accused of abduction of a minor for the purpose of marriage, to-day at the Court of Special Sessions, asked for a jury trial.

Senator Trudel has taken out an action for $25,000 damages against Le Monde, which he charges with having repeatedly stated that he had sold himself to the Rouges, that he was in open revolt against the ecclesiastical authorities, etc.

The proprietors of the dry goods establishment at the corner of St. Catharine and Amherst-streets known as "Le Syndicat Canadien" assigned to-day with about $60-000 liabilities.

Chief of Police Hughes telegraphed to-day to the Attorney-General that henceforth Montreal City Detectives will not be sent out of the city limits unless their expenses are guaranteed by the province, but that he prepared to have the Coteau Landing murderer followed if this is done. A reply was received guaranteeing the expenses, and accordingly Detective Trempe was sent to Lancaster this afternoon and another Detective may be sent to-night. It was reported this afternoon that Cass had been arrested near Ottawa with $13,000 in bills on him, but at police headquarters it was denied that any information had been received to that effect.

The wife murderer, Angus Jacobs of Caughnawaga, was brought up from jail to-yay and taken before Coroner Jones who ordered that all the evidence taken at the inquest be read over to him. He listened attentively as the clerk read the documents and when he was asked if he had any questions to put or anything to say he replied with a sorrowful "no." The prisoner will be committed on Saturday.

A Stoney Creek Sensation.

HAMILTON, Aug. 16.—The Village of Stony Creek has been startled out of its usual serenity by a little sensation. It appears that some time ago a man named Roe came to the vicinity of the village and in due course won the affections of Miss Jennie Willis and married her. All went well with the happy pair until a few days ago, when a lady appeared at the Roe residence and made inquiries for Mr. Roe. Being informed that the gentleman was out the strange lady stated her determination of waiting until his return. During the conversation which passed between the two the visitor incidentally remarked that she was Mr. Roe's wife No. 1. After the Stoney Creek wife had somewhat relieved her feelings with a fit of weeping, she determined to leave the original wife in possession and left the house. Soon the wicked husband returned home and a scene resulted. Mrs. Roe No. 1, however, stayed in the house a few days, it is asserted, until Mrs. Roe No. 2 became tired of allowing another woman to rule in her household, and accordingly she went in hot haste to the house and cleared out the No. 1 wife. All is now quiet.

THE SLAVES AT KHARTOUM

LATEST INTELLIGENCE FROM THE MAHDI'S VICTIMS.

No Hope at Present for the Sufferers—The Terrible Tyranny of Khalifa Abdullah—The People Ripe for Revolt.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—On July 5 a messenger arrived at Cairo from Khartoum with some little scraps of paper, which, during his long journey to the civilized north, he had carefully concealed. These papers were very brief notes from Lupton Bey and Missionary Urwaider, two of the white prisoners at Khartoum, simply representing that the bearer was a reliable person, and requesting the English consul-general to pay him a certain sum of money. His messages were delivered by word of mouth.

The messenger is described as a very intelligent resident of Berber who is well known at Omdurman, the present residence of the Mahdi's successor, opposite Khartoum, on the west bank of the Nile. Some of his relatives are at the headquarters of the pretended Mahdi, Khalifa Adbullah, and are in the service of this potenate. According to his statement the condition of the white prisoners is even worse than has hitherto been represented. Slatin Bey, formerly governor of the Egyptian province of Sennaar, is posted under guard every morning in front of Khalifa's residence where he is kept all day long simply as a butt for any insults and indignities the populace may choose to offer him. He does not even escape corporal maltreatment. At night he sleeps under guard in a neighboring hut. He is not permitted to leave this neighborhood where the pretended Mahdi lives, nor to speak with any European.

Lupton Bey, the former governor of the Egyptian province, works under guard in the arsenal and sleeps in the same building, which he is not permitted to leave, and he never comes into contact with any of his fellow-prisoners. Mr. Neufeld, who was hated by the people as a spy, was kept in jail until his escape a few months ago, which was followed by his speedy capture and death on the gallows. The Greek merchants and also the Romish missionaries and nuns enjoy the freedom of the town, but are not permitted to go outside the gates. They earn a scanty living by making things to sell, but they are compelled to conduct their operations very secretly, as they have been forbidden to engage in any trade or money-making art.

In the opinion of this messenger there is no hope at present that these sufferers can be ransomed and restored to their homes. A while ago a faction in Khartoum agitated the question of exchanging the white prisoners for certain dervishes who had been taken captive by the British during the late war. When the Mahdi's successor heard of the movement he had all the Europeans brought before him. Behind each prisoner he stationed a stalwart negro, who stood there with uplifted lance. Then the pretended Mahdi blandly inquired of each unfortunate if he was anxious to leave Khartoum. Under the circumstances every person in the company was quite sure he was very well content to remain where he was.

The messenger added many details to the previous reports concerning the terrible tyranny of Khalifa Abdullah and the increasing bitterness of the Soudanese toward the pretender and his adherents. He is not honored by the people as the Mahdi, but is feared as a hard master and a tyrant. Recently he put to death Shiek Saleh, the chief of the Kababish Arabs. In Darfur, a while ago, a member of the old ruling family proclaimed himself Sultan. His forces were promptly defeated by the Khartoum potentate, and he, his relations and adherents were all put to death. In Kordofan, where there were strong symptoms of a rebellion under the leadership of the most prominent men in the country, the pretended Mahdi has put to death every person whom he regarded as a menace to his power.

"It is only fear," says the messenger from Omdurman, "that prevents the people from throwing off the yoke which weighs far more heavily upon them than the former oppressive, unjust rule of Egypt. It would not require an army of 5,000 or 1,000 men to put an end to the rule of Khalifa Abdullah. If a well-equipped force of 300 men came up the Nile into the Soudan against him the force would grow to 10,000 men before it reached Khartoum. Between Wady Halfa and Berber the pretender has no trained armed troops, but only a few bands made up of the rabble, who, in his name, oppress the natives and attack traders, whether Christian or Arab. The only point along the entire route to Khartoum at which resistance would perhaps be offered is Berber, which is garrisoned by Mahdist troops and defended by cannon. If, however, the advancing force had the slightest prestige of victory and pushed on earnestly toward Khartoum, the disaffected garrison of Berber would go over to the invaders. As for the people, they would nowhere give the rescuing force any trouble, but, on the contrary, they would hail them as deliverers and assist them by every means in their power."

The messenger left Omdurman early in May and arrived in Berber on May 25. He was a witness of the preparations the Mahdi had been making since the middle of March for a great expedition to the south for the purpose of conquering the white pasha who had established himself there, and of taking possession of his territory. The Mahdi's expedition finally started on board of four steamers and several vessels in tow. It consisted of thirteen bands of various strength, and the entire force numbered 4,000 men. Petermanns Mittheilungen is of the opinion that Emin Pasha is the enemy the pretended Mahdi hopes to conquer. Among the reasons given for this belief is the fact that Emin Pasha has held on to the equatorial provinces with a considerable force of trained troops and with important allies among the natives whom he could at any time call to his aid. This fact must appear to Khalifa Abdullah as a perpetual menace to the perpetuity of his own government. The fact is also mentioned that at Omdurman the White Pasha is known as Mudir, a title which would apply to Emin, but not to Stanley.

This great geographical magazine thinks the time is now ripe for action, and that by sending an army from Egypt it may either effectively co-operate with the White Pasha or greatly diminish the danger that threatens him by diverting the attention of the hostile troops. "The possibility is now given," it says in conclusion, "of restoring order in the Soudan, of releasing the European prisoners, of restraining the slave trade just springing into new life, and restoring again to civilization an important country. If this opportunity is neglected it is to be feared that either Emin Pasha or Stanley will share the fate of the noble Gordon as a new victim of the English policy, and that the people of the Soudan will go on tearing each other to pieces until after long years of warfare they nearly destroy themselves and finally, without opposition, come again under Egyptian rule.

The Sanitary Convention.

LINDSAY, Aug. 16.—The sanitary convention resumed this morning, President Barrows in the chair. TORONTO TOPICS.

The C. M. B. A. Convention Closes With a Banquet—A Priest in the Police Court.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—The Catholic Mutual Beneficial Association devoted yesterday morning to consideration of the report of the Committee on Laws. One clause, proposing that the assessments of those over 40 years of age be increased from $1 to $1.50, was rejected. These amendments to the constitution were adopted: To grant the Grand Council of Canada power to invest its reserve funds; that the Committee on Returns, Grievances, Credentials and Appeals be merged into a board of trustees; that no member of the other committees be entitled to vote in Grand Council meetings; that all standing committees be abolished, their powers to pass to the Executive Committee. It was further ordered that all printing required by the association in Canada, be done in Canada, and by tender. The question of choosing the next place of meeting gave rise to a rather lively discussion. Peterboro, Ottawa, Hamilton and Montreal were named, but Montreal won by a large majority. The convention closed last evening, with a complimentary banquet tendered the delegates by the local branches.

Father O'Reilly appeared at the Police Court yesterday morning in answer to a charge of assaulting John Hopkins, a member of the Derry Orange Brass Band. It has been stated that two or three members of the band had made a noise when passing the priest's house, which provoked an attack. The assault was denied and the case was dismissed without costs, the magistrate reflecting severely on the prosecution for bringing so trifling a charge to court.

Wm. Kelly, charged with feloniously wounding T. H. Nixon, a fellow-workman in Massey's paint shops and causing serious injury, was remanded for evidence at the Police Court yesterday morning.

The case of Joseph Colberry, charged with participation in the attack on St. Nicholas Home, was taken up at the afternoon session of the Police Court yesterday. The evidence was somewhat conflicting and the case was adjourned to Aug. 20, a detective being placed at the disposal of Colberry in the meantime to assist him in discovering the guilty parties.

There was a ripple of excitement at the Island last night when Police Constable McDonald took a squad of small boys into custody and provided for their safe conduct to police headquarters. They were charged with stealing 216 Doty ferry tickets from the Brock-street office.

Alex. McInnes is a prisoner at the Wiltonavenue police station. He was arrested on the strength of a despatch from Woodstock.

The Wentworth Farmers' Institute purpose having a big celebration on Aug. 29 at the Oaklands Jersey Farm, the residence of Mr. Valancy E. Fuller. Excursion trains will run from Toronto and Hamilton. Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture; Mr. Fuller, Prof. Fletcher, of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa; Prof. Robertson, of the Guelph Model Farm, and the M. P.'s and M. P. P's. of Hamilton district will address the assembly on agriculture and political topics.

The office of the Mayor, yesterday, was visited by a man who gave his name as John P. Hunter, who had a check of $4,000,000 on the Bank of Montreal, which he wished His Worship to get cashed for him. Not having the necessary amount around his clothes, the Mayor had to refuse the visitor.

"DON'T HIT ME TOO HARD."

Said the Minister of Education to the Ontario Teachers' Association.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—The Ontario Teachers' Association assembled for its last session at 2 p.m., yesterday, the president in the chair. The Executive Committee presented their annual report. It advised the setting apart of a room in the Department Buildings to be known as the "reception room," which would be at the service of teachers when in the city, and that their successors should consider the propriety of dispensing with evening addresses at future conventions.

The directors submitted the following as officers for the ensuing year: Recording secretary, R. W. Doan, Toronto; corresponding secretary, D. H. Hunter, Woodstock; treasurer, W. J. Hendry, Mimico. A ballot was taken for the presidency and Mr. Robt. McQueen of Kirkwald was elected.

Mr. Thomas Shaw read an interesting paper on "Agricultural Education in Rural Public Schools." He drew attention to the fact that though Canada is an agricultural country no serious endeavor had yet been made to impart school trainining on the subject and made an earnest plea for its introduction.

Hon. Chas. Drury, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, followed with the speech of the day. He said that the man who would devise a system of schools which while imparting sound culture would also instil a love for agricultural pursuits would confer a grand and lasting boon on Canada. The present state of affairs apparently gave the youth of the land a distaste for the occupation of his fathers, the occupation that had made and must sustain our land.

Rev. Professor MacVicar, of Knox College, followed with a paper on "The Proper Functions of Normal Schools."

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, was introduced and expressed his desire to faithfully discharge his duties and his wish that when any innovation seemed for the benefit of the profession the teachers of the province would speak out manfully, and considering the difficulties of his position not "hit him too hard."

A resolution was then carried that all matters befor the association be deferred to the next annual convention, and this closed the business for this year.

DEATH WAS AT THE HELM.

TERRIBLE COLLISION OF THE GEISER AND THINGVALLA.

The Former Sinks in Five Minutes and 119 of the Passengers and Crew Perish in the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The steamship Wieland, Capt. Albert, from Hamburg Aug. 4, via Havre Aug. 7, with merchandise and 113 cabin and 455 steerage passengers, reports Aug. 14, 20 miles south of Sable Island at noon, that she saw the Danish steamer Thingvalla, Copenhagen to New York, with signals of distress. The Thingvalla had collided on Aug. 14 at 4 a.m. with the steamer Geiser of the same line, from New York Aug. 11, for Copenhagen. The Geiser sank in about five minutes. Fourteen passengers and seventeen of the crew and among them Capt. Woller are saved. Seventy-two passengers and thirty-three of the crew were lost. The steamer Wieland brought 455 passengers from the Thingvalla and those saved from the Geiser to New York. The Thingvalla will endeavor to reach Halifax. The Wieland is at Hoboken.

The Geiser left this port on Aug. 11, bound for Hetsin. The Thingvalla was on her way to this city and was advertised to leave here on Aug. 25. A very heavy sea and a dense fog were experienced through the night and early morning of Aug. 14. It is said an object could not be distinguished 50 feet away.

The Thingvalla struck the Geiser on the starboard side amidships, the ships then parted and within five minutes the Geiser sank. The crew of the Thingvalla did all they could to save the Geiser's crew and passengers, while still in doubt whether the Thingvalla was not dangerously disabled, but owing to the heavy sea only 31 were saved. No other vessel was near at the time.

The Wieland, on her way to this port, was 100 miles away; at 11.30 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 14 the Wieland was sighted. Signals of distress were made and a transfer of passengers began. The sea was heavy but no mishap occurred in the transfer. The officers of the company were unable to-night to give a list of the lost. Capt. A. Albers of the Wieland tells the following story:

At 1 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 14, we passed some wreckage floating in the sea and suspected that an accident had happened near us. A little later we sailed through a sea of oil and sighted a broken boat of the Geiser's. About 11.30 we sighted a steamer to the northward about 8 miles off, and seeing she had a flag of distress up we ran down to her. It proved to be the Thingvalla. Capt. Lamb of that vessel came to us in a small boat and begged us to take off his passengers and those he had saved from the Geiser. He said his own vessel was so badly injured he expected her to sink at any moment. Her forward compartment had been carried away from halfway above the deck to below the water line. I sent the boats and the Thingvalla lowered two boats, and in five hours we had the saved passengers and crew of the Geiser on board. The sea was very rough and the work of transferring the passengers was very difficult. The immense hole in the Thingvalla's bow was patched up as well as possible and she started for Halifax. The collision so far as known was caused by the fog. The chief officer of each vessel was on deck at the time of the collision. Third officer Peterson told much the same story of the occurrence. He said the fog was very dense. Through the night rain had fallen at intervals. The first we knew of the Geiser's approach, he said, was when she appeared on the starboard side right upon us. The Geiser was struck opposite the engine-room amidship. The Geiser being heavily loaded was low in the water so that the Thingvalla carried away her own compartment. The upper part of her bow ran over the decks of the Geiser, the Geiser's deck houses were carried away and the state-room smashed in and the occupants killed. He first heard a bell ring in the Geiser's engine room but could not tell what the order was. He was on deck at the time. He then heard the bell again, this time to back, and the steamer had commenced to reverse when the Thingvalla struck her. The Geiser's whistle was blowing at the time. One of the Geiser's passengers was picked up with a broken leg.

As soon as the Weiland arrived in the lower bay Capt. Moller of the Geiser left the steamer on a revenue cutter. He went to the office of the Company, where he was closeted a few moments with the agents. He only left word that the accident was due to the weather and went away without stating where he was going.

The rescued crew of the Geiser were taken to the Hotel Denmark on the arrival of the Weland.

The revised official list of saved and lost from the Geiser is as follows:

Lost—Passengers 80, crew 37, officers 0; total 119.

Saved—Passengers 14, crew 17, officers 4; total 35.

Major-General Cameron at Kingston—Brief Sketch of His Career.

KINGSTON, Aug. 16.—Major-General Cameron, the new commandant of the Royal Military College, reached the city yesterday afternoon. He was met by Major-General Oliver. The party went to the British American Hotel, where the new commandant is now located. He is short in stature, sharp featured, spectacled and gray-haired. He has a moustache but no whiskers. He is very pleasant in conversation. His children are now attending school in England. They, with Mrs. Cameron, will probably not come to Kingston until next year.

Major-General Donald Roderick Cameron was born in Dingwall, Ross-shire, and educated in Dingwall, at King's college school, London, in France, and at University college, London. He was commissioned in the royal artillery in March, 1857, and has seen much active service. As many as nine of his uncles and three of his brothers have been officers in the British navy and army. Much of his service was performed in India, where he advanced from the position of a subaltern to that of general. He spent some time in Canada, organizing the first force of mounted police in the Northwest. Important duties were performed by him under the imperial government, principally touching boundary matters in Canada. Major-General Oliver also served with Major-General Cameron in India.

Postmaster-General Haggart Returned for South Lanark without Opposition.

PERTH, Aug. 15.—Hon. John Haggart, Postmaster-General, was re-elected for South Lanark by acclamation to-day. A very complimentary address was presented to him by the Perth Town Council, of which town he was formerly Mayor.

COUNCIL.

There was no meeting of the village council on Monday evening, Reeve Casement and Councillor Nelson alone filing an appearance.

FIRE PROTECTION.

A meeting of the ratepayers has been called for next Friday evening in the council chamber to decide if the council will invest in a steam fire engine, the water works by-law being unpopular with the outlying portion of the village. The committee appointed by the council have obtained full information from many sources, and Mr. Ronald, builder of steam fire engines at Brussels, will be present. Should the majority of the freeholders decide in favor of the engine, it is expected the council will at once submit a by-law to borrow the sum required, and secure the needed protection at as early a date as possible.

OUR BACK LAKES.

There does not seem to be any falling off in the number of persons visiting our back lakes. All the cottages on the islands are occupied by merry parties, while tents are to be seen in every direction. The Cruiser and her crew seem to be the favored ones with the public, as she has always her full complement of passengers who are loud in their praises of the treatment received. The Dawn has started to run a trip every Tuesday to Lindsay to afford passengers a chance to see the whole route, and should be well patronized. Those going up next week will be able to take in the races at Sturgeon Point. Parties going up would greatly oblige the captains of the boats if they would have their mail matter and parcels properly addressed to the island or camp where they are to be delivered, and also when they are paddling out to meet the boats for or with messages, if they would paddle in the same direction the boat is moving, which will save delay and render upsets less liable to occur.

POISON IVY.

Your correspondent is constantly being asked what to use for poisoning by "Ivy," so I give the following from my note book, which has proved the best and simplest remedy out of many tried:—

NOTHING SO GOOD AS LIME.—The best treatment for ivy poison is lime. Slake a small piece of lime, making a solution about as thick as cream, and apply to the inflamed surface and waterblisters, day and night. Three days or less will kill the poison effectually. I have suffered severely several times, in spite of the best medical treatment, the poison running in nine days' course, but have yet to hear of a case that was not cured by lime within the time I name. Ther is no sloughing off, but the blisters are dried and the poison counteracted, while the parts are left sound and healthy.

The Provincial Fair.

Special Exhibits to be Made—Arrangements in Regard to the Fairs.

Hon. Charles Drury, minister of agriculture for Ontario, will attend the opening of the provincial exhibition.

A large and varied exhibit of the products of Manitoulin and Algoma will be brought to the provincial fair. The committee is asking for valuable space.

The Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railways will issue single fare tickets to Kingston from 10th to 15th Sept., good to return to the 17th. There will also be special excursions run to the city.

Prof. Saunders, of the Central experimental farm, is preparing a collection of about 200 varieties of cereals, grown on the farm this season, for exhibition. As these were all grown as single plants, under similar and uniform condition, it ought to prove a very instructive exhibit. There will be, besides, from 100 to 250 varieties of potatoes, and a few other miscellaneous products not entered for competition, but for exhibition only.

Mr. Bright's Sons.

John Bright's sons evidently do not intend go to heaven on a family ticket of idleness. They seem to think that they have something better to do in this world than to sport on a great father's name, fame and earnings. Philip Bright, desiring to become a first-class machinist, served a regular course in Petrie's iron foundry, to which he carried his breakfast can like other plain workmen, and in which he put himself on a par with other honest hands, acting as naturally as if he were one of them himself. His brother—Leathem, now a member of Parliament, and John Albert—were put through the drills at the mills on the principle that they too must undergo their share of work like other people. Such an example of common sense and democratic equality is in the highest degree commendable. The great problem of the future will be to unite education and manual labor. Many persons seem to imagine that they are forever inconsistent and antagonistic and that, therefore, the public schools are training young men to live by their wits rather than by useful and productive trades. Whether the head and the hands can be cultivated at the same time, and in a happy proportion, remains to be seen. John Bright's sons would by their example indicate that they can, but then they are capitalists as well as laborers.

THE Y. M. P. B. A.

An All Night Session Concludes the Grand Lodge Business.

HAMILTON, Aug. 16.—The grand lodge of the Y. M. P. B. A. convened at 7.30 last evening and sat until 5 a.m., when the business of the session was concluded and the delegates left for home to-day.

The reception of reports from the various committees occupied several hours. The finance report showed a balance in the treasurer's hands of $97. There were no appeals presented for the adjudication of the grand lodge, which shows that the order is working harmoniously. There are now 63 lodges in the association, and the order is progressing rapidly.

The most important conclusion arrived at was the decision to establish a mutual benefit scheme in connection with the association, and the following committee was appointed to perfect the arrangements: Wm. Caldwell, Wm. Lee, W. J. Livingston, Wm. Derby and A. W. Kemp.

Every member who opens a new lodge in future will receive $10.

Notices of motion were given that at the next meeting an effort will be made to have members of the grand lodge allowed mileage when attending meetings, and also that the past grand masters shall have votes in the grand lodge.

The following officers were elected: Thomas Henry, Meaford, P. G. M.; W. J. Livingston, Gananoque, grand master; Thomas W. Jutten, Hamilton, senior deputy grand master; A. W. Kemp, Oakville, junior deputy grand master; J. W. Morrow, Dunnville, chaplain; Wm. Lee, Toronto, grand secretary; J. M. Judah, Toronto, grand treasurer; Geo. B. Sharpe, grand conductor; W. A. Robinson, Toronto, grand lecturer; Henry Rossiter, Port Credit, senior grand master of ceremonies; Henry Bush, Toronto, junior grand master of ceremonies; Wm. Perry, Port Credit, grand inside sentinel; George Beckett, Toronto, grand outside sentinel; T. H. Wooster, Toronto, deputy grand secretary; J. I. Quinn, Rock Springs, deputy grand lecturer for the east; Wm. Derby, deputy grand lecturer for the west; Erskine Smith, district deputy grand master for Wellington and Wentworth; Thomas Bowerbank, Oakville, district deputy grand master for Halton and Peel; A. W. Roe, Dundalk, district deputy grand master for Grey; E. L. Smith, Ingersoll, district deputy grand master for Oxford; J. H. Lennox, Toronto, district deputy grand master for York; A. J. Scales, Gananoque, district deputy grand master for Leeds and Grenville.

The officers were installed by Bro. Wm. Caldwell, past grand treasurer, assisted by Bro. T. R. Foy, Toronto, district deputy grand master.

The grand lodge will meet in Gananoque next year.

A CONFIDENCE GAME.

Samuel Fairman, of Collingby, Done out of a Considerable Sum of Money.

KINGSTON, Aug. 16.—Last night Samuel Fairman, aged 26, was the victim of a confidence game at Collingby. He stepped on the mixed train en route to Belleville, near which place his father lives. He met an affable person and soon they chatted pleasantly. The stranger said he was a merchant in Belleville, knew his Fairman's father well, having often sold him goods. Presently another man appeared, and, addressing the stranger in the old chestnuty fashion, said he wanted pay for the goods he had delivered to him on the train.

"No you don't," replied the pseudo merchant; "I bought the goods to be paid for on delivery in Belleville."

"No, sir," came the reply, "you said you would pay at once. Now if you don't I will have to take back the goods. The fact is I want the money now." And so the conversation went on until finally the merchant pulled out his purse, counted over the contents and found himself $26 short. "Could you lend me that amount until we get to Belleville, so that I can get rid of the fellow," said the dealer to Fairman, and the youth, with alacrity, accommodated his new found friend. The train started; the sharpers jumped off and disappeared in the darkness. The Kingston authorities were notified, but too late, for persons answering the description of the sharpers went over to Cape Vincent this morning.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills so well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

Hastily Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

A Correct Statement

is made by Miss Jane Rutherford, of Nelles Corners, Ont., who writes—"I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters for Dyspepsia and find it to be the best remedy I ever tried." B.B.B. is sold by all dealers at one dollar per bottle. 2w31d

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,297,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,000 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	36,580 67	195,188 29	1,187,336 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,992,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,807 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

Date Changed.

The date of the annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, has been postponed from August 30th. to September 13th. It was found that the date of exhibition was too late. This year it was placed at August 30th., so that if the season were unfavorable the date could be postponed. The season has been unfavorable, and the date is therefore postponed till Thursday, September 13th.

The 'Prentice Boys' Pic-nic.

On Wednesday a union pic-nic of the 'Prentice Boys of Peterborough, Belleville and Frankford was held at Hastings. Amusements of different kinds were provided. A baseball match between the Peterborough and Belleville 'Prentice Boys was easily won by our boys by a score of 21 to 4. Batteries, Saunders and Billings; Abbott and McCrudden. Another match in the afternoon between the Ashley Carriage Works' nine, of Belleville, and the Hastings team, was won by the former. Foxboro' brass band was present and enlivened the day's proceedings with music. The pic-nic was entirely successful and enjoyable.

THE DOINGS OF A DAY.

How Civic Holiday was Celebrated.

In the Town and out of it—Excursions Galore—Rain Interferes Somewhat—Cricket, Lacrosse and Baseball.

Thursday was civic holiday, and various were the means of enjoyment provided. The rain interfered with nearly all the excursions, though not sufficiently to make things very unpleasant. Subjoined will be found reports of the "doin's" at different places:—

The Day at Home.

Celebrated Very Quietly—The Baseball Match.

Civic holiday at home was remarkably quiet. After all the excursions had left town the streets were almost deserted. A number of small picnic parties went down the river or out into the country. In the afternoon the baseball match between the pill-meddlers and counter-hoppers took place on the athletic association grounds. There was a fair attendance, including a sprinkling of ladies.

The game was very close towards the last, and though none, or very few, of the players had handled a ball for years, they quietly "got their hands in" and did some good playing. The batteries did about equal work, both pitchers striking out a few men and maiming others. The batting was something terrific, though the atmosphere was made to suffer more than the ball, and it is said the lurid streaks in the air caused by a multiplicity of of "strikes" brought on the heavy thunder storm in the evening. The umpire, who by the way was not Sass. Schofield, escaped a mobbing by doing his duty fairly well. The other interesting and heart-rending particulars are seen by the score:—

About a dozen members of the Rifle Association had a practice shoot at the butts. Scoring was poor owing to the high wind.

The Foresters' Excursion.

Between 250 and 300 people boarded the G.T.R. train for Toronto in the morning. The members of the committee of Court Little John, under whose auspices the excursion was held, were very courteous and obliging, and everything was done to make the trip pleasant, while the Grand Trunk Company were not one whit behind. The main line of the G.T.R. is becoming a popular excursion route in Peterborough, because of the fine scenery, the fast time and gentlemanly conduct of the officials. After a pleasant time in the city, the excursionists returned home well pleased with the day's outing.

At Stony Lake.

Nearly 300 people attended the S.O.E. excursion to Stony Lake and Barleigh. This trip is so well know that comment is unnecessary. Suffice it to say that the day was a thoroughly enjoyable one, and everyone was well pleased. No accidents happened to mar the pleasure of the occasion.

Down the River.

The excursion of the Emerald Benevolent Association to Jubilee Point was a most enjoyable affair. There were about 300 people aboard the Golden Eye and accompanying scow. The day was spent at the beautiful summer resort in boating, and athletic exercises. No regular programme was carried out, but the young men and boys tested their skill in friendly competition. The return home was made in good time, the wharf being reached about 9 o'clock. On the way up the river the boat encountered a terrific storm near Hall's Bridge. The wind blew a hurricane, and hailstones as large as marbles were swept down like shot. A canoe was lifted off the deck and blown into the river, but it was recovered. Dancing had been kept up all the way, and it was resumed as soon as the storm cleared away. Mr. J. Butcher led the orchestra, Mr. J. Coughlin acting as floor manager. The day was a thoroughly enjoyable one throughout, resulting in a neat little profit to the Association.

Lindsay and Sturgeon Point.

A Big Excursion to These Places—How the Day was Spent.

The excursion under the Canton auspices to Lindsay and Sturgeon Point took the biggest crowd from town, about 500 people crowding into nine coaches. The run was made in good time and the whole party landed at the wharf, where a transfer was made to the steamer Beaubocage and scow in waiting. About half the excursionists remained in the town, the others, accompanied by the Canton and 57th Batt. Band, proceeding to Sturgeon Point. This beautiful summer resort was left behind about 4.30 and Lindsay reached about six o'clock. The band played on the boat and at the Point, and dancing was kept up on the scow both ways, Prof. Doucet's orchestra supplying the music. The train was not to leave till eight o'clock, to give excursionists a chance to see the town, and after tea the band played several selections on Kent street. Their music was loudly praised on all sides. After another rapid run home was reached about nine o'clock.

AT LINDSAY.

Thursday was Lindsay's Civic Holiday, and the town had prepared a heavy programme of events. The streets were crowded with people, and the demonstration is said to have been a great success. The Shamrock lacrosse club of Peterborough played the Y. M. C. A. team of Lindsay in the forenoon, and were defeated by three goals to one, though the Shamrocks claimed another goal that was not allowed by the umpire. The Shamrocks were much lighter than their opponents who were in good form, but won only after a hard tussle. At the Driving Park races were held, in which some Peterborough horses entered. In the free-for-all Morgan's "Grey Ned" took second place, "Maud S" coming in first. In the three-minute trot Brown's "Lady B" won first money. Port Perry Band won first prize in the first-class band competition, and Sunderland first in the second-class contest. There were several competitors in each class.

At Sturgeon Point in the afternoon a sailing race, open to Lindsay Canoe Club, for a prize cup, was won by Sam. Briston. There were seven entries.

Willow and Wicket.

TORONTO VS PETERBOROUGH.

The Cricket Club sent a good eleven to Toronto to play the leading club of that hamlet, and last night returned with what should have been victory recorded as a defeat. They had the advantage of winning the toss and getting the first of a fair wicket, but they scorned to take any advantage of their opponents; they had the benefit of having a good stand made by the two first men, but thinking, no doubt, that they were going to get too many runs, the rest of the team refused to take advantage of this and most of them committed suicide, from a cricketting point of view, as soon as they conveniently could. Stratton and Montgomery opened the ball, and Stratton had made 20 out of 27 before he lost his wicket, Montgomery staying in a long time for five. As it was civic holiday, a procession to and from the wickets was formed, although its progress was delayed for a short time by Macdonald and Rutherford, both of whom played good cricket. It lasted only until 52 runs had been got. That 43 out of 49 from the bat should be scored by three men, and that six batsmen had collectively only one poor solitary run to show for their occupancy of the wickets is sufficient evidence of the total breakdown of the batting. The Toronto bowling did not seem to be anything out of the common, although Allan got 7 wickets for 21 runs; Leigh is a good slow bowler with lots of work, but there appeared to be nothing in it to warrant the dismissal of so strong a team for such a paltry total.

Toronto took the bat, and two good wickets (Allan's both), fell for 20. Winslow and Fleury then made a good stand; Fleury simply got runs, we don't profess to know how. The "Duke" got runs, anybody could see how, as in one over he hit three fours, and got out by mistaking his wickets for the ball and trying to cut them through slips. Thomas, who played with Peterborough last year, and whose poke to mid-on was well known, walked deliberately into a trap set for him. The rest of the wickets fell for a mere nothing, so that although the telegraph at the time showed 3 for 100, 120 was the total of the innings. Winslow carried his bat through the innings, but he should have been l.b.w. before he had scored 5, and he gave several other chances of catching and stumping, which, with Peterborough's usual magnanimity, were declined. Logan and Day bowled well, but the fielding—well, we shall not urge a long-suffering people into profanity by saying anything more on that point, as they have heard enough about it lately.

In Peterborough's second innings Ray got 5 and was satisfied therewith; the next two men fell easy victims to the slows; Rutherford, after one big hit for four, tried to send one of Allan's balls on a visit to the Baptist College in the next field, but instead of that the said ball sent his bails on a visit to grass; M'Donald generously refused more than two bats (because he couldn't very well help it); Logan procured the second eye of his "specs" by a stump out, which he thought would give variety to the score sheet, and then Stratton, who had again played good cricket, placed one gently in the wicket keepers hands. Day and Montgomery however, arrested the "tank" for awhile, and it looked as if the innings defeat would be averted. A new bowler (Shanly) appeared on the scene, and, lo! Montgomery's timbers were shivered in his first over. Parker made a good effort to get the necessary 68, but at 65 he was given out in slips, and when only 1 run was wanted to save the innings, Day who had played very carefully for his runs, was caught in the long field.

Leigh was by far the most successful bowler in this innings, although Shanly's two wickets cost only 1 run.

The Wheel.

Mr. Geo. Kingston, of Belleville, left Peterborough at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and rode to Belleville via Port Hope, arriving at his home at 7.30 p.m. He stopped at Port Hope and Cobourg and other places, his actual riding time being nine hours. The distance is about 90 miles.

The Empire has this to say of the visit of the Wanderers at Peterborough:—

On the 11th a party composed of G. H. Orr, Bruce Nicholls, Geo. Toye, W. A. Shaw, E. Havelock Walsh, W. A. Hunter, W. J. Douglas and Art. Knowlton left the city on the C. P. R. evening train. Arriving at Peterborough, they were met by a deputation of the club there headed by Captain Greatrix and Lieut. Stratton, and escorted to the Oriental.

The evening was spent under guidance of the club members, who proved first-class entertainers and gave every visitor a good time. Next morning at about ten o'clock, accompanied by some half dozen of the Peterborough club, the party enjoyed a twenty-one mile ride over first-class roads and through pleasant scenery, to Bewdley, where Mr. Arnott, the proprietor of the hotel, had dinner waiting. Every attention was shown the party during their five hours' stay. A pleasant sail of an hour or so, and a bathe in Rice Lake were enjoyed before the party drew up for the ten mile run into Port Hope, which was done in 50 minutes. Here the party put up at the St. Lawrence.

Next morning it was raining and some of the riders took the train for Toronto, the balance deciding to remain and ride out the whole trip of 66 miles through the rain.

On the whole, the tour was a very enjoyable one, and the boys desire to express their appreciation to the Peterborough club.

SAVED BY THE LIFE BOAT.

SUCCESSFUL EFFORTS OF THE PORT ROWAN CREW.

The Magdalen Island Fisheries—Overloading said to be the Cause of the Trouble in the St Lawrence Canals.

OTTAWA, Aug. 16.—The Marine Department has received a report from the captain of the life boat station at Port Rowan, giving an account of two successful efforts of the life boat crew. On July 12, the schooner John Tibbets, from Buffalo with coal, sprung a leak during a storm and was run ashore about five miles from Port Rowan. The captain and part of the crew got ashore in the yawl but two sailors were left on board. The life boat at Port Rowan was sent for and saved the men. Shortly after the schooner Bay Trader went ashore on a section of the coast where it was impossible to launch a boat as there was a cliff forty feet high under which the vessel was lying. A rope was lowered from the top of the cliff and by this means the six souls on board were hauled ashore. The female cook was rescued first. No lives were lost in either case.

As Captain Manly of Toronto has been obliged to decline the position of chief range officer at the Dominion Association rifle matches, it is understood that a maritime province man will be appointed, possibly Captain Hartt of the St. John Rifles.

Mr. Painchaud, collector of customs for the Magdalen Islands, is here on business with the Customs and Marine Department. He reports the fishing fair. The catch of cod has not been so large as last year but the mackerel catch has been larger. Herring are also very plentiful, over 1500 barrels have been sold for bait to Newfoundland and St. Pierre fishermen, the average price being about 30 cents per barrel. He says that about 100 American fishing vessels have visited the Islands during the summer, most of whom expressed themselves well pleased with the treaty and would like to see it ratified. The number of American vessels has increased very much and part of Mr. Painchaud's business here is to endeavor to get the Minister of Customs to give him a cutter which would facilitate his business very much.

Mr. Page, chief engineer of canals, says that the trouble about vessels grounding in the St. Lawrence Canals is caused by vessels being overloaded and therefore drawing a greater depth than is guaranteed in the canals. When there is high water in the St. Lawrence it does not make any difference if the vessels draw a few inches more than the regulation depth, but as the water is now low, strict orders have been issued that vessels drawing more water than the St. Lawrence canals are guaranteed to have, namely nine feet, will not be admitted to the canals.

Some time ago it was stated in this correspondence that Sheriff Cantlee of Ottawa County would be superannuated by the Mercer Government and C. B. Major of Hull appointed in his place. It is now understood that the change will be made Sept. 1. Mr. Major is a very pronounced Nationalist.

The Canada Medical Association will meet here Sept. 12 to 14. Sir Hector Langevin has granted the use of the Railway Committee room for the meeting.

It is expected by the Militia Department that the stay of C Battery at Skeena River will be a very short one. The regulations require that when the military are called out by the civil authorities, as was done in this case, the commanding officers should report to the Department Adjutant-General, who in turn reports to headquarters. As Colonel Holmes who is in command of the expedition, is D. A. G. for the district, he will report to Ottawa.

No application for a writ of habeas corpus has so far been made in the case of Max Hoppe, in jail at Lethbridge, N. W. T., on a charge of murder in Montana Territory, and unless application is made in the meantime he will be handed over to the American authorities on Friday next.

Hon. Mr. Bowell left for the Northwest to-night. He was accompanied by his son and daughter, his son-in-law, Mr. Chas. Holton, and Mrs. Holton, Mr. Saunders, his private secretary, and Mr. James Johnston, editor of The Citizen. The party will visit British Columbia and be absent about five weeks.

The City Council to-night awarded the contract for the new iron bridge across the Rideau River at the foot of St. Patrick street to Rosseau & Mather of Montreal, price $13,387. The old wooden bridge was carried away by a freshet four years ago, and great inconvenience has been caused by its not being replaced.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

INCREASING CONFIDENCE

AS TO THE PROSPECT FOR THE AUTUMN'S TRADE.

Unfavorable Wheat Advices From the United States, England and France—Money in Good Supply.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's this week furnish evidence of increased confidence east and west as to the prospect for the autumn's trade.

Reports concerning the wheat crop at the Northwest are less favorable as are wheat advices from England and France. It is more than likely that the United States, Russian and Indian reserve stocks of wheat will be drawn upon to the extent of 65,000,000 to 75,000,000 bushels this year. Other domestic grain crops promise favorably, particularly Indian corn, which will prove very heavy unless damaged by frost prior to Sept. 12.

The New York stock market is unsettled and lower on less favorable prospects, though early in the week a rise in the coal stocks partially maintained the bullish feeling. Bonds are steady under a large foreign demand. Money at New York is in good supply, but a shade firmer. Call loans 1½ to 2 per cent.

The exports of wheat, and of flour as wheat, from both coasts during the week aggregate 1,569,580 bushels, against 2,271,529 bushels last week. One year ago the average weekly exports of wheat, and flour as wheat, was about 4,000,000 bushels, more than twice as much as the weekly average since July 1 last.

DR. RIDLEY'S SUICIDE.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury—An Expression of Sympathy.

DUBLIN, Aug. 18.—The coroner's jury, in the case of Dr. James Ridley, late medical officer of Tullamore Jail, rendered a verdict yesterday to the effect that Dr. Ridley committed suicide while suffering from temporary insanity produced by apprehension of disclosures with reference to the treatment of the late John Mandeville in Tullamore Jail. The jury expressed great sympathy with Mrs. Ridley and Mrs. Mandeville. The charges against Visiting Justice Moorhead are declared by the jury to be unfounded.

THE LOSS OF THE GEISER.

CAPTAIN LAMB'S STORY OF THE TERRIBLE COLLISION.

The Air Rent With Agonizing Shrieks and Prayers When the Ship Went Down—Captain Moller's Wonderful Escape.

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 18.—The Danish steamer Thingvalla, which was in the collision with her sister ship, the Geiser, off Sable Island Tuesday morning, arrived in port yesterday morning. She presents a strange spectacle with nearly the whole of her bow torn away leaving an immense hole exposed to view. A long piece of bow hangs over the hole which reaches back into the sides of the ship over fifteen feet. The only account of the disaster to be obtained is the statement of Captain Lamb, which is as follows:

It was just about 4 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, Aug. 14, a few minutes before the watch had been changed and my second officer who was on deck came down and I asked him how the weather was. He said it was rainy but not foggy. He returned a few minutes later. I heard the telegraph signal for the engines to reverse. This was the first intimation I had of any trouble. Leaping from my berth I ran for the deck. As I was hurrying up a collision ocurred. It was a terrible shock, the steamers coming together with a frightful crash. Rushing forward I found the Thingvalla locked with another steamer which I did not then know. As I approached I saw a man whom I afterwards found to be the Geiser's second officer jump on to our deck. My steamer had cut right through his room where he was sound asleep and he leaped out of his bunk on to the Thingvalla's deck.

It may have been two or it may have been four minutes before the engines were reversed and backed off without delaying a moment. I went to quiet my excited passengers who were crowded on the deck and shouting and crying with fear. At the same time I looked after the safety of my ship, having no knowledge as to what was the extent of our damage. The officers were already engaged cutting away and launching the life boats. One of the Thingvalla's boats had just been lowered when the other steamer went down stern first.

The scene was a frightful one. I cannot attempt to describe it. Some of her passengers were rushing madly about her deck, while others were crowded in several boats on the water. It turned out afterwards that three of the ship's boats foundered. A number of the passengers must have been killed in their bunks by the force of the collision, and never knew what happened. As the steamer plunged beneath the water, carrying down those on board, she capsized the boats that had got away. The air was rent with agonizing shrieks and prayers. Most of the people, probably, went down with the Geizer and were followed soon after by the illfated souls in the boats, who must have been sucked under as the ship sank. The cries of the dying still ring in my ears.

Three of our boats were already launched and trying to save as many as they could from the doomed Geizer but it was slow work as comparatively few managed to keep afloat after the steamer's disappearance. Three boats was all I could get out in the time we had and I did not know but what we might want the remaining ones for ourselves. The two vessels were not more than 100 or 150 feet apart when the Geiser went down. The screams of the drowning lasted for perhaps two minutes, then suddenly all became quiet. Our three boats returned loaded with the saved who had been picked up in the water and from off the bottoms of the capsized boats. I sent the boats back to continue their search for the survivors but they returned with only the corpse of a woman.

Day was just beginning to break when the collision occurred. It was raining, as the second officer told me, just before; it was not foggy. I heard men around me say it was 8 or 10 minutes between the collision and the sinking of the Geiser, but I could not pay any attention to the time.

Capt. Moller told a most wonderful story of his escape. He was standing on the Geiser's bridge as the steamer settled down and he jumped into the sea. He felt himself being sucked under by the ship and while struggling to keep afloat got his legs entangled in a piece of wreckage. This turned him around in the water three or four times and for some moments he was helpless but finally succeeded in disengaging himself and managed to reach the surface again breathless and almost exhausted. Then he got on top of an upturned boat and held on till rescued by men from the Thingvalla.

In my opinion nearly all the people on the Geizer's deck and in the boats sank with the steamer. Everything that we could possibly do to save them was done. After the Geizer disappeared we began jettisoning our cargo to keep the Thingvalla afloat. The crew and passengers worked side by side throwing overboard what was brought out of the hold. What was jettisioned consisted solely of wood pulp and provisions. There was not much wind but a heavy swell. Between 9 and 10 o'clock we reached the forward bulkhead then stopped throwing the cargo over and got to work shoring up the compartments. We were leaking badly in the forehold and kept the pumps going all the time so that the water had not time to gain on us.

At 11 o'clock the steamer Wieland for New York hove in sight and we transferred all the rescued passengers as well as our own 450 passengers to her. The Wieland proceeded about 3 o'clock in the afternoon leaving us also steering for New York. We continued the work of shoring up the compartment but after awhile on account of the wind and sea increasing we found it impossible to keep on for New York and decided to head for Halifax. At this time it still looked very much as if we might sink and some of the crew had refused to work, wanting to be transferred to the Wieland before she left us. We went as slow as two knots an hour and sometimes found that too much. We just had to crawl, that was all.

On Wednesday afternoon a fishing vessel hove in sight and we bore down for her. She proved to be the schooner Capis of Lahore, Capt. Cleversey and I engaged her to stand by and accompany the steamer to Halifax so as to be able to help us in case she should go down. Last night the sea was so heavy I had to turn the steamer around running stern foremost and steering by the schooner which was connected by a hawser with the steamer's bow. We ran against the wind this way all night.

Captain Moller was still in his underclothing when he was taken off the capsized boat. He was also in his berth when the collision occurred and ran on deck without dressing himself. I did not have time to ask him for any particulars before the Wieland came along and took him off. We did not know on the Thingvalla what steamer we struck till the second officer of the Geiser jumped on our deck. When I reached the deck immediately after the shock, the lights on both steamers were burning all right, of that I am certain. The Geiser had been seen by our first officer several minutes before the collision. She was nearly straight ahead of us but a little bit on the port bow. She starboarded to get out of the way and we ported. She should have ported likewise. Our whistle was not blowing at the time as there was no need for it.

Corrected List of the Dead.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The corrected list of the lost is 105, as given by Capt. Moller, of the ill-fated steamship Geiser. The Geiser carried 99 passengers and a crew of 48. Of the passengers 16 were saved, and of the crew 17. This makes the lis of lost 79 passengers and 26 crew. Peter Julius Jorgensen, the second officer of the Geiser, says: "The only explanation that I can give is that it was raining like h——ll." The first officer was on the bridge and the third officer was down on the deck taking soundings when the crash came. There is no excitement at the office in this city, as most of the passengers were from the west.

The Rally Collision.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 18.—Yesterday morning a freight train on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad ran into the rear end of the northbound passenger train south of Nichols, S. C. Two tramps on the freight train were killed and one seriously hurt.

SMALLEY'S GOSSIP.

Mr. Dicey on Parnell and The Times and Other Matters.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Parnell controversy still holds the foremost place in the public mind. Hardly a day passes that does not bring out some new fact or new movement on one side or the other. The first meeting of the three judges who compose the Parnell Commission took place yesterday. It was purely formal, and resulted in a purely formal notice being sent by the judges to Mr. Lewis, who represents Parnell and to Mr. Soames, who is solicitor for The Times. Sept. 17 is fixed for applications with reference to the trial, and Oct. 16 for opening the inquiry. It is understood that many vital questions will come up on Sept. 17. Any application by any party entitled to be heard may then be made. That is broad enough to cover all questions of procedure.

The Times, which announced that it intended to refrain from further comments, was silent yesterday. The other journals of both parties put no such restraint on themselves, but write as freely as if the judicial proceedings had not in effect begun. More interesting however, is The Times' comment on Parnell's Scotch action. We did not propose the commission, says that journal in substance, but we have accepted it, and since the tribunal has been constituted by parliament, it has become, in our view, morally, if not legally, impossible to carry the case, or some specially selected parts of the case, elsewhere. We shall defend ourselves in Scotland, but it is before the commission that we have to make good our charges. The plain meaning of this is that The Times intends to set up technical and dilatory defenses in Scotland and get its whole case before the commission as speedily as possible.

Gladstone's latest letter on Dillon's imprisonment goes a step further than any previous letter or speech: "If Dillon," says the aged statesman, "broke the law, he was driven to break it by the gross misconduct of the Government and Parliament of 1886, who obstinately refused to make any provision for the undoubted incapacity of many Irish tenants to pay rent, and thereby forced into existence the plan of campaign, which they afterwards made an excuse for cruel coercion." Translated into plain English, retort the Conservatives, that means that the laws need not be observed unless they suit Gladstone and his allies.

If current gossip be correct, Gladstone is about to give another practical proof of his sympathy with the Irish leaders, as well as with the Irish cause. A number of well-known Irish members of Parliament are to be invited to Hawarden during the parliamentary recess.

Canon MacColl has an article in the new number of The Universall Review advocating home rule for all parts of the kingdom and the reform of the House of Lords. The article deserves attention, not because the writer has much political authority of his own, but because of personal relations with Gladstone, to whom he is entirely devoted. The canon has, in fact, been visiting at Hawarden, and his present production looks amazingly like one of those pilot balloons which Gladstone sometimes sends up. If the current sets the right way something more serious may follow.

Far more sober is the topic on which Lord Carnarvon and the Arrchbishop of Canterbury have been corresponding. Lord Carnarvon wants the churches open on week days for private worship. The archbishop, many other eminent prelates and other churchmen agree with him. The press has taken up this, too, and Lord Carnarvon's very sensible and judicious letter is strongly approved. G. W. SMALLEY.

Suicide in Enniskillen.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Some parties passing through the woods of Geo. Davis, lot 24, 9th concession of Enniskillen, found the body of James Martin hanging from the limb of a tree by a rope attached about his neck. He must have been dead over 24 hours when discovered. No cause is known why he should have committed the rash act. For some time past he has been suffering from blood poisoning, having got it by coming in contact with poison ivy while handling hoops.

The Tilbury Center Murder.

WINDSOR, Aug. 18.—Provincial Detectives McKee and Rogers have returned to Windsor from Tilbury Center. While absent they discovered that the horse and buggy seen near the farm of Wilson Holton on the evening of his murder belonged to one Drummond, livery stable keeper at Harrow, who is now in Sandwich jail for killing Dan. Brault at Essex Centre.

Seizure of an Illicit Still.

ROTHSAY, Aug. 18.—Collector of Inland Revenue Caven of Stratford and Officer Dingman of Palmerston seized an illicit still in the township of Minto in full operation and also a quantity of grain. CIRCULATION AND SPECIE.

AN INCREASE OF $1,000,000 IN THE AMOUNT OUTSTANDING.

The First Divorce Case From the Northwest Territories—A Meeting of Council Yesterday—Personal Mention.

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—To-day's Canada Gazette contains the notice of the election of Postmaster-General Haggart for North Lanark; also the appointment of Murray Dodd as County Court Judge for the counties comprised in District No. 7 of Nova Scotia, and of Alex. Ford of Sackville, N.S., as preventive officer of Customs.

The statement of circulation and specie for July shows the amount outstanding at the end of the month $16,297,913, an increase of more than $1,000,000 over July last year, about $30,000 of which is $1 and $2 bills and the balance in notes of $300 and $1000, showing that the banks require nearly $1,000,000 more Dominion notes than they did last year. The amount of specie and guaranteed debentures on hand is $5,68,824, being $12,750,000 more than is required by the Act.

Still another notice of application for divorce appears in to-day's Gazette. George Cliff King of Calgary, N.W. T., charges his wife Louise, now living at Edmonton, with adultery. This will be the first divorce case from the Northwest Territories to come before the Senate.

Thirteen new post offices were established in Canada on Aug. 1, and eight closed. The names of four postoffices have been changed.

Mr. Arthur Ward of Montreal has changed the notice of application for divorce given by him so as to omit the charge of attempt to poison, made against his wife.

There was a meeting of Council yesterday afternoon, Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. Messrs. Carling, Costigan, Thompson and Haggart being present. It is understood that only routine business was transacted. This was Postmaster-General Haggart's first appearance at council.

The warrant for the extradition of Bergin, the Baltimore forger now in jail at Montreal, will probably be issued to-day when he will be handed over to the United States authorities.

Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister of Justice, is suffering from overwork and requires rest. It is understood that he will be granted three months' leave of absence.

Hon. Mr. Foster left for New Brunswick yesterday and will return about Sept. 1. He will attend the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of the Acadia University at Wolfville, Aug 28.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, returned home from his holiday trip yesterday looking much improved in health by his rest. He says that the crops in Nova Scotia are excellent.

Sir Hector Langevin will return from Quebec on Monday.

A Hotel Burnt.

LOUISVILLE, Que., Aug. 18.—The Richelieu Hotel in this village, which has been closed since the month of May, was destroyed by fire last night with all its contents. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, as a man was seen issuing from the premises about 11 o'clock, and twenty minutes after the building was in flames.

Montreal's Daily Fire.

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—A fire in the building on Cameron-street occupied by James McPherson, of D. M. McPherson & Co., of Allan Grove fame, and Major Bros. & Co., grain merchants, yesterday did several thousand dollars' worth of damage, mostly by smoke and water. The loss is covered by insurance.

Struck by Lightning.

CENTRAL ONTARIO JUNCTION, Aug. 18.—During a heavy thunderstorm which passed over this section about 11 o'clock Thursday night, the barns belonging to George Simpson, near the village of Springbank, were struck by lightning and totally consumed, together with all the season's crop. Aluminum and Cast Iron.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18.—At yesterday's session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, W. J. Keep, C.E., superintendent of the Michigan Stove Company of Detroit, read a paper on "The Influence of Aluminum upon Cast Iron." He said he had made a large number of tests with white and gray iron by adding aluminum by the Electric Smelting and Aluminum Company of Cleveland. He proved that aluminum caused cast iron to turn gray, that it prevented flow holes, increased the strength, took away all tendency to chill, lessened the thickness of scale, softened the iron, increased elasticity and with white iron increased fluidity. Mr. Keep proved that substantially all the aluminum added remained in the metal to exert an influence when smelted.

DIRECT TAXATION.

The good Tory critics aim to be intensely severe upon the financial methods of the Mowat administration, when they say that these methods are leading Ontario to the awful abyss of direct taxation. Yet the Montreal Gazette, whose fidelity the party of progress—in plunder—cannot be questioned or gainsaid — advocates direct taxation for the province of Quebec. If direct taxation is good for the province of Quebec, why not for Ontario? Why not for the Dominion? The Gazette, though normally astray on political matters, is not so far astray, perhaps, in the desirability of direct taxation. It might not be the best for an honestly and economically governed country, like Ontario, but there can be little doubt that it would, in one sense, be a grand thing for the Dominion. The immense burden of taxation borne by the people of Canada is not directly felt, but the drain is going on, nevertheless. Let any man keep strict account of what he consumes in his household in the course of a year and rigidly compute the tax he pays, and he will be astounded by the proportionate magnitude of the amount he pays into the public chest, which is paid in such a continuous and gradual manner that he does not appreciate it. Take only half of what he thus pays and levy it as a direct tax, payable in a lump sum, and he would stand aghast. Then he and the people at large would feel what an extravagant burden the Dominion government is imposing upon him, and the reign of an extravagant, reckless, spend-thrift government would be cut short. If the people of Canada had to provide funds by palpable payment as by direct taxation—would they have tolerated as they have meekly done, the indescribable saturnalia of extravagant and wasteful expenditure of the past ten years. The Gazette is right, only apply direct taxation to the Dominion, and put an end to the reign of insane expenditure, criminal corruption and the headlong plunge into debt. Indirect taxation is the better when we have honest men at the helm of government. Otherwise as in the case of the Dominion, direct taxation would be a boon of inestimable value.

PROTECTION protects everybody but the labourer, the mechanic and the farmer. The manufacturer, the combines and the politicians get the full benefit of it. The Toronto plumbers, with a natural desire to get enough pay to keep them and their families alive and respectable, struck for higher wages, and now the bosses are importing foreign plumbers from New York, free of duty, to compete with native Canadians. If a poor man can get a sink cheaper in New York, he is taxed soundly for bringing it into the country—for the benefit of the manufacturer, while the poor plumber must stand idly by and see intruding foreigners take the bread of his children out of their mouths. Taxing a poor man's living up to the highest notch and admitting competitors duty free, seems to be a good deal worse sort of "jug-handled" protection than the "jug-handled free trade" so loudly decried by Tory politicians who are "on the make."

A NEW YORK paper notes with satisfaction that the president, Mr. Van Horne and the general manager, Mr. O'Shaughnessy, of the Canadian Pacific railway company, are both American citizens who have no intention of swearing allegiance to Victoria, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and who will cross the border next November to vote for candidates for the United States presidency. The same paper expresses the opinion that Mr. Van Horne was made president of the company, not because of his reputation, but "with the view of meeting the criticisms and opposition aroused against the C.P.R. on the American side of the line." And yet Conservative tip-loyalists claim to have and hold all the loyalty of the country in fee simple.

THE Ottawa Free Press has the warmest congratulations of the EXAMINER on the evidences of prosperity implied in its donning a complete new dress of type and a more excellent arrangement of matter. The Free Press is a first class newspaper in every respect. It is edited with fearless and outspoken ability. It is an unflinching champion of Liberalism, and consequently of sound government. Its new departure in the matter of attire is an indication that its merits receive practical recognition. The EXAMINER has great pleasure in wishing it a further continuation of prosperity and usefulness.

MADAME ADAM, a French literary lady, says that Bismarck is the most impudent liar in the world. The officers of the 57th Battalion should call madame's attention to a distinguished Canadian, the Minister of Militia. She, as a French hater of Germany, would not have to suffer the humiliation of having a German outshine a Canadian in any sense.

TRADE between Great Britain and Canada shows a material decline for the past few months, while British trade with the other Colonies shows an increase.

What Might be Expected.

A Lindsay correspondent to the Bobcaygeon Independent, in criticism of the financial methods of Lindsay, makes the following comparison between Peterborough and Lindsay: I went to Peterborough to find out for myself the value of property in that prosperous town. On George Street, the principal street, property is nearly twice as valuable as in Lindsay. There was one double store sold there last winter at I think, eight thousand dollars, about the centre of George St. on south side. This store would be assessed at about six thousand dollars, the taxes on this store in Peterborough would be ninety-five dollars. The taxes on the Baker property, bought year before last, for fourteen thousand, now assessed at sixteen thousand, will be this year about four hundred, or close on three cents on each dollar. If the property in Peterborough was assessed at twenty-five per cent. more than its value, the taxes would not be ever seventy, while in Lindsay it is about two hundred. I went into a single store in Peterborough, on the north side of George Street, about centre, it was valued at four thousand five hundred, the taxes were only fifty dollars. It was only assessed for three thousand five hundred. If this store was in Lindsay, and property valued here as in Peterborough, it would be assessed at 25 per cent more or about five thousand eight hundred, with taxes two and a half cents on the dollar. The taxes would be about one hundred and forty-five dollars, or if assessed at its value the taxes would be one hundred and twelve dollars, or if assessed three thousand five hundred same as it is in Peterborough, the taxes here would be eighty-eight dollars, while in Peterborough only fifty.

"That Miss Jones is a nice-looking girl, isn't she?"

"Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town if it wasn't for one thing."

"What's that?"

"She has catarrh so bad it is unpleasant to be near her. She has tried a dozen things and nothing helps her. I am sorry, for I like her, but that doesn't make it any less disagreeable for one to be around her."

Now if she had used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, there would have been nothing of the kind said, for it will cure catarrh every time. c

THE CROFTER SETTLEMENT.

A Parliamentary Committee to Consider the Matter—Grand Trunk Statement.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Scotch Secretary has informed Mr. Begg, the B. C. delegate, that the scheme proposed for a crofter settlement in Vancouver Island will be fully considered by a Parliamentary Committee during the autumn session, and recommends him to lay the project in detail before the committee.

Sir Charles Tupper is now inspecting the country districts from which emigration to Canada is proposed. The visit is very opportune, in view of the Parliamentary enquiry.

The Grand Trunk statement for the half year, issued yesterday, is considered unfavorable and the stocks have fallen. The gross receipts were £1,700,000; working expenses, £1,224,200; leaving a balance of £39,990 for available dividend. This is sufficient to pay a dividend of 1½ per cent. for the half year on the four per cent. guaranteed stock, carrying forward a balance of £840, and £750,000 is carried forward on renewal of permanent way account. The Chicago and Grand Trunk shows a surplus of £160 as compared with a deficiency of £2,915 last year. The Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee shows a deficiency of £14,000 as compared with a deficiency of £9,644 last year.

The first cargo of Canadian store cattle, consisting of 600 head, has arrived at Aberdeen. A fair market is expected.

WINNIPEG EXCITED.

By the Announcement that the Northern Pacific Deal is Off.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 17.—The announcement in The Free Press this morning that the deal with the Northern Pacific has been declared off has caused intense excitement. Reports were conflicting as to its truthfulness but it is now generally admitted to be true. Premier Greenway says so, and Attorney-General Martin and Hon. Mr. Smart assert that the Government has nothing to say in the matter. The Sun publishes a despatch from St. Paul to the effect that while the report is not believed by the Northern Pacific officials they say it might be true.

Mr. Luxton has returned from St. Paul and states that the Manitoba road will make an offer to step into the shoes of the Northern Pacific, accepting the terms of agreement as to a maximum rate to Duluth, whatever it may be, but in addition allow all other roads running power over the provincial lines on a fair basis, or it will lease the line from the Government when built, and pay a rental sufficient to recoup interest charges on bonds.

The Sun claims that this is a "put up" job by Hudson Bay officials to block the Northern Pacific deal and secure aid from the Government under the Aid Act to enable them to construct their road, but President Sutherland denies this.

Accidentally Shot.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. Aug. 16.—Charles Hopkins was accidentally shot in the breast while marking for a target shoot at Seabreese yesterday. His recovery is doubtful.

The Electric Light

is a mat er of small importance compared with the other applications of electricity. By this agency Polson's Nerviline is made to penetrate to the most remote nerve—every bone, muscle and ligament is made to feel its beneficient power. Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills so well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

Easily Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, causing gross ma ter, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

A Correct Statement

is made by Miss Jane Rutherford, of Nelles Corners, Ont., who writes—"I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters for Dyspepsia and find it to be the best remedy I ever tried." B.B.B. is sold by all dealers at one dollar per bottle. 2w31d

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

The Birth Rate.

The Ontario Government has issued a table showing the birth rate per 1000 in the several counties of the province. Peterborough is pretty well up in this respect, her birthrate per 1000 being 23½. The highest percentage is Peel, 39, and the lowest Lennox and Addington, 12½.

Fish Stories.

Yesterday Mr. Robt. Pope, street inspector, who is at present camping on Messrs. Brownscombe and McWhinnie's island, caught near Burleigh a maskinonge which measures 3 ft. 9 inches and weighs 21 lbs. Mr. Pope sent his catch down by Mr. McWhinnie as a present to Mayor Stevenson.

All Belleville is excited over a catch of big fish in Mosquito Bay, only a few miles from the city The waters fairly teem with 'lunge weighing from 20 to 40 lbs., according to the voluminous newspaper reports, and the whole talk of the city is fish. A visitor there on Thursday was asked by at least half a hundred people "if he had seen the big fish," a 31-pounder which was on exhibition in a public place. Belleville must have some craze; when baseball and elopements play out, any subject, no matter how fishy, is eagerly grasped and made the most of. Sooty Belleville!

Stony Lake Notes.

Another ball was held at Julien Thursday night. The campers enjoyed a good time, but could not get home till about 3 in the morning on account of a heavy storm.

Mr. Hull, owner of the mills, is responsible for the statement that a bear was seen on the point of land between his mill and Julien's. It is also said a bear was seen on the shore of Braley's Bay.

Another narrow escape from drowning occurred Thursday afternoon. A young man and woman were upset from a canoe almost in the middle of the lake, and when they were rescued the young lady, Miss Young of Young's Point, was about exhausted. Her escort, a Mr. Henry, was also pretty tired. They could not have held out much longe.

The Labor Demonstration.

A meeting of the various committees in connection with the proposed labor demonstration was held in the K. of L. hall last night. It was decided to hold the first annual trades and labor demonstration, on the 3rd of September, it being labor day throughout the United States and Canada. The demonstration will be in the form of a morning parade of the various trades and unions through the principal streets of the town, followed by a monster excursion and pic-nic to Hastings where an interesting programme of sports and amusements will be presented. Various prizes will be offered in the different events. It is expected that a similar excursion will be held at the same place by Belleville labor unions, who who have been asked to co-operate. A committee was appointed to wait on the Mayor and ask him to proclaim the 3rd of September, labor day, a public holiday. The committee will spare no effort to make this demonstration a grand success. It being the first of the kind held in Peterborough, all workingmen should turn out and make it a great success. The Fire Brigade band will attend. Full particulars given next week All working men are requested to meet at the K of L. Hall on the morning of Sept. 3rd, at 8 o'clock, to take part in the parade. A meeting of the committee will be held on Monday night; all who are interested in the movement should be there.

Peterborough Monumental Works.

Mr. J. Coughlin & Bro., who have until recently done business in the stand opposite the old post office, have removed to Hunter street, next the creek, where they have more commodious premises and increased capacity for work. Coughlin Bros. have for the past twelve years done business with complete success at Belleville, and last year bought out Burgess, of Peterborough. They still do business in the Bay City, while conducting the branch here. One of the firm will in future constantly reside here and give the business his whole attention. Their specialty is monumental work, of which at present there is very little done in town. It has been a custom in years past for dealers in Bowmanville, Toronto and other outside places to send agents to Peterborough to solicit orders for the finer quality of work, with the result that the home dealers got only small jobs. Coughlin Bros. intend to make a strong bid for home patronage. They can do the work just as well and far cheaper than these outsiders, as their work in the past will show. In Belleville they have turned out some of the finest monuments in the city, and one recently erected for Col. Brown is unexcelled in the province. On Tuesday they placed a handsome monument, for Mr. Nevin, in the R C. Cemetery here, and have orders for others for Little Lake Cemetery, which when completed will be specimens of their workmanship whereby the public can judge. They are prepared to do the finest quality of work, and always give their customers a chance to refuse their work if it does not suit. No one is forced to take a monument if not satisfied. Coughlin Bros. pay particular attention to getting the very lastest designs, and the public can rely upon getting the best styles in the market. They import direct Scotch, English and Irish Granite, and Dark Grey Quincy (American Granite), which is the handsomest stone in the market. They have constantly in stock a good variety of every kind of cemetery work, and patrons should call at their warerooms. Coughlin Bros. are skilled workmen and hope to prove to the people of Peterborough that they lead the district in fine work and reasonable prices. 1wlds

Impressions of Peterborough.

The Bowmanville Statesman refers to the impression Peterborough made upon the excursionists who recently visited this town as follows:—

Peterborough is a nice place for a day's outing. The town has a city appearance and has a sufficient number of attractions for inspection in one day. The Little Lake Cemetery, the churches, the schools, the little parks, flower gardens, manufactories, Barnardo Home, the extensive lumber and flour mills, the stores, printing offices, opera houses and handsome residences make up quite a programme for sight-seers. Little Lake is said to be the prettiest cemetery in Canada. Nature first did a big share of the job and man finished it; and it is a beautiful spot, indeed. Among the business houses, the dry goods house of Hall, Innes & Co. is a very extensive and complete establishment, and is well worth inspection, and China Hall surpasses anything of the kind that we have seen in this country in city or town. Mr. McFarlane Wilson is the genial proprietor. Mr. T. Bradburn, a former resident of Bowmanville, one of the wealthiest men of Peterborough, showed us through his fine opera house and adjoining buildings.

Several members of our party, including the editor of the Statesman, were most hospitably entertained at the beautiful and delightfully situated home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Mason. Mrs. M. is the eldest daughter of our worth citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Sheria. Mr. Mason is a florist of more than local business connections, and has a very extensive and varied collection of plants and flowers. Our visit was made pleasanter than our fondest expectations by the kindness of our host and hostess. We shall ever remember with pleasure this visit to Peterborough.

We think it a great pity that the town should allow Inverlea Park to be sold off in building lots and forever destroyed for park purposes. It is a most eligible site for pleasure grounds and is splendidly wooded and otherwise appointed for that purpose. With the manifested public spirit of the citizens and the rapid extension of the town, we cannot understand why such a splendid opportunity to secure a grand public park is about to be forever lost. The day will come when the people will regret their shortsightedness.

Suicide or Foul Play?

The Mysterious Death of Palmer Parkinson—Found Drowned Under Peculiar Circumstances.

This morning about 8 o'clock, as John Irwin was driving to market with a load of produce, he saw in the river, a short distance from shore, what appeared to be a sack floating in the water. A second look revealed the fact that it was a corpse. He at once drove to town and notified the police. Chief Rosel started for the scene of the tragedy, but before he arrived Mr. R. R. Hamilton and the step-son of the deceased, who preceded him, had brought the corpse ashore. It was found to be the body of Mr. Palmer Parkinson, an old man about 60 years of age, who lived with his family on George street, near King. Those first on the scene state that from the dead man's mouth, and this circumstance in connection with the finding of his hat in the fence corner near the shore, leads some to suspect foul play. Simple drowning would certainly not cause any bleeding. No other traces were found, though the ground was carefully inspected. The body when found was in an erect posture, the head and shoulders slightly stooped and just showing out of the water. The face showed no signs of a struggle of any kind, and the general opinion is that the man deliberately suicided, though this theory is also confounded by the statement of his family that the deceased has been very cheerful of late and not at all disposed to any rash deed. Thus the whole affair is shrouded in mystery, which it is hoped the coroner's inquest will clear away. Dr. Fife has impannelled a jury, who will hold a sitting this afternoon.

Though some think the dead man

MET WITH FOUL TREATMENT,

it is difficult to imagine from what source. The suicide theory appears the most tenable one at present. He retired last night apparently in good spirits, but about five o'clock this morning Mrs. Parkinson missed him. This did not concern her much, as he was in the habit of early rising, and the family were greatly shocked to hear of his untimely death. It is believed that he placed his hat under the fence in order to give friends a clue to his whereabouts, and then purposely waded beyond his depth into the water.

The coroner's jury began its session at Belleghem's furniture warerooms at three o'clock this afternoon.

An Unpleasant Ending.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—I wish to ask space to call attention to the improper manner in which the officials handled the excursion train to Lindsay and Sturgeon Point on Civic Holiday. By their carelessness or neglect a number of excursionists were left behind, and the majority of those who did succeed in boarding the train, did so at the risk of limb and life. The station platform was crowded with people, when the excursion train backed down the line. It stopped perhaps long enough for all to get on board, but every one knows it is natural to stay off as long as possible to have the longest possible time with friends. At once, without a note of warning—no whistle—no bell-ringing or "all aboard"—the train began to move out and a scramble to get on ensued. A great many were able to get on board, while others didn't get near the train. Some narrow escapes were noticed by persons missing the steps or falling backwards on the platform. One young lady was severely hurt, and a man was pulled out from under a car, where he had slipped, in time to save his life. The passengers left behind were put to the extra expense of remaining at hotels till next day. I content myself with giving a simple narration of the facts, leaving the management of the road to appraise the conduct of their employ'es and apply whatever treatment a proper respect and consideration for the patrons of the road may call for.

Yours truly,
EXCURSIONIST.

August 17th, 1888.

Sabbath Observance.

At the Niagara Conference of the Methodist Church the following resolution was passed:—

"In view of the fact that much Sabbath desecration arises out of the open gates at the various camp and park associations, where Sabbath services are held, we respectfully, but urgently, recommend the directors of such summer resorts to keep the gates of their parks closed on the Lord's Day; and, further, having learned that in some instances cigars, summer drinks, confections and edibles are exposed for sale, contrary to law, we most strongly and positively protest against this desecration of the holy Sabbath Day; and recommend that the Conference direct the secretary to send a copy of this report to the presidents of all summer resorts."

The above resolution has been sent according to the instructions of Conference in the hope that those places of public resort will not seek to build up the physical at the expense of the moral, and we further hope that all lovers of a quiet and holy Sabbath will aid in seeing that the Sabbath is respected at these places and the law observed.

We have every confidence in the presidents and managers of those places desiring to do as this resolution indicates, but it is hard to check some people when away from their accustomed restraint.

THOS. W. JACKSON,
Sec. of Conference.

Local Sports and Pastimes

Lacrosse.

The match game between the Shamrocks and Y.M.C.A. clubs last night was a draw, each side securing a goal in about three-quarters of an hour play. The game at first was spirited, and the Y.M.C.A. team seemed to have their opponents well in hand. They won easily, McMillan securing the ball in a scrimmage right in front of the Shamrocks' goal and sending it through. The next game was of longer duration, and the Shamrocks played a better game, the honors being about equally divided. "Billy" McNamara scored for them by a fine long throw past three or four men. After some further play time was called on account of darkness.

The two teams seem to be about evenly matched, and as these practice games are of great benefit to both it is probable another match will be arranged.

The teams lined up as follows, only eleven men playing:—

Y. M. C. A.		Shamrocks
Manning	goal	Murphy
Metheral	point	Butler
Consal	cover point	Meagher
Henderson / B Rubidge	defence field	McCabe / McDonough
Davidson	centre	Corcoran
P Rubidge / Armstrong / McMillan	home field	Lipsett / Simons / J McNamara
Poore	inside home	Mitchell
Hendricks	outside home	W McNamara
Patenham	field captain	Bexley
Anderson	umpire	Isbister

Referee, Rufus Stevenson.

Lacrosse Notes.

Norwood lacrosse club is right on its mettle, and anxious for the fray. A number of challenges have been sent out, and the Register says:—"All of these clubs, with the exception of Hastings, owe the Norwoods a return match. Stirling maintains that she has no senior team. Millbrook is afraid to face the music. Madoc is in the same boat with Millbrook, but tries to conceal the truth by making an unreasonable demand on the Nor. They actually have the cheek to ask a great deal more for expenses than they allowed the Norwoods on their recent visit to that town. The Peterborough Y.M.C.A.'s have promised a date during the present month. The Riversides (Peterborough) named a date which the home team found impossible to accept owing to the absence of a number of their players at Stony Lake. The Norwoods then named a day, but the Riversides were unable to accept from some cause or other. Hastings has not yet replied to the challenge sent them last week, but we learn from outside sources that they purpose accepting it." The Register accuses the Madoc and Millbrook teams of dishonorable conduct in trying to back out of promised return matches.

The poison dealers, though defeated at baseball, are not disheartened. They claim that they can wipe their opponents out at lacrosse, and probably the next tussle of these mighty men of valor will be upon the gory field of lacrosse.

Turf Topics.

"Sleepy Dan," Mr. Winch's trotter, goes to Toronto on Monday in charge of Mr. Tom. Kerwin, to enter the three-minute race on the Woodbine track.

The postponed civic holiday races were run off at Lindsay on Friday. Clancy's "Royal Jim" took second money in the three-minute trot.

Willow and Wicket.

The Empire, in its report of the Peterborough-Toronto cricket match on Thursday, says:—"The batting honors for Peterborough were carried off by Stratton (who has very wisely been elected to represent Canada against the Gentlemen of Ireland at Toronto on the 30th and 31st of August and the 1st of September.) He made 20 and 16 for the visitors in very good form. He has been making a lot of runs this year, and is a most useful man." Mr. Stratton has been playing brilliantly the whole season, and when at the close of the season the averages are made up, it is probable that few, if any cricketeers will have a better batting averaged and more not outs—for the number of matches played.

Mr. W. A. Stratton wins the hat offered by Mr. W. J. Green for the best batting average in the three last matches.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goode we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

IMMIGRATION FOR JULY.

A LARGE INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF SETTLERS.

A Smuggler's Schooner to be Condemned and Sold—The Plantagenet Postmaster Held Responsible for a Loss.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—Immigration returns for July show the number of arrivals during the month to have been 19,621, being an increase of 4290 over the same month last year. The number of settlers in the Dominion during the month was 11,186, being an increase of 3106. During the first seven months of the fiscal year the total arrivals have been 104,164, of whom 51,519 settled in Canada, an increase over last year of 18,068 arrivals and 7283 settlers.

The schooner Marie Erzale, from St. Pierre Miquelon, was seized at Quebec about a month ago on a charge of smuggling, and as the case is a clear one an application to load has been refused and she will be condemned and sold. She belongs to Captain David Bouchard who had a vessel of the same name condemned and sold on the same charge last year. Bouchard is said to be a regular smuggler.

After a careful investigation of the case it has been decided to hold the postmaster at Plantagenet, Ont., responsible for the recent robbery of $700 from that office.

Quite a number of cases of typhoid fever exist in Hull at present but so far no deaths have been reported.

As it will not be possible to have the Lansdowne Cup made in time to present it to the winning team in the forthcoming Dominion Rifle Association matches a drawing of it has been prepared by Mr. J. C. Tache of the Public Works Department which will be photographed and a copy presented to each member of the winning team. The cup itself will probably not be received before January.

These graduates of the Royal Military College have elected to accept commissions in the Imperial Army: Cavalry—Sergt. Edmund Charles Hamilton. Artillery—Cadet Frederick Edward Lloyd Barker, Sergt. Arthur Macauley Cayley, Sergt. George Napier Johnson. Engineers—Lieut. Alexander Adams (graduate of 1887), Company Sergts. Major Alphonse Eugene Panet and Arthur Grant Bramer. Infantry—Cadet William Charles Gifford Heneker.

It is reported here that Mr. De Boucherville, Clerk of the Legislative Council of Quebec, is to be superannuated and Mr. L. H. Frechette appointed in his place.

Sir Adolphe Caron says it is quite correct that the position of professor of artillery is to be abolished at Kingston Military College.

The Militia Department has granted permission for the organization of a junior rifle company at the Jesuits' College, Montreal.

It is understood that Bergin, the Baltimore forger, will be handed over to the United States authorities to-day.

The reports about Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister of Interior, continue favorable. He will probably return here Wednesday or Thursday from Winnipeg.

BREAD ENOUGH FOR ALL

ONTARIO'S FIELDS OF GOLDEN GRAIN UP TO THE AVERAGE.

The August Crop Bulletin of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture—The Weather and its Effect on Growing Crops.

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—Secretary A. Blue, of the Bureau of Industries, on Saturday issued his crop and weather bulletin for August. This bulletin shows the progress of harvesting operations, condition of the crops and estimated yield of the cereals, based upon the reports of 763 correspondents at date. The acreage of fall wheat is taken from the assessment rolls, while all other areas and statistics of live stock are compiled from returns made by farmers under date of June 25. The total area in all crops enumerated is 7,616,350 acres as compared with 7,420,694 in 1887 and 7,342,435 acres for the period 1882-7. In addition there are 2,-895,894 acres of cleared land devoted to pasture in 1888, a slight increase over the 2,858,989 acres reported in 1887. The record of the weather has, as usual, been furnished by the Meteorological Office.

The mean temperature of the province for the months of May, June and July was 61.6°, being less by nearly 6° than the corresponding period in 1887, and less by nearly 5° than the average of the three months in the six years 1882-7. The highest mean temperature for each of the three months was reported in Ottawa. Compared with the average rainfall for the same months in the six years, the precipitation was less in every district in 1888. In the east and northeast district it was only a little more than half the average, and in the northwest and north the decrease was also very great. The rainfall during any single month was least in July, when only 1.85 inches fell in the northwest and north and 1.69 in the east and northeast, compared with an average of 2.67 inches and 3.06 inches respectively in the six years. Sunshine appears to have prevailed to a greater extent in the east than in the west, as out of a possible 1397.7 hours in the three months only 709.1 hours were noted in Woodstock, while further east the record kept advancing, being 761.2 hours in Toronto, 770.5 in Niagara Falls South, 783.2 in Lindsay and 813.8 in Kingston. A close sympathy is observable between the weather records above noted and the condition of the crops as reported by correspondents.

Fall wheat generally came to the harvest considerably injured by the unfavorable weather of April, May and part of June. The spring season was cold, clear and dry, following a very dry autumn and a severe winter, and it was not till after fall wheat was out in head, in the month of June, that it experienced any rainfall and growing, sunny weather worth speaking of. The relief came too late to undo all the damage that had been done, and the crop in most cases grew up thin on the ground and headed out unevenly. Rust is complained of in a good many localities. Harvesting was generally about ten days later than last year. The yield will, on the whole, be below the average, and the grain will be shrunken and under size in proportion as rust and drouth prevailed in each locality. The harvest generally was saved in good condition. 60,669 acres of fall wheat are reported as plowed up, of which 75 per cent was in the Lake Huron, West Midland and Lake Ontario groups of counties.

The reports regarding spring wheat are more favorable than they have been for several years. This crop has not suffered seriously from any cause, the only injury that it received worth mentioning having been from drouth in the districts where there was lack of rain; and this, though it reduced the yield somewhat, did not affect the color of the grain or materially reduce its size and plumpness. Very little injury has been done by insects, only the midge having been mentioned, and that rarely. In the central and eastern portions of Ontario, where the bulk of the spring wheat area of the province is found, and where too, the drouth was severest, the crop is generally reported as having been good, or, at least as having been much better than for many years. Probably 80 per cent of the reports are favorable and the remainder describe the crop as short and very largely a failure. The area sown to spring wheat, however, again shows a decrease from 484,821 acres in 1887 to 367,850 acres for the present year.

Barley ranks fair to good in regard to yield and size of berry, but the sample was more or less discolored by the rains which fell shortly after harvesting began. The reports are very uniform from all parts of the province that there was about an average in yield and quality, and where in early situations the crop was secured before rain came the sample is all that can be desired. Good individual yields are reported where threshing has been done, reaching as high as 50 bushels per acre, and reports of 30 to 40 bushels are not uncommon. The crop was heavier and was better saved in the western peninsula than in the group of counties bordering on Lake Ontario, where the principal barley area is situated, but from all parts there will be a very considerable quantity of barley brought to market in good condition and sample. Some correspondents estimate that as much as one-half will be bright barley, but the indications are that this proportion is rather high for the province over.

Oats have given a satisfactory return in the western lake counties of Ontario and in a large portion of the west midland group. The reports from the nine counties which border on Lakes Erie and Huron are almost without exception to the effect that oats have been an abundant crop throughout that district. The same is true, with an occasional exception, of the reports from Middlesex, Oxford, Brant, Perth, Wellington and Waterloo. In the remainder of the province a large proportion of the crop has been light and quite short of the average. The reports are extremely unfavorable from the east Midland and St. Lawrence districts, indicating that there the crop has been very short and thin on the ground and the yield of straw and grain alarmingly light. The average yield in Michigan is estimated at 33 bushels.

Comparatively little rye is grown in Ontario for the grain, its chief use being for fall and early spring pasturage and to plow under as green manure. Where it has been allowed to ripen this crop seems to have stood the drouth best of any, and the yield was fair.

Peas, of all the crops that come into general cultivation in Ontario, seem to have endured the adversities of the season best. The reports from Western Ontario are the most favorable, but in the central and eastern districts the crop at best is more or less short of an average in yield of straw and grain. Harvesting was only in progress at the time of reporting and it is to be feared that much of the crop has been caught out in the recent rains.

The culture of corn for the grain is confined mainly to the western peninsular counties of Essex and Kent. The condition of the crop in these counties is better than it has been for many years. Correspondents report fields of corn in which the stalks stand from 12 to 14 feet in height, with an average of two or three ears to the stalk.

The most encouraging reports have been received regarding the bean crop. In the county of Kent, where two-thirds of the beans grown in Ontario are raised, an abundant yield is expected. The main crop escaped the early frosts, and favorable showers visited the county, so that, to quote the language of one correspondent, "the oldest man in the county never saw finer growing weather for beans."

Roots are grown to the greatest extent in the western half of the province, and with the exception of the counties of Huron, Bruce, Grey and Simcoe, where the drouth checked the growth and the fly did injury to turnips, the average yield per acre promises to be large. In the counties along Lake Erie, particularly, the yield of potatoes will be the heaviest known for some years.

Turnips in several of the western counties suffered from the fly, and in some places where the turnip fields adjoined old meadows the grasshoppers did damage, while drouth affected the crop to so great an extent in the county of Grey that it is claimed that many acres have been plowed up, and that most of the growing fields will yield but a small percentage of an average crop. Mangels have been so badly affected by the drouth as turnips. Carrots are not doing as well as other roots. In Eastern Ontario the drouth has prevented anything like a fair promise in roots, although the reports regarding potatoes are very hopeful in some sections. The large yield of roots in most of the western counties will bring the average for the province fully up to if not above that of the past six years.

The hay and clover crop will not reach two-thirds the ordinary yield. While mixed grasses did fairly in most counties, clover was a near crop, owing partly to the irving effects of the steady drouth of the previous summer and fall, and partly to "heaving" in winter, which killed out many plants. The drouth of the present spring and early summer completed the difficulties against which the crop had to contend and it is doubtful if so poor a one has been the experience of the province for twenty years. The most favorable accounts of the yield of hay and clover and the prospects of clover seed come from Essex and Kent, while the most discouraging reports have been received from those counties bordering on Lake Ontario. Correspondents, however, are almost unanimous in declaring that the crop was cut and placed in the mow in splendid condition. Estimates of the yield per acre run all the way from a quarter of a ton to two tons.

In the Lake Erie group, more particularly in the counties of Essex, Kent and Elgin, and in a few of the West Midland counties, the condition of pasture is most encouraging, but in the Lake Huron and Georgian Bay groups and in the eastern Ontario counties the unpleasant experience of last year has been repeated. From Peel eastward correspondents report brown pastures, and in many instances hand-feeding of stock. Already several farmers in eastern Ontario have had to dispose of their cattle at any price, owing to lack of feed, and sales are reported at from $6 to $15 a head. Owing to the falling off in the flow of milk beginning earlier than ordinarily it is thought that the cheese factories will close several days sooner than usual this season.

The number of horses in Ontario is 536,218, or 20,857 more than in 1887; cattle 1,928,638, nearly 20,000 less than in the previous year, although milch cows have increased by 33,236; sheep 1,249,044, as compared with 1,306,161 in 1887; hogs 819,079, or 13,738 less than last year; and poultry 6,165,114, as against 6,438,-261 in 1887. The total wool clip is 4,601,027 lbs., against 4,650,249 lbs. last year.

The dry season has not been without its effect upon orchard and garden. Although summer apples are rather small in size, fall and winter sorts will likely be well up to the average in size as well as quality. The borer and codlin moth have appeared in a few places, and occasional complaint is made of wormy apples, but the crop generally will be a good one. The pear blight is reported in portions of Kent, but the general yield will be an ordinary one. Stone fruits are all light in yield. Only a few correspondents in Lincoln speak hopefully of the peach; the majority report the crop as a failure. Plums and cherries are being steadily destroyed by the black knot, and where the plum has escaped that enemy it has been weakened by the curculio. In some of the Lake Erie counties, however, the cherry is reported as having yielded a big crop of large fruit. In the grape growing counties a magnificent yield is anticipated, but in Oxford and Brant the rose bug attacked the vines as the grapes were budding, and wrought much injury. Other small garden fruits have been about an average, except strawberries, which were hurt by the drouth of last summer and fall. In the county of Grey, where the huckleberry is regarded as a standard fruit, the crop is light.

The season has been an unfavorable one for the apiary. Swarming was light owing to the backward spring and the cold nights of early summer. There was a scarcity of nectar in forest and field, linden and white clover being among the failures of the season. But for the patches of Canada thistles, which presented an inviting and valuable foraging ground, many colonies would have suffered from starvation, and it is a question whether more than five or ten pounds of honey per colony will be netted.

Labor saving machinery has so changed the order of harvest work that extra hands are employed only in special cases. The binder is king of the harvest field now. A man and a boy with the implements of to-day can do the work of a number of men of five or ten years ago, and the laborer who can scientifically swing the scythe or cradle is becoming a tradition in Ontario. There has been an ample supply of male farm labor at about the same rate of wages as last year, and there is every prospect of harvesting being completed without difficulty or loss from lack of manual aid. Female help, as usual, is scarce; the problem how to keep the girl on the farm has not yet been solved.

LATE LONDON CHRONICLES

THE EQUILIBRIUM OF EUROPEAN TEMPERS DISTURBED.

Collapse of the Paris Strikes—The Parnell Defence Fund—The Ridley Inquest—Reporters for News From Stanley.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The German Emperor's speech at Frankfort has disturbed the equilibrium of European bourses and tempers. His declaration that Germany means to keep Alsace-Lorraine contains absolutely nothing new. Prince Bismarck has said so a hundred times. It is the rhetorical form in which the young Emperor has expressed this resolve that excites criticism. Berlin, of course, approves. Vienna does not care. London thinks it is bad taste. Paris grinds its teeth over what it deems a fresh insult and fresh humiliation. Insult there is none. If there be humiliation for France, she has herself to thank. Putting aside questions of taste and literary form, political observers are inclined to think it well that France should be told plainly, by the highest authority, that she cannot have Alsace-Lorraine or any part of either without war.

The collapse of the strikes in Paris is due largely to the unexpected firmness of the Floquet Ministry in the presence of the disturbances. M. Floquet's Radicalism, once supposed likely to lead him toward anarchy, is now seen to be perfectly consistent with strong government. Every effort was made to induce him to side with the strikers. He was told Paris would turn against him and turn him out unless he withdrew the police and allowed the navvies to fight it out with their employers. That was a practical issue of anarchy or no anarchy. M. Floquet listened politely to proposals which involved the overthrow of society and order, and contradicted promptly the false reports of interviews set afloat by Anarchist leaders; and everybody in Paris slept as soundly in his bed as if it were Napoleon himself who answered for order.

The starting of the Parnell Defence Fund in Dublin is one more proof of political solidity between the Parnellites and Gladstonians. It was in the Liverpool Reform Club that the first meeting was held. All present were English Liberals. Three Liberal editors are on the committee and many other Liberals of local fame. The first subscription list amounted to several thousand pounds. The Home Rule organ in Dublin hails this as an announcement of unique significance and cheering import, saying: "For the first time in the history of the relations of England and Ireland, a great English party has advanced, spontaneously, munificently and openly to the defence of a leader of the Irish National movement." The verdict of Mr. Coroner Rice's jury in the Ridley case can only be called a political verdict. They say that Dr. Ridley was temporarily insane, attack the prison authorities, censure Dr. Barr and exonerate Dr. Moorhead. The London Ministerial press make no comment on the verdict. The Liberal organ considers that the evidence justifies the finding of the jury.

The latest dispatches from Zanzibar and Cairo tend in the opinion of competent judges to confirm the theory that the White Pacha is none other than Mr. Stanley. There is no certainty. There is only a balance of probabilities, and that is only attainable by minute examination of details. Nothing is more remarkable than the way in which Mr. Stanley's courage and force of character are taken as factors in the difficult problem. So like him to march on to Khartoum! say the English. Every scrap of news about him is eagerly watched for and eagerly scanned.

The naval manœuvres are still proceeding with great activity on paper. Operations by sea are suspended, perhaps ended. The hour of critics has come. Admiral Tyron has won by sea; Admiral Baird is to be avenged by land. No great harm or good will be done by this exchange of broadsides in the press. Effective criticism consists in the demonstration of the more or less complete breakdown of the numerous ships and men concerned in these enterprises. Lord Charles Beresford writes, and there are few better authorities, that the system has failed terribly, failed whenever it has been called on for practical work, he adds. However, the others are perfectly satisfied that the Government are now doing all that could be done to reform the system. Their doings, so far as the public knows, have not yet got beyond appointing two commissioners to inquire what ought to be done. G. W. S.

Bad Indians in Dakota.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—A despatch from Pine Ridge Agency, Dak., says four or five days ago a band of Sioux Indians made a formal request of Agent Gallaghat that they be allowed to attend the Sun Dance of the Cheyennes on the Tongue River. Surmising that they would make an attack on the whites along the Tongue and Powder Rivers the agent refused to allow them to leave the reservation. Yesterday morning it was discovered that a large band of the Siouxs had started for the home of the Cheyennes. Yesterday afternoon two companies of the First Cavalry, under Mr. J. N. Hamilton and Lt. Wainwright, were sent in pursuit. The military expect to overtake the Indians today when a desperate battle is likely to ensue because the reds are exceedingly angry and reported armed to the teeth.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Speaker Carlisle says he will meet Mr. Blaine in a joint debate on the tariff question if the National Committee consider such a step necessary.

The Universal Peace Union.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 18.—The convention of the Universal Peace Union closed a three days' session at Mystic yesterday. A resolution was adopted appealing to Governor Hill to commute the death sentence of David Lyons to life imprisonment. During the afternoon Mrs. Parnell made an eloquent address in favor of equal rights everywhere. She expressed the opinion that the new German Emperor would like a fight but would not get one while Bismark lived. Three cheers were given for Mrs. Parnell, Charles Stewart Parnell and the cause of Ireland.

Lakehurst.

(From our own Correspondent).

Mr. Stratton, M.P.P., delivered the first of his series of addresses to his constituents of West Peterborough at Lakehurst on the 6th inst. Mr. Shaw presided over a very orderly meeting, while Mr. Stratton for two hours or more dwelt upon the legislation of the last session of the Provincial Parliament. He showed to the audience (principally farmers) that many enactments in favor of the agricultural community were brought forward and passed, and gave his explanations so explicity as to be understood by all. West Peterborough should be proud of such an energetic and successful member and his actions call for the loudest praise from all when the sentiments of party rancour are cast aside. Long may he continue to hold his seat, acting with the same self-denial and energy as has been shown by him.

On introduction, Mr. Hall gave a short address, eulogizing the enterprise of the Mowat government and expressing the wisdom of West Peterborough in selecting Mr. Stratton.

On Tuesday last, while Daniel Crough was cutting a field of oats belonging to Thomas Telford, one acre was measured off which he reaped in 35 minutes, with one of Mr. Peter Hamilton's self binders of 1884. The crop was a good one, and although the field was rough in the bottom, the cutting and binding were done in first-rate style, which speaks well for a machine being in use four years and not costing in that time five dollars for repairs. Mr. Crough is confident that, in a field with a good bottom, he could cut the acre in less than thirty minutes.

Your correspondent was incorrectly informed concerning the result of the entrance examinations. The correct report shows all the candidates who wrote from here at Millbrook passed—4 from No. 3 and 1 from No. 4.

Our Sunday school now has the use of a fine organ, placed in the room on his own responsibility, by Mr. R. Simson, the popular agent for the Uxbridge organ. Its use gives considerable tone to the music, and also the attendance will be increased.

The yield of grain of the different kinds following the daily hums now in progress, is promising. Much of the straw is short, though there will be enough for winter, and grain is better in quality and bulk than last year's.

On Thursday evening last a heavy thunder storm passed here. The rain poured down and was mingled with a fall of the largest hail stones seen for years. The storm of the evening was followed by heavy rain during the night, which wet the ground well, and rendered the last of the harvesting rather backward.

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

PICNIC.—The second grand annual excursion under the auspices of the Presbyterian church choir will take place on Wednesday, Aug. 22nd, per steamer "Beaver." Boat will leave Keene wharf at 8 a.m. and proceed to Jubilee Point for dinner, calling at Gore's Landing and Idyl Wild, and returning to the wharf at 6 p.m. Tickets for round trip, 25c. This should be the largest excursion of the season as the choir certainly does credit to our village.

The Good Templars of Keene are progressing rapidly, and they think that through time they will be able to reform our village.

The farmers in this vicinity are getting on rapidly with their crops.

The trade in the village is very dull this season.

Don't Give up the Ship.

You have been told that consumption is incurable; that when the lungs are attacked by this terrible malady, the sufferer is past help, and the end is a mere question of time. You have noted with alarm the unmistakable symptoms of the disease; you have tried all manner of so-called cures in vain, and you are now despondent and preparing for the worst. But don't give up the ship while Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery remains untried. It is not a cure-all, nor will it perform miracles, but it has cured thousands of cases of consumption, in its earlier stages, where all other means had failed. Try it, and obtain a new lease of life. a

A Blighted Life.

BY SARAH CALDER, WARSAW.

Years have passed since I last bid farewell to the village
Which Dummer's rough hill tops encircle around—
Where the Indian River flows gently on southward
And loves its low banks with a murmuring sound.

I loved a fair maiden, but how quick my bright dream
Of hope in the future and happiness fled;
When the one that I loved to the churchyard was carried.
For aye to reside with the mouldering dead.

Oh! my home! at the parting my heart seemed like breaking
With grief that forbade e'en one tear drop to well;
And a shadow as deep as the midnight descended
Across my lone path as I bade it farewell.

Though far I have wandered where soft winds are rippling
The grass of the prairie like waves of the sea,
In love's deepest longing fond memory revisits
The scenes of my childhood sweet village and thee.

Methinks that again I behold the green woodlands
Where grew the wild flowers I plucked when a boy,
And listened in rapture, while birds in the tree tops
Poured out on the wind their glad sonnets of joy.

I see the old church amid trees that are spreading
Their branches to hide its untimely decay;
Where for thirty long years our fathers have gathered
As each sabbath returns for to praise and to pray.

Likewise the stone schoolhouse so close by the roadside,
Safe sheltered from storms by the hill in the rear,
Whose old walls have re-echoed the humming of lessons
Or boisterous mirth that in fancy I hear.

Long, long I have dwelt in the land of the stranger,
And shadows but lengthen as life's sun sinks low,
Of the past that surrounds me, bedimming the present,
How little the friends that now greet me can know

For the face with mirth and bright smiles may be beaming,
And give of the feeling no token or sign,
As the ice covered lake in the sunlight may sparkle,
O'er dark depths beneath where the sun cannot shine.

Serious Runaway Accident—A Brakeman Killed on the C. P. R.

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—At 11.30 a.m., Saturday, David Moore, coachman to Mr. C. H. Green, was driving down Church-street. In attempting to turn out of the car track his rig tipped partially over, throwing him out. He became tangled in the reins and had a narrow escape, his clothes and flesh being torn on the pavement. The horse dashed along the sidewalk, smashing a baby carriage, the children miraculously escaping injury. At King-street, John Peer, an old man from Port Credit, was knocked over by the horse. He received a dislocation of the right shoulder and serious internal injuries. At last accounts he was in the hospital in a precarious condition.

Early on Saturday morning the body of a man, terribly mangled, was found on the C. P. R. track near Bles's Hotel, West Toronto Junction. The body was afterwards identified as that of Allan Davis, a brakesman on the Canadian Pacific Railway, who had evidently been run over by a train as he was going home. He was 26 years of age, and leaves a widow and two young children.

McArthur, Gouinlock & Co., wholesale hat and fur dealers, Front-street west, suspended on Saturday. The creditors meet on Friday next, when it is expected that matters will be satisfactorily arranged. The firm claim a large surplus over and above all indebtedness.

George Donaldson, aged 16, in the employ of Contractor Richard West, was engaged on Saturday afternoon filling a cart with sand in Bloor-street when the front of the pit caved in, burying Donaldson. He was speedily rescued in an unconscious state and taken to the hospital, where it was found he had a severe scalp wound and serious internal injuries. Three fatal accidents have occurred at the Bloor-street pit within two years.

This evening all the secular priests of the diocese of Toronto will go into semi-annual retreat in St. Michael's College. Rev. Father Connolly will preside.

A FATAL QUARREL.

West Virginia Customs Imported into Ontario—A Family Feud.

An Alleged Case of Leprosy in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—August Johnson, a Dane, age 21, came to the county hospital on Thursday to consult the doctors about a loathsome skin disease from which he was suffering. After careful examination, the physicians decided that the patient was suffering from tubercular leprosy, and he was placed in an isolated compartment of the contagious ward. Johnson came to this country when three years of age and enjoyed the best of health up to eight months ago, when the disease first made its appearance in the form of a small red blotch on his right loin. It spread until it became as large as a man's hand. Similar blotches appeared in different parts of the body until he is now completely covered.

Lyons' Last Hours.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Yesterday afternoon Daniel Lyons, the condemned murderer who is to be hanged on Tuesday morning, had his last parting with his mother and members of the family in the Tombs. Mrs. Lyons fainted when she saw her son and when she revived in a broken voice said she would soon follow him to the grave. It was an affecting scene. Lyons is fast breaking up under the strain.

Banker Henry Taylor Released on Bail.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Henry Taylor, of Ontario Investment Association notoriety, was released from jail yesterday, his wife and son giving bonds for his appearance when wanted. Mr. Taylor had been in jail very nearly a year, having been captured on the 3rd of last September on a judgment for $15,000, secured against him by Mr. R. S. Meredith.

Killed by a Pitched Ball.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 20.—Michael Murphy, shortstop for the Ontario baseball club, an amateur of this city, was hit by a pitched ball in a game yesterday and was killed. His neck was broken from the force of the blow. The deceased was employed as a brakeman on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railway, and was 24 years of age.

To be Disposed of on Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—It is probable that the fisheries debate in the Senate will be suspended on Monday for the presentation of the conference report on the navy appropriation bills; but it is not expected this will give rise to extended debate. The treaty is to be disposed of on Tuesday.

The Electric Light

is a mat er of small importance compared with the other applications of electricity. By this agency Polson's Nerviline is made to penetrate to the most remote nerve—every bone, muscle and ligament is made to feel its beneficient power. Nerviline, pleasant to take, even by the youngest child, yet so powerfully far reaching in its work, that the most agonizing internal pain yields as if by magic. Neglect no longer to try Nerviline. Buy to-day a ten cent trial bottle and be relieved from all pain. Sold by druggists and country dealers everywhere. 6dw33

Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills so well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

Easily Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

A Correct Statement

is made by Miss Jane Rutherford, of Nelles Corners, Ont., who writes—"I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters for Dyspepsia and find it to be the best remedy I ever tried." B.B.B. is sold by all dealers at one dollar per bottle. 2w31d

TO THE DEAF.—A Person cured of Deafness and noises in the head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy, will send a description of it FREE to any Person who applies to N. CHOLSON, 30 St. John Street, Montreal. dwly

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the same is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6w34

Laurier at Lindsay.

Mr. Laurier will arrive at Lindsay Tuesday evening by the eight o'clock train, after speaking at Cannington in the afternoon, and will go at once to the residence of Mr. John A. Barron, M.P. The Young Liberals will give a garden party in his honor the same evening at Mr. Barron's, to which all are cordially invited. No doubt there will be a large attendance of people, as this will be an opportunity seldom had for all to meet in a social way with Mr. and Mrs. Laurier and be introduced to them. On Wednesday next Mr. and Mrs. Laurier will take the Estarion at 11.30 for Sturgeon Point, returning in the afternoon by the same steamer, and going on to Toronto by the 6 05 train.

Innocence Itself.

Many persons seem to think that postmasters have nothing else to do than attend to personal matters which have not the remotest connection with their official duties. Not long since Postmaster Rogers received a letter asking him to procure a situation for a young man in a cabinet shop; from another, wanting him to find a place for a guaranteed "moral" young woman in a tailor's shop, and a, no doubt, painfully anxious mother wants the postmaster to hunt up a delinquent daughter, supposed to be in Peterborough. If the postmaster attended to all such requests, he would have to establish a special department, manned by a special staff. Newspaper men have similar experiences from certain members of a confiding public who are too innocent to stand washing.

The Industrial Exhibition.

The Toronto Exhibition, which is becoming more and more one of the events of the year for agriculturists and country dwellers, will be held from Sept. 10th to 22nd next. The new Governor-General, Lord Stanley, will open the Exhibition on the 11th. The railways are offering greater inducements in reduced rates than in previous years. Entries are more numerous than ever before, and the management are providing a great array and variety of special features regardless of expense. Each day and evening there will be presented several new and entertaining novelties, with a view of combining in the Great Fair the amusing and entertaining feature as well as the instructive. Detailed programmes of each day's performances can be procured by addressing the secretary, Mr. H. J. Hill, Toronto.

East Riding Show.

The exhibition at Norwood this year promises to be one of the most successful yet held by the East Riding Agricultural Association. The directors met recently and appointed the following committees:—Horses—Messrs. J. Knox, C. O'Reilly, and W. Patterson. Cattle—Messrs. T Blezard, M. P.P., L. Lonergan and F. Birdsall. Sheep and Pigs—Messrs. H. Nelson, A Cameron H. Humphries. Roots, Vegetables, Poultry, &c.—Messrs. Wm. Burgess, Chas. Nicoll and C. O'Rielly. Fruit—Messrs. T. Blezard, M. P.P., and Hugh Nelson. Grain and Dairy Produce—Messrs. J. Knox, H. Humphries and A. Cameron. Implements — Mr. F. Birdsall. Ladies' Work, Domestic Manufactures, &c.—Messrs. L. Lonergan and W. Patterson. General Superintendent—Mr. John Brackenridge. These names are a sufficient guarantee that nothing will be undone to render the exhibition worthy of the support and encouragement it usually receives.

What The People Say.

Peterborough can boast of fine stores. H. S. Griffin & Co. have a model place of business, bright and cheerful, and their Stock is well kept. They keep Goods as different to anything we see in other places. We can always depend on getting stylish goods there. Have you seen their Dress Goods? They keep lovely goods, and this coming Fall their stock will be better than ever. We deal there, and intend bringing our friends.

Interesting to Cheese-makers.

The cheese-makers of Union Factory, Thurlow township, reports that he has an eight-pound cheese that was made without the use of rennet. He says that the milk delivered by the president of the factory on Aug. 16th was noticed to be very thick, and by way of experiment he tried making it up without the use of rennet. He says that it was to his taste sweeter, if anything, than ordinary milk, but very thick. He put it through the usual process without using rennet. He says it seems dryer and does not promise to meat down and make a mellow cheese, as when the rennet is used. This is a very unusual occurrence, as it has been the general experience of makers that rennet was required to thicken the milk.

Sheep Worried by Dogs.

Our North Monaghan correspondent writes:—One day last week, while a North Monaghan farmer and his son were loading grain, they heard dogs giving tongue in an adjoining field. The son at once armed himself with a shot gun and revolver, and, proceeding to the scene of conflict, found five town hounds worrying a sheep, and they had about completed their job. The dogs started to run away, three taking one direction and two another. The young man fired and wounded one of the dogs which gave more tongue but of a different tenor. Fearing that the howling of the wounded dog would bring back the other dogs which might unite in attacking him and make it uncomfortably hot for him, the young man gave the finishing shot to the wounded dog while another dog caught the young man by the leg biting clean through a heavy boot. A blow with the gun settled his pretensions and he beat a retreat as also did the doyslayer, for his gun was empty and his revolved missed fire. The owner of the dog appeared on the scene and raised a loud rumpus about his dog, which he valued more than a whole flock of sheep. This is all very well for town sportsmen, but the farmers about town can't afford to raise mutton to feed hounds for town sporting gentlemen. If they want their hounds to practice on farmers' sheep, they must not complain if the farmers practice shooting on their dogs.

Trying to Find Out.

How Palmer Parkinson Came to His Death—A Jury Empanelled—Evidence Taken—Inquest Adjourned.

On Saturday afternoon Coroner Fife empanelled a jury of inquest into the manner in which one Palmer Parkinson came to his death, on Saturday morning. The following are the names of the jury:

THOMAS CAHILL, foreman.

T. Giroux,	M. Giroux,
F. R. Yokome,	John Armour,
S. Thompson,	Wm. Trotter,
Jas. Noble,	Wm. Collins,
F. J. Wesley,	W. Robinson,
John Irwin,	H. S. McDonald,
John Nugent,	John Clancy,
Z. B. D. Lafleur.	A. Graham,
J. W. Miller,	Isaac Richardson.

After the body had been viewed by the jury, in the presence of the coroner, who made an informal examination, and found no external signs of violence, evidence was taken as follows:—

D. Belleghem—sworn, stated that the body viewed was that of Palmer Parkinson; he knew the man well; had known him for years. He found the body in the Otonabee river about half a mile below the locks at the extreme end of George-street. When he first saw the body about 10 o'clock it was in the water. He doubted whether the man was dead or not, but on closer examination he was convinced that he was dead—the body was still warm. The dead man's stepson came for him to take charge of the body; he took the body out of the water; he found nothing in his pockets; didn't know how he came by his death; thought he was of sound mind.

William E. Russell—sworn, is a step-son of deceased. I saw him alive last yesterday and was in his company; he was more jovial and in better spirits than I had seen him for some time. He seemed to be well pleased about the new property he had bought. I saw him at his home on George street. He spoke to me about getting him a stable built next week. I saw him last between 11 and 12 o'clock in the morning. When I heard of his being drowned I went to the river. I found Mr. R. R. Hamilton in a punt, trying to get near the body; when he reached the body, which was standing upright in the water, he turned the face towards me and I recognised it as that of Palmer Parkinson. We drew him out till his head was clear of the water. His hat was found under the fence opposite where the body was found. Have no idea how he came by his death. He couldn't have fallen into the water, he must have walked in; when found the body was standing with a part of the top of the head out of the water. The deceased claimed to have property, but so far as I know he hadn't a cent. It was only this morning that I and my mother (wife of deceased) found out that he was worth nothing—had no property such as he had claimed to have. I was inclined to think that he was not of sound mind. It is my opinion that deceased walked deliberately into the water. There were no marks on his face yesterday; when found there was a slight abrasion on his eyelid and one on his cheek. The property he proposed buying was in two parcels, and the deed of one of these parcels was to be in his wife's name—he spoke to witness of it as "a grand present" he was going to make to his wife. Don't know that the papers were drawn. He had put the matter in lawyer Roger's hands.

The inquest was adjourned till Monday night at 7.30 o'clock in the police court room.

News Nuggets.

—James Cain was dismissed for drunkenness by the police magistrate to-day. It was his first offence, and he promised that it would be his last—in Peterborough at least.

—The annual summer sea-serpent is now being discovered in various places. The whisky in Peterborough county must be of good quality, as his serpentine majesty is never seen in our waters.

Domestic Discipline Publicly Applied.

On Sunday afternoon a south end husband who had been flowing the bowl and enjoying a little spree, was overhauled by his naturally and justifiably indignant spouse, or Simcoe street. She was armed with an umbrella and in the ardour of her indignation she applied the parachute to the back of the delinquent husband with considerable vigor, before she read him a lecture upon the error of his ways. The husband was much disinclined to go home but the energetic wife carried her point and her bibulous better-half home in triumph.

Come with the Baptist Church Choir to Stony Lake to-morrow. Return Tickets only 65c, Children 35c. Hot Water, Tea and Milk provided free. Train leaves 8.35 a.m.

More Power to His Elbow.

Saturday night Mr. Chas. S. Shaw, of the Bank of Toronto, left for Montreal to spend his holidays. He has besides another object in view. He will try to win for the third and last time the cup offered for the single canoe competition at the Lake St. George races next week. He has for two successive years won the race, and should he again succeed the cup, a valuable souvenir, will become his personal property. Mr. Shaw will spend the time elapsing before the race in getting into "trim" for the event, and it is the earnest wish of his Peterborough friends that he may bring the trophy back with him.

A Horse Thief and His History.

On Saturday Alex. Ritchie, who has had a police court experience, as well as experience in jail for some months as a wife beater, turned up in a new role at Kinmount. He went to the home of Mr. Mansfield, Reeve of Galway, knowing that that gentleman was absent at Fenelon Falls, and told the hired man that Mr. Mansfield had sent him (Ritchie) for the horse and buggy to go on an errand for the proprietor. He got the animal and buggy and, of course, they have not been heard of since. Mr. Mansfield not having seen the man, let alone having sent him. The police of Peterborough, Lindsay, Port Hope and other places have been communicated with and instructed to be on the lookout for the thief and the missing articles. The horse is a bay mare with a star on the forehead and slightly "knuckled" in the hind legs. The buggy was a wine-colored McLaughlin. Ritchie is a middle-aged man, lame, and carries a stick for assistance. He has a bad record, having served his time in jail, and is apparently so anxious to serve another term that he required a horse and buggy to expedite his movements. Mr. Mansfield will give a suitable reward for the recovery of his property. Ritchie is the man who about six years ago was committed to gaol here in default of securing sureties to keep the peace for a year. He lived in Harvey, and was charged with wife-beating. While in gaol he gained the confidence of young Ferguson, who was implicated in the robbery of Mills Bros.' far store, and wormed a confession of the burglary and the hiding place of the goods from him. Ritchie then gave the police the information, with the result that Ferguson was convicted. After serving his term Ritchie was released from gaol and was soon again heard of. He won the affections of a spinster lady who kept a store on Water street, and it was said was about to be married to her when some one informed the intended bride that he was already a benedict. She threatened prosecution, but finally the matter dropped. Ritchie is evidently keeping up his record according to the reports of his recent exploits.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S SPEECHES.

It is Thought That They Suggest No Immediate Menace.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Emperor William lunched yesterday at the headquarters of the First Infantry Guards and made another speech in response to a toast to his health proposed by Col. Plessen. Although the affair was strictly private it has transpired that the Emperor's remarks were mainly a repetition of his speech at Frankfort. He said that Germany would keep what she had gained, and also expressed his conviction that the army was able to meet all comers. A semi-official account says the Emperor, in giving a toast to the regiment, referred to the training he himself had received in its ranks and to the services which the regiment had rendered the country in cultivating old Prussian traditions as an example to the army.

The language of Emperor William, although no immediate menace, is not to be attributed to his habit of expressing himself bluntly. His speech at Frankfort was premeditated, if not verbally prepared. The Emperor's ire has been excited by the Russian Government permitting or inciting the press to raise the Schleswig-Holstein question with the additional contention that the Czar, as a representative of the house of Holstein-Gottop, claims special rights to support the claims of Denmark.

A semi-official communication to the Cologne Gazette says: "Schleswig-Holstein can only be separated from Germany by war, with Russia and France as the attacking nations. We take note that from Russian diplomatic sources it is clearly announced that in the event of a successful campaign Denmark would share in the booty and take part in the conflict."

The North German Gazette also complains that the statement regarding the claims of Denmark should first appear in the Nord, a paper which is at the disposal of the Russian Government in the direction of the quest in which the officials of the Russian Foreign Office are engaged.

Pacific Rate and Cable.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 19.—Sir Saul Samuels, Agent General of New South Wales, arrived to-day. Sir Saul says that the question of transferring the mail service from American to Canadian lines has not been seriously considered, but he believed that the present contracts via San Francisco would be extended another year.

He said that he was not in a position to express an opinion as to the proposed Pacific cable as the question has not been seriously considered by the Colonial Parliament. He had no doubt but that the scheme would be carried out and would be a boon to the commercial community.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

A BIG BLAZE AT ST. JOHN, N. B.

Fire Breaks Out in a Dry House and $40,000 Goes Up in Smoke.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 21.—The worst disaster in the shape of fire that this city has experienced since the memorable fire of 1877 occurred yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Fire was discovered in the dry house of A. Christie & Co.'s Wood Working Company on Waterloo-street. The shed where the fire started was in the rear of the main building. It was composed of wood and was like a tinder box. Before the fire men could get the apparatus properly at work the fire was roaring like a furnace and had taken complete possession of the main building of the factory. The entire building which covered a large area was burned to the ground. Wm. Farren's three-story wooden dwelling house was destroyed, also the three-story building owned by the Dooley estate, and the four-story wooden building owned by Mrs. Duggan. The Dockrill block, in which is the hall proposed to be turned into an opera house, also caught fire and the block was badly damaged before the fire was subdued.

There was a high wind at the time, but the St. John and Portland firemen, assisted by the citizens, worked shoulder to shoulder and prevented the fire from getting into the adjoining blocks. Several times the flames leaped across Union, Waterloo and Peter-streets, but before they could get a foothold they were subdued.

The losses and insurances are: A. A. Christie & Co., loss $20,000, principally machinery, insured for $1,500 in Commercial Union; Wm. Farren, dwelling, $3000, insurance, $1000, City of London, $1000 Quebec; Scott Bros., grocers, $1500, insurance, $1000 in Citizens; A. & S. L. Gardball, picture frames and fancy goods, $3000, insurance $1000 in City of London; Dabny & Walsh, safe makers, $400, no insurance. There are several others whose loss ranges from $100 up to $200, the aggregate being placed at $40,000.

MURDER MOST FOUL.

Concealed Cowards Fire Upon a Family Fishing Party.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 20.—Major Howes and family, of Boston, with Indian guides, forming a party of ten persons, while fishing in the Tobique River, about thirty-six miles from Andover, yesterday, were fired upon by a party ambushed in the woods, forty yards distant. Their shot pierced Mrs. Howes' head, killing her instantly. A daughter Helen, who was in the second canoe, only escaped a similar fate by lying down. The major, son and his companion returned the fire, and the cowards took to their heels and fled to the woods. It is supposed the shots were fired by two poachers named Day and Trafton, who had been driven away while spearing salmon and who threatened to shoot at the first opportunity. The sheriff is after these men. The major and his party went to Andover with the body of the murdered woman. They are completely prostrated with grief.

Fatal Accident Near Newmarket.

NEWMARKET, Aug. 20.—This forenoon William Drury, 12 years old, a son of Joshua Drury, a farmer near this place, was found dead in his father's field. The boy had been finishing some raking. The horse took fright, threw the boy off the milky and kicked him on the breast, killing him instantly.

LIKE THE MEN OF GHENT.

ARE CERTAIN OF THE REPUBLICAN SENATORS.

So Says Senator Gray—The Tedious Treaty Debate Nearly Closed—A Vote to Be Taken To-day.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The Fisheries Treaty was up in the Senate again yesterday. After Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) had spoken for two hours, in support of the treaty he yielded the floor, in accordance with the agreement of Friday, so that the opponents of the treaty might present their views up to 4 o'clock, the two hours up to 6 being reserved for its friends.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) said he had already stated briefly and with care the opinion which he entertained and which the fishermen of Massachusetts entertained in reference to the effect of the proposed treaty on their interests. Nothing which he had heard from Senators on the other side had changed his convictions or made it necessary for him to add to or modify the arguments which he had made. He took the floor at this time only to call attention to three or four catch words by which the friends of the treaty sought to fasten on its opponents views which they had never entertained and which they had constantly repudiated. One of these was that there was a proposition for retaliation on the Republican side. Another was that somebody had said that the time for negotiations had passed—in any such sense as the senator from Alabama had put upon it. Another was that the grievances of which American fishermen complained could not occur again if the treaty were ratified. What the opponents of the treaty proposed to say to Canada was this: We do not desire to interfere with your discretion as to the degree or measure of hospitality, but that measure must be equal in the ports of both countries and as somebody must initiate the rule in the first place the opportunity and prerogative would be conceded to Canada. If Canada said it was not fiting that American fishermen should go into her ports with a catch of fish to be transhipped to the United States than no Canadian vessel should come into a port of the United States with a catch of fish which it proposed to sell. He did not understand that was retaliation. He supposed there was not a Republican senator who was not willing to have the claims of American fishermen for damages admitted to negotiation or arbitration.

Mr. Payne, (Dem., O.) inquired whether Mr. Hoar favored the motion submitted by Mr. Gibson (Dem., La.) looking to arbitration.

Mr. Hoar replied that he had not examined the motion enough to wish to be diverted from what he was saying. He did not propose, however, to enter on a question of international arbitration until he was satisfied that it would be entered into on the other side in the same spirit in which the United States entered into it. He did not propose to put this country again to the risk of a Halifax award or of a judgment by Mr. Defosse.

Mr. Evarts (Rep., N. Y.) said it could not be important for him to restate or reargue the positions which he had taken when he addressed the Senate in opposition to the treaty. He had reached a stage in his observations when he should take up the articles in detail, not perhaps with much precision but to express a general and peremptory condemnation of them.

Mr. Blair, (Rep., N. H.) asked Mr. Evarts in connection with the first article whether, as it was substantially an agreement that the treaty of 1818 was therein construed, it was not an abandonment of all American claims for damages and an admission that there was no ground for such claim.

Mr. Evarts: "Undoubtedly, if with our eyes open we sign such an article." Mr. Evarts went on to discuss each of the articles briefly.

At 4 o'clock the presiding officer, Mr. Harris, called the attention to the agreement under which the last two hours were to be given to the friends of the treaty, but as Mr. Evarts had not completed his argument it was agreed that he should continue it and that as much time as he should occupy after 4 o'clock would be allowed to the other side to-morrow in addition to the two close 4 hours. Mr. Evarts then resumed his argument against the treaty and closed by saying that if the treaty were rejected, as it would be, its rejection would be an opening to quiet and repose.

Mr. Gray (Dem., Del.) said in reference to Mr. Evarts' two days' speeches against the treaty that he felt like the old Scotch lady who was asked by her minister whether she had understood his sermon in which she seemed so much interested. He (Gray) had not the presumption to suppose that he understood the speech of the senator for New York, but he had understood him to say distinctly and categorically that his objection to the treaty was that the eleventh and twelfth articles proposed to give to English and Canadian fishermen complete, full and absolute rights of fishing along the Atlantic coast from Escport to the most southern point of Florida. He (Gray) proceeded to argue against such interpretation of the article. He feared there were some Senators figuring largely in the debate who were like the men of Ghent in the old song who trod on the tail of the lion of Flanders and when the lion growled at the gates of Ghent

"They bounded low when they saw him awake
And said they had trod on his tail by mistake."

Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) took the floor to close the discussion in favor of ratification and had spoken half an hour when the Senate adjourned. He will be allowed half-an-hour to-day and then the vote will be taken.

A Terrible Fall.

ATLSA CRAIG, Aug. 21.—A young lad named Andrew McEwan, 14 years of age, while up in a butternut tree picking nuts, fell, injuring himself so severely that the doctor cannot tell for twenty-four hours whether he can live or not. He fell 40 or 50 feet, and would have been killed instantly had he not struck another boy in falling.

A Promising Gold Mine.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—The owners of the Syndicate gold mine, which is situated on the west bank of the Riviere du Lievre, about 6½ miles from the Village of Buckingham, have received very promising reports from Montreal about the examination of ore sent down. It shows a production of $95 to the ton.

A Murder in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug 20.—An unknown man was shot and killed this afternoon in a hallway on Park-Row. Bernard Manning of Brooklyn has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime. The affair is shrouded in mystery.

The Fisheries Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Senate yesterday afternoon took up the Fisheries Treaty in open executive session, discussion being on the motion submitted by Mr. Gibson. Mr. Frye asked unanimous consent for an order of the Senate that at 1 o'clock each day the debate on the treaty shall proceed, and shall close on Monday next at 3 o'clock, the friends of the treaty having the last two hours, and that on Tuesday next at 12 o'clock the final votes shall be taken on all amendments, motions and the resolution of ratification. Mr. Morgan then proceeded to address the Senate in favor of ratification of the treaty.

QUEBEC'S CONVERSION ACT

AN EXPLICIT STATEMENT BY PREMIER MERCIER.

He Declares that the Government Will Denounce the Scheme if it Cannot be Carried Through With the Consent of the Bondholders.

MONETEAL, Aug. 20.—In reply to enquiries made by Hanson Bros., financial agents of this city, at the request of their London agents regarding the Conversion measure of the Quebec Government, Hon. Mr. Mercier has sent this reply:

"QUEBEC, Aug. 15, 1888.—Your letter of yesterday received with copies of cables exchanged between you and your London agents, and in answer I am authorized to state that the position which you have taken in your cable of Aug. 15 is correct and you may declare positively that the Government will denounce its conversion scheme if it cannot be carried through. When the measure was introduced in the Legislative Assembly the treasurer and myself made virtually the same declaration and on July 12 when the second reading of the measure was under discussion in the Legislative Council Hon. Mr. Starnes, one of the leaders of the Opposition, submitted in writing the following question to the Government.

"I am opposed to compulsory conversion and before giving a final decision I desire to know whether the Government intends, yes or no, to make such conversion in spite of the bondholders' consent."

"After consultation with me and other members of the Government, our colleague, Hon. Mr. Garneau, leader of the Legislative Council, made in writing in the name of the Government the following official declaration in answer to Mr. Starne's question:

"I am authorized to answer 'no' and to state that the Government will abandon the conversion scheme if it cannot be carried through out with the consent of the bondholders."

After this Ministerial declaration Hon. Messrs. Starnes and Champagne, two opponents of the Government, being satisfied with this engagement, voted for the measure, which was carried. The Government considers itself pledged by that declaration, which as far as it may be necessary I hereby ratify in the name of the Government, and I declare again that my Government will abandon the conversion scheme if it cannot be carried through with the consent of the bondholders. Of course speaking of having the law vetoed or withdrawn is purely ridiculous, as the law is perfectly constitutional and necessary to make a voluntary conversion.

"In conclusion I may add that we are much surprised to see that some first-class business men in London should have been led astray by our political opponents here, and this is all the more angular as other first-class business firms in England, France and Canada have already proposed to us to undertake such conversion.

"Yours truly,
"HONORE MERCIER,
"Prime Minister."

Thereupon Messrs. Hanson sent the following cable to their London agents:

"MONTREAL, Aug. 16, 1888.—Much more than facts justify is being made out of the Quebec Government's conversion scheme. Before passing the Act the Upper House demanded and received from the Government positive written pledges not to force redemption but to leave it to the voluntary consent of the holders."

An Early Fire at London.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Dominion oatmeal mill on Talbot-street, now advertised for sale under a chattel mortage held by the Molsons' Bank, was badly gutted by fire about 3 o'clock this morning. The two upper storeys were completely destroyed, the basement escaping with a slight scorching. There was very little stock on hand. As the mill has been shut down since last Wednesday, all fire being then extinguished, it is a mystery as to how the fire started. The loss cannot at present be estimated, but there is about $15,000 insurance on the building and machinery.

Lyons to Be Hanged To-day.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Gov. Hill through his secretary telegraphed Lawyer Blake of this city this afternoon that after careful consideration he declines to grant any further respite in the Daniel Lyons case. The execution will take place to-marrow morning. Lyons seems ut erly unconscious of his impending fate and acts as naturally as if he were going to be free to go home again in the morning.

PARNELL COMMISSION.

What a Member of Parliament Has to Say About It.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Parnell commission will probably close its investigation on Saturday next week. It is a great thing for the Parnellites that they have George Lewis on their side. He is not an infallible as some people pretend, but he is the sharpest solicitor in London, and when he is working his hardest he is not likely to miss many points. Sir Thomas Soames, The Times solicitor, is a most respectable gentleman of the old school, honest and trusty, but slow, and by no means up to all the moves on the board.

George Lewis will open Soames' eyes a little before the enquiry is over. The Times will need the best of the Attorney-General and Sir Henry James. The former it is not likely to get, and Sir Henry James is not particularly anxious to accept a retainer; but if he does take it he will perform his task better than any other man in England. He is a man much to be feared by anyone who has strong motives for concealing the truth. His scent for hidden secrets is like that of a bloodhound for its prey.

What sort of a case The Times has is known only to its managers and its legal advisers. That it can legally prove every charge it brought against the Parnellites is simply impossible. If it fails in establishing the authenticity of the famous letters it is done for. Its authority will be completely broken down and the Government which has apparently supported it will have received a heavy, perhaps a fatal, blow.

An eminent Conservative said to me only yesterday: "I very much fear that the Parnell commission will wreck the Ministry. Parnell will undoubtedly swear that he never wrote the letter in question. The Times must then depend upon the evidence of experts, which, in all such cases, can be had either way. Unless some one looked on while Mr. Parnell wrote the letters ascribed to him, what is to disprove his denial?"

Considering these and other things it is not surprising that the Ministry anticipate with some anxiety the issue of the enquiry, and are heartily sorry they took Chamberlain's advice in pressing it upon the Parnellites. A MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT.

BEATEN WITH A BLAKE-SNAKE.

A 14-year-old Lad's Story of His Cruel Treatment near St. Catharines.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—A 14-year-old boy named Joseph O'Brien walked into the Charles-street police station last night and asked for a night's lodging. He told the sergeant that his parents died in Liverpool when he was seven years old. He was then placed in the Kirk-dell Orphan Asylum in Liverpool. Soon afterwards the authorities shipped him and fifty others to St. Catharines, Ont. All were put in an asylum there, and afterwards bound out to farmers. He went out to work for a man named Nesson as a cow herder and milker. The lad related a story of fiendish cruelty experienced by him at the hands of Nesson and his wife. He remained with them three years, and frequently his entire body was covered with sores, the results of welts made by a black-snake whip. Eventually two lumbermen interfered and placed him in a hospital. When he left that institution he worked for another farmer. When he had earned $32 he asked for it, but was chased off the farm without a cent. He eventually reached Rochester, where he worked until yesterday. He had $18.50 coming to him, and intends to sail at once for home to see a dying sister, his only relative. In Jefferson Market Police Court to-day the boy repeated his story to Justice Patterson. He will sail for home to-morrow, and in the meantime will be well provided for.

Much Elected Boulanger.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Gen. Boulanger was elected to the Chamber of Deputies yesterday from three departments besides Somme, where he received a majority of 34,723 votes. He was successful in Charente and the Nord, receiving in the former a majority of 15,080, and in the latter a majority of 3,585. At Amiens, the capital of the department of the Somme, there was rioting at the polling places during the whole day. The disturbances continued until midnight, when the military were called out and were compelled to charge the people at the point of the bayonet in order to clear the streets. Similar scenes were witnessed at Lille, the capital of the department of Nord, and fourteen arrests were made.

The Republican papers declare that Gen. Boulanger's success in the elections was caused by the Reactionists, who lacked the courage to advance candidates of their own. The Republique Francaise holds the Intransigeant, M. Rochefort's paper, and the Radicals responsible for the result of the elections. The Conservative journals state that the vote which elected Boulanger was directed against the republic.

Gladstone's Opinion.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Mr. Gladstone, addressing a deputation of Liberals of Berwick, who had presented him with a vase, said the Government had treated Mr. Parnell with gross inequality, when they refused to allow an enquiry into The Times' charges against him by a select committee of the House of Commons. The charges against Mr. Parnell, he said, would, if proved, destroy everything he valued—political power and position—but he was going to be tried on vague generalities. Mr. Gladstone declared he would never believe Mr. Parnell guilty of personal dishonor. The enquiry, he said, might last for years, which would mean pecuniary ruin for Mr. Parnell.

Probable Murder at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.—Thomas C. Miners, a colored porter on the Canadian Pacific Railway, resides at 215 College-street, and John Hamble, who keeps a boarding house at 217. In Hamble's boarding house lives Frank Coupland and he and Mr. Miners had a little row yesterday. To-night Hamble and Miners met and they got into conversation about this matter when Miners called Hamble a liar. Hamble then struck Miners and the latter struck back, whereupon Hamble drew a pistol and shot Miners, the ball entering the left groin. Miners is too weak for the doctors to probe for the bullet. Hamble has been arrested.

THE CROPS AND THE COUNTRY

It is difficult to find for any class of readers more interesting and pleasant reading matter than the elaborate report of the crops of Ontario as sent out by the Ontario Bureau of Industry. These reports put a much more favorable face upon the matter than previous reports and the terribly dry weather of the past summer could have led us to expect. And what's more these reports can, in the main, be pretty confidently depended upon. The correspondents of the Bureau are practical farmers who know what they are writing about, and inspt, as a class, to give unduly colored or roseate reports. The satisfactory yield of the grain crops has been, to a certain extent, offset by the light yield of hay, but this latter may be compensated for by a more vigorous growth of aftermath, stimulated by recent bountiful rains. And the enterprising farmer will also save his hay crop, which has been in many cases encroached on for feed, by planting some soiling crop which wet weather and warm may bring on so as to be of use this fall. In addition to the cheering intelligence from Ontario, the immense wheat crop of Manitoba has become assured. It has reached a stage at which frosts are harmless, this province having escaped the frost that withered the wheat crop of the American states—south of the boundary line. The satisfactory outcome of the crops beyond the gloomy forecast of the early summer, will stimulate to renewed activity commercial and trade circles. Confidence will be restored, credits will be easier and the volume of trade will flow on in a smoother channel. The prospect, or rather, certainty of the farmer having the means to meet his engagements with the merchants, will tend to give the latter a better reception at the banks, and in every way the situation will be vastly improved.

WHILE the United States have for a quarter of a century been protecting capital, coddling monopolists and fostering combines, the claims of labor have been neglected so that, as recently elicited by a Congressional Committee appointed to inquire into immigration matters, the great majority of the skippers and seamen on American vessels are foreigners. A very thorough remedy is proposed in the bill introduced by Senator Reagan, of Texas, which requires that the officers and at least three-fourths of the crew of every merchant, whaling and fishing vessel of the United States must be either native born or naturalized citizens. The application of such legislation would probably crush out the ricketty remains of the American shipping industry, which have escaped the blight of protection.

JAMES G. BLAINE, the right arm of the Protectionist Party of the United States in the present Presidental contest, asserts that "Trusts are largely private affairs, with which neither President Cleveland nor any private citizen has any particular right to interfere." Of course Mr. Blaine is a deep seated protectionist and trusts or combines—palpable conspiracies for robbing the public by combining to keep up prices—are direct results and possibilities of a system of high taxation. It is his cue, therefore, to defend these legalized engines of extortion, but his contention that they are "private affairs" with which the executive has no right to interfere is a very weak one. It is just as logical to say that a plot formed, by a gang of cracksmen, to rob a bank, is a private affair with which the legal authorities have no right to interfere.

It appears that the laity of the Methodist Church are pretty generally dissatisfied with the work and methods of the stationing committees of the annual conferences, and this dissatisfaction seems to be expressed in a manner more forcible than that of mere verbal dissent. An exchange states that the dissatisfaction with the work of two of the Methodist Stationing Committees is evinced in a highly practical way. In Hamilton, a recalcitrant congregation has reduced the pastoral salary by $700, and in the town of Simcoe the objecting church has refused to make any appropriation for ministerial support. In short, in the latter case the boycott has been resorted to, for the church members absent themselves from the services. These are extreme measures, and will doubtless bring the subject into such prominence that the clerical element of the conferences will probably originate some emollient measures to allay the friction, which has become so palpably evident.

FISHERMEN'S LUCK.

Good Catches of Mackerel on the Nova Scotia Coast—Prospects Quite Flattering.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has returned from his trip to the maritime provinces during which he visited portions of the fishery grounds and inspected the fishery protection service. He expressed himself well satisfied both with the vigilance of the protective officers and with the manner in which the Americans fishermen are complying with the modus vivendi. The fishing in the gulf so far this season has not been up to the average, but on the outer Nova Scotia coast the catches have been very good, 200 300, and 500 barrel fares of mackerel being common. The quality of the fish this year has been exceptionally good and at the prices which have been ruling in Boston, $18 to $20 per barrel for number one, the profit of the season will be excellent.

The minister also investigated the sawdust question as tending to the destruction of fish in the river in Cumberland and other counties, and as a result it is understood that what is known as the Sawdust Act passed about sixteen years ago, but which has been practically a dead letter on the statute book, will be more rigidly enforced in future. Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, will lay the corner stone of the new postoffice at Aylmer on Sept. 1, when there will be a grand picnic, after which Sir Hector will inspect the site of the proposed new interprovincial bridge above Deschene Rapids. On Sept 3 he will leave for Cayuga, where he will lay the corner stone of the new postoffice on the following day.

Yesterday afternoon Sir Adolphe Caron authorized the statement that no increase of the militia force was contemplated. When asked if he could state when the Defence Committee would meet, he said: "No; I am awaiting instructions from England. Until we get word from them we can't move. The British and Canadian Governments are to move jointly in the matter."

Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, has been attending very close to work this summer and devoting a good deal of time to the experimental farms. So far he has had no holidays, but expects to attend a number of fall fairs.

Collingwood Schrieber is expected to return on Friday from British Columbia, where he has been engaged on the Onderdonk Contract Commission.

The Public Works Department will receive tenders for elevators for the new Departmental Building here up to Oct. 17.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Living with a Broken Back—Toronto Youths in Trouble in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 20.—Several weeks ago your correspondent mentioned the case of Pat Mulligan, a recent arrival from Ireland, who fell off the elevator at Bayview and dislocated his spine last June. Mulligan shows no signs of dying as yet and is as well as when brought to the hospital. His body is paralysed from the waist down and devoid of feeling but he keeps strong and believes himself that he will recover although the physicians say that is impossible.

Mark Simpson, a respectable-looking young fellow from London, was jailed yesterday afternoon for walking off the Pacific express with a fan belonging to the news agent. Simpson claims that he purchased the fan for 25 cents.

The little child, Lilie Parker, who was crushed on Friday morning by a boiler casing falling on her while she was playing in rear of Gartshore's foundry, was better yesterday, and the doctors think she will recover.

Stephen Clarkson of Ancaster, who was committed for trial some days ago on a charge of stealing a quantity of silverware, was arraigned before Judge Sinclair this afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by the Judge. Trial was set for next Friday.

Mr. W. Towell of Toronto, had one of his shoulders dislocated through falling when competing in the sack race at Dundurn Park on Saturday afternoon.

Two Toronto youths, W. J. Robertson and M. Healy, were arrested by Constable Campaign on Saturday afternoon, at the corner of King and James-streets, for furious driving. They were each fined $4.

Nothing has yet been heard of the missing boy, Alex. Gibson, whose disappearance was reported to the police on Thursday. He is the 16-year-old son of Conductor Gibson, 143 Robert-street. On Thursday he had eight teeth extracted, and it is thought that the operation has affected his brain.

FRANCE KEEPS COOL.

But Apparently Does Not Relish William's Recent Remarks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The Herald's Paris correspondent says: The defiant shouts of the young German Emperor at Frankfort find no answering echo on this side of the Vosges. The more the Kaiser swells his boyish voice and blusters, the more reserved and guarded grow the French. The experiences of the last two years has taught them the wisdom of meeting the calculated menaces of the enemies with coolness. They know their policy at present is to play a waiting game and show no inclination to be drawn into a quarrel. Most of the Paris papers content themselves with publishing the Frankfort speech with little or no comment.

The National says: Our duty is to answer this violent language by coolness, but we may warn this young prince that a soldier's man of our own once said: "Not one ounce of our soil nor one stone of our fortress." As it happened his hope and trust were disappointed.

The Journal remarks: "Here we have a short haughty defiance of a despot reigning 'never!' to those who dare even to speak of historic necessity or equitable compacts."

The Intransigeant, usually so intemperate, only says: 'This clearly means that conciliation is out of the question. Now, more than ever, we must watch and get ready."

The Liberte: "The imperial declarations are those of all conquerors; but who knows what unforeseen things may come if circumstances and chance arise. No suppression of the irritating speech in the Reichsanziger is attributed to Bismarck. The chancellor seems likely to have his work cut out for him in restraining the impetuosity of this school boy sovereign."

TORONTO TOPICS.

Inspector Lackie Reinstated — A Wife-Beater Arrested.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—At last night's meeting of the City Council the Board of Works' reorganization scheme was referred back to the Board of Works Committee.

A message from the mayor was read at a special meeting of the Waterworks Committee yesterday in which it was stated that nearly half the water pumped was wasted.

Inspector Wm. Lackie of the Works Department, who was suspended sometime ago in connection with the Board of Works' investigation was reinstated at last night's meeting of the City Council.

Samuel Yelland who has been wanted for about a fortnight on a charge of assisting to fleece James Sullivan of $34 in Paddy Ratz' boarding house, was arrested yesterday.

Mr. Tayler, jun., of 35 Grosvenor-street, had a bicycle valued at $120 stolen from the back premises of his residence on Sunday afternoon.

P. C. Dixon arrested Robert Cunningham, 77 Niagara-street, yesterday evening on a charge of assaulting his wife.

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6w34

Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills so well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

Easily Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

A Correct Statement

is made by Miss Jane Rutherford, of Nelles Corners, Ont., who writes—"I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters for Dyspepsia and find it to be the best remedy I ever tried." B.B.B. is sold by all dealers at one dollar per bottle. 2w31d

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 500 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

Liverpool quotations were 45s 6d.

The bidding at first was slow, but towards the last became quite lively. The bids were all small and the cheese sold in small quantities. Mr. Wrighton secured Warminster and North Smith at 8¼c.; Mr. Warrington took Keene, Shearer, Central Smith, Warsaw, Westwood, Melrose Abbey, S. Dummer and O. Union at 8½c; Mr. Bird took Cherry Grove, Myrtle and Lily Lake at 8¼c. Mr. Warrington offered 8¼c for the balance of the Peterborough section, and all sold but Lakefield and Pine Grove. An offer of Mr. Warrington for selections of Victoria board was declined, but afterwards four factories, Mariposa, Roboaygeon, Downeyville and Cambray accepted 8¼c, and the remainder are considering and will probably accept 8½c.

This practically leaves only two factories unsold, Lakefield and Pine Grove.

A Youthful Preacher.

The Port Hope Guide has this to say of a young man well known in town:—"Mr. I. Wilson, son of the Rev. J. C. Wilson, Cobourg, late pastor of the Methodist church Ashburnham, preached, morning and evening yesterday in the Methodist church here. For a stripling, he did remarkably well, and if he continues to improve will be able before long to fill the best pulpits in the land.

Baseball.

Port Hope is expecting another game from Peterborough. The local club appears to be in a torpid state just at present, but they may wake up after a while and call on their neighbors.

A baseball match was to have been played on the Riverside Park this afternoon between the Havelocks and Ashburnhams, but the former at the last moment finding themselves unable to come to town, the Ashburnhams volunteered to visit Havelock and play the game there. They play this afternoon.

A Handsome Car.

The Grand Trunk Company have had specially built for the Peterborough-Toronto local train service, via Port Hope, a handsome passenger car that is unexcelled for equipment and finish on the line. It is 58 feet long and will comfortably seat 64 passengers. It is supplied with the Forney patent seat, and has at one end a ladies' toilet room and one for gentlemen at the other. The seats are upholstered in blue rep, while the whole interior of the car is elegantly finished. The Lake Shore route to Toronto is becoming very popular, and the company are doing their best to serve the public by putting a faster and commodious train on.

Lacrosse.

At a meeting of the Riverside Lacrosse Club on Monday evening it was decided to canvass the town for subscriptions sufficient to pay the expenses of a trip to Bradford next week. Unless a sufficient amount can be raised the club will allow the match to go by default. Seventy dollars will be required to cover the bare travelling expenses, and as this amount would be too much for them to pay out individually, they decided to appeal to the public for assistance. It would be too bad to allow the game to go by default, as the Riversides are almost certain to win, and it is hoped lovers of the game will respond to the call.

The Riversides can not play the Norwood lacrosse team till after the Bradford match is decided.

More Successful Candidates.

The Principal of the Collegiate Institute has just received word from the Education Department that the following additional candidates have been allowed their Entrance Examination:—Bella Davidson, Edith Hall, Dollie Hayes, Rosabella McGregor, Trixie Stethem, Charles Bradburn, Robert Erskine, Scott Laing, Fletcher Meharry, John Sheban. The full list comprises, therefore, the pupils whose names are given above along with the following:—Martha E. Beattie, Isabella Fairbairn, Vernon C. McGill, Annie L. Wood, Maud Allin, Minnie A. Hamilton,—sixteen in all. The masters of the Collegiate Institute are very glad that the number of successful candidates has been increased. The action of the Board of Examiners in adhering strictly to their instructions as to the passing of candidates has, however, been supported and commended by the educational authorities.

The best 5c. cigar in town, at C. LeGros' cigar store and barber shop.

A Rendezvous.

Mr. E. Peplow's Island in Stony Lake is the rendezvous of Port Hopers who go in that direction to spend their summer vacation. Mrs. Peplow, Miss and Miss L. Peplow, and Mr. Max Peplow have been out at their cottage all summer and Messrs. E. and C. Peplow have also spent some weeks in their water-bound summer home. Among those who have this summer enjoyed the hospitality of The Anchorage, as the Island is called, Mr. G. B. Salter and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Williamson, R. Walker, A. Badge, H. Chisholm, J. Clemesha and R. Craick, all of Port Hope; Miss Fenwick, of Kingston, Miss Patterson, of Peterborough, Mrs. Petrie, of Toronto, besides parties from Canton and Peterborough. Friends of Mr. Peplow and his family rise up and call them blessed. You may be sure with a crowd of merry-makers on the Island fun of many varieties, was not lacking. Some hint we heard, of an exhibition eater who could on occasion breakfast records. Then camping and summer vacation time is prolific of pleasant opportunities for young man to make the acquaintance of pretty members of the opposite sex, and no doubt some of the numerous Messrs. whom we have said were there, made good use of their time in advancing themselves in the good graces of their fair occupants of neighboring Islands. Some hint of such affaires de cœur we have heard.—Port Hope Times.

What The People Say.

Peterborough can boast of fine stores. H. S. Griffin & Co. have a model place of business, bright and cheerful, and their Stock is well kept. They keep Goods no different to anything we see in other places. We can always depend on getting stylish goods there. Have you seen their Dress Goods? They keep lovely goods, and this coming Fall their stock will be better than ever. We deal there, and intend bringing our friends.

The Jury Says, Suicide.

Continuation of Evidence in the Inquest Respecting Palmer Parkinson Dumb—Verdict of the Jury.

The adjourned inquest into the circumstances leading to the death of Palmer Parkinson, was resumed in the police court room Monday evening. Considerable interest was manifested in the inquiry, a large number of spectators or auditors having been present. The first witness examined was

JOHN IRWIN, sworn, deposed that on Saturday about 8.20 in the morning he was going down in the direction where Parkinson was found to draw in oats for Mr. Payne; his wife was with him and drew his attention to something in the water; he thought it was a sack, the wife, seeing the hair of the head above the water thought it was a dog; he examined more closely and found it was the body of a man, standing with the head and part of the ears above the water; he was about ten feet from the body, which was about that distance from the shore; he thought the man was dead or he would have helped him out; saw no sign of life; he came to town to inform the Chief of Police; didn't go all the distance—sent up word by Willie Howden; went back to the river and staid till the Chief came; one of the Russell boys had driven down previously and before he could see him said it was old Palmer Parkinson; he said this as he was jumping out of the buggy; witness showed Russell the hat and told him not to touch it before the chief came; he lifted up the hat and said he "couldn't put any more greasy spots on it than were on it," and laughed; Russell re-entered his buggy and drove up town and brought back Mr. R. Hamilton with him; Mr. Hamilton got into a boat which had been brought from the other side of the river and brought the body ashore; when the chief came the witness left the spot. Met deceased last spring and he then seemed like a sane man. There was a mark of a "rig" apparently backed into the water within a couple of feet of the deceased; saw no marks of footsteps except that of the bare foot of a child; it was a place where the witness had at times come to draw water; the water was about four feet and a half deep; the body was in a stooped position; saw no marks to show that Parkinson could have walked into the water; the manner of his death was a great mystery to witness; thought the man would have struggled; his back and shoulders were out of the water and his face was bent forward under the water; there were a few weeds; the horse tracks were leading from the water; witness could not see how Russell could identify the deceased from the point from which he claimed to have recognised him.

ROBERT R. HAMILTON sworn, said that on hearing of the drowning he drove down and on arrival at the spot he saw an object in the water that looked like a sack; got into a punt turned over the body of a man who appeared to be dead; as he turned the body over a small amount of blood came from the mouth; he took the body to the shore; looked about, there were several wagon tracks there—the place is used as a ferry; it appeared to witness that life had left the body before it was put into the water; did not think the feet were touching the bottom; don't know the depth of the water.

Mr. T. HURLEY sworn, said that deceased called at his office two months ago wishing to buy a house and lot of about $1,000; showed him some lots; some time after he called again and he showed him a property on Water street at $1,500 or $1,200 for the house and half the lot. Last Monday he called to measure the lot; he had cleaned up the lot, having got the key a fortnight before; he dug a hole for the corner stake. He was to give his final decision on Wednesday and on Thursday he would pay the money — $1,000. Thursday been civic holiday Parkinson said he would call on Friday, but he said owing to the absence of a party in town, he could not get his money, but he said he would be in on Saturday and pay $1,075. He said he wanted the property in two parts so that he could deed one part to his wife. He declined to make a deposit saying that he would pay the money down in all these negotiations. Deceased acted like a perfectly sane man. He remarked on one occasion that he had been eight years in this country and had saved $1,000.

JAMES RUSSELL sworn, said that he knew the late Mr. Parkinson; he was married to mother of witness who lived in the same house; he was in good health last week; he seemed to be sane; heard the buying of the property in the house; deceased said he was going to pay some money; he said he had some money in Mr. Cox's company; deceased was at home on Friday evening; he said he wanted to talk to "Ma" on business and witness went to bed about ten o'clock; about five o'clock his mother asked him if he had seen Parkinson; he got a horse and drove down to the locks; did not know who it was till he saw the hat. The only reason that witness could give for his death was, he had bought property and hadn't the money to pay for it. He need to pay the rent—since his marriage.

Mrs. FRANCIS PARKINSON (wife of deceased) sworn—said she didn't know anything of the cause of Parkinson's death; he had not been well for two or three months; he said he had a little money saved for his old age, but he wouldn't tell how much to anybody. The night before he died he said he had £1,500 sterling left him by his former wife's father; he said he had brought money to this country and had asked Mayor Lundy's advice as to depositing it. Witness thought he had a mania about money—she thought so now; came to this conclusion since his death. Everything deceased ever told witness was trustworthy, except in regard to money. Missed him from the bed at five minutes after five; he had put on his old pants; thought deceased was affected by being unable to meet engagements with Mr. Hurley; he once said, on hearing tales respecting her former life, and witness offering to release him from his marriage engagement, that he would put an end to himself—he couldn't live without her; deceased had no end of talk about property; he wanted witness to sleep in the house he proposed buying; the last thing he said Friday night was that he was going to draw his money the next day. He paid the rent.

Mr. GEO. DAINTY sworn, said he was son-in-law of Mr. Parkinson. Thought he was very much altered of late years; he was 69 years of age; he was a farmer in England; he brought seventeen sovereigns to this country; he was a very excitable man; he said he put the money in Mr. Grabbe's bank. Don't think he had any money left him: know nothing of the cause of his death—he was fond of his beer but not a drunkard; have no reason to think that there was any foul play concerned in his death. [In prefacing a question respecting the cause of death, Mr. Cahill related a conversation between Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson in which the former spoke very highly of the kind treatment he had received from Mrs. Parkinson, saying, that when he was ill her careful nursing did more for him than all the doctors.] Witness said that Parkinson's friends in England were well connected and well-to-do, and witness thought deceased thought he was wealthy.

Mr. THOS. ERHILL sworn, said he saw Parkinson passing his place at a very rapid pace, he was talking to himself; this was about five o'clock; he was walking down George street; he wondered where he was going so early.

Mr. JOSEPH BULLER sworn, said he knew nothing of the cause of his death; when he first came to this country he said he had money and witness directed him to the bank of Toronto to deposit it; he had the impression that he had money.

The jury after a few minutes deliberation returned the verdict, that the deceased, Palmer Parkinson, while laboring under the impulse of insanity, deliberately walked into the water of the Otonabee river and caused his death by drowning.

Labor Day.

At a meeting of the labor unions committee last night, a requisition to Mayor Stevenson to appoint Sept. 3rd, labor day, a public holiday in town, was largely signed and will be to-day presented to his Worship. Mr. Stevenson has promised to comply with the requisition if properly signed.

A Terrible Fall.

James Begg Falls from a Third Story Window—Serious Injuries Received.

This morning about 2.15, as P.C. McGinty was patrolling George street, he heard a heavy fall on the sidewalk in front of Cleary's hotel. He hastened to the spot and found a man lying there unconscious. He immediately aroused the hotel people and the unfortunate man was carried inside and found to be James Begg, freight-checker at the C. P. R. depot, and a border at the house. Doctors King and Halliday were summoned and did what they could for the sufferer, who was this forenoon removed to the hospital, where he is receiving the best of attention.

HE IS SUFFERING GREATLY,

but the physicians express the opinion that he will recover. As far as can yet be learned no bones are broken, though it is feared the spinal column, if not fractured, has received serious injury, a large swelling in the back preventing an accurate diagnosis. This swelling it is presumed was caused by striking against the cornice of the window below in his descent, which broke his fall and no doubt saved him from instant death.

ASLEEP IN THE WINDOW.

Begg is conscious now, but does not know just how the accident happened. He says he was sitting in the window of his room on the top flat reading, and must have fallen asleep and tumbled out. A young lady sleeping in the room below Begg's says she heard the fall and the crash of Begg striking the cornice of her window.

Begg is not known to have any relatives in this country. He has not been out from England very long, and has been employed in town only a few months.

LATER.—The injured man's physicians say that the 11th or 12th vertebrae are fractured and that there are indications of considerable internal injury. The injury to the back bone does not cause any paralysis at present, but then it is feared that the effusion consequent upon the injury may involve the cord and cause more or less complete and more or less permanent paralysis.

—It is said that several Salvation Army lassies are learning to toot brass horns and will soon appear on the streets with the band.

—Day, the cricket club's professional coach, left last night for Kingston, where he joins the Irish Gentlemen, with whom he has engaged as umpire for their Canadian matches.

—One of John Martin's mill men, at the "Summit," resented his employer's scolding by running a pitch fork through the latter's hand. It is thought the hot-headed fellow will be prosecuted.

—Ha, ha! Port Hope is again afflicted with the sea serpent epidemic. Chief Douglass and another man have sighted a large fish "that measured fully six feet and was swimming slowly near the top of the water." Of course it was a veritable "sea serpent," though they are too modest to say so.

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; be so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

SUN
LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.
HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,231.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,500 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,188 29	1,167,386 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	353,284 31	2,992,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,907 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 45	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are out to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

CANADIAN HOME CIRCLES.

Annual Meeting of the Supreme Circle at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 23.—The fifth annual session of the Supreme Circle of the Order of Canadian Home Circles opened in Caledonian Hall, Alexandra Arcade, this afternoon. The Supreme Leader, Rev. John Kay, formerly of this city, presided, and there were about 120 delegates present from all parts of Ontario. Rev. J. Kay, in his annual address said:

The number of circles organised during the year is 25, and the members added to our ranks are 1287. The number of deaths in our ranks during the year has been 22, and we have paid for the benefit of widows and orphans during the year $36,600 and hold $4000 for the completion of claim papers. During the year letters were received from Manitoba and Quebec respecting the establishment of Circles, but we have not yet been able to take any definite action regarding the formation of circles in these provinces.

Mr. A. J. Pattison, of Toronto, Supreme Secretary, in his annual report gives the following interesting facts: From July 1, 1887, to June 30, of the present year, 25 new circles were instituted, in Markham, Niagara Falls, Port Perry, Uxbridge, Nelles' Corners, Binbrook, Niagara, Crowland, Cainsville, New Durham, Teeterville, Burford, Vandecar, Shedden, Lawrence, Toronto, Wingham, Toronto, Stoney Creek, St. Catharines, Dutton, Sheffield, Kingston, Napanee, Orillia. These circles have a charter membership of 460. At the close of the Supreme Circle year, June 30, 1887—the total membership was 4080 belonging to 106 circles. Since the close of the year three new circles have been instituted and the total membership has been increased up to date to 4300. The Order was instituted in Hamilton in 1884 and its growth has been steady and sure. In the few years of its existence the Order has paid $75,000 in benefits to the widows and orphans of deceased members.

Mr. D. R. Foster, of Waterford, Supreme Treasurer, in his annual report shows the receipts for the year ending June 30 to have been $7201, and the payments $7197, leaving a balance of $4. The receipts of the beneficiary fund were $40,650 and the payments $36,000, leaving a balance in the bank of $4650. During the year $2270 was received towards the sick benefit fund, and $2019 was the amount paid out, leaving a balance of $251.

Dr. Albert D. Watson, Supreme Medical Examiner, in his report states that 1523 examinations were supervised in his office during the year ending June 30, 1888, 1434 of which were recommended for acceptance and 99 rejected. Twenty-two deaths or about 6 per 1000 members occurred during the year.

Thomas Pardine, representative of Hamilton Circle, extended an invitation to the Supreme Circle to a complimentary moonlight excursion on the steamer Macassa, which was appropriately acknowledged and accepted.

The Supreme Trustees presented their annual report recommending that the Bonds of the Supreme Secretary and Supreme Treasurer be fixed at $7000 for the ensuing year. The report was adopted.

The Supreme Circle then went into committee of the whole upon the amendments to the constitution, after which a resolution was adopted fixing the per diem of members at $3 per day, and the Supreme Circle took a recess at 6 p.m. until 9 to-morrow morning.

BY A STRICT PARTY VOTE

RATIFICATION OF THE FISHERIES TREATY DEFEATED.

Regarding a Two-Thirds Vote of the United States Senate for Confirmation the Resolution is Defeated, 30 to 27.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The Senate this morning immediately went into open executive session on the Fisheries Treaty and Mr. Morgan proceeded with his speech in favor of its ratification. He said: "The gentlemen can fumilate their idle bolts against the President and against the policy involved in this treaty. They can accept darkness in place of light, insecurity in place of the firm rock on which this treaty would place the rights of the American people, but the people are revolting against the idea that the Senate of the United States, which cannot declare war on its own motion and by its own resolve, should put this country into a category where war is one of the dismal prospects of the near future in the contemplation of many men who are as firm in their integrity, as bold in their defence of right, as the Senators on that side, and who are perhaps just as fearless in the waging of battle as any who have declared against this treaty. It does not shame us to look the truth in the face and to be willing to admit what we know to be true, that the Senate of the United States to day places the people of the United States in rough and immediate contact with the most dangerous question that can possibly be stated, and that it does so under the influence and shadow of the report brought in here by the Committee on Foreign relations, which is intended and well calculated to prevent the British Government from doing anything more in the way of negotiations with us, except merely to find out what we mean by these declarations."

The Senate then proceeded to vote on the Fisheries Treaty, the first vote being taken on Mr. Gibson's motion, looking either to an amendment of the treaty or arbitration. It was rejected by a strict party vote: Yeas—28, nays—31.

The next vote taken was on an amendment offered to Mr. Gray to Article XI, providing that on all occasions facilities shall be accorded to the United States fishing vessels in Canadian ports for the purchase of casual or needed provisions and supplies. It was rejected by a party vote: Yeas—28, nays—30.

The next vote was on the resolution of ratification—requiring a two-third majority. The resolution was rejected by a like party vote: Yeas—27, nays—30.

Hon. Mr. Tupper Interviewed.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Being interviewed, Hon. Mr. Tupper, Minister of Fisheries, said that the action of the Government, now that the Fishery Treaty was defeated would be a matter for serious consideration. He could not say what their ultimate action might be, but he had no doubt that for some time to come fishery matters on the Atlantic seaboard would be regulated by the provisions of the modus vivendi. Such would be the case at least until a Council meeting of the entire cabinet could be held.

"Would you not have to carry out its provisions for this season, in respect to those American fishermen who have taken out licenses and paid for them?" your correspondent asked.

"Well," replied the Minister, "the license contains a clause that it may be cancelled whenever the Dominion Government see fit."

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Colored Clergyman Refused Accommodation at a Leading Hotel.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—Early yesterday afternoon Rev. C. O. Johnson, the colored proprietor of The British Lion newspaper, Hamilton, registered at the Queen's hotel and asked for a room. The clerk told him that the last room had been taken. Then Mr. Johnson asked for dinner, and was told that dinner was not quite ready. Mr. Johnson said he would order dinner for two, himself and Mr. William E. Bracken, of 150 Centre-street. This brought matters to a climax. A conversation took place between Mr. Richmond and one of the other clerks, and Mr. Johnson was told dinner could not be had. Mr. Johnson has instructed Messrs. Blake, Kerr, Lash & Cassels, to sue the proprietors of the Queen's hotel for refusing hotel accommodation.

Owing to the strong breeze blowing from the north, the water carnival arranged by the Island Campers' Association for last night was postponed till Thursday.

The sixth annual athletic tournament of the Police Amateur Athletic Association will take place to-day at the Toronto Baseball Grounds.

At a meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans last nights Brother Thomas Taylor was presented with an address and an 8-day clock.

The old man John Peers, who was so seriously injured in the runaway accident on Church-street Saturday last, died in the hospital yesterday morning. No inquest was held.

A movement is on foot to reorganize the defunct Caithness Society, affiliate it with the old country societies in Glasgow and London, and make Toronto the centre for the Dominion.

Mr. Walter S. Lee's residence, at 304 Jarvis-street, was burglarised during the family's two weeks' absence at Kew and a silver watch and some old coins stolen.

West Toronto Junction will vote on a by-law granting $75,000 for a suitable water supply about Sept. 20.

SCHOOLS AND SCHOLARS.

Meeting at Toronto of Inspectors for the Province of Ontario.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—The Public School Inspectors of Ontario met in the theatre of the Normal School yesterday morning, and opened a convention that will not, probably, be closed before Thursday evening. There were over 60 gentlemen present, including Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education; J. E. Hodgins, M. A., and John Seath, B. A., Toronto, High School Inspectors; John S. Tilley, County Model School Inspector, and James S. White, Toronto, Separate School Inspector.

Hon. G. W. Ross occupied the chair, and when the meeting had been called to order, delivered an opening address of considerable length, at the close of which he stated that he would lead in the discussion upon the several subjects indicated in the program, and the results of these discussions would be dictated to his secretary. The opinions thus recorded would be printed and distributed among the educationists of the province.

The following is a list of the subjects selected: (1) Time required for a proper inspection of a school; (2) Distribution of Inspector's time between teaching and examining; (3) Should Inspectors take a list of the pupils in each class; (4) How to judge and record the discipline of a school; (5) How to judge accurately of the standing or skill of the teacher; (6) How to deal with negligent teachers; (7) Treatment of young teachers; (8) Reports to trustees.

Interesting discussions were had upon these subjects and the convention then adjourned to meet again this morning.

Mr. Laurier to Practice Law in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—A rumor is current in political and legal circles to the effect than Hon. Wilfrid Laurier will commence practice in Montreal in September. A political friend of the Liberal leader when asked to-day if there was anything in the rumor replied that he believed it to be true.

The Story About Princess Christian Becoming a Roman Catholic Ridiculously Untrue—Celebration at Hamburg.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The story in circulation about Princess Christian becoming a Roman Catholic is so ridiculously untrue that it seems hardly worth noticing. Yet such rumors when they go abroad are largely credited, and ultimately accepted as facts. The princess is one of the strongest of Protestants, a devoted adherent of the national church, and one of its most earnest and tried friends. None of our royal family is more interested in all work appertaining to the church. She is practical and zealous in her assistance in the east end of London and is always known as "Our Princess." Her frequent public visits there on occasions of ceremonial when she goes to open bazaars and inaugurate any work in which she takes an interest, made her appearance familiar to the poorer classes in Whitechapel and Bethel Green. But where she is best known and beloved is at the London hospital, where she goes regularly when in England to visit the wards and read to the patients. Her kind smile and gentle voice have soothed many a sufferer independently of the more practical help with which she follows up the fortunes of those who on leaving the hospital need assistance.

Homburg is dull this year. Although full to overflowing, there is not a bed to be had in the hotels and scarcely any lodging vacant, although many a lodging house still bears in front the deceptive announcement, "floor to let," which is no indication of the state of affairs within. The Prince of Wales arrived on Wednesday and was at once dined by Mackenzie of Kirktail at the Park Hotel. His royal highness is living on a flat in the outer promenade, attended by the Hon. H. Tyrwhitt Wilson. None of his usual entourage, either English or American, has yet arrived. There is a growing fear that his doings will in no way add to the scanty materials for amusement already existing in the place. Among the well known people now taking the cure are Princess Christina, Princess Amelie of Schleswig-Holstein, Princess Carl of Hohenzollern, Lord and Lady Spencer, Prince Malcolm Kahn, Capt. Shaw, Chauncey Depew, and Miss Ethel Mortlock, the popular portrait painter. The American colony is very numerous, including 67 fair-haired beauties, of whom Miss Virginia Goudert of New York is admitted to be the most fascinating.

Lord and Lady Lansdowne have been paying a visit to Derris, their place in Kerry. I am pleased to hear that Lord Lansdowne's tenants have given him a most cordial reception. Mr. O'Brien's mission to Canada to damage Lord Lansdowne was hardly a greater failure than the working of the pink of campaign on the Gladstone estates in Kerry. The well-to-do tenants, who were perfectly able to pay rents, but who regarded themselves to be evicted because of their terror of the National League, would rejoice if they could get back to their excellent farms on this liberally managed property.

Next to Balfour, the member of the government who has raised himself most in the popular solicitor-general for Scotland Robertson. He has delivered several admirable speeches, and is rapidly becoming one of the most ready and effective debaters in the House of Commons.

CANADIAN STORE CATTLE.

Good Prices Paid at Aberdeen—Thoroughbred Stock for New Brunswick.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The New Brunswick Government have shipped twenty-two valuable pedigreed stock to the province through Hon. Mr. McLelan, including prize Clydedales, French, Percherons, Shropshire sheep and Berkshire pigs.

Mr. John Millar of Markham, has also shipped an excellent selection of Shropshire Down sheep.

The sale of the first Canadian store cattle of the season at Aberdeen realised good prices. The animals numbered 206, in excellent condition. The total proceeds were £6,101, giving an average of £15 16 shillings per head. The previous cargoes realised £14. Four cargoes are following. The company are well satisfied and the Scotch farmers generally the stock.

DAN. LYONS HANGED.

The Murderer of Athlete Quinn Expiates His Crime on the Gallows.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Dan Lyons, the murderer of Quinn, the athlete, expiated his crime this morning upon the scaffold in the Tombs. Lyons passed his last night upon earth in a peaceful, calm, collected way. His indifference was not bravado, neither was it religious enthusiasm. It was due to the fact that he either did not or could not realize his position. The drop fell at 7.13, and at 7.19 Lyons was pronounced dead.

The crime for which Lyons was executed was the murder of Joseph F. Quinn, on July 5, 1887. Quinn was 25 years old, a clerk in the Coffee Exchange, a prominent member of the Pastime Athletic Club and an all-round athlete.

Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 21.—Capt. Zealand, of C company, Thirteenth battalion, arrived home last evening from Wimbledon, where he did some good shooting and won several prizes. C company turned out in full force to welcome him.

Four young men, upset a yacht off Bay View wharf last night, and one of them narrowly escaped being drowned, through falling under the sail. Liquor

Mr. A. H. Winefield, one of Hamilton's poets, has received a very flattering invitation to attend the ceremony of the unveiling of the Burns statue, which is to take place at Albany, N. Y., on Aug. 30.

William Harris, a respectable-looking young fellow, who has hitherto borne a good reputation, was a prisoner at the police court this morning charged with stealing a watch from William Scott. Harris pleaded guilty. As this was his first offence, and a number of people had spoken of his previous good character, the magistrate allowed him to go on deferred sentence.

AMONG THE SMUGGLERS.

AN ENORMOUS AMOUNT OF ILLICIT IMPORTATION.

Captains of Coasting Vessels and Quebec Tobacco Manufacturers Evading the Payment of Duty.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Mr. W. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, left to-day for a trip to British Columbia and Lower California.

Mr. Cimon, M. P. for Charlevoix, had an interview with the Commissioner of Customs in regard to the seizure of a vessel at Quebec for smuggling. The case is held for consideration.

Mr. A. M. Burgess is detained in the west on urgent business. It is also understood he has been advised by his physicians to rest from official duty.

Mr. Small of the department of Agriculture is the recipient of a portrait group arranged on the Jumbo raft while it was at Cottage City, Mass.

A Cabinet council was held this afternoon.

Lord Stanley has left Quebec on a trip to the Lake St. John regions.

Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine, has been invited to take part in a political picnic to be held at Beaverton early in September.

It is understood there is no intention on the part of the Government to abandon the appeal of the Ayer customs case.

The Department of Justice has issued the warrant of extradition in the case of Max Hoppe, arrested at Lethbridge, N. W. T., on the charge of murdering W. Adams in Montana territory in May last.

Mr. Sedwick, Deputy Minister of Justice, is expected here Thursday.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau has returned.

Mr. Patterson, M. P. for North Essex, is here.

It is stated that Lieut.-Col. Ouimet, Speaker of the House of Commons, has handed in his resignation as commander of the 65th Battalion.

The registrar of the Exchequer Court is preparing notices of further expropriations for the Cape Breton Railway in Cumberland County.

Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, is expected back on Monday.

Revenue Inspector J. A. Gravelle, after an absence of two months, returned here to-day. He was on a successful tour through Eastern Quebec, searching for illicit whisky stills and contraband tobacco. He reports that an enormous amount of smuggling is going on. He thinks it can never be completely suppressed unless the Government locates an agent at the French Islands this side of Newfoundland. The smuggling is principally carried on by captains of coasting vessels, with the collusion of Quebec tobacco manufacturers. The latter escape payment of Inland Revenue duty by declaring the tobacco for export. A portion of the tobacco may reach the Islands, but the bulk is sold at bar profits at points in the gulf as far east as Gaspe. An official at the French Islands by examining the invoices could soon detect the smugglers. The Inspector visited all ports as far as the Saguenay and came back via Riviere du Loup.

There is considerable smuggling of liquors carried on. Seizures included whisky stills as well as illicit smuggled tobacco. Mr. Jas. Tremblay of Old Lorette had three whiskey stills in full blast when the inspector called. One still was destroyed while the other two were removed. The owners have deposited $100 with the Department of Inland Revenue pending an investigation.

Mr. F. N. Gisborne, Superintendent of Government Telegraph, leaves in a few days for British Columbia.

Governor Royal has gone to Vandreuil, Que.

Sir Fred. Middleton leaves next week on a tour of inspection in Ontario.

A FEMALE HIGHWAY ROBBER.

Sent to Jail for Six Months—The St. Henri Sewer Bylaw Carried.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—A female highway robber in the person of Delima Dumas was sent to jail for six months by the Police Magistrate to-day. She met an old gentleman named Verroneau on the street last night, asked him to change a dollar bill, and when he took out his purse, snatched it out of his hand and also tore out of his vest pocket his watch and then ran away.

Humble, who shot the colored man Miners last night, was to-day remanded for a week. Miners is hanging between life and death.

The bylaw authorizing the town of St. Henri to borrow $100,000 for the construction of sewers, was carried to-day by an overwhelming majority of proprietors, both in number and value of property.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

Three Men in Custody Charged With the Killing of Mrs. Howes.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 21.—Wm. Day, Frank Trafton and Henry Phillipine have been arrested and taken to Andover Jail, charged with the murderer of Mrs. Howes, of Boston. The circumstantial evidence is very strong against them. The arrests were made Sunday night. The body has been taken to Boston for interment, but the inhas not yet been concluded.

MANITOBA AND THE RAILROADS.

Northern Pacific Officials at Winnipeg—The Hudson Bay Rumor Confirmed.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21.—Messrs. McNaught and Kendrick of the Northern Pacific arrived to-night but refused to be entertained. Their presence here is sufficient evidence that the contract is not off and it appears that the Free Press was in error in making the assertion, although it received its information from a prominent member of the Government.

A number of Liberals and Independent Conservatives intend waiting on Premier Greenway to morrow to assure him that he has the confidence of the public. Notwithstanding this it is an open secret that several prominent members of the Legislature are opposed to the contract in its present form.

The report that the Hudson Bay Railway scheme has been floated in the old country is confirmed by advices to the Local Government.

McBean, charged with indecent assault, was dismissed, having proved an alibi.

Behan, charged with the murder of Gingras, was committed for manslaughter.

The election of Thompson of Emerson has been protested.

The weather is very sultry.

Reports from all over show very little damage done by the cold nip last week.

The Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1888.

SIR JOHN argues thus in favour of Commercial Union with the United States. He said in 1878:—"I find that the farmers of West Canada and East Canada could not understand that there was anything in their barley, for instance, being obliged to pay a duty of 15 per cent. upon going into the United States, whereas the produce of the American farmers was allowed to be brought into this country free. It is said the consumer pays the duty, and that the farmer does not suffer anything. That is the statement, but, when I put a sample case, which I have done frequently, I can get no answer. I put a case in the Eastern Townships of a man upon the imaginary line which was between this country and the United States. Suppose a man has 100 acres on the Canadian side of the line and 100 acres on the American side of the line. Suppose he grows 1,000 bushels of barley on each of his farms. He takes his 1,000 American bushels to the American market and gets one dollar a bushel for it. He takes his 1,000 bushels of Canadian barley to the American market and gets but 85c. per bushel, because he has to pay 15 per cent. for taking it across that imaginary line. How can it, in this case, be said that the consumer pays the duty. It comes out of the pocket of the Canadian farmers."

A FARMER writing in the Napanee Express, makes the following comparison:—

"I have been much impressed with the illustrations given in the Express of the ruinous loss sustained by the farmer who wants to exchange a hundred dollars' worth of cattle for a hundred dollars' worth of oats with an American farmer. To do so, under the existing state of things, without Commercial Union, requires the sacrifice of no less than sixty dollars in the way of duty, besides the cost of transportation of the cattle and the grain. To make such an exchange under Commercial Union would insure an actual hundred dollars' worth of grain for an actual hundred dollars' worth of stock, less the cost of transportation. I have drawn out the following in order to show the fact more clearly:—

"A hundred dollars' worth, duty free, [redacted] $100.

"The same, deducting 20 per cent., [redacted] $80.

"The value in grain, deducting 10c. per bushel on the oats, [redacted] $48.

"Twenty dollars deducted from the value of the cattle leaves but $80 with which to purchase grain, and 10 cents per bushel N. P. duty on the grain leaves but $48 worth when he gets back to Canada!"

MR. Gladstone's prediction that the day will come when the sick man Turkey will have to leave Europe and betake himself, bag and baggage to Asia, seems to be approaching fulfilment. Turkey is in a bad way. She is practically bankrupt, and can't find money to pay the officers of her army, who are chiefly foreigners, and who have no taste for fighting for the rather unsubstantial pay of glory. The collapse of Turkey in Europe is of itself a matter of no very great moment, but the struggle for the remains between the great powers of Europe has a most momentous importance. England as the chief creditor, will stand the best chance as she has the habit of making her claims preferential ones in a most successful manner. Russia will doubtless claim a voice in the settlement of the estate. Others, however, will not hold aloof—the balance of power must not be imperilled, and there will be a whole handful of fingers in the pie. The day of destruction may be soon or distant, but it is surely and inevitably approaching.

THE Empire offers a bust of Sir John Macdonald as an inducement to subscribers for the weekly Empire. The honourable gentleman's "busts" being no rarity in Canada, detracts no little from the value of the consideration.

(From a Correspondent.)

On Saturday night last some cowards and evil-disposed persons went to the shed and took a buggy belonging to Mr. Allan McCarty, ran it up to Duncan's mill and then carried it to the flume and upset it in the water, which is about twelve feet deep. But for one of the shafts sticking up over a floating log, it would not have been found. Some of the neighbors kindly turned out on Sunday morning, and with the aid of a punt and pike poles succeeded in getting it out, but badly wrecked. As Mr. McCarty is a man that minds his own business and has never been known to injure anyone, and always is willing to lend a helping hand to those in need, and often has been known to disoblige himself and lend a horse and rig to those asking the favor, it is to be hoped that those cowardly sneaks will be found out and made to pay the penalty of the law. Suspicion rests on certain parties. If these parties have any grudge against Mr. McCarty, why not come out face to face and settle the grudge in some way or other and not sneak around after midnight and damage property? We honestly hope the parties will be found out and brought to justice.

The Convention of Christian Workers.

A convention of Christian workers, under the auspices of the Young People's Christian Association, of the village of Beaverton, will be held in the cedar grove on the shore of Lake Simcoe, commencing on Monday, August 27th, 1888, and closing Friday, August 31st, 1888. All persons interested in work of this character are cordially invited to attend this convention. An excellent programme has been prepared. Tuesday is devoted to the consideration of Sunday school work; Wednesday will be "Temperance day"; Thursday, "Missionary day," and Friday will be devoted to Bible study. On all these subjects set addresses will be delivered and many points of value to Christian workers will be brought out. It is to be hoped that the enterprise of the Young People's Christian Association of Beaverton will be cordially recognized by the co-operation of outside workers. Cedar Grove, the place of meeting, is on high and dry land overlooking Lake Simcoe, which affords great attractions in fishing, boating and bathing, as well as in the exquisite beauty of its scenery. The Grand Trunk Railway will issue tickets to Beaverton and return, good for the week, at 1 and ¼ single first-class fare, and on Wednesday, good to return the following day, at single fare. Those not having tents to bring with them, can be supplied as follows:—Covering surface 8x8 feet for $1.25 per week; covering surface 12x8 feet for $2.25 per week; covering surface 18x12 feet for $4 per week. Dinner will be served in the Grove by the Y.P.C.A. on Wednesday. For railroad certificates, tents, tent furnishings, etc., apply at once to H. Snelgrove, Secretary.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6w34

Certain Cure.

A cure for Cholera Morbus. A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist or medicine dealer. 2w31d

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills so well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

Easily Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

A Cheerful Statement

is made by Miss Jane Rutherford, of Nelles Corners, Ont., who writes—"I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters for Dyspepsia and find it to be the best remedy I ever tried." B.B.B. is sold by all dealers at one dollar per bottle. 2w31d

The Growth of the Hair

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic, the scalp will be kept in a clean healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

On An Average.

It is said that during the lifetime of the average man he will endure about 300 days sickness. The best way to reduce your average is to use Burdock Blood Bitters whenever the system requires a tonic regulating and cleansing medicine. 2w31d

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

Mr. Hill Abroad.

The Bowmanville Statesman says:—Mr. E. C. Hill, a clerical looking and genial old gentleman, was in Bowmanville last week circulating posters for the Central Exhibition at Peterborough. The three sheet poster bears the imprint of the EXAMINER, and is a specimen of color printing of great merit. Seven hundred copies were printed, which shows what value the directors of the society place on printers' ink.

Chiselled His Leg.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. James Hannah, cabinet-maker, accidentally ran a chisel in his leg just at the knee cap. The wound itself is not serious, but being in a critical place much care must be exercised to prevent dangerous consequences. Dr. Brennan has the case in hand.

A New Religious Paper.

The EXAMINER has received the first number of the Methodist Life Boat, a monthly publication issued in the interests of the Methodist church, Peterborough. The engraved heading is a beautiful bit of work, both in appropriateness and eloquence of design, and in excellence of excution. The reading columns are full of live matter of local interest to the members of the Methodist church. Rev. M. L. Pearson, pastor of the Methodist church, is editor in chief, Mr. A. E. Scott handles the Sunday school department, Mr. Geo. S. Bean has been installed editor of the young people's work, Mrs. Jas. Kendry, secretary, takes charge of the ladies work and Mr. F. Mason will attend to the Life Boat crew department. The Life Boat is issued about the 15th of each month and its annual subscription is about 35c. Mr. F. Mason is business manager.

A Trip up the Lakes.

The Baptist Church choir excursion to Stony Lake on Tuesday was a pleasant success. About two hundred people accompanied the promoters of the trip, all getting aboard the Mary Ellen at Lakefield. The voyage through the waters intervening before Ivanhoe Island was reached, were traversed speedily and comfortably, the officers of the boat placing everything at the disposal of the excursionists and doing their best to give the large crowd an enjoyable trip. Mr. and Mrs. Grundy had prepared for the arrival of the excursion, and they also did all in their power to add to the pleasure of the occasion by furnishing tables, hot water, boats, etc., for the accommodation of their guests. About half the number remained on the Island, the remainder staying on the boat and making the tour of the lake. Burleigh, Julien's and other places were visited, and as the day was fine the excursionists greatly enjoyed the scenery and fresh air. The voyage home was accomplished in due season, and the excursionists were loud in their praises of the enjoyments of the trip and the painstaking efforts of all concerned in the management for their welfare. Rev. P. C. Parker, the popular pastor of the Baptist church, accompanied the choir and was conspicuous in his endeavors to contribute to the entertainment and enjoyment of the excursionists.

News Nuggets.

—There was a small market to-day.

—The fire brigade band orchestra is in Tweed to-day playing at a picnic.

—The band did not play in the park Tuesday night, the weather being too threatening.

—An excursion party of about 200 people, under the auspices of the church of England of Millbrook, went north on the G.T.R. to Stony Lake this morning.

What The People Say.

They keep Goods no different to anything we see in other places. We can always depend on getting stylish goods there. Have you seen their Dress Goods? They keep lovely goods, and this coming Fall their stock will be better than ever. We deal there, and intend bringing our friends.

Local Sports and Pastimes.

Willow and Wicket.

For the first time this year a genuine Baffer-Duffer game was played on the cricket grounds. Nearly all the members of this famous fraternity showed up on this occasion, and one of those highly amusing and interesting games, which were so frequent last year, was indulged in. Messrs. Macdonald, Hartley, Green, Mollmoyle, Hammond Strickland, Quirk, Bain and other familiar faces were among the players, and though the no small heads of the "Duffers" and "Lambs," Dr. Bernham and Mr. W. H. Wrighton, were unable to be present, the game was an enjoyable one throughout. Mr. Yokome, who made his first appearance on this occasion, carried off the batting honors of the day, and although he had not handled the willow for over ten years, played a careful game of good cricket that surprised everyone. Messrs. Green and Hartley nearly caught up to him, they having 31 and 29 respectively. For the Duffers, Mr. H. T. Strickland made a bowling record, he claiming nearly all the wickets for his side. Sterling also covered himself with glory for the opposing team in the way of bowling. Towards the close of the game Mr. Wrighton appeared on the ground and helped win the victory for them, though they had the Duffers well in hand from the start.

It is only fair to state that the Duffers were handicapped by having, for the greater part of the innings of the Lambs, only seven, and, towards the end, eight fielders. Scores of good catches went to seed in the out-field, for want of fielders to look after them. On the other hand, the Lambs had a full field and one or two over, against the Duffers. If there had been an equality of fielders there would not have been the difference in the score. The fielding on both sides could have been improved, and it would not be difficult to select from the two sides a new team to be appropriately styled the Muffers.

Following is the score:—

BOWLING SUMMARY.

For the "Duffers" Strickland had 7 wickets for 63 runs, and Hamilton 2 for 24. For the "Lambs" Stirling had 7 wickets for 25 runs, and Pearson 1 for 16 runs.

FRIDAY'S GAME.

Friday afternoon the Colts will play a team picked from the remainder of the club, outside the first eleven. Play will be begun about three o'clock.

In the team to represent Canada against the Irish gentlemen in the match at Toronto on the 30th and 31st, appears the name of Mr. W. A. Stratton, Peterborough.

Baseball.

Campbellford baseball club has challenged the Peterborough nine to a match at that village on Sept. 5th for a silver cup. The local club will consider the challenge.

Referring to the labor demonstration to be held at Hastings Sept. 3rd, the Star suggests that the village's civic holiday be set for the same day, and that the Hastings baseballers arrange a match with Peterborough or Belleville on that occasion.

The game at Havelock Tuesday afternoon resulted in a victory for the Ashburnham nine by a score of 20 to 18. It looked as if the visitors were to have a complete walk-over, as for the first five innings the Havelock's never scored a run. They couldn't touch Tighe's curves, who, during the game, struck out 17 men. After the fifth innings Tighe's arm gave out and he could only pitch a straight slow ball that the Havelock's pounded all over the field. They scored their 18 runs the last four innings. The Havelock pitcher threw an easy ball to take, and the Ashburnham's scored steadily, but the pretty sharp fielding of the home team, who were used to the rough, stumpy ground, saved a great many runs. The visitors were accustomed to much better grounds and, therefore, were at a disadvantage in the field. The batteries were:—Ashburnham, Tighe and O'Brien; Havelock, Weatherly and Chambers. The return match will be played on the Riverside Park in a short time. The Ashburnhams were well entertained by the Havelock men, and after the match attended a ball held in their honor.

The Wheel.

Monday evening a few members of the bicycle club accepted the invitation of Mr. R. B. Rogers to spend the evening at his summer house in Chemong Park. The night was made brilliant by the rays of a glorious moon, and the run to Bridgenorth and back was accomplished in good time. Mr. Rogers entertained his guests right royally, and the visiting wheelmen returned home with pleasant remembrances of their host's hospitality.

Lacrosse To-Morrow.

To-morrow afternoon the Shamrocks and Ætnas will play a game of lacrosse on the Riverside Park.

Campbellford Roman Catholic Picnic.

The annual picnic in aid of the Roman Catholic church at Campbellford, will be held under the auspices of Rev. Father Casey on Wednesday, Sept. 5th, on the Agricultural Grounds, Campbellford. In addition to the usual sports and games, for which handsome prizes will be given, a silver cup of the value of $15 will be offered for competition at baseball—open to the following clubs: Campbellford, Cobourg, Peterborough, Hastings and the Ashley Nine of Belleville and a prize of half a dozen association balls will be competed for by local clubs during the day. Horse races will take place for good purses. A platform will be erected and first-class music provided for dancing. Dinner will be served from 11 o'clock. The Grand Trunk Railway will issue return tickets at one fare. Admission 25 cents; dinner 25 cents; supper 15 cents; children under ten 15 cents.

Young's Point.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

PERSONAL.—Mr. Jas. T. Young, of Chicago, Ill., is visiting his father, Mr. John Young, of this place.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., passed through the village on his way to Stony Lake on Saturday evening.

A LARGE FISH.—On Friday morning Mr. Blewett, while trawling below the village, captured a twenty-three pound maskinonge. This is pretty good fishing for a gentleman of eighty-three summers.

NO GAME.—The Bridgenorth baseball club has written that they cannot play the return game with the Young's Point club as their team has disbanded on account of the absence of several of the players.

RE-OPENED.—The Young's Point school re opened on Monday with a fair attendance. Mr. Thomas N. Lee, teacher.

UP THE LAKE.—On Monday a large party from the Point, including Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Young and family, of Chicago, went up to Stony Lake on the Mary Ellen.

Lost His Arm.

A Brakesman Falls Between the Wheels and Has His Arm Crushed.

Tuesday afternoon about two o'clock at Hastings, a Grand Trunk brakesman named Albert Bradshaw met with an accident that nearly cost him his life. Bradshaw was braking on Conductor Way's tie train, which was side-tracked at Hastings, when Conductor Woods' special freight pulled into the station and backed slowly down a siding to make way for the regular express. Bradshaw very unwisely attempted to cross between two cars of the moving freight train, and he slipped and fell across the rails. He made a desperate attempt to fling himself off the rails, and got his body out, but his right arm was caught beneath the wheels and badly crushed. His cries were heard and the train immediately stopped. A doctor was summoned and it was found on examination that the arm would have to be amputated close to the shoulder, the wheels having passed over it above the elbow. The operation was performed successfully, and now the unfortunate man is doing as well as can be expected.

Bradshaw is a young married man who has his home in Belleville. He was a regular brakesman on this division and was well liked. He was one of the Nile voyageurs who went from Peterborough on the Egyptian expedition, and a few months ago received one of the Khedive's Stars as a souvenir. He formerly lived in Peterborough, and about a year ago married and settled in Belleville.

A policy in the Manufacturers' Accident Insurance Company would provide in such an emergency. Wilson & Morrison, agents.

Personal.

Miss Davers, of Napanee, is in town, the guest of Mrs. T. Hurley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ferguson are spending a couple of weeks on Syndicate Island, Stony Lake.

Miss Minnie Hurley has returned home from Napanee and Kingston, where she has been enjoying her vacation.

The Old Orchard Beach, Maine, Rambler announces the arrival at the Hotel Fiske of "W. L. Barn, Petersboro, Ont." No one would recognize the genial Harry LeBrun under this alias.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown, of Peterborough, was present at the meeting of inspectors convened by the Minister of Education in Toronto on Tuesday. Mr. Brown opened the discussion of the subject of "the time required for proper inspection of a school."

Mr. John Sterling was offered the headmastership of the Farmersville Model school at a salary much in advance of what he is now receiving. He declined the situation because in the first place he preferred to remain in Peterborough on his agreement with the board precluded the possibility of his accepting the position without three months' notice. Mr. Sterling is a good and successful teacher and the retention of his services is a matter of congratulations to the board.

Harvey and Galway.

(Bobcaygeon Independent.)

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., has announced that he will address his constituents in North Harvey at Ventress' Schoolhouse on Thursday evening, the 23rd Aug., at 8 o'clock. He also speaks at Ford's Schoolhouse, Cavendish, on Friday evening and at the Union Creek Schoolhouse, Galway, on the Saturday evening following. There is no doubt that the electors will turn out in large numbers to hear their representative explain the work of the past session. Mr. Stratton has exerted himself to his fullest capacity in the interests of the settlers of the back country, and, through his exertions, in the neighborhood of four thousand dollars have been expended in the construction and improvement of the roads during the season. The great improvement made upon the Squaw River road alone, this season and last, deserves the gratitude of the people whose interests and convenience it secures. Besides, it is a great benefit to Bobcaygeon to have this road put in such condition as to allow the South Harvey people to visit Bobcaygeon much more readily than heretofore. No doubt the people of the West Riding of Peterborough will appreciate a representative whose interest in their welfare is demonstrated by deeds and not confined to a little extra cordiality at election times.

The best medical authorities acknowledge the value of Ayer's Pills, and prescribe them with the utmost confidence, as the most effectual remedy for diseases caused by derangements of the stomach, liver, and bowels. w34

NO TIME LIKE THE PRESENT for seeking medicinal aid when what are foolishly called "minor ailments" manifest themselves. There are no "minor" ailments. Every symptom is the herald of a disease, every lapse from a state of health should be remedied at once, or disastrous consequences are likely to follow. Incipient dyspepsia, slight constiveness, a tendency to biliousness, should be promptly counteracted with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and great Blood Purifier, and the system thus shielded from worse consequences. w34

If you desire to possess a beautiful complexion take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and purifies the blood, and removes blotches and pimples, making the skin smooth and clear, and giving it a bright and healthy appearance. Take it this month. w34

The fruit season has now come and we must prepare to put up our fruit. Now what kind of jars are we to use? Of course, glass jars; but so many of those we had last year cracked in filling that it makes it very expensive. Oh, I remember how Mrs. Goodwife told me last year she bought her jars at "China Hall," and that she did not break a jar in filling or lose a single can of fruit. I shall buy from China Hall this season. As the price is just the same I might as well have the best.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Weir, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our Customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boy's and Youth's Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

DOMINION OFFICIALS NOT SURPRISED AT ITS REJECTION.

The Annual Licenses Already Granted American Fishing Vessels Not Likely to be Cancelled—English Opinion.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Little surprise is expressed in official circles over the rejection of the fisheries treaty by the United States Senate. The majority still feel confident of a satisfactory settlement. Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine said:

"The Americans according to the existing arrangements are allowed to buy bait and tranship cargoes. I don't think it likely that the annual licenses already granted American fishermen under the modus vivendi will be cancelled, but when they expire it will be a matter then for the Cabinet to consider the advisability or non-advisability of renewing them. In a word matters will remain unchanged until the order-in-council bringing the modus vivendi into operation is revoked. This, of course, is a question for the Cabinet to decide."

The Feeling in England.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—No surprise is felt here at the Senate's rejection of the Fisheries Treaty. The result was fully expected ever since the question was allowed to degenerate into the arena of party politics in the States. It is generally felt that British action must await a Canadian initiative. Every sympathy is felt with Canada under the trying circumstances, but one frequently hears confidence expressed in well-informed circles that while stoutly maintaining her admitted rights Canada will take no action likely to provoke a breach of peace. The agreement come to by the Commission and admitted among non-partisans of each country to meet out justice in the case, must, it is argued, form the basis of a permanent settlement. When the fever of the Presidential contest is over the people of the States will be left free to consider the question on its merits.

The Carrying Place Tragedy.

PICTON, Aug. 23.—Peter and Wellington Loveless, father and son, were committed yesterday for trial for killing Church at Carrying Place on Saturday last. They were brought to Picton yesterday morning in charge of Constable Morrison and lodged in jail. Wellington Loveless, the son, was committed for wilful murder, Peter Loveless, the father, for counselling and advising murder.

Terrible Accident to a Chatham Lad.

CHATHAM, Aug. 23.—A young boy about 11 years old, son of John Robson, blacksmith in the Harvester works, got one foot taken off and the other badly mangled by the cars in the Grand Trunk yard last evening. He was riding on the cars and evidently fell while shunting. He will probably recover.

Fatal Accident at Sarnia.

SARNIA, Aug. 23.—Joseph Scanlan, a boy about 12 years old, was instantly killed here yesterday by having his head crushed between a pile and the fender of a boat lying at Hughson's dock. His hat had fallen in the water and he was trying to rescue it

THE WRONGS OF IBELAND.

GLADSTONE APPARENTLY MORE IRISH THAN THE IRISH.

Gen. Boulanger's Three Electoral Victories a Sudden Menace to the Peace of Europe—Admiral Bird's Official Explanation of His Defeat.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—General Boulanger's three electoral victories make him once more formidable, even if only for the moment. The effect throughout Europe is that of a sudden menace to peace. The Berlin, Vienna and London press take no pains to conceal their contempt for a nation which can find material for a hero or a leader in a man of Gen. Boulanger's calibre. They admit, however, that his success, if continued, might set France on the road to war. French Republicans admit the greatness of the ministerial defeat, but the Opportunists and Radicals, instead of uniting against the common enemy, are exchanging taunts and accusing each other in the usual style of being responsible for this misadventure. The Monarchists, who disown Gen. Boulanger but vote for him, are jubilant over what they hail as a disaster to the republic.

Gladstone has devoted another long speech to the task of impressing on the English public the wrongs of Ireland. He can find but two parallels for what is going on in that island—Poland and Naples. Nor does he think even the case of Poland quite so discreditable to Russia as that of Ireland to England. Ireland never gave England the provocation which Poland gave Russia. As for Naples and her prisons, they are bad enough. But even King Bomba treated his political prisoners better than Balfour does his. He did not make them keep company with felons.

It is remarkable that the ablest Gladstonian organ in the kingdom, The Manchester Guardian, protests against this comparison of Ireland with Poland in its leading editorial. That powerful journal challenges the accuracy of Gladstone's historical narrative, disputes the conclusions he draws and denies the justness of the comparison between the methods of Mouravieff and the methods of Balfour. Mouravieff would have hanged or shot where Balfour only inflicts hardships and indignities. But, adds this writer, repentantly, it is in both cases a naked assertion of arbitrary force. Balfour exasperates quite as much, and disorganizes society quite as much, but does not terrify.

Gladstone discourses freely on the Times-Parnell controversy and denounces the commission as unfair and the contest between the two parties as unequal.

Admiral Bird has published an official explanation of his defeat by Admiral Tryon. His defeat was, it appears, a victory. It maintained the Channel squadron and defended the Thames and London against attacks which were not made. Seriously read this apology but repeats what lesser authorities have asserted, that his ships were neither seaworthy nor sufficient for the task they were appointed to perform. G. W. S.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Formal application was made yesterday to Messrs. McLean, the bankers, to learn whether the Commercial Bank of Winnipeg would issue a given allotment of shares. Canadian Store Cattle.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The operations of the Canadian Cattle Company in importing Canadian stores has aroused much feeling in the Aberdeen district. Col. Innes, chairman of the company, has resigned his seat on the local board and has written an open letter declaring that it is perfectly consistent with local patriotism to be associated with the importation of Canadian healthy and safe store cattle, which is as much in the best interests of the country as the restrictions upon Irish and other cattle farmers. Influential residents express much regret at the bitter attacks upon the company. Mr. Innes will be asked to reconsider his decision to resign. The Canadian store cattle previously imported have been highly spoken of by farmers.

Fined for Stoning his Father.

KINGSTON, Aug. 23.—Thomas Arnell, a worthless young man, was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Thompson yesterday morning for stoning his father on Tuesday. One rock hit the parent in the side and wounded him. Some time ago the offender was fined $25 and costs in the hope that it would benefit him, but the lesson counted for nothing.

STEAMSHIP DISASTER.

Terrible Collision at the Golden Gate—Over 80 Lives Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—One of the most terrible marine disasters that have occurred upon the Pacific coast was that about 10 o'clock yesterday in the Bay of San Francisco at a short distance from Golden Gate. The City of Chester left her dock at 9.30 and started on her regular trip to Eureka on the northern coast of California. An unusually large number of passengers stood on the decks and waved adieus to friends. The Chester steamed slowly down the bay and when within two miles of the heads encountered a thick fog. Capt. Wallace began to blow his whistle to warn all vessels of his approach. The Chester proceeded cautiously on her course till off Port Hoint when the hoarse sound of another whistle floated across the water. Capt. Wallace answered the signal. This warning was evidently misunderstood, for in a moment those forward saw the huge prow of the Occidental and Oriental steamer Oceanic emerge from the fog. She had just arrived from Hong Kong and was proceeding up the bay to her docks. She was so close to the Chester that there was no possibility for the latter to escape. The cabin passengers were nearly all on deck, and the captain seeing the danger called to them to prepare for the shock. A panic ensued, particularly among the women and children, of whom there were a large number. The Oceanic struck the Chester on the port side at the gangway, and the shock was terrific. Her prow cut into the Chester's upper works and then crushed down to the bulwarks, tearing the great timbers and breaking into the state rooms and cabin.

The wildest confusion ensued. The bow of the Oceanic crushed into the middle section of the Chester cutting her almost in half. When the vessels were locked several of the Chester's passengers were passed up over the Oceanic's bow. As soon as the large steamer could clear herself she swung around and began to lower boats. The officers and crew of the Chester seemed to lose their senses and the passengers stated afterward that some of the crew clambered aboard the Oceanic leaving the passengers to cut away the boats. One of these was lowered as soon as possible and several passengers taken off. Others provided themselves with life preservers and jumped overboard. The greater portion were compelled to remain on the steamer which began to settle soon after the collision.

Torrents of water rushed into her hold and in five minutes after the collision the Chester had disappeared. She sank in 50 fathoms of water. Those of the passengers and crew who came to the surface were picked up but the greater number went down in the rushing water and never appeared again. As soon as it was known that the collision had occurred tugs and other boats went to the scene and rendered what service they could in picking up the living and dead floating among the wreck.

The greatest loss of life is believed to have been among the steerage passengers, of whom there were 23 on board, and only 2 of these were accounted for. The others are regarded as lost. The cabin passengers numbered 70, and of these 10 are lost. Three of the crew are lost. None of the survivors were landed until after 1 o'clock and at a late hour there was still much doubt as to the number lost. The City of Chester was an iron steamer valued at $150,000.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC DEAL.

Probability that the Contract Will Be Ratified by the Manitoba Legislature.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23.—There is no doubt now but that the agreement with the Northern Pacific will be ratified by the Legislature. The Free Press maintains there should be free trade in railways and the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitaba allowed in, but it is doubtful if the Government will accept the suggestion.

The Sun is offering warm opposition to the Hudson Bay scheme, the promoters of which will arrive to-day.

The weather continues very hot.

The inspectors of loan companies report the crop to be a heavier than last year. Harvesting will be pretty general on Monday. Wheat opens at 75 cents.

Hon. Mr. Dewdney may be opposed in East Assiniboia by Mr. Henderson, formerly a clerk in the Public Works Department of the Northwest Territories.

The Red River Valley Railway is within nine miles of the city.

The bar in the parliament buildings will be abolished at the coming session of the Legislature.

Grand Plans.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Gazette, commenting on the Manitoba Government's agreement with the Northern Pacific, says: "These are grand plans. They involve serious financial responsibilities. The Northern Pacific appears to agree to only such freight and passenger charges as the Lieutenant-Governor ordains, yet the Northern Pacific president, in assuring his constituents that they are risking nothing, evidently believes that all the outlay and subsequent risk are securely saddled upon the people of Manitoba. If that proves true we feel sure the finances of Manitoba will break down under the load."

THE SCOTT ACT IN GUELPH.

Over $1000 in Fines Inflicted as an Outcome of the Recent Raids.

GUELPH, Aug. 22.—The feeling is intense in this city over the Scott Act prosecutions which have been carried on for some time by the two detectives imported from London. Eleven hotel-keepers in the city have been fined, and in the Police Court to-day five of them pleaded guilty and were taxed $10 and costs each. They were Daniel Heffernan, John McAteer, John Hagan, Chas. Schmuck and William Sleeman at Johnston's. The cases against James Hawkins and J. R. Hewer, bartenders, were dismissed by consent. As a result of the inspector's recent raids, $1020 has been inflicted in fines, eleven convictions in the city and nine in the riding outside.

But it may be mentioned that liquor is being dispensed to-day in all the hotels just as openly as it is in Toronto or Hamilton.

THE REJECTED TREATY.

The refusal of the United States Senate to ratify the fishery treaty, is remarkable chiefly as an expression of pure party feeling. This result was a foregone conclusion. The The Republican politicians could not afford to permit the Cleveland administration the credit of the settlement of the fisheries muddle, which the ratification of the treaty would involve; to catch the Anglo phobic vote, for which they are desperately angling they must show their hostility to everything British by refusing to ratify a treaty that gave Canadians even the scantiest show of justice. Though Yankee senators made blusterous electioneering speeches in their legislative halls, blutting at a summary gobbling up of Canada, there is no need for precipitate haste in mobilizing the Canadian militia and calling out the reserves. It is all bluster and election talk. The Yankees know very well that the treaty gave them the best of the bargain, but, dearly as they love the best end of a bargain, more dearly do they love political party triumph, and they think that rejection of this treaty will be a good party move and improve their chances. But behind all this electioneering clap-trap there may be other reasons for rejecting the treaty. The Tory administration of England has shown such an active anxiety to conciliate the United even at the expense of imperial humiliation and of Canadian interests that the Americans have reason to hold hopes that another conference may be arranged and that even better terms may be arranged. In the arrangement of the recent negotiations, the interests of Canada were coolly ignored and a commissioners was selected, who was so personally obnoxious to a large body of the United States that a political party incurred great danger in ratifying any treaty with whose arrangement he was connected. He showed that he was ready to sacrifice Canada to conciliate the United States. Canada had the chief interest in the matter, and yet her wishes and representations on the subject—her interests, were practically ignored, in order that Mr. Chamberlan might negotiate a surrender which would secure ratification and win for him his spurs as successful diplomat. The people of Canada are loyal in sentiment to the Empire, but they must hold loyalty to themselves and their interests paramount. But it is too severe a test to be asked to submit to be made the cat's-paw of imperial interests and caprices and of imperial pusillanimity as represented by Lord Salisbury. Canada has the chief, if not the entire interest. in a commercial point of view, in the settlement of the fisheries question and, therefore, why not allow Canada to carry on the negotiations for a treaty for the settlement of the question? The entire history of fishery negotiations shows that Canadian interests are subordinate in every case. There has been so liberal a disposition to surrender Canadian interests to please the United States that the latter have come to regard Canadian claims, no matter how just, with contempt. The Globe in dealing with the question asks:—

"What does it all teach? Surely that the Ottawa Government should exhibit some backbone. Surely that they should insist upon managing the fisheries business without British intervention in the American interests. From past events there can be no clearer deduction than that from a fourth British effort at conciliation Canada will get a fourth slap in the face. It is high time for the Canadian Government to demand absolute freedom to deal in the case according to the interests of Canada only. Had only Ottawa and Washington dealt in the business it would probably have been satisfactorily settled for long ago. In 1885 both of these directly concerned parties believed they could reach an agreement on a basis of reciprocity of trade. Were Canada free to negotiate her own commercial treaties the matter could be settled in three months. It is high time to insist on obtaining that freedom. But whether Ottawa find or fail to find backbone to demand full control of Canada's business, it is very evident that nothing but insult and evil can ensue to this country should Sir John Macdonald continue to abase its interests to the natural desire of the Imperial Government for amicable relations with the States. Canada must either lose her fisheries or sternly protest them so soon as the rejection of the treaty shall be formally announced."

Don't Give up the Ship.

You have been told that consumption is incurable; that when the lungs are attacked by this terrible malady, the sufferer is past help, and the end is a mere question of time. You have noted with alarm the unmistakable symptoms of the disease; you have tried all manner of so-called cures in vain, and you are now despondent and preparing for the worst. But don't give up the ship while Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery remains untried. It is not a cure-all, nor will it perform miracles, but it has cured thousands of cases of consumption, in its earlier stages, where all other means had failed. Try it, and obtain a new lease of life. a

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Chapter of Accidents—The School Inspectors' Convention.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—The ancient arrangement of the gangway between the wharf and a ferry steamer at the Island yesterday occasioned Mr. Stewart, of the Dominion Bank, a bath that he never contemplated. He had hardly stepped on the plank when he fell between the landing and the vessel, and was with difficulty rescued, being nearly ten minutes in the water. He received in addition a bad cut on the face.

Last evening an old gentleman boarding the Cibola at Niagara missed his footing in the dark and fell into the water. A golf club in the hands of Mr. Scott assisted to fish him out, more frightened than hurt.

Wm. Holliwell, a milk dealer, while harnessing his horse in the stable yesterday morning, was kicked in the leg by the vicious brute so badly that a gaping wound in the calf had to be stitched up at the hospital.

Mrs. W. J. Cooke, of 475 King-street west, tripped on a defective sidewalk near her own residence yesterday morning, and in the fall broke her left arm.

The corporation officials have netted up to date $15 vagrant cars, of which a very small per centage were claimed.

The school inspectors at their session yesterday morning numbered, with others interested, a good three score and ten. Hon. G. W. Ross took the chair in the airy room of the Normal School set apart for the convention at 10 o'clock. The discussions were all informal, and yet conducted in a manner which enabled the chairman to embody results in a compact and intelligible form. These results are to be published. Among the subjects discussed were sites, recreation grounds, ventilation, furniture, temperance, manners of pupils, school games, lectures, etc. The methods of conducting the inspection of reading were carefully considered, and it was agreed that the prevalence of the monotonous style was injurious, and other branches of study are to be analysed in a similar way.

Wood, the "Memory" Professor, was in court yesterday morning, and was remanded pending the arrival of the officer from Cobourg. He claimed to have a system by which the memory could be much improved. At Cobourg he organized a class for instruction, and collected a fee, but did not appear after the first lesson, hence his arrest.

The Postoffice authorities yesterday received instructions from the Custom authorities, Ottawa, directing them to hold all fashion plates accompanying American publications in the millinery and tailoring trade until duty was paid upon them. The result of the move was to bring down to the Postoffice all the best known merchant tailors of the city, anxious to learn why the fashion plates accompanying the trade magazines were not forthcoming. To their great disgust they found that they had to pay double the cost of the magazine accompanying the plates as duty before securing possession of them. The trade further complain in connection with this matter that there are numerous other ports in Canada, notably Montreal, where these publications are admitted duty free.

While the express train from Montreal was passing along the Esplanade towards the Union Depot about 11 o'clock last night, Geo. Before the train could be stopped two wheels had passed over his right leg, breaking his ankle and cutting through his thigh. The police ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the hospital. GAZA CAST DOWN.

To be Committed To-morrow—Missing Montreal Grocers.

MONTREAL, Aug. 22.—The Canadian Pacific Railway line was not cleared at Mile End until noon to-day, owing to the collision of a freight train with a mixed train last night. The collision damaged five of the freight cars which were thrown off the track, and also damaged the engine. One of the cars was filled with cattle, but these escaped uninjured, and no personal injury of any kind was sustained.

A fruit dealer of amorous tendencies on St. Catharine-street east is being prosecuted for having exhibited too much affection for the youthful and charming wife of one of his customers.

Quite a crowd gathered around the court-house entrance this afternoon on the arrival of Cass from jail, to hear the evidence taken at the coroner's inquest. Cass seemed very much effected and broken down, and kept his eyes cast down during the whole proceedings. His brother-in-law and a few personal friends were present. The prisoner said that he had no questions to put and signed a declaration to that effect. He was then at once taken back to jail, whence he will again be brought on Friday to be fully committed to the Court of Queen's Bench.

The detectives here have been asked to look out for John Stephen Scott, a young man who has for the past seven months been cashing money letters from Melbourne (P. Q.) post office where he was employed and who skipped last night. He was caught by a decoy letter and arrested but afterwards managed to escape.

To-day the attorney for Street-car Conductor McKeon, now committed to the Court of Queen's Bench on a charge of abducting the minor daughter of Mrs. Vogl, presented a petition before Judge Taft in chambers for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of his client with a view to have him admitted to bail. The petition was granted and the prisoner was brought up this afternoon when he was formally released on $1000 bail.

Antoine and Gilbert Dragon, grocers of this city, have suddenly disappeared leaving a number of creditors to mourn their absence. Their exact liabilities have not yet been ascertained.

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6w34

Certain Cure.

Made on Purpose.

We are taught that everything is made to fill some purpose. The reason Burdock Blood Bitters has succeeded in being placed in the front rank of modern medicines is that it fills so well the purpose for which it was intended—that of curing diseases of the stomach, liver and blood. 2w31d

---

Easily Understood.

The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, impure water, over exertion and sudden chill. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt remedy for all bowel complaints from whatever cause. 2w31d

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. House Numbering.

The numbering of houses of the town will, it is expected, be completed in a few days. The number of numeral plates painted by Mr. W. S. Cooke, who has charge of the work, is over two thousand, and the highest street number is "1073 Water street."

Letter Copying Books.

We have in stock at the EXAMINER Office a number of first-class letter copying books, varying in size from four hundred to one thousand pages. These books are our own make from the very best stock and bound in the most durable manner. See them before buying inferior books for same money. dtf

High Water.

The water in the river and lake is unusually high just now, about two feet above the level of last week. The sudden rise is said to be due to the letting of the water out of the back lakes; the drives having all come down they have no further need to hold back the water.

Getting Ready.

In order to lower the stock before removing to 410 George street, the sale of Alexander's stock of dry goods at very low prices will be continued. We expect to move next week.

d W. W. JOHNSTON.

Will Likely Recover.

It is the opinion of the attending physicians that James Begg, who is at the hospital suffering from the effects of his fall Tuesday morning, will eventually recover. He is much better to-day, and the doctors at a consultation this morning decided that his injuries were not so serious as they at first feared.

Auction Sale.

The sale of A. McNeil's bankrupt stock closes on Saturday, and on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, the furniture and shop furnishings will be sold by public auction. It embraces seven stoves and pipes, three sewing machines, cutting board counter, tables, sofa, desk, chairs, dry earth closet, gas fixtures, fashion plates, deer's head, window blinds, irons, etc., etc. Sale without reserve. Everything must be sold. 3d44

The Sturgeon Point Regatta.

The professional sculling race at the Point Wednesday was won by O'Connor, with Sanderson a close second. A Peterborough visitor at the regatta says the race was rowed squarely and fairly. But he deplores the fearful extent to which gambling was indulged in at the Point. He says the sculling race was the chief cause of the betting, and the place was turned into a regular gambling den. The visitor fears that unless such wholesale gambling is prohibited Sturgeon Point will soon cease to be an attractive and popular summer resort.

Students, Attention!

Closing Days.

The sale of A. McNeil's bankrupt stock, which has been going on for the past two weeks, closes on Saturday. In order to make stock as low as possible, goods will be sold at prices that will astonish buyers. Don't miss this last opportunity to buy tweeds, underwear and gents' furnishings at prices away below wholesale cost. 3d44

A Sad Home Coming.

The corpse of the nine months' old child of Mr. and Mrs. D. Cameron was brought home on the Golden Eye last night by the bereaved parents. The infant had been ailing for some time, but its complaint was not thought serious enough to demand the services of a physician. The other day it became suddenly worse, and despite the most assiduous attention the little child died yesterday. The funeral is to be this afternoon. The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends.

What The People Say.

Peterborough can boast of fine stores. H. S. Griffin & Co. have a model place of business, bright and cheerful, and their stock is well kept. They keep Goods as different to anything we see in other places. We can always depend on getting stylish goods there. Have you seen their Dress Goods? They keep lovely goods, and this coming Fall their stock will be better than ever. We deal there, and intend bringing our friends.

Alleged Outrage in Percy.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 22.—Constable Bell, of Campbellford, yesterday arrested one John Blakely, of Percy Township, on a charge preferred by James R. Perry of putting Paris green in a field with intent to poison cattle. He was brought before J. M. Ferris, J.P., here to-day. The evidence went strongly against him, and the magistrate gave him the option of appearing before the County Judge at Cobourg at once or giving bail for $1,000 in two sureties of $500 each and an additional $400 in two sureties to keep the peace and appear at the fall term. He has till to-morrow to decide.

Woodcock—August 15th to Jan. 1st.
Snipe, rail and golden plover—September 1st to May 1st.

Campbellford Cheese Market.

The Herald says:—The dairymen of Seymour assembled at their regular hour of meeting on Friday last only to be disappointed once more in making no sales. This is the fourth or fifth meeting at which no business was done, and it has had the effect of discouraging sellers and injuring the market. Any ring that may be made by buyers in holding off in this way, and it looks as if there had been a combination formed to weaken the market, should arouse dairymen to action, and instead of allowing themselves to be affected they should unite more firmly and make their weekly market which has been of great convenience and profit to them for two years past, something that will endure unto the end.

Severely Scalded.

Wednesday afternoon at Lakefield the ten-year-old son of Mr. Wm. Vance, of Millbrook, was severely scalded by the escape steam of the "Dawn." Mr. Vance and his little boy were among those who attended the excursion from Millbrook on Wednesday. On returning to the Lakefield wharf in the afternoon the little fellow stationed himself on the wharf directly against the exhaust pipe in the side of the steamer. He was watching the people disembark, and the engineer of the Dawn, not noticing his position, opened the escape valve to let the steam off. Master Vance was severely scalded about the legs, and when his stockings were pulled down the skin peeled off with them. The scald wounds will be very painful for a time.

In Terrible Suspense.

As the time approaches for the trial of Farley, who is lying in gaol on a charge of murdering the Indian connected with Howe's circus, public interest and sympathy will be aroused in behalf of the unfortunate man. The assizes open Oct. 10th, and Farley is in a state of despondent anxiety over the probable result of the trial. His appearance in gaol would indicate that he feels keenly his position and the awful possibilities that await him. In conversation he appears to be wholly ignorant of the circumstances surrounding the murder, but is in a very repentant mood. His imprisonment and the terrible suspense have altered his appearance considerably. He wears a constant air of gloom and sadness as he paces his lonely cell. Mr. J. O'Meara, counsel for the prisoner, will conduct the case at the forthcoming assizes.

Was it Suicide or Accident?

One day last week a remarkable accident, if accident, occurred in Otonabee. Two gentlemen were driving near the river, and about two miles from town they drove towards the river for the purpose of giving the horse a drink. The moment the horse sighted the river, he made a mad plunge for it, and all the efforts of both men pulling on one line failed to restrain the animal who rushed into the water and was drowned. One of the gentlemen jumped out of the buggy before deep water was reached, the other held fast to the lines and saw the horse drown before his very eyes. The buggy was secured afterwards. This seems very much like a case of suicide, but in case this theory is rejected it is probable the poor animal was so tortured with thirst that he lost control of himself, and rushing into the water beyond his depth, stumbled in some way on the bottom or became entangled and then lost his life.

News Nuggets.

—Natural gas has been found at Whitby that burns with a steady light.

—There was an unusually large attendance on the regular Thursday excursion of the Golden Eye to Jubilee Point to-day.

—Last night a girl tripped on a high plank on the temporary Charlotte street bridge, and had her face and hands badly skinned in the fall.

—This is shipping day among the cheese factories of Peterborough section. A large quantity of cheese was brought to town.

—Last night the police found a buffalo coat in the yard behind Gough Bros'. store. It had been accidentally left out by the employees.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dayman, Mr. and Mrs. S. Fitzgerald and Miss Moscrip left to-day for Chemong Park, where they will spend a week or so.

Mr. James McNamara leaves to-night for Montreal, his home, from which point he will make a two weeks' bicycle tour of the Eastern Provinces.

Mrs. G. W. Morgan, jr., and daughter, of St. Thomas, who have been visiting friends in town and at Stony Lake for a few weeks, have returned home.

Mr. Geo. Stewart, Reeve of Otonabee has returned from Avon Springs, New York, to which place he accompanied Mrs. Stewart, who has been for some time suffering severely with rheumatism. Mrs. Stewart will remain some time in the hope of being relieved.

A Brief Outline of the History—A Deserving Association.

The Catholic Mutual Benefit Association has a number of members in Peterborough, to whom the following history of its origin and progress will be of interest:—

This Association provides a benefit for its deceased members' families, according to class, of $1,000, or $2,000. It was first organised at Niagara Falls, N.Y., in 1876, by the parish priest, Rev. Father Moyesahan (since dead) and a few members of his parish, who had worked long and earnestly to introduce such a society among Catholics. At the first meeting only fifteen could be induced to give their names; to-day the association exceeds in numbers 18,000 members distributed through the Northern States and Canada, of which New York has 118 branches and 8,000 members, Canada 35 branches and 3,200 members, Michigan 48 branches and 3,200 members, Pennsylvania, 38 branches and 2,200 members; Ohio, 26 branches and 1,000 members, and about 1,000 more in branches scattered through Kansas, Colorado, Kentucky, West Virginia, Illinois and Massachusetts. The association has paid the widows and orphans of its deceased members since 1876 the large sum of $2,000,000, or thereabouts; last year alone $300,000 was paid, so rapidly is the C. M. B. A. spreading. Since July, 1887, a reserve fund has been accumulating, which during the first year has reached nearly $15,000. The C.M.B.A. was first introduced into Canada at Windsor, where the first Canadian branch was formed in February, 1878, at a time when the entire membership all over did not exceed 1,400. In 1880 Canada had but 6 branches and 200 members when its Grand Council was organised in the hall of Branch No. 1, Windsor. When its second convention was held in London in 1881 it had but 8 branches and about 250 members; at the third convention in St. Thomas in 1882 there were 18 branches represented; at Brantford in 1884, 33; at Stratford in 1886, 46, and yesterday at the sixth convention in Toronto there were 85 branches, with an average membership of 40. The present Grand Secretary, S. R. Brown, of London, Ont., has held that office from the very beginning, and under his fostering care nothing has been neglected which could be done to build up the C. M. B. A. The Grand Presidents and their deputies have also contributed their share to the work, and many zealous workers have been found in the branches, all justly entitled to praise for the work they have done. The rapid spread and increase in members is all the effect of spontaneous work, and not that of paid officials. The C. M. B. A. Monthly, an organ of the association, has done much to disseminate its aims.

Labor Day Celebration.

The posters are out announcing particulars of the demonstration under the auspices of the united trades and labor organizations of Peterborough on Monday Sept. 3rd. At 9 a.m. there will be a grand trades procession from the Knights of Labor Hall, headed by the band, through the principal streets to the Midland station, where a special train will be waiting to take them to Hastings. At this place a monster picnic will be held at Johnston's Grove. Special excursion rates have been secured, the return fare, including admission to grounds, being only 65c. During the afternoon a baseball match and other athletic sports will be held under the direction of an energetic committee. Addresses will be delivered by Mr. Wm. Garson, M.P.P., of St. Catharines; Mr. R. R. Elliott, of Uxbridge, D.M.W., and the local members of parliament. Dancing platforms and good orchestra music will also be provided. The committee will look after all baskets and provisions, and provide tea and hot water free of charge. This picnic promises to be the biggest one of the season, and as the day is to be proclaimed civic holiday, there should be a large attendance.

DISASTROUS FLOODS.

West Virginia Again Suffers From the Angry Waters—Storms and Cyclones.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 22.—A storm, which in its disastrous effects equals that of July 19 last, has been in progress here since 3 a.m. yesterday and shows no signs of abating. Wheeling Creek, in the narrow valley east of Wheeling, is a foot higher than ever before, roads being flooded from two to six feet deep and bridges destroyed. The valley is one angry flood and the damage can only be estimated by the wreckage that dashes through the city into the river. A piece of the Baltimore and Ohio wooden bridge from out the Pittsburg division struck the Baltimore and Ohio bridge at Main and 16th streets which was destroyed in July and rebuilt and it was carried away with great rapidity. Warned by former experience there was no person on it.

At 5.30 yesterday afternoon while 1000 or more people were massed on the substantial stone bridge over Wheeling Creek a man on the creek bank 100 feet above shouted a warning and the panic stricken crowd rushed over and into each other in their efforts to reach terra firma After the bridge was cleared those nearest seeing it still apparently safe turned back laughing at their fears but before they reached it, the bridge, 140 feet in length, fell with one awful crash and the water leaped 60 feet into the air. Water, gas and natural gas mains, sewers, telegraph and telephone wires, electric light and power conductors were thrown down. The Baltimore and Ohio bridge built over the creek it is feared will go. The losses will reach $250,000.

A Big Storm in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 21.—Great damage was done by severe winds throughout this region, and by rains which prevailed from 6.30 p. m. Friday, until 7 a. m. Monday. Great damage was done in this city and in the sugar belt from Baton Rouge to the Gulf. Much cane and rice were blown flat and many sugar houses and dwellings were badly damaged. In the city houses were unroofed, fences prostrated and trees uprooted. The heavy rain flooded the entire city damaging goods in several stores. The W. G. Little, Laura and Barataria, small steamers, were sunk. The steamboat Ed. Richardson went adrift, lost her chimnies and sustained other damages. A portion of the wall of the Terrell cotton press was blown down, killing a 13-year-old colored girl and injuring her mother. The incoming Queen and Crescent train yesterday rescued four women and two men from fishing and hunting club houses near the north shore of Lake Pontchartrain.

The storm was general along the Gulf coast. The waters of the Gulf were driven over the Louisville and Nashville Red River embankment a distance of twenty miles and many washouts occurred. News at a late hour last night shows damage done to the rice crop all along the river. The Gulf water driven by the wind covered the rice fields in many places to a depth of several feet causing almost total destruction of the crop for twenty miles. Several steamers are due and some anxiety is expressed for their safety.

At Morgan City fully fifty buildings are off their foundations. At 4 p.m. when the last news was received from different places 60 loaded coal barges and boats and one boat of coke had sunk and a number of others were reported sinking. The total loss is $240,000. The steamer Keokuk was wrecked last night. Friday Mr. Caffrey accompanied by three sons and a number of their young companions left Belle Isle for Lost Island on a pleasure trip. Up to the time of filing no trace has been found of them.

A New Jersey Cyclone.
